NEW YORK BELLE FLED TO TORONTO

Gotham People Think She Ran Away to Her Soldier Lover.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

New York, April 7— The Evening World to-day says:

An elopement after all may be the solution of the mystery of Alma Fuller Myers' strange disappearance for her parents admitted to-day she not only had a love affair, but was apparently very much in love with Stanley Stranger, a British recruit, now reported ill in Toronto.

"On the theory that the 20-year-old beauty of East Orange may have married the soldier, or have hurried to him in Toronto when she learned he was sick, the search for her was extended to that city to-day. Charles Myers, New York insurance broker, father of the missing girl, admitted the family had hopes something would develop in this new line of enquiry." The disappearance of Miss Myers has been featured by the New York newspapers the past few days as one somewhat similar to that of the Dorothy Arnold case.

Horrible Crime.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Saskatoon, Sask., April 7—A whole family of six was wiped out in the Wakaw district Wednesday night when Prokah Mancure, his wife, brother-in-law and three children were murdered, the house burned over their dying bodies and their animals shot down or left to perish in the burning buildings. The crime was evidently committed by a maniac. The brother-in-law had been shot several times in the chest and head. Among the buildings burned were two granaries each containing 1,000 bushels of wheat, two barns, in one of which six horses perished in the fire, and in the other a number of head of cattle. No trace of the murderer has been discovered up to the present.

'BEST IS JUST GOOD ENOUGH' SAY DRUGGISTS

Never Help Exploit Remedy Unless It Has Real Merit Like Plantan.

There is no medicine so successful as Plantan in overcoming stomach, liver, kidney and catarrhal troubles. And wherever it has been distributed, great numbers of people are expressing an abiding faith in its remarkable powers.

In this connection, Boles, druggist, said:

"We have secured the exclusive sale of Plantan in Brantford, and judging from the reports that have preceded the preparation from other cities, we feel that we have, indeed, been fortunate in securing the agency for this medicine.

"The policy of our store, which is well known to every one, has always been one of liberal conservatism. We first believe in investigating a preparation and if it is one of merit to lend our encouragement. The best is only good enough for our customers. Plantan comes to us with a reputation of real merit.'"

T. S. Jackson, under whose personal supervision the celebrated Plantan will be explained daily, beginning Saturday at the George Boles drug store, said:

"Plantan is the result of scientific research. It is purely a product of herbs, roots and flowers that are gathered in many of the remotest parts of the British Empire, and compounded into this wonderful medicine under the personal supervision of one of Canada's most famous chemists."

Don't fail to call at Boles' drug store and see Mr. Jackson who will courteously explain the merits of Plantan.—Advertisement.

GERMANY IS ANXIOUS

"One can't help but admire the Chancellor's charming solicitude for Belgium's future. But as far as we are concerned we hope to see Belgium in a position to settle this question for herself. Belgium must end this war as the master if its own fortunes, with, we hope, Germany putting a hand into its pocket to recompense the smaller country for injuries received.

Regarding Poland one hardly knows whether to be amused or indignant at the cavalier manner or arranging for its future. One thing is certain: Germany doesn't mean that Poland shall have any say regarding its future. We know already that Germany and Austria have entered into an arrangement whereby it shall become a buffer state, at the same time establishing a clear road through for German armies. The allies, as well as Germany desire a lasting peace, but this manner of settlement of the Polish question won't suit us. When we sign peace, it will be on terms of justice for Poland as well as for Belgium, Serbia and France."

An agency despatch from Amsterdam reports that the German papers are disappointed that Von Bethmann-Hollweg said nothing in his speech about Admiral Von Tirpitz or the submarine policy as affecting America or Holland. The Radical papers fear that the Chancellor's remarks about helping the Flemish people to free themselves from French bondage will cause serious trouble in Belgium.

Major Mutrie Killed.

Guelph, April 7.—Mrs. (Major) Mutrie received word this morning that her husband, Major Mutrie, second in command of the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles, had been killed in action. Major Mutrie enlisted at Vernon, B.C., where he had resided for some years. He was born on a farm near Rockwood, and finished his education at Fergus High School. His wife, formerly Alice Tolton of Guelph, came here to stay with her parents while her husband was at the front. He leaves also four children, the eldest eight years of age. His father, Colonel Mutrie of the 153rd (Wellington) battalion, who, although seventy years of age, offered his services here, and is actively engaged in bringing the county battalion to full strength.

WAR SCARE IS DYING DOWN

Explanation of Dutch Government Has Made People Calmer.

STILL ANXIETY FOR FUTURE

Government Minister Talks of "Danger" Which Threatens.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

New York, April 7.—A New York Times' cable from The Hague says: The Dutch Government's official explanation that the sudden recall of furloughed soldiers to the colors is not due to any immediately threatening complications, but is merely a precautionary measure, has temporarily stopped the war scare war talk without at all relieving anxiety as to the future.

In declining to disclose the reasons for the issuance of the drastic new military orders, Minister Van Der Linden has only confirmed the feeling that Holland has very good chances of being called upon to face a serious crisis in the near future, with one or the other of its powerful belligerent neighbors.

Speculation as to the nature of the "danger" to which the minister referred as threatening the nation is widespread. Officials and members of the diplomatic corps, seen by the correspondent yesterday, expressed the belief that there was no immediate risk of a clash between Holland and other powers, but that in getting her entire available forces in readiness for instant use, she was merely conveying a gentle hint to all concerned that she means to have her neutrality respected.

The press generally has received the government's announcement with cool reserve and unconcealed dissatisfaction that the public should still be kept in the dark as to the nature of the pending crisis. The view which seems to have widest currency among the people is that taken by the influential Amsterdam newspaper, Telegraaf, which says:

"We are taking precautionary measures simply and solely against a concentration of German troops on our frontiers."

SITUATION LESS TENSE.

London, April 7.—The situation in Holland apparently is becoming less tense. Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent says an indication of the change is that the officers of the military transportation of the state railways will again be granted leave.

TOO MUCH VALUE PUT ON VERDUN

French Think the Germans Overrate Importance of Fortress.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Paris, April 7—(New York Times cable)—The situation at Verdun is puzzling military critics here. After deciding that the Germans had renewed their attacks to prevent a French counter strike elsewhere, the experts have been startled by to-day's news that yesterday's battle brought into the field furious massed German charges like those of February.

The general opinion of these is illustrated by Raemaeker's cartoon in The Journal, showing the Crown Prince and Kaiser staring through glasses from the summit of a heap of corpses and the former saying:

"Papa, we cannot see Verdun. The heap isn't big enough."

The Temps suggests the possibility that the recent fighting is merely preliminary to another gigantic effort, but qualifies this statement by criticism of the reported German theory that Verdun is thought so important in France that its fall would be followed by an appeal for peace.

Meanwhile, however, Paris believes Verdun is impregnable, and cannot understand why Germany does not realize it.

The names of all eligible young men in Woodstock have been tabulated by the Recruiting League there, and sergeants of the 168 Battalion will immediately make a canvass in the stores and offices.

Perth County Council voted to increase its monthly grant to the Patriotic Fund from $1,400 to $2,000 dating from the first of this year, but refused to endorse Dominion-wide registration of men eligible for war duty.
