TO BREED FRENCH-CANADIAN HORSES

Steps Are Being Taken to Rehabilitate a Most Famous Line of Equines.

Montreal, June 13.—Horsemen in Canada are greatly interested in the recent action of the Federal Government at Ottawa in giving authority for the establishment of a stud book in which the French-Canadian type of horse will be eligible for registration.

There was a time when this distinctive breed was one of the features of the Province of Quebec, but outcrosses with unsuitable stallions, chiefly Clydes and Belgians, have practically exterminated the type which once was predominant. There are, however, in a few districts some good specimens still, and an effort is to be made toward rehabilitating the breed.

The true French-Canadian horse of half a century ago was a stout-bodied horse on short legs. He had many of the qualities of the Morgan, although as a rule much larger than his American cousin, and there is little reason to doubt that many Morgans brought from Maine and Vermont across the Canadian border were used in the stud throughout Quebec and that some of the most prized of the French-Canadian horses had a strong infusion of Morgan blood. Their trappy action and lightness of foot showed that, it being no extraordinary thing to find horses of 1,400 pounds and more capable of 2:40 speed, with the bend of the knee and the flex of the neck that are the delight of every man who knows the horse and what is most desirable in the way of gait.

Their Strength Prodigious.

Their most distinguished characteristic was their heavy manes, tails and foretops, the hair of the former invariably falling to the point of the shoulder and often to the knee, while the bottom of the tail in many instances reached the ground. In the cases of the stallions the manes had to be turned on alternate sides of the neck in successive years to prevent the crest from being pulled out of shape, so heavy was the mass of hair.

Their strength was prodigious and for their inches they could outpull any horse in the world. Used in the heavy snows of the long winters, where they were often up to their backs in the lumber woods and sharply show, it was a rare thing for them to cut themselves. The average cold-blooded or mongrel horse will struggle when placed in a like position, and if shod sharply will tear his legs to pieces in a wild scramble to extricate himself.

Not so the French-Canadian. He will settle down in the soft, yielding moss waiting the command of his driver, and when he is told to "marche" it is a picture to see him set his splendid shoulders in the collar and hang in the traces with muscles bulging until the load moves. There is none of the wild flying and plunging at the load which is characteristic of some horses. The Canuck knows how to utilize his strength, and once the load is in motion he keeps on until restrained.

ACT DIRECTLY ON THE LIVER

Biliousness and Headaches Quickly Cured by DR. A. W. CHASE'S KIDNEY and LIVER PILLS.

When you feel irritable, cranky and downhearted, you can usually blame the liver, for there is no organ in the human body which so quickly throws the system out of sorts as a torpid, sluggish liver.

You don't need to be in the blues long if you know about Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills, for by their direct action on the liver they relieve promptly and prove lastingly beneficial.

One of the principal ingredients of this medicine is known to the medical profession as a specific for liver derangements. Quickly, naturally and certainly it awakens the sluggish liver and drives out the poisons which cause headaches, biliousness, bodily pains and a depressed feeling over the whole system.

Vigor, strength and good nature will return when the liver is set right by Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Write for free copy of Dr. Chase's Recipes.

FLOWER SUNDAY IN THE CHURCHES

Many Edifices of London Were Beautifully Decorated Yesterday With Wild Flowers.

TRAINING OF THE YOUNG

English Pastor Says This Is the First Duty of the World—Sermons in Many Pulpits.

Yesterday was observed as flower Sunday in a number of the city churches, and the interiors were beautifully decorated with all kinds of wild flowers hung in long festoons and garlands all about. The effect was very beautiful.

A special sermon from the text, "Consider the Lilies, How They Grow" was preached by Rev. Richard Whiting at the First Methodist Church, and a special musical programme was rendered.

The Rev. Percy Waller, of Cheltenham, England, occupied the pulpit of St. Paul's Cathedral on Sunday morning, delivering a sermon which dealt particularly with the care and bringing up of children.

"Your first duty," he said, "is to train your young people in the Christian life. Let not anything pass your lips which would poison their ears. You should get in close contact with your children, taking part in their games and kindling their enthusiasm with your enthusiasm."

Rev. Walter Moffatt at Chalmers Presbyterian Church: "Many women of today are practicing self-denial in their homes in a great many ways. They sink their own individuality and work with great industry even when they are not fully trusted with money by their husbands. Rachael was such a woman, industrious, home-loving and sensible."

Rev. A. E. White of Montreal at Talbot Street Baptist Church spoke on "The French Problem—Should Protestants Preach the Gospel to Roman Catholics in Quebec?" He alleged that in Montreal and throughout Quebec the people are not allowed to read Bibles and that the priests burn all they find in the homes. Mr. White spoke particularly of the work of the Grand Ligne Mission.

Rev. H. A. Graham at the Wellington Street Methodist Church: "Every precious possession which is ours was purchased by pain. Our material blessings, our civil and political liberty, our moral and religious rights, all these are ours because others have suffered. The world's progress still depends on those who are willing to endure."

Rev. A. L. G. Clarke, who was recently appointed curate of the St. James' Episcopal Church, South London, preached his first sermon last night to a very large congregation. He pointed out the necessity of having an aim in life and of pressing forward steadily in an effort to accomplish it.

Rev. Dr. Ross at St. Andrew's Church: "In the new theology there is no such a word as holiness, and the religious idea is simply intellectual. In old days there were lots of people who would not read a newspaper or magazine on Sunday, but who would, if they found you reading the Bible on a week day, ask you what you were doing it for."

The Rev. E. H. Peatfield at the First Congregational Church on Sunday evening spoke of "The Leprosy of Sin." He said: "Just as physical leprosy begins with one foul spot and from that spreads over the whole body, so also the leprosy of sin begins with some small habit and from that develops the ruin of character, and, further, even as leprosy isolates a man, so also sin cuts a man off from the esteem and confidence of his fellow creatures, and finally just as the leprosy ends in death so also sin, if persisted in, results in man's complete ruin in the worst sense of that term."

Rev. J. Gibson Inkster at the New St. James' Church: "The transfiguration took place at night on a mountain top. It is necessary for us today to fulfil these conditions and withdraw ourselves from the noise and throng of the congregation and from the preacher's voice, and go to a mountain top, and there, amid the silences and solitude of the universe, we will see the heavenly vision."

Rev. W. H. A. Claris at the Southern Congregational Church: "I must make a kind but earnest protest against the libeling of the churches and denominations by people who constantly represent them as envious and quarrelling. I have been 30 years in the pastorate, and I have never noticed any of this bitterness or jealousy."

Church Notes.

Rev. A. L. G. Clarke will be presented with an address of welcome at a social to be held in the St. James' Episcopal Church, South London, this evening.

On Wednesday evening Rev. J. Gibson Inkster, in the First Presbyterian Church, will give his impressions of the recent meeting of the general assembly at Halifax.

Rev. Dr. Manning preached special evangelical sermons in Dundas Centre Church yesterday.

The regular monthly business meeting of the congregation of Talbot Street Baptist Church will be held on Wednesday evening.

Rev. J. Gibson Inkster, of the First Presbyterian Church and Rev. Thomas Mitchell, of the New St. James' Church, exchanged pulpits last night.

A special social evening will be held at the Wellington Street Methodist Church on Sunday evening, the occasion being a farewell to Rev. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mortimer, who leave shortly for China.

LOBO SCHOOL PICNIC WILL BE A HUMMER

Parade of the School Children and a Splendid Programme On Friday Next.

The Lobo school picnic, the greatest event of its kind in this part of the country, will be held on Friday next, June 17.

This is an annual event and attracts visitors from all parts of the Province.

This year's promises to eclipse all former records.

A splendid programme has been arranged, and with favorable weather it should prove an unequalled success.

There will be the parade of the school children. They will form up in the school grounds, and march to Campbell's Grove, where the flag-raising exercises will be gone through with. The London Pipers' Band will escort the children.

Then will follow a programme of sports, for which liberal prizes will be offered. At 3:30 a game of baseball between Ailsa Craig and the Greysteads will take place. These teams are old rivals and always furnish an exciting game.

An excellent programme has been provided for the evening. There will be music by the Highland Pipe Band of London, Tony Cortese's orchestra; Jack McPherson, Canada's Harry Lauder; Harvey Lloyd, Toronto, comedian; the Riddell sisters of London, dancers; Mrs. Watcher, soprano soloist, of Ailsa Craig, besides other features. Addresses will be given by Mr. J. C. Elliott, M. P. P., and Mr. Duncan C. Ross, M. P.

Mr. Archie McGugan is chairman of the picnic committee, and Mr. I. M. Gray is secretary. A large number of Londoners will take in the affair.

LEBURTIS BOUGHT HIS OWN COFFIN

Weird Story of Former Londoner Who Committed Suicide.

William Leburtis, the old colored man, who formerly lived in London, and who ended his own life at his home in Woodstock a few days ago by shooting himself, had evidently had suicide in mind for some time. Two weeks before his death he purchased his own casket from Mr. Paul, the undertaker, and made the statement to him that Mr. Evans was gone, and that he (Leburtis) soon would be.

NEW CHURCH DEDICATED

Impressive Ceremonies at New Grace Methodist Edifice, St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, June 13.—Dedication services in the new Grace Methodist Church took place here yesterday.

There were overflow congregations at all the services. A magnificent sacred programme was given by the united choirs of the Methodist Churches of the city.

The dedicatory ceremony was in charge of Rev. Dr. Millyard, Goderich, president of the London Conference. At the morning services Dr. J. V. Smith, of the Centenary Church, Hamilton, preached an effective and forceful sermon, his text being "Paul, an Apostle of Jesus Christ."

Rev. W. Godwin, of Parkhill, discoursed in the afternoon, earnestly and satisfactorily. His subject was "Christ, the Rock."

In the evening Dr. Millyard gave a far-reaching and impressive sermon on the Scriptural passage, "If I be lifted up from earth I will draw all men unto Me." The doctor's theme was the power of Jesus Christ for the salvation of man and the uplifting of the human race.

The offerings at the several services amounted to $1,750. The congregation have subscribed $21,000 to the building fund, and with the cash on hand will leave a balance due of about $8,000. On Monday night the dedicatory supper will be given in the rooms of the church, at which the visiting ministers and local pastors will be present, and besides an excellent musical programme will be given by some of the best city talent.

EDNA'S ADVENTURES.

New York, June 13.—Edna Wallace Hopper and her husband, A. O. Brown, formerly of the stock exchange, along with Laura Guerite, another actress, and her husband, John J. Parker, in the electrical business, were out all night Friday night in an open motor boat on the rocks of Little Hell Gate.

Miss Hopper and Miss Guerite are confined to their beds today at the Parker home, Elmhurst, Long Island, under the care of physicians. It is not believed that either will suffer seriously from her experience, although both took severe colds and were badly exhausted when the boat finally worked its way off the rocks this morning.

LUXURY OF AIR LINES

Salon of New Passenger Airship a Marvel of Comfort.

London, June 11. — The German Aerial Navigation Company is trying to insure the comfort of the passengers who will travel in its airships. The passengers' cabin for the L. Z. VII., the first Zeppelin liner, has just been fitted to the balloon now nearing completion at Friedrichshafen.

The cabin, which was made at Stuttgart, is panelled in mahogany inlaid with rosewood and mother-of-pearl. The entire cabin, which is thirty feet in length, and from six feet to eight feet in width, is divided into five smaller cabins, each of these affording seating accommodation for four people. The seats are wicker armchairs screwed to the floor, but made to revolve. There are a small ante-room and a lavatory.

The windows are planned very spaciously to allow a good view, and are fitted with glass in the forepart of the cabin. The walls are of thin mahogany while doors, covered with sailcloth, lead forward and aft and to the gondola of the vessel.
