THE TABLES TURNED ON DOLL

HE BRINGS AN ACTION AGAINST MR. M'NAUGHT OF TORONTO.

But Comes Out of It Himself With Bad Grace — The Case Against Mr. McNaught Dismissed on the Evidence of the Prosecution — Mr. McNaught and Mr. M. C. Ellis Interviewed.

A case which illustrates the ease with which an irresponsible person may cause a great deal of trouble and annoyance to reputable citizens came up in the Police Court on Friday last. The case was dismissed by the Magistrate before the defence was called, the evidence for the prosecution clearly showing that the prosecution had not a leg to stand on. The case was Doll v. W. K. McNaught of the American Watch Case Company, 67 Adelaide-street west.

The defendant would have been content to let the matter drop on the simple dismissal of the Magistrate had not erroneous reports been published by some of the city papers. The Empire, however, makes an explicit apology for the report it published, and the other papers will probably do likewise if they wish to escape prosecution. The World thinks it only fair to let Mr. McNaught give the facts of the case. "We want the whole truth," said Mr. McNaught yesterday, "but we do not want garbled statements published."

"Will you give a concise statement of the facts?" asked The World reporter.

"Well, on Friday last Mr. W. F. Doll, a former wholesale jeweler of Winnipeg, brought several charges against me in the Police Court. In the first place, he charged that I had sold him six 14-karat ladies' gold watch cases. He stated on oath that he bought them from me personally. I state that I sold him no goods whatever. As a matter of fact, the goods he complains of were ordered from Winnipeg by his bookkeeper by letter dated Sept. 20, 1892 (Mr. McNaught here produced the letter). That part, you see, is absolutely untrue.

Guarantees All Goods.

"However, our company guarantees the quality and standard of all goods bearing our trade marks, no matter who buys or sells them. The next charge in the case was that we sold these cases with the springs in and charged for the steel at the same price as the gold. While this is true, Mr. Doll and every wholesale dealer in the trade knows that it is the invariable custom to sell in this way, and there is not a factory in Canada or the United States that does not do so. It is called selling by gross instead of net. Our price list especially provides for this. All cases are sold by weight, except the cheaper classes of goods. No matter whether the buyer purchases goods with or without the springs the price comes exactly the same. Mr. Doll claims that these ladies' watch cases weighed 16 dwts. with 3 dwts. of steel springs, which he was charged for at the same rate as if they were gold, or an extra amount of $2. Now our price list shows that if the same cases were purchased without the springs $2 extra would be charged for 'making,' so that the price would be exactly the same. It does not make a cent's worth of difference, no matter how the cases are bought, with or without the springs, and our price list distinctly states this. The next charge was that we sold Doll a gentleman's screw-back and bezel case known as the Victoria for solid gold, which turned out to be not solid gold. The facts are, as our price list shows, that this case, while it is a solid back and bezel and bow, has a double stock centre, and therefore cannot be termed as a solid gold case, nor was it ever represented by us as a solid gold case. In fact both our price list and our advertisements to the retail trade state that while it is a splendid case for the money, and names each separate part of it as being gold or double stock, distinctly states that it is not solid gold, but will wear equal to solid gold. (Mr. McNaught here produced the advertisement printed in 1892, before the purchases were made by Mr. Doll, and the advertisement bore out in every particular the statement made above.)

"It was certainly a strong vindication for us when Mr. Doll's own evidence proved that our goods were as represented. It showed that the 14-karat gold cases sold him were absolutely 14-karat gold. Mr. Fullerton asked Mr. Doll the question: 'You have examined the case and found it honestly 14-karat gold?' Mr. Doll answered, 'Yes.' Mr. A. H. Welsh, manufacturing jeweler, one of Mr. Doll's own witnesses, stated: 'I put acid on the case and tested it and found it to be as stamped, 14-karat gold.' In regard to the Victoria case complained of, Mr. Doll also admitted that the gold was 14-karat. Mr. Doll has handed the Victoria case and was asked if it were not 14-karat gold. He replied: 'Yes; I tested it and found it to be 14-karat gold?' In addition to this and the sworn testimony of Mr. Welsh, I had in court an official assay from the United States assay office, New York, the highest authority in America, which stated that the goods were absolutely as represented. I could not present this, as the magistrate dismissed all the charges without hearing a word from the defence. The American Watch-Case Company have always adopted the method of absolutely guaranteeing every watch case bearing their trade marks. The guarantee is as follows:

"Any jeweler who finds a gold filver watch case of our manufacture that is not as represented by us can have it exchanged for another case of the cash refunded on demand. Our gold-filled cases are guaranteed to wear from 15 to 21 years, according to quality, and if any jeweler can produce one of them which is defective he can have the defect made good or the case replaced by a new one on demand.

"This is the strongest guarantee given by any watch case company in America, and the high standing of our company is an ample warranty that purchasers of our goods are perfectly secured. In contra distinction to this explicit guarantee we absolutely refuse to guarantee any case that do not bear our trade marks—'Maltese Cross' and 'Winged Wheel.' The reason of this refusal to guarantee is that, like every other company, we manufacture some lines of cheap goods.

The Curse of the Jewelry Trade.

"The curse of the jewelry trade in this country has been over-stamping. While I do not think there is anything wrong for a manufacturer to make or a jeweler to sell cheap goods, I do hold it a fraud to deal in inferior goods stamped as a better quality. Thus, 10 karat gold is stamped as 18 karat and sold as 18 karat. I hold this to be a detestable practice, and no reputable manufacturer would lend himself to such fraud, but unfortunately it is carried on. When the American Watch Case Company started business in 1885 the majority of the watch cases sold in this country were what is known as stamped-up goods. In order to eradicate this evil our company decided that they would not make any stamped-up cases under any circumstances. This rule they have rigidly adhered to, and the result is the stand taken by our company has brought about a reform, and the watch cases now sold in Canada are of as high a quality as those sold in any part of the world.

In Regard to Mr. Doll.

"Mr. Doll, in his own evidence under oath in court, showed that he was in the habit of ordering wedding rings and other goods of 15 karat gold and stamped as 18 karat. He was asked by Mr. Fullerton the question, 'Is that your writing?' Mr. Doll answered 'Yes.' Mr. Fullerton.' Mr. Fullerton: 'Then you are the man who wrote in this letter (presenting a letter), Enclosed find 18 diamonds; mount same in nice close settings 15 karat, stamped 18 karat. Are you the man who ordered that?' Mr. Doll: Yes, I am the man who ordered that. The Magistrate: This is putting a fraudulent stamp on! Mr. Doll: It is considered that putting an 18 karat stamp on 14 karat goods is not very fraudulent. The Magistrate: It is an absolute fraud on the community. Mr. Doll: It is something, I believe, that should be stopped. The Magistrate: And is this the way you have taken to stop it? Mr. Fullerton, producing a letter: Is that the signature of the Winnipeg Jewelry Company? Mr. Doll: It looks like it. Mr. Fullerton: You have no doubt that it is the handwriting of someone there? Mr. Doll: No. Mr. Fullerton: Again you say, Please send us as soon as possible 100 dwts. 15 karat wedding rings stamped 18 karat. Mr. Doll: I did not order these. It is from my bookkeeper. Mr. Fullerton: Do you know of any watch case manufacturing company in Manitoba? Mr. Doll: Not that I am aware of. Mr. Fullerton: If there was one I suppose you would know it? Mr. Doll: I would be likely to know of it. Mr. Fullerton: Are you the same W. F. Doll that, knowing there was no watch case company in Manitoba, sent down and got this bogus guarantee printed?

This case is warranted to be gold filled and to wear longer than any other case of a similar grade. No—American W. Manufacturing Company, Ma.

Mr. D.: This is not the card. Mr. Fullerton: Will you swear that Rolph, Smith & Co. did not print that card for you? Mr. Doll: No. Mr. Fullerton: Did you ever use any of them? Mr. Doll: We used some like them. Mr. Fullerton: What were you using the similar ones for? Mr. Doll: For putting in snide cases. The Magistrate: What does snide cases mean? Mr. Doll: It means that they are made of poor material. The Magistrate: Marked up. Mr. Doll: That is the custom. The Magistrate: It was a fraud. Mr. Doll: There was no fraud in it at all."

The Magistrate concluded that there was no case whatever against Mr. McNaught and dismissed it. Mr. McNaught asked that himself or at least some of Mr. Doll's witnesses might be called, but the Magistrate considered it quite unnecessary.

What Mr. Ellis Says.

The World reporter, in order to corroborate what Mr. McNaught had stated, called at some of the wholesale jewelry houses. Some of the proprietors were not in, but Mr. M. C. Ellis was at his post in P. W. Ellis & Co.'s well-known jewelry house. Mr. Ellis said: "We sell thousands of dollars worth of the American Watch Case Co.'s goods every month, and during eight years have never had to return one of their cases carrying their trade marks. We consider it a pernicious practice and an absolute fraud to stamp goods up higher than they really are. We manufacture a large number of wedding rings, and all goods are stamped exactly as their quality demands. The custom of the trade is not to sell inferior goods stamped as superior. It is a fraud on the community and the reputable dealers discountenance it. In fact over 90 per cent. of the trade demand that the goods be stamped according to quality. Regarding selling watch cases with and without springs it makes no difference to the purchaser. If purchased without the springs there is an extra charge for making, which brings the price up to exactly the same as the gross price. The price lists show this very plainly."

TIPS FROM WALL-STREET.

Monroe, Miller & Co. of New York send the following despatch over their private wire to their Toronto office:

NEW YORK, July 24.—Stocks opened intensely feverish. Gloomy stories from the west were an incentive for a fresh attack by bears on the Grangers. London had some orders on the specialties. Stop orders were reached in W.U., which reached 73. After early dealings the market rallied.

11 a.m.—The market thus far has shown some resistance; there is no organized support, but the strength has been such as to interfere with the bear tactics.

12 m.—Mo. P. gained two points on light buying. The general market improved in sympathy.

1 p.m.—N. E. shows strong undertone. Boston houses quietly picking up the stock. Cammack party covering shorts in R. I. and Atcheson. Some large Saratoga orders received for W.U., Grangers said strong. The list weakened in the last dealings, especially Atcheson and St. Paul, the latter closing 1⅜ per cent. under Saturday's closing figures. The Goulds were weak, led by Mo. P. The rally to-day was simply on shorts covering. Money closed: Offered 3, highest 5, lowest 2, last 2.
