The proposition made by M. R. A., Ltd., in this issue, is something new and attractive in the line of buying spring furniture. It affords the "Handy" man, (so called), a chance to save a few dollars and introduces the factory-to-consumer plan of buying. It's a money-saving scheme for the person who takes advantage of it. The bedroom sets are on view in the M. R. A. warerooms, Market Square.

J. J. HILL

(New York Times.)

James J. Hill, who has just returned to this city after an absence of a number of weeks, gave a reporter of the Times yesterday the most definite public statement which he has made in regard to the extent of his railroad projects in Canada. Mr. Hill said that these had been very much exaggerated in some recent accounts, and that what he was doing in Canada was merely carrying out work which he had undertaken some time ago. The total length of the lines in Canada, which he intends to build, Mr. Hill said, would be about 1200 miles. He was reminded that it had been reported that the lines which he proposed building would amount, all told, to 3000 miles

"I do not know where I would put the 3000 miles," Mr. Hill replied.

"Some accounts had it that you proposed continuing the lines from the Pacific straight through to the Atlantic."

"That is not so," he said. "There is really nothing new in the work which we are doing in Canada. For the last two years we have been at work on a line from the Pacific coast through the mountains in British Columbia, and we are now working on a line from Winnipeg westward. We are building the line from both ends, and by the time the Grand Trunk reaches Winnipeg—that is, perhaps in three or four years—we expect to have our line completed from Vancouver on the Pacific to Winnipeg."

HE APPEALED TO YOUNG MEN

(Montreal Witness.)

"I hope that there lives no young Canadian today who is liable to forget that there is a Power about and above him, and if you realize this, never forget to be guided by such knowledge for in this life of bitter strife we need a guiding spirit."

This was the advice given to the members of the Canadian Club by the Hon. George E. Foster, M. P., in a speech delivered at the weekly luncheon, held recently at the St. Lawrence Hall.

"Healthy manhood," continued Mr. Foster, "is a necessity to a country like Canada, for in strong and manly men does a nation become great and glorious. Then, again, what about honesty? Ah, well, my young friends, that is the keynote of your success or failure. Today, when one reads always every hour of this or that individual going wrong, of this or that business corporation going wrong, and, will, I say, politics possibly going wrong, is it not time that the youth of this Dominion were taught to perceive their surroundings. You might think from all this that the world is becoming bad, and that all these were worse than in any other ages, but I believe that such is not the case. To me it all seems to be an evidence of the inner heart and conscience of the public becoming better, and as such they determine on better methods as principles to be followed in the future.

"We are all reformers in a way, and this should never be lost sight of, and let us keep in mind the old saying that "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty" Anglo-Saxons have always fought for what is right, but after the ardor of the conquest has passed away, the question of indifference crops in and then suddenly the old reformers wake up to find that the enemies of dishonesty and corruption have captured the citidel. Then I say that eternal vigilance is the price you must pay for your liberty.

"The tendency of the present day," continued Mr. Foster, "is to crowd into our cities, but to my mind the lesson of old should be taught, and that is "back to the land." In this way you must get back to honor and honesty through the old principles. Integrity, I say, in politics, municipal and business life, is about due, and we must go back to the quiet of our own home and there realize, as I said before, that there is a Supreme Power above and outside of us, and this, my friends, should aid us to develop character."

"As to the resources of Canada, much might be said, and I for one predict a great future for our Dominion. I am of the opinion that no man has ever yet discovered Canada, for the process of discovery will go on for the next one hundred years before we are permitted to draw off the mantle of national greatness. I would ask every Canadian to be proud of his country, for its prospects are great and its future glorious. We can only limit its growth by our own indifference. Do not permit yourselves to be smothered in conceit for your country, for in that there is only empty pride. Now, with all this heritage how rapidly we can develop our Dominion and carry out our duties as loyal Canadians during the next century.

"The yoke of this country is being fitted to the shoulders of every Canadian. Will they be able to carry the burden? That is a sober thought. Let me ask you to remember that the future grows out of the past, and unless we pay heed to the past we cannot be prosperous in the future. Keep in memory the past struggles of the pioneers of Canada and do not fail in your endeavor to follow their example."

Mr. Foster, in conclusion, said that a great deal of the business of the country was too much of a top growth and he made an eloquent plea for honest work and a higher and nobler character, so that Canada would be recognized as a nation of strong and honest men.

Capt Robbins at one time commanded the three-master Mary B Wellington of New Bedford. He leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters. The boat was seen on the rocks on Saturday, and it is supposed Capt. Robbins pushed her off.

of superiority is found by analysts, when they subject this choice spirit to thorough examination. They declare it to be mellowed to the perfection of flavour by great age, thus proving excellence. Inferior spirit refuses to develop no matter how long stored

SPORTING

ATHLETIC.

The Olympic Games.

Athens, April 24—Italians, French and Greeks, men of magnificent physique, won the prizes in the rowing races of the Olympic games today. The Italians won the four-oared gigs, six-oared navy and the whalers in slashing style, the French taking the second place in the four-oared gigs, and the Greeks finishing second in the six-oared race.

The 16-oared barge race was won by the Greek crew, which displayed the traditional prowess and watermanship of their nation.

The swimming events followed, Daniels, American, winning the first heat of the 100 metres in fine style, with Healy, Australian, second, and Derbyshire, English, third.

Radmilovic, Welsh, was first in the second heat; Halmay, Hungarian, second, and Marquand Schwartz, American, third.

All these will compete in the final heat tomorrow.

The mile swim was won in magnificent manner by Taylor, English.

RING

Martin Wins From Deshler.

After fifteen rounds of uninteresting boxing, Terry Martin, of Philadelphia, was awarded the decision over Dave Deshler, of Cambridge, at the Lincoln Club, Chelsea, Monday night.

Martin had several pounds advantage. They had agreed to weigh 132 pounds at 5 o'clock, but Martin was overweight and did not weigh. He paid forfeit. The boys boxed "clean breaks," which in a measure was the cause of the bout being slow.

Young Erne Wins.

"Young" Erne, of Philadelphia, showed some of his old-time form at the Washington A. C. in the Quaker City Monday night, when he had the better of "Kid" Sullivan, of Washington. Sullivan continually tried to get in close, but Erne held him off. In the second round the men twice got in close and a body-punching duel resulted, in which Sullivan had the better of it. After that Erne never showed much desire to exchange body wallops with the Washingtonian.

Near the finish of the last round Erne came back fast with a left swing on Sullivan's face, and they went into a mixup which lasted until the final bell.

In the preliminaries Freddy Welch, of England, proved too clever for "Matty" Baldwin, of Boston.

Before the windup, "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien made a speech in which he announced that he was willing to box any man in the world, white or black, four rounds for the benefit of the San Francisco sufferers.

E. Savage, Campbello; Samuel Taylor, St. George; Frank Wright, St. George; Frank Longworth, Boston; Thos Smethurst, Portland, are at the New Victoria.
