Bright's Disease. Diabetes.

Beware of the stuff that pretends to cure these diseases or other serious Kidney, Urinary or Liver Diseases, as they only relieve for a time and makes you ten times worse afterwards, but rely solely on Hop Bitters, the only remedy that will surely and permanently cure you. It destroys and removes the cause of disease so effectually that it never returns.

Victoria, B. C., May 22.—The demand for Wellington coal is so great that the harbor is crowded with shipping waiting offers to load. One of the coal mines on the main land on the American side has given out entirely, and the quantity of coal in four others is so bad that it is thought they will shortly be closed.

— The Qu'Appelle Farm Syndicate are purchasing horses, mules, oxen, waggons, ploughs, mowers, reapers, threshers, etc., required for their large 50,000 acre wheat farm—on the line of the C. P. Railway, in the Qu'Appelle Valley. The company purpose commencing active field operations forthwith, breaking at least ten thousand acres of wheat land this season.

— We learn with great pleasure that D. B. Woodworth, Esq., contemplates erecting at once a large building for the purpose of carrying on the manufacture of woollen cloths in this country. The construction of the building and machinery alone will cost some twenty-five thousand dollars. If Mr. Woodworth is as successful in this as he had been in real estate, it will be a good thing, not only for himself, but for the whole country. Mr. W. has already contracted for half a million of bricks to be delivered in July coming.—Western Chronicle.

London, May 23.—The authorities have received information of a proposed attempt on the lives of several well-known politicians in London. The police are guarding the residences of all the Ministers. In the Lords last evening the Marquis of Waterford gave notice of and postponed his question relative to the Kilmainham compact. Earl Granville protested against such notice as the Speaker of Commons had ruled a similar one out of order. Adjournment of the House to June 1st was then agreed to.

ST. CROIX COTTON MILL.—Six hundred thousand dollars will have been spent in the building and equipment of the St. Croix cotton mill at St. Stephen, N. B. It will contain twenty-six thousand spindles with capacity of forty thousand. At the annual meeting lately held the American shareholders expressed themselves well pleased with the mill, saying that, though there are larger mills, there is none on the Continent superior in its appointments.

A Wild Day on Isle au Haute.

We have a letter from Capt. Nelson Card, keeper of the light on the Isle au Haute, who, from November to April, was shut out from all communication with the world. Following is an account of a gale which took place, and is graphically described by the captain:—

January the 2nd came in accompanied with a gale of wind from W. S. W. which increased in strength until noon. At 1 p. m., there came a squall on top of what was already a violent gale, which increased its fury beyond anything I ever saw in these latitudes. The sky was covered with a sort of yellow gloom; the forest, which was waving about and bending to the blast now began to go by the board, a dozen of which I saw was falling at once. The sea foam or froth from the sea shore filled the air with froth, resembling small baloons or sea gulls, going past the lighthouse with the velocity of lightning, many of them going clean over the top of the tower, which is 270 feet above the sea level.

On the N. W. side of the Island where the wind came past the west end, the water was lifted up and blown into a fine spray, drifting far away to leaward, resembling snow. At 4 p. m., it began to moderate, and on the 3rd the gale had gone past, leaving the field fences all scattered about; the roads all blocked up with fallen trees, and the Island in general having the appearance of a forest in distress. The light-house rocked considerable, but however it stood the blast without sustaining any damage except part of the fence blown off at top of the tower.—Windsor Mail.

The Shifting Ice Fields.

NORTH SYDNEY, C. B., May 21, 1882.—Here, to-day, we have the weather clear and bright with a smart breeze from West South-West. The ice is slowly receding from our coast, though the shores are still white with the grounded ice, and the view is not at all spring-like, but we trust the Westerly winds may prevail, as the indications point. The ice in the Gulf will thus be loosened up, and the imperilled and no doubt damaged vessels will be enabled to reach ports of destination or repair.

ALONG THE CAPE BRETON COAST.

Captain Angrove, who has been master of different steamers in the Northern latitudes for a number of years, reports that he has never seen heavier ice during his experience at sea, the fields being larger in area and of thick ice; all along his course round Point Aconi large blocks of the Gulf ice are grounded in eight to ten fathoms of water. Capt. Angrove has had a look out established on the mountain back of Kelly's Cove since his ice imprisonment, at an elevation of about eleven hundred feet, from which point constant watch has been kept for the first movement of the ice park. Yesterday he could distinctly see in the far eastward a large steamer, a barque and a schooner, all apparently tightly jammed in the ice, but the dense fog prevailing this morning prevented observations to the Eastward beyond a few hundred yards from the shore. Some twenty five miles to the Southward indications of open water was observed off Cow Bay and in the vicinity of Scatterie Island.

New York, May 28.—The steamer Celtic arrived this morning bringing Lieut. Danenhower, Dr. Newton Newcomb, naturalist, Jack Cole, boatswain, and Charles Ton Sing, Chinese steward, four of the survivors of the ill-fated Arctic steamer Jeannette. Personal friends and relatives met the steamer down the harbor, and the meeting between the parties was most affecting, especially in the case of poor Jack Cole, who is crazy from the hardships he has endured. He, however, recognized his son and brother, and greeted them but the next moment his mind wandered. At the wharf a large number were present to welcome Danenhower and his party.

New York Enamel Paint.

Messrs. Bessonett & Wilson, merchants, Middleton, have shown us samples of the New York Enamel Paints, for which they have been appointed agents for Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

This celebrated preparation is rapidly taking the place of white lead and oil in the American markets having the great advantage of being ready mixed, thereby saving all the time incurred in mixing lead and Oil.

This alone should be considered, as the painter's time and labor in mixing is a large part of the entire cost of the job.

The numerous certificates of practical painters who have used it for years, fully prove that it is cheaper than lead and oil, (one gallon covering 230 feet, two coats), besides being more durable, as it is warranted not to chalk, as the best of London lead will do. It dries with a hard enamel finish, retaining its glossy appearance for years, and two coats will make a better body than three coats of lead mixed in the ordinary way, for the reason that the oil remains on the surface with the lead and zinc all hardening together into a perfect waterproof cement, which will neither crack nor peel off. The agents say this paint must not be confounded with worthless water paints and other chemical preparations, and that the "New York Enamel Paint Company" are one of the oldest established concerns in the United States, and that their goods will do all they are claimed to do.

Circulars and full information may be obtained by addressing Messrs. BESSONETT & WILSON, Middleton, N. S.

GUITEAU'S DEATH WATCH.—A DEAD-LOCK IN THE HOUSE.—EXCITING TIMES ANTICIPATED.—MR. SHIPPERD'S DOCUMENTS.

(From our Regular Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23rd, 1882.

The decision of the court in banc today, as was expected, overruled the bill of exceptions, and affirmed the judgment and sentence of Judge Cox. The Judges held, first, that this is a United States Circuit Court, with all the powers of any circuit of the United States; second, that is a Judicial District, and that, under the provisions of the law, when a crime is begun in one district and completed in another the crime is complete in either; third, that the murder being an offence in this District against the United States, the final removal of the President to New Jersey did not take him beyond the jurisdiction of the government against which the offence was committed.

Guiteau was to-day placed in solitary confinement under a continual guard, better known as the death watch. He will be rigidly guarded up to the hour of his execution, and no communication with him will be permitted except by his spiritual advisers, or by persons specially authorized by the Warden of the jail, who will be responsible for the safe keeping of the assassin until he is given to the doctors for a post mortem examination. It has been decided that a body of the most eminent medical experts in the country shall make examination of the brain of the assassin, which examination, it is believed, will settle forever the question of insanity. After this examination Guiteau's body will be delivered to his relatives, if any of them call for it. Guiteau will be hung on the 30th of June, which will be one year, less two days, from the date of his terrible crime.

There seems to be a prospect of a dead-lock in the House, over the contested election case of Mackay against Dibble. Democratic members have determined to filibuster, if the Republicans attempt to bring up the case. All Republican absentees have been ordered by telegraph to return immediately to Washington, in order to make a quorum; and when this is obtained, it is said the Republicans will contrive to have a vote, but, with such an experienced parlimentarian as Mr. Randall leading the Democrats, it is difficult to see how a vote could be reached. The parties are so nearly equal in strength that, if a dead-lock occurs, some exciting and lively scenes will be witnessed, and appropriation bills will have to take a back seat. The prospect for a prolonged session was never better.

Mr. Shipherd has published a somewhat humorous notice offering five dollars reward for Mr. Blaine, and twice that amount for the publication of the notice in the New York Tribune. He concludes the notice with a threat to continue the narrative so suddenly interrupted by the flight of Mr. Blaine and his committee, in some other place than the now deserted committee room. The necessary data are all ready, and if the public want the documents and the facts, I am rather inclined not to refuse them. Mr. Shipherd left the city on Saturday, but he is expected back to day to make arrangements for the publication of his documents. He said yesterday that he did not propose to bother with the congressional investigating committee further, and that no power could compel him to produce his documents before the committee; that he had wasted much money and time to please the committee and the public, and that in future he would not even notice a subpœna from them. The publication of his alleged important documents is, of course, awaited with much interest.

Our Country, &c.

Dear Editor,—I frequently hear strangers say of this valley, "What a lovely place—what thrifty orchards, &c."

The only son of a farmer resident of Melvern Square (himself born a Yankee), writing from the Southern States to a friend here, says, "I have travelled in all parts of the States and Canada, and after a careful observation, my conclusion is that little N. S. has a combination of resources giving her a position in many respects superior to all other places of equal size,—and the little beautiful Annapolis valley outstrips any place in beauty and fertility I have ever seen, and must eventually become an important place, &c." A Nova Scotian West says, "Wheat is grown here by the mile not by acres, and yet the average is less than I used to raise on my father's little farm well tilled' near the Willett Bridge, in N. S."

Said a sister concerning a near relative who had just left Melvern Square to again seek his fortune in the States, after spending a few years only at home—"He spent eight years in the States and returned home not as well clad as he now goes, having but six bbls. of flour to commence life again in N. S. He now returns with $500 in cash, leaving behind a nice farm."

Said the same lady,—"I love my home and surroundings, and wonder why so many restless ones leave independence here for servitude under masters abroad." And I may add—Nova Scotians, especially farmers, ought to be contented—good land, easily worked in most places; meadows and dykes, wood and fencing, a healthful climate, peace and plenty and safety, produce high, beef good price, potatoes 75c., eggs 15c., butter 20c., cheese 10c. to 15c., &c. Surely those who can should sing "Home, sweet home," and stay there; and even manufacturers now need not grumble at hard times with the present protection, but rather lend their best energies to test the Policy fairly, and see what there really is in it.

W. J. G.

To the Electors of the County of Annapolis.

GENTLEMEN:—Having been unanimously nominated at a meeting held at this place on the 27th last., as a candidate for the representation of this County in the Dominion Parliament, as a supporter of the policy of the present administration, I accept your nomination on personal grounds reluctantly; but on public considerations, heartily.

I have always taken a deep interest in the consolidation and advancement of our great Dominion, and my efforts shall always be in that direction.

Should you favor me with your support, our common interests shall receive my best attention.

As the time is short, it will be impossible to make you a personal visit; but I trust you will use your best efforts to bring this contest to a successful issue.

ROBT. E. FitzRANDOLPH.

Bridgetown, May 29th, 1882.

To the Electors of Annapolis County.

GENTLEMEN,—A convention of your body having made choice of C. W. Shaffner and myself to contest the coming election in the interest of the Government, and Liberal-Conservatives of this County, I beg leave to thank you sincerely for your continued good will and confidence in us, and to assure you that if elected by your united sufferages on the 20th of June, you may depend on our doing all in our power to advance the interests of our native Province, and Annapolis County in particular.

At the same time I would most respectfully urge upon you individually the necessity of immediate and prompt action in order to insure the return of my hon. colleague, who is lying helpless at present and unable to visit you, and as the time is so very short before elections, I feel it to be impossible to visit you at your homes as I wish, therefore I earnestly entreat you to work together for the nominees of the Liberal-Conservatives and shew your appreciation of the Government of this Province for the last four years, by returning men who will faithfully carry out the policy of the Liberal-Conservative Government during the coming term.

Thanking you in Mr. Shaffner's name, and my own, for your past liberal support, and soliciting a continuance of the same. I remain

Your obedient servant,

Report of the Bridgetown School for Past Term.

During the term ending April 30th, 1882, there were 100 pupils enrolled in Bridgetown school, 50 in each department. The number of days attendance made by the pupils were, in the Primary Department, 3,472
In the Higher Department, 2,991
Total, 6,433
The number of days lost by the pupils were, in the Primary Department, 2,044
In the Higher Department, 2,565
Total, 4,609

The winter has been singularly unfavorable for school work, owing to the succession of storms during the months of February and March, and the still worse succision of diseases to which scholars were subjected during a much longer period. Both of these I doubt not are quite fresh in the memories of most of our friends. I do not know that it is either necessary or desirable to review these experiences, but will simply state, that of the total number of days lost in both departments during the term, viz.: 4,609. The No. of these lost by sickness is, as nearly as can be told, about 2,320.

Teachers only can understand what demoralization of work such a loss of time involves. Some of us can hardly say that we are quite convalescent yet from measles, and we have noticed with horror, references to scarlet fever and chicken-pox being in some of the neighboring villages.

We have had nearly all the diseases that juvenile humanity is heir to, but do not wish to complete the list just now. We earnestly desire a rest, and therefore beg and advise any one who may visit infected localities to be careful where they stop, and not to bring any new epidemic to Bridgetown. Though, by the way, I do not know that one could get sick in a much better place, as Æculapius is to be represented by four, some say five M. D.'s hereafter.

In behalf of all their best interests, I implore parents, in view of the great loss they have already sustained, to suffer no ordinary hinderance to detain their children from school this summer. Determine that they must attend every day of the term, unless actually detained by sickness—then having made, adhere to that good determination. Not one pupil of the 100 registered last term made full time. We sincerely hope for a different record next fall.

But it would be unjust to many of the pupils in both departments, not to say that they have done much hard work in the face of difficulties, and much good progress. Those deserving most honorable mention in the junior department are, Maud Buckler, Louie Fisher, May Chipman, Fred Ruffee, James Dodge, Frank Morse and Maud Hoyt.

The table below shows the names and average progress for the term of the 10 best in each class of the higher room.

The Arrears Bill.

The arrears bill now before the Imperial Parliament confers enormous advantages upon Irish tenants. By its first provision the bill gives as a gift one year's rent to every tenant whose rent is valued at and under thirty pounds sterling who happens to be in arrears, and in consideration of the payment of one year's rent it wipes out the arrears of rent, and allows him to start fresh in the world. To accomplish this the State make the tenants a free gift of $10,000,000 out of the public fund, which they will not be asked to put back. As the arrears due by accumulation since the famine of 1846, which are calculated at $40,000,000, will be wiped out at the same time, the Irish peasant will profit to the tune of $500,000,000 as his first fruits of the Kilmainham compact. How wide-reaching and effective the Arrears bill is may be judged from the fact that it will affect to a greater or less degree, no less than 585,000 tenants, representing in round numbers 3,500,000 persons who now, in the words of Mr. Gladstone, are at the mercy of the landlords. The

will be to save tens of thousands of families from eviction, and to restore to their homes a thousand families already evicted whom the Land League is unable to protect, notwithstanding the boast of its leaders. How pressing the necessity was becoming may be judged by the eviction of 2,000 persons last week in Connemara, and other thousands all over the country. Had not the Government stepped in it is calculated that 250,000 would have been evicted by the end of the winter, as the landlords were preparing monster clearances under the protection of the new Coercion Bill. Without the Arrears bill the Land Act was utterly useless to the poorer tenants, because they owe from two to five years' rent, which they are wholly unable to pay. On some rack-rented estates, where old arrears have been kept alive, the tenants owe legally as high as which puts them hopelessly in the power of the landlord and makes them the veriest slaves. Under the Arrears bill all those old debts will be swept away, and the tenants for the first time in their history will have a fair start without any fear that their improvements may be confiscated by rack-renting landlords. Such is the new healing measure proposed by Mr. Gladstone, and, save the freeing of the serfs by Russia, it promises to be the most important act of European legislation during this age. Yet, valuable as this new conclusion undoubtedly is, there are some irreconilable Irishmen who bitterly attack Mr. Parnell for his part in bridging it about, and it is even prophesied that this enormous concession to the tenant farmers will be used by the political rivals as an arm to damage his influence, and ultimately to bring about the destruction of the influence of the Irish leader.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!
Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle.

'GILBERT,'

WILL stand at his stable, Wilmot, Annapolis Co., for the season of 1882. Bred by Gen. W. S. Tilton, Togus, Maine, U. S., foaled April, 1878.

GILBERT is a dark bay horse now four years old, weighing 1125 pounds, and is pronounced by competent judges to be the best horse of his age in Nova Scotia.

Gen. Knox sired Independence, 2.21¼, Camors, 2.19¾, Lady Maud, 2.18¼ and others in 2.30 list.

Gallant, half brother to Gilbert, won successively the 2 year and 3 year old stakes at Maine State Fair, and is considered fastest colt ever raised in Maine.

It will be seen by his pedigree that GILBERT'S breeding is second to that of no horse in the Province. He has developed into a magnificant horse with plenty of b
