DEATH AT THE CROSSING.

ANOTHER ADDED TO THE LIST OF VICTIMS AT PAPE-AVENUE.

Farmer William Healy of Allandale Struck by an Engine and Thrown Fifty Feet—He Dies in the General Hospital Half an Hour After Being Removed Thither—Inquest to be Held.

Yesterday afternoon a man supposed to be William Healy of Allandale was driving a load of hay along Pape-avenue. When at the G. T. Railway crossing the wagon was struck by an approaching shunting engine. The wagon was smashed to pieces, the horses escaped uninjured, but the driver was thrown across the field a distance of 50 feet. When picked up he was unconscious, having received a fatal blow on the left temple. Policeman Geddes of the Ambulance Department was at once notified. He had the injured man removed to the Hospital, where he died half an hour later, remaining unconscious until the end.

The dead man had in his possession a Toronto market ticket and a weigh scale ticket. On one of the tickets were written the words "220 Dovercourt-road." On the back of the other ticket were these words: "Mr. Healy, Allandale: Please deliver to Seven two or three empty carts." These were the only means of identification. It is understood that John Pape, the florist, received them from deceased yesterday morning.

Coroner Pickering will hold an inquest at the Hospital at 8 o'clock to-night.

ALMOST A FATALITY.

Alice Collins Struck by a Locomotive While Walking to Parkdale.

Alice Collins had a narrow escape from death on the track late last night. She, accompanied by another young girl, both employed in the Parkdale Hotel, took a Queen and Brockton instead of a High Park car. They were taken out as far as the Dundas-street bridge, where the street car line terminates. Finding out their mistake they undertook to walk down the railway track to Parkdale. When half way down they heard the whistle of an approaching train, and in trying to get out of the way Miss Collins was struck by a locomotive coming from the opposite direction. She received a severe shock but was not seriously injured, so the case was reported from the Hospital last night.

ARE THEY WORTHY OF THEIR HIRE?

Should Lady Teachers Get as Much Pay as Men When They Do the Work?

At the meeting of the Public School Board last night a lively discussion took place on the clause of the Finance Committee's report recommending that the salaries of the lady principals in the schools which have recently been enlarged from four to eight rooms be increased. Some of the trustees claimed that female teachers are not entitled to as much pay as male teachers, because the former only served the board until they drew a prize from the marriage lottery, whereas the male teacher made his occupation or profession for life in many cases. It was further argued with emphasis that if "you are going to make the ladies do men's work give them men's pay." After some time it was discovered that the lawyer's opinion amounted to nothing.

Trustee Roden, who claimed to have deal largely in legal opinion, said, "It is the most non-committal bit of advice that ever came to my notice. It really says nothing. In reply to our enquiry the lawyer asks 'What was your intention when you passed the report?'"

The report was at length adopted without amendment.

Trustee Roden moved, seconded by Trustee Wilcox: "That a special committee be appointed by the chairman to meet the Minister of Education for the purpose of conferring with him on the advisability of the board supplying school books and stationery free of cost to children attending the public schools of this city." Carried.

The chairman appointed Trustees Roden, Lee, McMurrich, Dowland, Henderson and Middleton as the committee.

These transfers were made: Miss A. Murray, Bathurst to Dovercourt; Miss A. Good, Church to Palmerston; Miss B. Anderson, Grace to Church. These appointments: Miss Jessie Williams, Temperance Hall, Spadina; Miss L. Davis, Grace.

Trustee Brown gave notice that he would move that the Compulsory Education Act be enforced by this board, and that the City Clerk be requested to furnish the board with the names of all children between the ages of 7 and 13 years at the time of the return of the assessment roll. Carried.

The report of the Sites and Buildings Committee was adopted, after the name of William Parks had been inserted in place of that of John Elder as the contractor for the carpenter work of the new George-street school. The figures of the contract are Parks $5548, Elder $5645.

The Public Debate at Convocation Hall.

For the one hundred and forty-first time University Convocation Hall was the scene of a public debate last night. As of yore the boys were present in full force, while the public audience was not as large as usual. Mr. D. K. Keys, B.A., occupied the chair in the absence of Sir Daniel Wilson, who was attending the senate meeting during the former part of the evening. After a chorus from the Glee Club the president of the society, W. Harley Smith, B.A., M.B., gave an eloquent address, dealing with the present state of the society and the need of esprit de corps. Mr. W. C. Hall then gave a reading, followed by more choruses from the Glee Club.

The chairman announced the debate of the evening, "That it is both just and expedient to raise the whole revenue of the state by a tax upon land." Mr. A. T. DeLury led in a careful address, dealing with the inequality of the present taxation. He was followed in the negative by Mr. G. R. Faskin, who vigorously defended the present system. The other speakers for the affirmative and negative respectively were Mr. N. MacMurchy and Mr. D. H. McLean. The chairman decided the debate in favor of the negative. Sir Daniel Wilson then presented the prizes to the successful barksmen of "K" Co.

IVY'S ANCIENT LOVER.

An Infant Suing a 60-year-old Wooer for Breach of Promise of Marriage.

The breach of promise of marriage case of Miss Ivy Longbottom against Mr. William Worth, a wealthy gentleman on the shady side of 60, promises to be a suit fraught with much interest to the lovers of court lore. The case will be tried at the January assizes. Messrs. Quinn & Henry, solicitors, yesterday issued the writ, claiming $5000 damages. In the document the plaintiff is described as an infant. Mr. James A. Macdonald, the young barrister who has charge of the suit for the Taylors against W. F. Johnston, has been retained by Mr. Worth to look after his interests. The suit is to be brought by Mrs. Jennie Longbottom, mother of the infant and her next friend. Mrs. Longbottom is said to be in England at present.

Mr. Worth, the defendant, is a comparative new comer to Toronto and is said to be well supplied with this world's goods. He lives in College-street and has a grown-up family. The plaintiff is a nurse in a private family. Her mother, who is a widow, lives at No. 1 Wallace-street. The defendant and plaintiff, so the story goes, "met by chance," or at least the defendant met the plaintiff's mother by chance and was by her introduced to Ivy.

NEWFOUNDLAND ELECTIONS.

Defeat of the Thorburn Government at the Polls.

HALIFAX, Nov. 8.—A report from Newfoundland says the Thorburn Government was badly defeated in the elections yesterday by the Opposition led by Sir William Whiteway. The Colonial Secretary and Surveyor General have lost their seats. A strong card of the Whiteway Opposition was the Bait Act which was alleged to be an injury to the people of Newfoundland.

PRICES AND PROSPECTS.

Bradstreet's Weekly Review of the State of Trade—Business Failures.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's report a slightly decreased movement of general trade in staples at most points, although it is noted that the volume still exceeds that at a corresponding time in 1888. Less tendency to stringency is reported in leading financial centres.

Stocks of available wheat in the United States east of the Rocky Mountains, Nov. 2, aggregated 46,947,000 bushels against 26,734,000 bushels Sept. 28, 1889, and as compared with 44,518,000 bushels Nov. 1, 1888. The totals, including both coasts, are 56,117,000 bushels, against 36,248,000 a month ago and 50,454,000 bushels a year ago. Wheat stocks thus exceed those of a like date last year for the first time in 1889.

Unfavorable developments in the trusts and bear attacks on coal shares keep the general stock market in a disturbed condition, though the underlying tone is strong, and advances are made on every opportunity. Bonds are active and speculative rises have been made in a number of active issues. Money on call at New York is easy at 5 to 6 per cent.

Iron and steel remain quite strong, with an upward tendency as to prices. Makers refuse orders for forward delivery at current rates. Domestic sizes of anthracite are quiet, furnace sizes are more active.

Wheat flour has been in steady movement at practically unchanged prices. Wheat is off ½ to ½ cent on light demand and heavy receipts. Corn on better home and foreign request is up ⅛ to ⅛ cent and oats on limited receipts and offerings are ⅛ to ¼ cent higher. Hog products declined sharply on increased pressure at the west. Pork fell away 75 cents to $1 per barrel and lard 40 points. Butter and eggs advanced 1 cent each, cheese remaining practically steady. Hogs are lower at the west. Cattle are steady.

Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number 248 in the United States, this week, against 251 last week and 177 this week last year. Canada had 46 this week against 35 last week. The total of failures in the United States, Jan. 1 to date, is 9641 against 8471 in 1888.

HEAT SHUT OFF TO RAISE RATES.

Boston's Steam-Heating Monopoly Not Satisfied with Its Profits.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—The Boston Steam-Heating Company has suspended operations. It has several miles of underground pipes in the business part of the city, and up to yesterday supplied heat for hundreds of business houses. The authorized capital stock of the company is $1,250,000, the greater portion of which is held by Drexel, Morgan & Co., of New York City, T. N. Vail, the President of the heating company, is also President of the Metropolitan Telephone Company. It is understood that the New York holders of steam-heating stock have declined to advance any more funds until the final outcome of the present trouble is reached. This trouble ostensibly is the disintegration of the largest pipes in Congress street. The real reason, however, is the fact that the company has discovered its inability to supply satisfactory heat at existing rates. The Boston company was incorporated in 1887 as a branch of the National Heating Company of New York.

The general public seems to have no sympathy for the Company in its embarrassment, for forty times since April 1 the Company has ploughed up the streets downtown, trying to stop the inevitable leaks in the conduits, thereby blockading the thoroughfares and delaying traffic until people came to regard this monopoly of a few private individuals as an unmitigated nuisance. Sir John Pender and Sir John Bower Forwood are stockholders.

The Result in Iowa.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—First Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson received the following telegram this afternoon from W. A. Jones, editor of The Iowa State Register at Des Moines:

"Boies elected Governor by 5000 votes. It is certain that Given, the Republican candidate for Supreme Judge, is elected and as nearly certain as can be decided without an official count that all of the Republican State ticket except Governor are elected. The Legislature has six Republican majority certain and perhaps eight."

A Virginia Brute Lynched.

LEESBURG, Va., Nov. 8.—Owen Anderson, an 18-year-old negro, was lynched here yesterday. Anderson on Wednesday outraged a respectable 17-year-old white girl returning from school. He was arrested, confessed and was jailed. A crowd of men obtained admittance to the jail by pretending they had a prisoner and when inside overpowered the jailor and secured the keys. They dragged Anderson to a derrick in the neighborhood and strung him up, afterwards riddling his body with bullets.

A Johnston Liner Wrecked.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 8.—A cablegram received here to-day by the agents for the Johnston Line of steamers stated their new vessel, the Queensmore, which left here Oct. 28 with a general cargo, was wrecked on the coast of Ireland and was a total loss. All of the crew were saved. The cargo was valued at $532,000.

DOCTOR CRONIN'S CLOTHES

DISCOVERED AT LAST IN A LAKE VIEW SEWER.

Near the Spot Where the Murdered Man's Body Was Found—His Papers and Instruments Make the Identification Complete—Iceman O'Sullivan in the Shadow of the Gallows.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The sensation in connection with the Cronin case to-day was the finding of the surgical case and clothes of the murdered physician and the forging of another link in the chain of circumstantial evidence that clanks around the conspirators. For some time complaints have been made to the sewer department of Lakewood station that the sewer at the intersection of Evanston and Buena-avenues was flush and running over. To-day two or three sewer cleaners were detailed to investigate the trouble. The cover was removed from the manhole in the centre of the street and with long poles the workmen prodded among the rubbish beneath the water. Finally a solid substance was encountered and the workmen then realized that something more than alluvial deposit was causing the trouble.

After some hooking and digging two valises were unearthed: One a leather one and the other the remnants of a paper one. In the leather valise was found Dr. Cronin's prescription book with several prescriptions bearing his signature. The paper one dropped to pieces as it was pulled out and from it rolled a mass of tattered clothing that bore evidence of having been cut in strips with a knife. The only intact garment was the vest which was in the centre, and which encircled the doctor's case of surgical instruments. The clothing had evidently been cut and buttons removed in the hope that they would the sooner drop apart and be borne away by the water into the lake.

The surgical case and prescription book bore the doctors name and they as well as every article of outward clothing were recognized by the Conklins and a dozen other friends as the property of the murdered physician. The most damning of all circumstances for the prisoners is the fact that all this was found only one block from the spot where the bloody trunk was discovered after it had been thrown from the wagon on the night of May 4, or only half a mile south of where the body of Dr. Cronin was found in the catch basin.

The paper valise is supposed to have been the one purchased by "J. B. Simmonds" from A. H. Revel & Co., and a clerk from that establishment will endeavor to identify the remnants.

A Sensational Suicide.

A tragic event which occurred just in front of the courthouse while everybody was examining these articles caused the wildest excitement. A shot was heard just at the entrance of Judge McConnell's court. The State's Attorney and a dozen lawyers and reporters rushed from the States Attorney's office into the street. Stretched lengthwise on the sidewalk was a strong man with a smoking revolver in his hand and his brains oozing from his skull. He was quite dead, and as no one could identify him it was at once presumed that his tragic death had some mysterious connection with the sensational discoveries of the day. After an hour's investigation by the State's officers, however it was ascertained that his name was Edward Rhem, and that he had been for some time partially insane. He doubtless committed suicide while laboring under mental aberration.

In the Cronin trial to-day Police Captain Schuettler and Wing and several others gave testimony which contained nothing new of importance.

Wm. Nieman, who at the time of the murder kept a saloon not far from the Carlson cottage, then testified that O'Sullivan entered his saloon between 10 and 11 o'clock on the night of the murder. He was accompanied by the men. The witness was reluctant to say whether either of the two was one of the defendants in this case but finally said he thought Coughlin was one of the men. The other could not speak English plainly, he had a slight German accent. Witness thought this was Kunze. The three stood closely together and talked in undertones for twenty minutes.

THE BALTIC OUTRAGE.

Indictments Returned Against all the Prisoners.

OWEN SOUND, Nov. 8.—At the Assizes here at noon the grand jury came into court with true bills against the prisoners Tripp, Russel, Piggott, Daggett, Backhouse and McFadyen for manslaughter and also for aggravated assault. Mr. D. McCathy, Q.C., is here to defend the prisoners.

This is the inquiry into the cause of the death of the unfortunate lad Hambly, who it will be remembered jumped overboard from the steamer Baltic, in Georgian Bay and was drowned after having, as it is alleged, been tarred and feathered by some of the crew of the boat, who are the above-named prisoners.

HE PUT ON THE BAKER'S BOOTS.

A Burglar Tries to Hide in Cox's Cellar and Gets Into the Cells.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to burglarize James Cox's confectionery store, at 83 Yonge-street, last night. About 8 o'clock James Heaney, the porter, left the premises for a few moments. On his return he went into the cellar.

He almost stumbled over the form of a man who was lying prostrate on the floor. The man at once jumped up and made for the window to try and effect an escape. Heaney, however, was too quick for him and seizing the burglar by both wrists threw him to the ground. He then walked him up stairs and handed him over to Policeman Breckinred.

At headquarters he gave the name of John Smith of St. Thomas. Smith, who just finished a term at the jail yesterday morning for trespass, told Detective Sleemin that it was his intention to have burglarized Cox's place.

He was elated with having stolen a pair of boots. They were those used by one of the bakers, were of soft material and had evidently been put on by the prisoner for the purpose of deadening the sound of walking.

BRITISH COLUMBIA MINES.

Dr. Dawson's Opinion of the Mineral Resources of the Pacific Providence.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 8.—Dr. Dawson of the Dominion Geological Survey for the past five months has been in the vicinity of Kamloops at work on the geological survey, covering an area of about 80 miles.

He says that he spent the first portion of the summer in West Kootenay, where the indications of the existence of rich mineral wealth are very good. Considerable development is being done, but the miners everywhere are waiting for the good time to come when by railway communication the era of prosperity and mining operations shall dawn upon them. Where actual work is being done in mining and shipping ores, it is only the richest specimens that are sent away for smelting while the other ores are left on the dump waiting until shipping facilities will make it remunerative to smelt them. In instances where the ledges, though extensive, are low grade, nothing is being done. Railway communication and increased shipping facilities generally are what are wanted to develop the whole region of British Columbia.

The successful operation of one or two mines in the Province, Dr. Dawson thinks, would result in a mining boom and give a great stimulus to mining operations. It would result in a rush of capital and the Province would be prospected thoroughly for new strikes. Very many new discoveries would be made as a consequence. At present very little is known of the mineral resources of the Province and there are many kinds to be found only by looking for them, such as tin and other valuable metals. New discoveries are constantly being made, and many had been recorded since Dr. Dawson's recent pamphlet, on the mineral resources of British Columbia had been published. So rapid were the discoveries, he said, that that little book would soon be antiquated. It was well, however, to have a history of the commencement.

Dr. Dawson is quite confident that the hopes of the people of the province will yet be realised. It was only a matter of time. A good deal of attention was being directed now to hydraulic mining, and he felt quite satisfied that many of the bars at the rivers and creeks that had been abandoned by placer miners as unprofitable could be successfully operated by means of machinery and made to pay richly.

REGISTERED LETTER THIEVES.

Two Mail Clerks Arrested—Both Confess Their Peculations.

OTTAWA, Nov. 8.—The arrest of George Cattalier, the mail clerk, which occurred yesterday late in the afternoon, caused a sensation which was supplemented when it was learned that another mail clerk named Hayes had been arrested at his home at Hawkesbury, Prescott County on a similar charge, that of stealing money from registered letters. Cattalier is well and popularly known. He was on the Ottawa-Pembroke line and is married. His salary was in the neighborhood of $500 per annum which with mileage brought him an income of between $700 and $800. Hayes is unmarried. He was for some time on the Ottawa-Montreal line and for some time on the Pembroke line. Both men made a clean breast of it to Inspector French. It is not known what amount has been stolen but it is believed it will aggregate several hundred dollars.

An Exciting Court Scene.

LOWELL, Mass., Nov. 8.—John Booth was to-day convicted in the Supreme Court of the rape of Annie Murphy, 12 years old. When the verdict was read Booth, who was in the dock alone, let forth a wild yell and began dashing his head violently against the iron rails. A panic ensued, women were overcome and men rushed wildly about until three officers, after a desperate struggle, succeeded in securing Booth with irons on his wrists and ankles. When the excitement had subsided the judge sentenced the prisoner to fifteen years in State Prison. Booth's wife fainted and was carried out.

NEWS OF THE OLD WORLD.

THE GREAT AND ONLY LIONIZED IN LONDON.

Distinguished Guests at the Banquet to P. T. Barnum—Spencer on Land Reform—The Pope Will Not Arbitrate the Bulgarian Question—Crete Returning to Its Normal State.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A banquet was given to P. T. Barnum this evening. Lord Kilmorey presided. Among those present were Lord Randolph Churchill, Lord Charles Beresford, Lord Rosebery, the Rothchilds and the secretaries of the United States Legation. Mr. Gladstone and Lord Aberdeen sent letters of regret.

Herbert Spencer on the Land Question.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Herbert Spencer, in a letter to The Times which he intends to be explanatory of his attitude on the land question, says that he has no positive opinion as to what may occur, because he cannot see any way of reconciling the ethical requirements of the question with the political economical requirements. The scheme of nationalization of land by compensating the landlords would, as he says, entail, in capital and interest, an outlay of money fully equal to the amount which is now paid in the shape of rents; while he has no reason to think that the substituted form of administration would be an improvement upon the existing form. "It is a very wild belief," writes Prof. Spencer, "that the land would be better managed by public officials than by private owners. What the remote future may bring forth it is impossible to say, but with a humanity anything like that which we now know, the implied reorganization would be disastrous."

Vandals in a Cemetery.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Nov. 8.—The people of this city were greatly shocked this morning to learn that during the night over thirty graves in Mortimer Cemetery had been desecrated by vandals. Tombstones and monuments were torn down, many fences broken and railings rooted up, and thousands of dollars' damages done. The mounds over many graves were literally ploughed up. It was afterward learned however, that no bodies had been stolen. The town was in an uproar, and hundreds of people flocked to the scene of ruin all day. The chief of police believes the perpetrators are Wesleyan College students.

The soft southern breezes have ceased to blow over this fair province, and the cool wind that comes o'er Ontario's blue waters these November days is reminding the ladies that the time is at hand when the old furs must be got out of the wardrobe and cleaned up. To those ladies whose last year's furs are worn out or to those who didn't have any to wear out, let it be said that W. & D. Dineen have the largest and most select stock ever exhibited in the city, and at their store, corner of King and Yonge-streets, are offering great bargains. Their stock of men's fur goods is also very complete. Give them a trial.

Dr. G. B. Foster in Court.

Magistrate Denison held a preliminary investigation into the charge of criminal malpractice against Dr. George B. Foster in the Police Court yesterday afternoon. The only witness examined was Maud Lawson, who was a servant at the residence of Mr. Bray when Mrs. Bray died two years ago. The girl told about the visits of the physician to her mistress who was ill, and she administering of medicines. She also said that after Mrs. Bray had taken considerable of the medicine she had an expulsion. Mrs. Bray died on Oct. 14, 1887.

Mr. N. Gordon Bigelow, the accused's counsel, submitted that the treatment of Mrs. Bray was for the purpose of saving her life. The Magistrate said he would hear further evidence Monday, but would not grant bail.

Mr. Mowat at Sarnia.

SARNIA, Nov. 8.—Hon. Oliver Mowat was given a great ovation here this afternoon by the Liberals of West Lambton, in which constituency an election is to be held to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Pardee. The Premier was accompanied from Toronto by Peter Ryan, License Commissioner. In the afternoon Mr. Mowat held a reception at the Bell Chamber Hotel. This evening he delivered a lengthy political speech at the Town Hall, to which building he was escorted by a torchlight procession. The Premier is the guest of Mr. Mackenzie, the Liberal candidate.

An Assistant City Missionary.

City Missionary Hall is to have an assistant in the person of Mr. George Smith. At a meeting of the City Mission Board of Directors yesterday, Mr. Hall reported that he had received without solicitation promises of over $200 for the purpose, and Mr. Smith was unanimously appointed to fill the position.

Valuable Property to Let by Tender.

Messrs. Jackes & Jackes, 70 Church-street, advertise that they will receive tenders up to noon of Saturday, the 23rd of November, for the lease for a term of twenty-one years for two valuable properties, situate at 170 and 170½ on the west side of Yonge-street. The site is a valuable one.

The Grens Had 417 Men.

An error in The World of yesterday made the number of Royal Grenadiers who turned out at the review 253. It should have been 417.

Flannel shirts are being worn more to-day than ever they were. The people have found out they are more economical, more comfortable, easier to get done up, and what is best of all they don't cost as much as a white shirt. We have some really nice patterns made into shirts, and the flannel in the piece. A. White, 65 King-street west.

"A MISERABLE YANKEE DODGE"

Is What Ald. Denison Calls E. A. Macdonald's Bill—Money Paid for Water.

At the meeting of the Executive yesterday afternoon there were present Ald McMillan (chairman), Carlyle (St. Thos.), Davies, Booth, Vokes, Crocker, Macdonald, Denison and City Treasurer Coady. The auditor submitted the audit of the Waterworks Department for the half year ending Sept. 30. These are the figures:

Gross ratings (including arrears)	$369,305 51
New takers	29,446 38
	$398,751 89
Cash receipts	$160,479 82
Discounts	173,841 44
Deductions	22,290 02
Arrears	42,140 61
	$398,751 89

The arrears include all rates unpaid on July 31 last. Since that date $13,977.43 of this amount has been paid in, leaving a balance in arrears of $28,163.18.

The Property Committee sent a communication in which the Executive was requested to supply funds to pay the Drill Shed awards, which, over and above the money voted by the people on the recent bylaw, is about $50,000.

The Executive came to the conclusion that it would not be judicious to submit another bylaw to the people.

The item, "Expenses of sundry aldermen, $250," appeared in a list of accounts which were ordered to be paid.

The first report submitted was that from the Board of Works. The clause in the report referring to the reinstatement of black-listed contractors was approved. Ald. Vokes, who first moved the resolution in council, protested against this course. The council, he considered, had no right to black-list contractors. Very imperfect work had been passed by the inspectors on sundry occasions. Ald. Carlyle thought it unjust to make any reflections of partiality on the part of the inspectors. The black-listing process had done good, inasmuch as other contractors were now turning out better work. He approved of the system of day labor and said that by it much more work was being done than by contract. The report of the Waterworks Committee was passed.

The Fire and Gas Committee's report next came up. Four additional electric lights are to be put up at Queen and Brock-field-streets, at Yorkville-avenue and Bellair-street, at Front and Windsor-streets and on Richmond-street between Yonge and Bay-streets. The Property Committee's report containing a clause recommending that William Ward be continued as Island constable was passed. The Parks and Gardens Committee report recommended that the license department be paid $100 for a license for the Horticultural Pavilion for one year. The report passed.

The Legislative Committee reported recommending the adoption of Ald. E. A. Macdonald's bill to provide six paid commissioners for the city. Ald. Davies moved that the clause be struck out. He was seconded by Ald. Denison, who denounced the whole scheme and characterized it as a "miserable Yankee dodge." It only came, he said, from men who wanted to be paid for their services. It was decided that the report be sent on to council, on the understanding, however, that the Executive did not recommend it.

FOR THE CARE OF GIRLS.

Good Work Being Done by the Industrial Institute—Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of the Girls' Industrial Institute, corner Richmond and Sheppard-street, was held yesterday. During the past term 616 persons availed themselves of the privileges of the Institute, and coffee was served to as many as 60 on one day. The proceeds of the coffee-room are of much effect in helping to carry on the Institute free from debt. For young girls who find it impossible to attend the Public Night Schools, a class has been opened under the supervision of Mr. Hartley of Dufferin School. There are also sewing classes—juvenile and adult. The Institute is a centre of the work of the Y.W.C.T.U. and kitchen garden and cookery classes are conducted by the ladies of that organization.

The officers for the coming year were elected:

President—Mrs. Brett.
Treasurer—Mrs. G. P. Mackay.
Directors—Mesdames Anker, J. W. Darling, R. Baldwin, Jarman, Johnson, McCallum, A. Macdougall, J. A. Williams, J. McMillan, Steele, J. Murphy, Purkiss, A. M. Rice, C. W. Taylor, Silvester, Warren, W. P. Page, Miss Sutherland, Miss Beard.

Arrangements were made for a free tea to those attending the Sunday afternoon devotional exercises, also for an "at home" early in December in celebration of the fifth anniversary of the opening of the Institute.

Every seat will be reserved for the People's Popular Concert, Tuesday evening, Nov. 12, and at popular prices, 50c., 35c. and 25 cents.

Artistic Watches.

A daintier specimen of the jeweler's art is rarely seen than that which Mr. J. Fred Woltz, the diamond broker of Colborne-street, drew forth from his pocket yesterday. It was a timepiece for My Lady, encrusted with glittering white diamonds on one side and embellished with an artistic floral design in hard enamel on the other. The stones set in the centre of a surface of burnished gold, form the initial letters of the fair owner's name, while one may spell out the word D.E.A. from the entwined forget-me-not done in the enamel. Encircling these the cunning tool of the engraver has wrought on the margins of either side in a delicate tracery, which completes a very pretty harmony. If the watch could but speak of its works it would surely say with Hamlet, "And I have that within which passeth show."

It is worth your while to read over today's dinner bill of fare on second page; served from 12 to 3 p.m. at English Chop House.

In Aid of the New Church.

St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, Queen and Power-streets, is approaching completion. It is a magnificent structure, externally and internally. It is more a cathedral than a church. The total cost will be $100,000. In aid of the building fund a bazaar and sale of fancy goods on a large scale will open Monday, Nov. 18, in the building formerly occupied by Hughes Bros., corner of Yonge and Melinda-streets. Refreshments, music and all that goes to make enjoyable days and nights of pleasure and profit will be provided.

A Monster Concert Monday evening next at Academy of Music by Levy and the Heintzman Band.

Accidents.

This is a year of accidents, the unfortunate effect of which are largely ameliorated by a policy in the Manufacturers' Accident Insurance Co., 83 King-street west, Toronto.
