MEIGHEN SPEAKS TO LANARK TORIES

Charges Liberal Government With "Befooling the People" of Canada.

Smith's Falls, Ont., Nov. 28.—(By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—Before an audience which overflowed the Rideau Theatre, necessitating another meeting in the town hall, Right Hon. A. Meighen, leader of the National Liberal-Conservative party, spoke in support of Dr. R. F. Preston, Conservative candidate in the Lanark by-election. Mr. Meighen's speech was a strong attack on the present administration. He charged the government with "befooling the people," with "extravagance, due to neglect, and incompetence," and with failure to implement pre-election tariff pledges. He criticized the personnel of the new Canadian National Railway board, and declared that influences in the government adverse to public ownership were at their work of destruction.

Mr. Meighen was preceded by Senator Gideon D. Robertson, who dealt with labor matters, and followed by the candidate, Dr. Preston, W. F. Garland, Conservative member for Carleton in the federal house; S. Charters, member for Peel; F. W. Bowen, member for Durham, and T. Thompson, member for East Hastings, were on the platform.

Mr. Meighen received an ovation.

"None in the Dominion, save his nearest relatives, could lament more than I the occasion which brings me here, the death of Mr. Stewart," he said. "The Dominion has suffered a great loss in his death."

He expressed the hope that Mr. Stewart's successor in the ministry of railways would soon be restored to complete health. "If there is one thing essential in public life it is strong, straightforward fidelity to the people, and, first of all, I say, to the charge of the present administration that it has not dealt in a straightforward manner, that it has befooled the people," said Mr. Meighen. He did not think that the people of Lanark would be befooled.

The government claimed that it was entitled to support because it was raising money for the people, said Mr. Meighen. When Mr. King comes to speak to you ask him whether or not the national debt has increased. One year ago, he said, the national debt was $2,329,267,906. Now it was $2,369,759,026. This was an increase of over 40 millions in a single year. Since the financial year began expenses had increased by more than twelve million dollars.

"It is due to extravagance, and extravagance is due to neglect, and incompetence," he said.

Refers to Thornton.

"If I were a Liberal, I would never mention the word tariff or any other word beginning with a 'T'," declared the Opposition leader. Every Canadian who was not still in the cradle remembered the contract that the Liberal party made with the people of Canada before it came into power. Thousands of votes were gained by the Liberals because of their tariff pre-election pledges. What had been done to carry out those pledges, he asked. "Of all the nineteen classes of articles which were to be placed on the free list, how many do you think are now free? he asked. "Just one less than one. Compare the speech which Mr. Crerar made when the government increased the sales tax fifty per cent. with his denunciation against the past administration for imposing this tax. The former is as mild as a cooing dove.

"As for Sir Henry Thornton, I do not mean to say a word against him. I hope he is worthy of the $50,000 we are paying him, and I rather envy him the $8,300 he will draw before he starts work. I have never been able to make contracts on that basis," said Mr. Meighen in turning to the railway situation. He paid a tribute to Mr. Hanna and the old Canadian National board, and criticized the new appointees. Not a single one of the new board, including Sir Henry Thornton, had ever had a day's experience in Canadian railway business, with the exception of Mr. Graham Bell.

Scores Government.

"By whom has this been done? This has been done by Sir Lomer Gouin, by Mr. Mitchell, by Mr. Lapointe, and by Mr. Bureau," he said. "Every one of those men have declared themselves opposed to national ownership."

The opposition leader criticized the government for its attitude on the Near East situation. Britain was anxious to show the Turk that the empire was united in defence of the Dardanelles. She had asked the governments of the dominions to stand by her. Canada had been silent when the appeal came. "The Canadian government had shown the world that it has not the courage to say either yes or no," said Mr. Meighen. "This government, consisted as it is today and if controlled as it is today, will act in any emergency just as it did in this one." Under the shield of Great Britain, Canada had grown to her present status. The least she could do was to stand up and preserve the solidarity of the empire. This the government had failed to do. Parliament had not decided on Canada's attitude in the Near East trouble. The cabinet had decided on it and its decision was to do nothing. As a matter of fact there was no government at Ottawa today. There was simply an aggregation which came and asked parliament what to do."

Mr. Meighen was followed by Dr. Preston in a brief speech.

Clemenceau Makes Dramatic Appeal To U. S. To Save France From Extinction

Chicago, Nov. 28.—Standing with outspread hands before an audience that packed the auditorium here, Georges Clemenceau today pleaded with the United States to save France from possible extinction.

Patiently seeking to explain away the charges of militarism and imperialism brought against his country, the old Tiger declared that France sought only peace, but that war was being forced upon her.

"If France does not get the help that she needs," he declared in emotion laden tones, "she may perhaps disappear. Athens was a democracy, very great and fine. But she disappeared. And if France were to disappear, I believe that some day the people would begin to look around and ask if something had not disappeared that had brought life to the world."

The aged statesman's audience hung on his every word, interrupting him twice to drive him back beyond a loud speaking device which would carry his weak voice through the big house.

HON. BENIAH SHOWS UP LATE IN COURT

Provincial Minister Resumes Evidence in Toronto Libel Suit.

Toronto, Nov. 28.—Hon. Beniah Bowman was possibly "fed up" with his double session of evidence giving in the E. W. Backus-Toronto Telegram libel suit when the noon adjournment came today. He did not turn up when court resumed this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Justice Orde waited patiently a few minutes.

"I disclaim responsibility for all the witnesses," said Mr. I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., for Backus.

"I do not claim to have control of Mr. Bowman," put in D. L. McCarthy, K.C., for the Telegram. He suggested that they go on with another witness in the meantime.

No message came from the missing minister of lands and forests. But forty minutes late he turned up, while another witness was on the stand, and the trial went on while the minister awaited his turn to go back into the box.

Editor Not Heard.

Then the Telegram counsel called the editor of the Fort Francis Times, W. H. Elliott, to the stand, evidently planning to show that some of the statememts complained of in the libel action had been published in other papers before being printed in the Telegram.

Then ensued an argument as to whether this evidence were admissible. Mr. Hellmuth strongly objected to it.

Mr. Justice Orde: "The article in the Telegram did not purport to be copied from any other paper."

Mr. Hellmuth: "It is marked 'staff special'."

Mr. Justice Orde: "A paper which copies an article from another paper does not escape the risk and responsibility for what it publishes. But it may plead that it copied the article by way of mitigation of damages. That was not done in this case.

So Mr. Elliott stepped down without testifying, his evidence ruled out.

AIRPLANE WRITES GREETING IN SKY

New York, Nov. 28.—"Hello, U. S. A.," was written in white letters a mile long across the pale blue of a winter sky above lower New York today.

Traffic was tied up as drivers, chauffeurs and pedestrians stopped to watch the white scrawl and barely discern the airplane which trailed the lines like a chalk mark behind it. Not since the days when airplanes were a novelty has there been such a craning of necks and blocking of sidewalks.

BELIEVE FRANCE MAY ACT ALONE

Majority of Members of Reparations Commission Opposed To Poincare's Plan.

Paris, Nov. 28.—Although the majority of the members of the reparations commission are opposed to Premier Poincare's plan for direct action for the collection of the German indemnity, there is a growing feeling that the French government will soon be in a position where it will be forced to take independent measures against Germany.

This impression is based on the uncertainty as to whether the proposed inter-allied financial conference at Brussels will actually take place, and the still greater uncertainty over the prospects of agreement if the meeting is called.

Following the announcement of the cabinet's plan for occupation of the Ruhr district in the event France does not obtain satisfaction before January 15, the meeting of premiers, which will probably be held in Paris early next week, has assumed considerably more importance.

The presence at the conference of Prime Minister Bonar Law now seems assured, but the participation of Premier Mussolini of Italy is not yet confirmed.

Poincare Has Plan.

M. Poincare has a definite plan to place before the premiers, and especially before Mr. Bonar Law. This plan, which was approved at the cabinet meeting today, provides for a reduction of the German indemnity to a reasonable figure, probably 50,000,000,000 gold marks, in return for cancellation of the French debt to Great Britain. It also contemplates raising a large international loan, half to be devoted to stabilization of the German mark and the remainder to payment of reparations to France. A moratorium of several years would be accorded Germany, but the most rigid guarantees would be exacted, and a commission on reparations would exercise complete control of Germany's finances.

The Associated Press was informed by members of the French delegation tonight that unless such a plan is substantially agreed to by the allies, France will "take the only other course open to her, namely, seizure of the products of the Ruhr and absolute control of the French Rhineland."

In British and United States reparations circles, on the other hand, M. Poincare's threat is believed dangerous to both France and Germany. Total collapse of Germany, financially and industrially, would immediately follow the carrying out of such a scheme, it is contended, and the net result would be that France would get little or nothing and would ruin her own credit in the bargain.

The fall of the franc to a dangerously low level would also result, according to the British and American experts, who point out that mere announcement of Poincare's plan this morning caused the franc to break from 63 francs to 65 francs 17 centimes to the pound sterling.

Shoots Husband Who Chided Her For Staying Out

Special to The Advertiser.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Shot twice in the back by his wife because he corrected her for staying out late at night, John Percic is dying in a hospital here today.

According to Mrs. Percic, her husband chided her for not coming home until 2:30 o'clock this morning. As Percic turned to leave the room she fired two shots at his back, both bullets striking him.

Patrolman James Fitzpatrick, passing the house, heard the shots and ran inside just in time to see Mrs. Percic dart into the kitchen. She came back at the policeman's command, but without the pistol.

"Hello," was her greeting. "I have killed my husband; yep, I killed him." She was arrested. Detectives found the revolver, which she claimed she had thrown out the front window, hidden in a stove.

PREDICTS INFLUX OF CANADIAN SETTLERS

Col. Smith Entirely Satisfied With Immigration Conference At Ottawa.

Quebec, Nov. 28.—"I am carrying back an appropriation for immigration," Col. J. Obed Smith announced just before the Empress of Britain, on which he was a passenger, sailed. The superintendent of immigration for Canada in London was eminently satisfied with the outcome of the Ottawa conference, and he stated that a great impetus in immigration might be expected in the near future.

"In order to co-ordinate the efforts of all those concerned in the success of Canadian propaganda in the British Isles," he said, "it is my intention to convene a meeting in London of the representatives of all the Canadian steamship lines, the Canadian railroads and the agents-general of the various provinces, to prevent the overlapping of our work.

"Then we will launch a lecturing campaign, besides distributing publicity to a thousand newspapers every week. Between now and the end of March there will be an extensive campaign in progress. We expect the spring to bring the tangible results. While the propaganda in the British Isles will be obviously the most important part of the work, we intend to extend our scope to include Scandanavia, Holland, France and Italy. This means that we will have to work fast and we are rolling up our shirt sleeves to get into the thing without loss of time."

Wenige Favors Public Ownership

WHETHER you vote for or against the purchase of the London Street Railway, the man you need in the Mayor's chair for 1923 is GEORGE A. WENIGE. He has made no proposal which would block municipal ownership, but HE DOES FAVOR letting the people know the price before the city is committed. That can be made a CONDITION OF ARBITRATION.

WENIGE has cleared himself on the public platform of every petty accusation brought against him by his opponent, and by others behind the scenes. His reception at public meetings shows that this time the PEOPLE are WITH him.

EVERY plank in the Wenige platform is designed to meet the needs of ALL the people. Wenige is tied to no self-seeking clique. He has no political henchmen to cater to.

TAKE commission form of government—you voted for it—Why not get it? It tends TOWARD efficiency, and AWAY FROM a system, which in its very nature inclines to incompetent, slipshod mismanagement.

GEORGE WENIGE rose from the ranks and he knows the value of the taxpayer's dollar.
