Pure Roses.

Sweet June roses red and white,
Opening in the morning light,
Filled with honey, gemmed with dew,
Every stage and every hue—

Maiden [illegible] we,
Growing on the thorny tree;
Damask beauties, peeping out
From the green leaves round about;

Fair wild roses in the dell—
Ask the children, they can tell:
Not a lone year old but knows
Where to find the sweet wild rose.

Pure white roses, white as pearls,
Fit to crown the maiden's curls;
Yellow roses rich and rare,
Roses, roses, everywhere!

Sweet June roses fade, alas!
Dropping pale leaves on the grass,
Scattering petals to the winds,
Shedding balm that no one finds.

Since the lovely roses fade,
Like all earthly sweetness made;
As they blossom on the bough
Let us drink their sweetness now.

Bass and Ale.

A GREAT GAIN FOR SOBRIETY IN THEIR INCREASING CONSUMPTION.

(New York Sun, Editorial.)

The facts and figures presented at the national brewers' convention at St. Louis are interesting to everybody and ought to give great encouragement to sensible temperance people. Whenever whiskey was once our national drink, and Medford rum of old was the favorite New England beverage, the brewers show show on that beer and ale are taking their place in the popular estimation.

This is a great gain for sobriety; and if the consumption of malt liquors shall continue to increase, and shall be kept up at the expense of distilled liquors, both the present and the next generation will be better off than their fathers were. The doctors may disagree as to whether alcohol is a valuable food, and as to the amount of it which may be taken in health without damage to the nervous system; but they are one in putting the limit much below that set for themselves by the average run of steady drinkers of spirits. They are also compelled by the facts of experience and observation to bear testimony that the excessive use of alcohol by one generation weakens the constitution of the next generation, and breeds a percentage of drunkards.

It is therefore a hopeful movement toward temperance when beverages lightly charged with alcohol are substituted for those of which alcohol is the main constituent. And this movement has been going on rapidly during the last twenty years, so that the United States have become one of the great beer drinking countries of the world. The temperance reformers and advocates have not helped it along. They have even worked against it; but side by side with their abortive attempts to stop man's thirst for alcohol by sumptuary legislation, the improvements in the manufacture of beer have been taking place, until the taste of the people has been won to prefer the beverage, whose supply has gone on increasing with the demand.

Of course, men can and do get drunk on lager beer, some on more and some on less. Any liquor which contains alcohol, though the percentage be ever so small, will produce intoxication if it be taken in sufficient quantities; and there are people who can't safely touch alcohol at all, who can hardly smell of it without danger. But enough lager beer to satisfy the thirst, or even to produce a moderate degree of exhilaration, may be drunk by the majority of men without leading them on to drunkenness; whereas distilled liquors, so far from quenching thirst, are apt to create it, and the more of them a man drinks the more he is likely to want. Lager beer, too, is a pleasant social beverage, and it may be consumed in fair quantities without making the drinker offensive to other people; but a party of men who sit out an evening with the aid of whiskey and gin are pretty sure to retire damaged and to wake up unhappy.

The product for the year ending with this June will be about ten million barrels, of which New York will make about one-third. As another consequence of the erection of breweries in every State and Territory and the improvement of the quality of the beer, the number of gallons of beer imported has fallen off from over 2,000,000 in 1875 to about a third the quantity in 1878. A great stimulus has been simultaneously given to the cultivation of hops in the United States, so that not only has the importation of foreign hops almost ceased, but in 1878 we exported nearly ten times as much as in 1872.

Welcome to King Gambrinus, apostle of temperance! He has done far more for the sobriety and happiness of the people than Neal Dow and all his host. But a man may make a hog and nuisance of himself even with lager beer.

Some Phases of Scottish Character.

A short time ago the Rev. Robert Mackenzie delivered an interesting lecture on the above subject in the First Presbyterian Church of Stockton, California. There was a large audience. The lecture was delivered under the auspices of the Caledonian Club. After a short prelude, Mr. Mackenzie proceeded to show the opportunities the Scotch had for proving what was of enduring value in their character. The character has long existed—two thousand years at least have now shone upon the graves of our first fathers. They have seen four civilizations play the drama of history, and still remained intact. In these later centuries Scotsmen have gone everywhere. Scotland is to the world what a cradle is to the home, a place to rock boys and girls into fitness for the world's work. The forests of Canada sound to the blows of the Scotsman's axe, and the pastures of Australia re-echo the Scottish shepherd's voice. The very word Scot means wanderer. They commingle with the people to whom they go. Some may come to suppose, and others to find fault. The Scot thinks "luck, luck." The Scotch industry turns largely to mathematical and mechanical branches. His habit of thought has produced a remarkable degree of integrity. There has been times in our history when political relations with the Government were such that we could not enforce a written contract. At such times a man's word was the only bond of union and of justice. Out of this sprang the sacredness of a promise. A child is whipped for many a trifling offence in Scotland, but the whipping that cuts keenest of all is that for telling a lie. There is no man whose word is considered of more value than the Scotch-Irish. His habits of thought makes him fond of liberty. Ever since the days of John Knox we find it difficult to see any truth in the "Divine right" of Kings. The creed of Republics in its first hard form," says Froude, is found in the answer of John Knox to a question by Queen Mary. Bancroft the greatest American historian says: "The first voice publicly raised in America to dissolve all connection with Great Britain came from the Scotch-Irish," and not only was this sympathy for liberty felt by our countrymen here, but also over in Scotland itself.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means for enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worried out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them as free from disease as when he was born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint is the direct cause of seventy-five per cent of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. 1086

HUMOROUS.

No man ever lived, who had only one fault. A single fault has both sexes in itself, and is sure to beget a large family.

'Lovely!' exclaimed Smythe, as he stood looking out of a window overlooking the meandering Maitland this morning. And we don't know, to this moment, whether he meant the weather or the pretty girl.

Snodgrass says that two young ladies kissing each other are like an emblem of Christianity, because they are doing unto each other as they would men should do unto them.

Time levels everything except a man's back. He humps that up. And I don't see why either. It doesn't appear to make the back any stronger, and it certainly doesn't make it any prettier. But I suppose time knows his business.

An exchange prints fourteen rules for spelling a child—and the quickest and most certain rule is omitted. If you want to spoil a child, give the youngstore a didn't know-it-was-loaded pistol to play with. It goes right to the spot, and no postponement on account of the weather.

Don't Want Them.

Some of the members of the 69th Regiment of New York appear to be anxious to "be even" with the 13th Regiment of Brooklyn in receiving the hospitalities of the fair city of Montreal. The St. Patrick's Society of that city have invited the regiment to be present with them on Dominion Day, and the invitation at first was received with enthusiasm. But it is not likely that the gallant 69th will parade in Canada on that occasion. There are several reasons for this. The 69th consists mainly of Fenians, animated with a strong anti-British feeling, and we fancy the Canadians have had enough of such an element. Many of the regiment dare not visit Canada for fear of an arrest on various charges, and it is well know that the 69th Regiment refused to turn out as a guard of honor to the Prince of Wales during his visit to New York in 1860. It is not likely that amongst so loyal a people as the Montrealers such a body of men would become the "heroes of the hour." The regiment will, therefore, likely remain at home, and on the "Glorious Fourth" may amuse themselves by abusing the "Saxon Thyrant" to their hearts' content.

A Really Good Article.

We would call the attention of an interested to an article of undoubted merit, and which we would advise all in want of to give a trial. We refer to "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy" now being extensively used by many of the largest horse dealers in the country; these men have discovered that it improves the condition of the horse by purifying the blood, and removes from the lungs and liver all that prevents their healthy action; its effect is soon apparent in the improved appearance of the animal, which is one great reason why horse dealers use it, as they are thus enabled to get better prices and at the same time give their customers sound and healthy horses. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

A Curious Fact.

That in severe chronic cases which have proved the most obstinate to other medicines, Wilsons Compound Syrup Wild Cherry gives immediate relief and effects a speedy cure. It has no equal for Coughs, Colds, Coryza, Bronchitis, Loss of Voice, Catarrh, WhoopingCough or Croup.

Mr. B. A. Webber, of the firm of Winslow and Webber, Hamilton, gives us particulars of the following remarkable case: His wife, having caught a very severe cold, lost her voice so completely that the family could not understand a word she said. In this distressing emergency he was advised to try Wilson's Wild Cherry and was astonished to find it effect a cure in four days. Try it. Sold by all Druggists. 1676

☞ Is your throat sore, or are you annoyed by a constant cough? If so, use promptly "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers." They will give you instant relief. They relieve the air passages of phlegm or mucous, and allay inflammation, and no safer remedy can be had for coughs, colds, or any complaint of the throat or lungs, and if taken in time their efficacy will soon be proved. Sold by all druggists and country dealers at 25 cents a box.

HERE WE ARE AGAIN.

Some time ago Morrish's rhyme you did see
When he told you, of the times that might come
But you would not believe that the thing could be
You thought that he was only making a hum.

But the N. P. is going on and lumber going up,
And that is what will make him slow;
But his saw from the States it does keep him blowing,
For it cost him far more and that you must know.

And his Oats for his horses they cost him more too,
And his lumber now up it must go;
You was told all this and you though it would not be true,
But now you will soon think that it was all so.

True his logs he did get when the times was low,
And that is where he will have it the best;
Now he will not break down and that you will know,
And you bet he will feel as happy as the blessed.

So now you can come or now you can go
For his lumber is sure for to sell;
For Orders he has got and he is telling you so,
And it makes him feel most mighty well.

Most folks thought Morrish would sure to break down,
As he went into things so strong;
They thought he must certainly come to the ground,
And now they do wonder he hangs out so long.

But if things work well there is folks he owes quite a grudge,
End if he gets his head a little more above watter;
And then you will bet he will give them a grudge,
And then O my won't they make a great splatter.

So not for McKenzie or not for John A.
Does Morrish care one rap,
The only thing is the times of the day;
And that is all that he cares one rap.

JOHN MORRISH,
Sheppardton P. O.

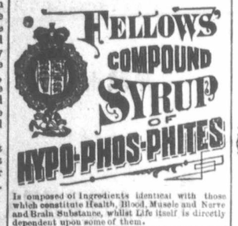
E. L. JOHNSON,
Goderich, May 8th, 1879.



Is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Health, Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, whilst Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, re-establishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax or irregular habits, Bronchitis, Acute or Chronic Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphteria.

An endless chain of good effects is formed by

and we are safe in saying, from a long experience in medicine, its virtues are not possessed by any other combination, as the following will demonstrate.

IT IS ACCEPTABLE to palate and stomach.

SUFFICIENTLY POTENT to insure decided benefit, yet harmless, howsoever long its use may be continued. This characteristic is possessed by no other remedy.

IT ASSISTS DIGESTION and assimilation.

IT VITALIZES THE BLOOD, supplying such ingredients as may be required.

IT RESTORES TONE to the nerves.

IT GIVES POWER of endurance and of concentration to the mind.

IT PROMOTES VIGOR in the organs which depend for health on the involuntary muscular action, viz., the Liver, Lungs, Heart, Stomach and Genitals.

And unless afflicted with some disease involving absolute organic loss, it will sustain the system until it reaches the age allotted to man by a tender Creator.

No PERSON will be disappointed in the effect of FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES, who rigidly follows the directions.

FELLOWS' HYPOPHOSPHITES

INCEPTION.

The experiments which perfected this preparation occupied many months, and were instituted with a view to curing that insidious disease,

TUBERCULAR CONSUMPTION,

and in order to supply the deficiencies in Hypophosphites already in use; for, although their nature was correct as to theory, their preparations were, owing to their imperfect organization, found wanting in practice.

While they caused the formation of fat and generated heat, they did not improve the blood. The tonic effect upon the nerves and muscles was circumscribed, and, owing to their diluted state, involving large doses, they were also too expensive.

The moderate cough by Mr. Fellows weren't

A convenient, palatable remedy;

Unalterable by time;

Harmless, though used continually, yet might be discontinued at any time without any ill effect;

Which would induce an appetite.

Strengthen digestion;

Promote assimilation;

Create healthy blood;

Strengthen the nerves and muscles;

Enable the subject to successfully combat disease.

And sufficiently economical for all.

All this has been indisputably attained. The success of the work is complete; and Fellows' Hypophosphites stand foremost amongst the remedies for chronic wasting diseases, possessing properties to which no other medicine has ever arisen.

ABSTRACT EFFECTS.

Fellows' Hypophosphites, on being introduced into the stomach, unites with the food, and immediately enters the circulation; and, being perfectly miscible with the blood, speedily pervades every part of the system. Its effects are first declared by a pulse slightly increased in fullness and strength, a general exhilaration of the organic functions, and vivification of the intellectual powers. Its specific influence is on the brain and nervous substance; increasing the activity of the absorbent and renewing the blood, thus raising the healthy muscular formation so necessary in restoring the functions of the previously weakened organs.

Being then, a tonic of the nervous and circulatory system, it follows that, when there is a demand for extraordinary exertion, its use is invaluable, since it supplies the waste through the circulation, and sustains the general system.

At no period of life is watchful care over the functions of the brain more requisite than during the acquisition of knowledge by the youth; plodding, persevering study requires a store of vigorous, nervous force, or the child may rink under the mental toil.

Stern necessity may compel the student to train his powers beyond the dictates of prudence, and he early promise of excellence may be blighted thereby.

To such we recommend Fellows' Hypophosphites it will not only restore the sinking patient, but it will enable the toiling student to preserve his mental and nervous standard without detriment.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS & OINTMENT

The Pills Purify the Blood, correct all disorders of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys and Bowels, and are invaluable in all complaints incidental to Females. The Ointment is the only reliable remedy for Bad Legs, Old Wounds, Sores and Ulcers, of however long standing. For Bronchitis, Diphtheria, Coughs, Colds, Gout, Rheumatism, and all Skin Diseases it has no equal.

BEWARE OF

AMERICAN COUNTERFEITS.

I most respectfully take leave to call the attention of the Public generally to the fact, that certain Houses in New York are sending to many parts of the globe SPURIOUS IMITATIONS of my Pills and Ointment. These frauds bear on their labels some address in New York

I do not allow my Medicine to be sold in any part of the United States. I have no Agents there. My Medicines are only made by me, at 533, Oxford street, London.

In the Books of directions affixed to the spurious make is a cautious warning the Public against being deceived by counterfeits. Do not be misled by this audacious trick, as they are the counterfeits they pretend to denounce.

These counterfeits are purchased by unprincipled Vendors at one-half the price of my Pills and Ointment and are sold to you as genuine Medicines.

I most earnestly appeal to that sense of justice which I feel sure I may venture upon asking from all honorable persons, to assist me, and the Public, as far as may lie in their power, in denouncing this shameful Fraud.

Each Pot and Box of the Genuine Medicine, has the British Government Stamp, with the word 'HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT LONDON,' engraved thereon. On the label is the address, 533 Oxford street London, where alone they are Manufactured. Holloway's Pills and Ointment bearing any other address are counterfeit.

The Trade Marks of these Medicines are registered in Ottawa. Hence, any one throughout the British Possessions who may keep the America Counterfeits for sale, will be prosecuted.
