CAFETERIA STYLE FOR ROTARY CLUB AT ANNUAL OUTING

Food Waste Eliminated by This Means at Picnic.

Plans for the coming picnic of the Rotary Club formed the chief subject of discussion at the luncheon of that organization on Monday.

Chairman Turner of the picnic committee announced that the children who were trying examinations would be called for at their schools after 4 o'clock, if their names were handed in beforehand.

The cafeteria system will be introduced at the picnic. No tables will be laid, and instead everyone will do the serve-self stunt. This it is hoped will avoid the waste of food that has taken place under the old-fashioned picnic system.

John Bridge stated that Ray Lawson would present to every baby entering the baby contest a bank book with $1 to its credit.

Chairman W. E. Green informed those present that a first-rate sports program has been prepared.

William Martin hung up as a prize a ton of coal to the father of the "1916-1917 and 1918 model" babies who wins out in a 75-yard dash.

WARNINGS SEEM TO HAVE SECURED NECESSARY EFFECT

M. S. A. Police Force, However, Trebled Because of New Orders.

The stricter enforcement of the order-in-council with reference to all persons carrying certificates indicating their status under the M. S. A., is being carried out now by the members of the civil section of the military police.

Many men are being approached and asked to show their papers. The warnings which have been issued from time to time through the press have apparently had the desired effect of making men of apparent military age protect themselves with the necessary papers.

In order to cope with the demands made by the rigid enforcement of this order-in-council, the strength of the civil section of the military police, formerly the Dominion police in this district has been trebled within the last three weeks. A number of new men were added to the staff this morning.

CITY'S SHARE IS $2,000

Suburban Road's Estimate Is Low For Year.

At a meeting of the Suburban Road Commission at the county buildings on Monday, County Engineer Charles Talbot submitted figures to show that $5,000 would be needed for the maintenance of highways in the area prescribed during 1918.

Of this amount the county and city would provide $2,000 each and the Ontario Government $1,000.

Controller E. S. Little, the only city member of the commission present at the meeting, stated to the county commissioners that he would submit the proposition for approval to the city council. The $5,000 estimate includes the construction of a small bridge.

Those present, besides the county engineer and Controller Little, were: A. G. Blaikie, reeve of Westminster; J. L. Robson, reeve of London Township, and B. C. Brooks, ex-reeve of London Township.

Just One Application and the Hairs Vanish

[Toilet Talks.]

Any woman can keep her skin free from unsightly hair or fuzz if she will follow these simple instructions: When hairy growths appear, apply a simple paste, made by mixing some water with powdered delatone. Apply this to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is a harmless treatment, but be sure you get the real delatone.—Advt.

FORMER SECRETARY NEW PRESIDENT OF LONDON MINISTERS

Rev. Byron Snell Elected Alliance President.

ANNUAL MEETING MONDAY

Business for Year Wound Up at Gathering — Former Officers Honored.

Business for the past year was wound up Monday at the final meeting for the season of the London Ministerial Alliance, including the election of the officers for next season. According to time-honored precedent in the alliance, the first vice-president each year steps into the presidency when the time arrives for a new election. Owing to the fact that the first vice-president for the past season, Rev. H. S. Dougall, is leaving for a new charge in Hamilton, it was necessary today to depart from custom, though the office went to a representative of the Methodist denomination, Rev. Byron Snell, who has been the recording secretary during the past year. Rev. John Hosie, London Junction, was made first vice-president, Rev. A. L. Beverley, St. Mark's Church, second vice-president, Rev. J. N. Norton, Maitland Street Baptist Church, recording secretary, and Rev. B. H. Robinson, Memorial Methodist Church, corresponding secretary.

Elected Honorary President.

Rev. J. H. Boyd, retiring president, was unanimously elected honorary president. The new executive was empowered to prepare the program of work for next season, and also the new directory. On the program of work for next season will appear a note to the effect that all retired ministers living in the city will be welcome to all the privileges of the alliance without paying the membership fee.

On motion of Rev. John Hosie, seconded by Rev. Prof. Wright, the alliance recorded its deep regret at the loss through removal from the city of Dr. Dougall, and its hearty appreciation of the services he has rendered the alliance.

A copy of the resolution will be sent to the Hamilton Ministerial Alliance.

Replying, Dr. Dougall declared that the alliance had been a benediction to him, broadening his vision of city work, of social possibilities and of the power that a group of men such as constitutes the alliance can be in the community, directing thought and shaping action.

A similar resolution of appreciation to Rev. H. D. Moyer, who also leaves the end of this month, was recorded in his absence.

On motion of Rev. W. R. McIntosh, seconded by Rev. W. M. Walker, a vote of appreciation was tendered the retiring president, Rev. J. H. Boyd, and Rev. Byron Snell, recording secretary for the past year.

In connection with the day of national humiliation and prayer to be observed on Sunday, June 30, it was decided to circularize the members of the Alliance, asking them on that day to draw special attention to the pastoral issued by the Alliance and published in the daily press on Saturday, June 8.

Appreciate Army Work.

The secretary, Rev. Byron Snell, reported for a committee specially appointed to deal with a request from the Salvation Army to the alliance to the effect that the alliance furnish the office in the new Salvation Army Social Service Home, that the committee recommended that no action be taken, in view of the fact that the alliance is not a money-making organization. At the same time, the cause was commended to the sympathy of the ministers and their congregations and others in a position to entertain the appeal. The recommendation was indorsed by the meeting, and several appreciative comments made on the work of the army in connection with its enlarged social service activities.

Arrangements were made for the continuance this week of the noon-hour prayer services in Cronyn Hall under the following leadership: Tuesday, Rev. Dr. Peever; Wednesday, Rev. G. W. Young; Thursday, Rev. J. N. Laverie; Friday, Rev. Dr. Dougall; Saturday, Salvation Army. Rev. Prof. Wright, who took the service Monday, referred to the deep interest manifested by a number of people, especially those who have sons or other near relatives in danger. Some have not missed a day since the services were begun eight weeks ago, and the average attendance has rarely fallen below sixty or seventy.

CONTRACTS ISSUED TO MILLERS FOR MAKING STANDARD STOCK FOOD

Toronto, June 17.—Contracts are being mailed tomorrow to millers throughout this province by the organization of resources committee giving them the opportunity to manufacture a standard stock food. The food is to be placed on the market next fall and winter, and the contracts must be returned before July 1. The contract was drawn up at a conference held last week between the sub-committees which had the matter in charge and the millers. The millers have consented to act as importers of the ingredients, manufacturers and distributors of the feeds and to make the necessary financial arrangements. The price at which the feed is to be sold will be determined from time to time by a joint committee composed of two members of the millers, two members of the committee and C. F. Bailey, assistant deputy minister of agriculture, who is to be chairman. The maximum price is fixed at $5 a ton over the actual delivered cost of the ingredients.

MISSED THE STORY

Absence of "Revelations of a Wife" Installment Created Dismay to Advertiser readers.

The telephone rang.

"Yes," said the reporter.

"That's The Advertiser, isn't it? It wasn't finished," came a plaintive, half-accusing voice over the wire.

"Oh," said the reporter, "something must have gone wrong with the switchboard. They have switched you on to my line. I'll hang up."

A moment later, the telephone rang insistently again.

"It wasn't finished," came the same voice.

"I'm sorry," said the reporter, "they have evidently cut into your conversation again. Whom were you talking to?"

"Oh, it wasn't that," answered the voice, "it was 'The Revelations of a Wife.' They weren't in the paper this morning, and they weren't finished Saturday. The story wasn't finished, the continued story, you know, and I don't know what has become of her husband, or whether something is going to happen to him, and she is going to marry that officer."

"That will be all right," replied the reporter. "It was owing to a mistake the installment was left out this morning, but there will be just twice as much tomorrow morning."

"I'm so relieved to know that," said the voice. "You see, we always take the morning paper, and when it wasn't in today, I was afraid you were, perhaps, just going to put it in the afternoon paper, then we would have to change over. Say, I wouldn't for anything miss finding how it turns out. I don't think very much of Dick, but perhaps he is learning to be an aviator, or in the secret service, or something, himself, and will turn out all right. You are sure it is going to be in the morning paper? I could change over as easy as not to the afternoon."

"It won't be necessary," said the reporter.

And the voice said gratefully over the wire: "I'm so glad. I can hardly wait until tomorrow morning."

There were about a hundred similar inquiries. "Revelations" is a winner.

REPORTED ACTION OF ASSEMBLY HERE STIRS CAPT. MORROW

Will Pray for Huns When the Canucks Bombard Berlin.

STORY WAS ERRONEOUS

One Commissioner Only Made Suggestion That Prayer for Germans Be Offered.

In connection with a statement issued by Rev. Capt. J. D. Morrow of Toronto, the athlete-parson, who was chaplain of the 180th Battalion, who was chaplain of ing of a resolution to pray for the Hun by the general assembly, held here recently, it may be stated that no such resolution was passed by the assembly. The only mention of the fact was that in connection with the day of humiliation and prayer set aside by the Government, when Rev. Mr. Taylor of Brayside, Ont., a commissioner to the assembly, asked that all present remember their enemies at this time, and pray that they might experience a change of heart. The question was not discussed by the assembly, but left to the discretion of the commissioners themselves.

The following is the comment of Capt. Morrow regarding the reported action of the assembly, written from the base hospital at Toronto:

"Let the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church meet in London, England, instead of London, Ontario, in one of those bomb-wrecked churches, the parishioners of which, in numberless cases, have lost their nearest and dearest through the foulest practices of the bomb-dropping Huns. Then the general assembly would scarcely pass resolutions calling upon Canadian Presbyterians to pray for the Germans. I would dearly love to hear what sort of resolution would be made or what kind of prayers would be uttered for the Huns overhead as they drop their bombs, wiping out our schools, homes and hospitals. I think we had better pray for some people in the general assembly when we hear such talk.

"YES, I'LL PRAY FOR THE HUN, BUT IT WILL BE WHEN OUR CANADIAN BOYS ARE BOMBARDING BERLIN.

"J. D. MORROW.

"Base Hospital, Toronto'

Capt. Morrow is in the base hospital, Toronto, and making steady progress toward recovery.

NAMES OF COLLEGIATE PUPILS NOW OVERSEAS WANTED BY COMMITTEE

Addresses of Those Who Have Joined Since Christmas Desired.

Names of all former students of the London Collegiate Institute now on overseas service and who have not been listed on the school's honor roll, are desired by the Red Cross committee of the school. A special request has been sent out that the addresses of all former collegiate boys, especially those who have joined the colors since last Christmas, be sent to N. R. Grey, chairman of the school Red Cross committee.

All collegiate boys in khaki, whose names have been given to the committee, have been remembered by the students at the L.C.I., and it is desired to make the list as complete as possible. More than 500 names are now on the roll, but many others have joined and are joining. These additions are desired.

Attention is drawn to the fact that the addresses of the boys as well as their names are necessary when sending in the information to Mr. Grey.

10-CENT HADDOCK MAY BE SECURED FOR LONDON SALE

Negotiations Now Under Way to Secure Cheaper Sea Fish.

Londoners will be able to purchase good fish at 10 cents per pound this summer if the anticipated arrangements are satisfactory. It is believed that haddock can be sold here at this price without loss. Ald. S. R. Manness reports that the city fish market bought 500 pounds some time ago and sold it at 10 cents a pound, as the wholesale price was to have been 7 cents. When the invoice came to hand, however, the price was 9 cents, and the city found that it was losing money at this rate. An inquiry is being sent out by Mr. Manness in an effort to secure the fish at a quotation which will permit its being sold here at 10 cents.

There was a ready sale for it at the city fish stall. Ald. Manness says that it is a good food and he thinks it will be a great help at this time when the cost of living is continually aviating. Toronto reports indicate that the demand for this sea food is increasing as the people learn that it is a palatable as well as a nourishing food. The Canada Food Board is launching a campaign there in an effort to have the citizens eat this food and save meat.

Several of the local fish dealers report that they experienced considerable difficulty in selling haddock to the people of London. This is a sea food and the fishmen say that one has to acquire a taste for it before it can be relished. It was sold from the various markets at 12½ cents per pound. Cod is being readily sold for this price, and the local men say they will continue the sale of the latter fish during the summer months at least. They will not handle the haddock until fall.

CHIPPEWA POWER DEVELOPMENT WORK CALLED WONDERFUL

Utilities Manager Impressed With What Has Been Accomplished There.

General Manager E. V. Buchanan of the utilities commission reports that the first annual convention of the municipal electrical engineers, the largest of its kind ever held in America, and the largest gathering of electrical engineers that has ever been got together in Canada, was a large success. Mr. Buchanan is the president of the organization.

Mr. Buchanan says the Chippewa scheme at Niagara is a remarkable one. At the present time there is a canal twelve miles long, 60 feet wide and full of water 35 feet deep. Near Queenston this canal will have a drop of 305 feet, as compared with 150 to 160 at the falls. This will produce just double the amount of power for the same amount of water.

Three large electric shovels, each lifting ten tons at one gulp, are operating on the canal. The drilling in the rock is being done by electric drills. The cement work is being done with cement guns operated by compressed air. This shoots the cement into place. The ultimate goal of the scheme is 600,000-horsepower, but the present plans provide for four units of 32,500-horsepower, and this will be ready by 1921.

JOHN KILLEAN'S WILL ESTABLISHED IN COURT

The case of the Fidelity Trust Company vs. Webb came before Sir Glenholme Falconbridge at the opening session of the non-jury sittings of the supreme court yesterday afternoon. The action was brought to establish the will of the late John Killean, for many years a well-known tailor of this city, who, shortly before his death, moved to Buffalo. He made several wills, and a dispute arose among the heirs as to which was to be declared the last. Killean's last will was made on August 3, 1917, whereby he made an equal division of his estate among the Lannigan, Webb and Jackson families of Buffalo, and gave his house on Bruce street in London to Mrs. Ernest Patterson of this city. The estate amounts to about $45,000, mostly in war bonds, cash in the bank and debentures. The court directed that Alexander Purdom is to be sole executor of the estate, which will be wound up through the Fidelity Trust Company. The plaintiffs are to be paid out of the estate, and the defendants are to pay their own costs. J. M. McEvoy appeared for the plaintiff, and M. P. McDonagh for the defendants.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

FOREKNOWLEDGE AND FOREORDINATION.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

In your leading article of Saturday entitled "These Evils Are Not Preordained," there is some confusion of thought, which may have the opposite effect to that probably intended by the writer. There are certain underlying difficulties to which perhaps no complete answer can be given, but this fact does not justify us in closing our eyes to the inevitable conclusions to which we must come.

We are probably all agreed on the following points:

1. The Bible does contain clear predictions of future events. The sufferings of Jesus Christ and his resurrection are instances.

2. There is evil in the world which must be ultimately overcome by the good.

3. The individual has a free choice in regard to his conscious activities.

4. The over-ruling providence of God is at work in the universe, slowly but surely bringing all things into conformity with his will.

It does not seem necessary to say that because God foreknows, therefore he of necessity foreordains everything. It is perfectly possible to hold the two things separately, and to adopt the conclusion that if man acts in a given way God will act accordingly, and vice versa.

The kaiser, according to the best information, chose to plunge Europe into war, and the followers of the principles of Jesus Christ have risen up in arms to thwart his aims. But the kaiser did not have to choose war, and God foreknew and planned accordingly.

Whether this particular war is the subject of prophecy as contained in the Bible is another matter. A friend of the writer predicted it from his pulpit six months before it began, even to the month in which it broke out, but that fact does not prove the correctness of his other interpretations.

To the writer it seems as if men did not give enough attention to the fact that there is an organized kingdom of evil under the control of Satan, or the devil or a spirit of evil who has a great deal of power in the world, and whose machinations must be fought with the spiritual weapons of prayer and the indwelling Spirit of Christ, and further pursued with self-denying efforts and personal service.

The two things are too often divorced. We have drawn the sword in what we believe to be the cause of God, and expect him to give blessing and victory when we ignore him in our daily lives and trust in the multitude of our riches and men and ships and munitions. These things are necessary, but so is obedience and faith and prayer, and a personal conformity to the plain will of God revealed in Jesus Christ carried out in all the relations of daily life.

In the conquest of Canaan under Joshua, Israel was defeated because one man had sinned in the congregation.

When we eliminate our constant neglect of God and prayer, and his day and his book, and show in our personal lives the reality of our professions of faith, the victory for which we long and pray will be given.

But this is surely a more important duty than inconclusive arguments about the different schools of prophetic interpretation, about which we are not likely to agree.

C. CAMERON WALLER.
