MINES AND MINING STOCKS

Several Issues Showed Rather a Sagging Tendency on Saturday—Morning's Exchange.

THE REACTIONS FROM FAST RISES.

Another Big Mining Deal in British Columbia—Mining in East Ontario — Notes.

Mining stocks in many instances showed a sagging tendency on Saturday. This was only natural in view of the recent heavy advances.

Another $400,000 B. C. Deal.

The St. Eugene mine near Moyie City, B.C., has been bonded to Matheson & Co. of London, Eng., for $400,000. The preliminary papers for the deal have been signed by the owners of the mine and the Vancouver representatives of the London Company. The final papers will be signed and a payment of $40,000 made as soon as word can be received from England.

The deal for the sale of the St. Eugene has been pending for some time. Leslie Hill, a Vancouver mining engineer, visited the mine for Matheson & Co., the latter part of last year. His report was laid before the head officials of the English company and was so favorable that it was decided to send G. A. F. Schneider of New York, the expert of the company, to examine the mine. Mr. Schneider visited the mine in company with H. Bell-Irving of Vancouver, Canadian agent for Matheson & Co., Leslie Hill, the engineer who made the first examinations, and James Cronin, one of the owners of the property, and thoroughly examined all the workings of the mine.

The deal for the bonding of the property was closed, H. Bell-Irving & Co. signing the bond for Matheson & Co., and making a small cash payment. Mr. Schneider's report is now en route to England. As soon as it is received the final papers will be signed and a payment of 10 per cent. made on the mine.

It is rumored that Matheson & Co. are also negotiating for the purchase of the Moyie and Queen of the Hills, two promising properties near the St. Eugene.

Mining in Eastern Ontario.

O. R. Sprague of the Sovereign Gold Mining Development Corporation has sold a block of stock in Kingston, Belleville and Brockville, and with the funds work will be begun upon properties in Hastings, Addington and Frontenac Counties.

Rossland Vein Structure.

"The vein structure of the Rossland camp is an interesting study," said the superintendent of one of the big mines to a Miner reporter.

"It seems to me," he continued, "that there is one great mother lode throughout the entire north belt. It forms a huge arc, extending around the southern slopes of Red, Monte Cristo and Columbia Mountains. Its eastern extremity, so far as has been traced, is near the Columbia-Kootenay. The western end seems to be somewhere on the west slope of Red Mountain, near Jumbo Gulch. Between these two extremes it stretches out like a huge bow, along the general line of which lie the great ore bodies thus far discovered.

"This lode, which can be traced for thousands of feet, is the main fracture of the north belt. Branching off from it on each side are other fissures, which form a series of rich veins in themselves. The whole system is much like the backbone of a fish, with the spine and ribs branching out from it. At times the great mother lode narrows until it becomes a mere seam in the country rock. Again it widens out into immense ore bodies. The same is true of the lateral veins, which often rival the main fissure in size and values. The comparison to the backbone and the ribs of a fish is, of course, a general one. I would not have you think that it can be carried out in detail.

"Crossing the whole vein formation is a regular series of faults, as perfect in its way as is the ledge structure itself. On Red Mountain the breaks are numerous and they form the principal difficulty which the mining superintendents must overcome. Under the circumstances, every additional bit of knowledge that can be added to the general store regarding the nature of these faults is to, the advantage of the whole mining community.

"It has been my experience that the faults in this city come from the north to the south. The vast earth-disturbance which caused them seems to have extended from the poles to the equator. In the past some difficulty has been caused here by a confusion of dykes and faults. Properly, there are no dykes here. The genuine dyke is a cross-course of some rock foreign to the main nature of the country rock. Here what we call a dyke is really a section of the country rock occurring in the ledge. At the time the fissure was formed, ages ago, the fracture was incomplete and in places no cleavage occurred. Later on the mineral was deposited in these fissures. Where the fracture had been incomplete, no mineral was, of course, deposited. It is these portions of the country rock occurring in the vein that are locally known as dykes. They are distinguishable because of the fact that they generally occur at right angles to the ledge proper. When they are found the mining man need only drive straight ahead through the dyke along the general line of the ledge. He is almost certain to find the ore in place, just where it should be, when the dyke has been traversed.

"The fault is radically different. It can be easily distinguished from the dyke, since the fault is generally accompanied by striation marks, where it has been forced through the surrounding rock and the ledge. Then, too, there is nearly always a streak of talc between the vein matter and the fault. It has been my experience that these faults cut the country with almost mathematical precision. When one of two or three parallel ledges has faulted, the others may be depended upon to fault in a direct line with the break in the first ledge. As a consequence, when the character of one fault has been solved, a solution is offered to the character of the corresponding faults in all the parallel ledges lying by."

Republic Stocks — Reindeer and Jumbo.

There has been a strong movement in the shares of properties situated near the Dorn, such as Reindeer and Jumbo. Very heavy sales of Reindeer were made on Toronto account.—Republic Miner, Feb. 11, 1899.

Golden Star Gold Bricks.

A fine photograph was received by Mr. S. J. Sharp, the Yonge-street broker, of the twelve gold bricks recently sent from the Golden Star mine, near Mine Centre, Ont., to Duluth. These twelve gold bricks represent $15,000, and are the result of the January mill run. This photo is on exhibition at Mr. Sharp's office.

Camp McKinney Has a Great Future

Comparatively unknown until within the last few months Camp McKinney is to-day considered one of the most promising gold producing camps in America, and shrewd investors in mines and mining shares are turning now their attention to Camp McKinney stocks and properties in preference to all others. Camp McKinney lies due west from Rossland, about 60 or 65 miles in Canadian territory, not far from the international boundary line, and was first brought into prominence by the famous Cariboo mine, which has had a wonderful record and is now considered one of the safest and best investments in the mining market. Twenty-eight thousand dollars was the produce of last month's clean-up, with twenty stamps, and with forty stamps $500,000 more should be cleaned up every month.

Great is Cariboo of Camp McKenney. But there are others coming rapidly to the front with prospects of rivalling Cariboo and helping to swell the monthly golden harvest of this prosperous camp. Among the latter might be mentioned Minnehaha, with its rich ore bodies, averaging richer than Cariboo. A ten-stamp is to be erected in a short time on this mine and with plenty of money in its treasury Minnehaha's prospects are of the best.

Lying just east of the Cariboo, one property only intervening, is the Waterloo, which is making a famous name and reputation for itself. Waterloo is capitalized for only $150,000, divided into ten-cent shares. A few days ago, while drifting at the 85-foot level, a rich vein, five or six feet wide, running fifty to sixty dollars to the ton, was encountered, and Waterloo now claims to have the biggest and richest vein in the camp, and plenty of ore in sight to keep a ten-stamp mill running.

A Toronto company has bought the Ecuador, a large full-sized claim, lying only a few hundred feet east of the Waterloo, and is about to place the first block of treasury stock on the Toronto market. A good many shares are already bought and spoken for in advance, so that the flotation of Ecuador is already an assured success. Ecuador is capitalized for $1,000,000, shares of $1 each, with 500,000 shares in the treasury, thus assuming enough treasury stock to fully develop and equip the mine. This is the first time half of a mining company's capital has been issued and advertised as treasury stock on Toronto market. Two good ledges run across the property, one running north and south, and the other east and west, which is undoubtedly the Waterloo ledge. Ecuador also has the only water power in Camp McKinney running across its whole extent, a most valuable asset to a free milling property. Work will be again started by the company and vigorously prosecuted, and before long the Ecuador will likely be another gold producer in this wonderful camp.

WENT TO SEE FOR HIMSELF.

Was Advised to Sell Golden Star, But Didn't Take the Advice.

West Superior, Wis., Feb. 19.—(Special.)—George Randolph, one of the former owners of the Golden Star, and who sold the property for $30,000 to its present owners, returned from the Seine gold district yesterday. He went there because of a rumor that Golden Star had plunched out. Holding a large block of stock, which he bought one year ago from one of the promoters selling out, he was advised by a friend to sell at 46 cents, and, thinking possibly the tip might emanate from a source reliable, determined to first investigate for himself. He wrote a broker in this city that he had been to the mine and examined it at every level, going over with his son, both being experienced mining men. "At the fifth level," he writes, "the ore is coming in richer and has widened to seven feet, and a rich pay chute has been discovered which gave assays valued at $350 per ton. From present indications, it will open into a larger body of ore, the same as the Sultana. You can sell my stock when it is for sale, but there will be none of it for sale until it reaches one dollar per share, and then only part of it. From what I saw, the mine will hold dividends much greater than at its present depth. I was somewhat worried when you told me to sell, and determined to see for myself, as I did not believe it. The mill run for February will exceed $20,000. Find out what J.O. 41 can be bought for."

His letter, which was read by your correspondent, went on to say that everything in the mine was looking well, and the mill was running in fine shape. He also referred to the Alice A. find, and said the mining men in the Seine River camp were all excited about the matter. It was known about up there two weeks ago. He met Col. Hillyer, who said he would be down with several gold bricks from the Alice A. within a few days, and that the Colonel had bought several properties near the Alice A. and one near the Golden Star.

I can recommend all the above. Write for my special circular on CARNES CREEK CONSOLIDATED, the most advanced of any property in the Big Bend country, about 35 miles from Revelstoke. A RICH GOLD PROPOSITION.

FAIRMONT (Dundee extension).—At a depth of 85 feet the company have 4½ feet of $28 ore. A shipment of 20 tons is being made to the smelter. It is not often that the investor has the chance of picking up shares at 10c in a shipping mine.

MONARCH (Gold-Copper).—At a depth of 70 feet a nice body of ore has been encountered.

VICTORY-TRIUMPH.—Investors should purchase this stock without delay. I know something of Sophia Mountain, and I guarantee a bright future for the holder of V.-T. stock.

WHITE BEAR should prove to be a remunerative stock. Holders should ask a stiff price for their shares and should not be anxious to part.

Camp McKinney

ALICE A is fast coming to the front and is sure to have a big boom. NOW is the time to buy, as all McKinney stocks are going higher.

THE ECUADOR McKINNEY is a new Toronto company which has just been organized. Ecuador lies just east of Waterloo and has two good ledges, assaying $21.95, has the only water-power in the camp and is a full-sized claim. A great number of our customers have been enquiring about Ecuador, and we advise them to send their orders in now for a part of the first block of treasury stock, which will be advertised in the open market in a very few days, a good portion of which is already spoken for. BUY NOW and get in on the first block, as the next lot will be put on the market at a higher figure.

WATERLOO has advanced as we predicted and will yet go much higher. We still advise buying of WATERLOO at once. Don't wait until it is selling at 20c or 25c, but buy now. For full information apply to

Republic Stocks

My tracing of Saturday last has met with much favor. Giving, as it does, an accurate idea of the position of REINDEER and JUMBO, the investor has had additional pleasure in noting the position of the great REPUBLIC mine. The sketch is an object lesson to the investor. I am mailing my REPUBLIC NOTES to interested parties, and would just mention that, in addition to REINDEER and JUMBO, I can quote an easy figure on BLACK TAIL, JIM BLAINE and SANS POIL. A little money judiciously invested now may yield a handsome return in the future.

Got Away With $2600 From the Private Bank of R. J. Powell in Blenheim.

Windsor, Ont., Feb. 18.—R. J. Powell's private bank in Blenheim was entered by burglars at an early hour yesterday morning. The safe was blown to atoms with several charges of dynamite. The robbers secured $2000 and a package of notes valued at about $600. They afterwards went to the L. E. & D. R. R. section house and took a hand car, on which they travelled to three miles north of Fargo. There it is presumed they cut across the country towards Chatham.
