TIME TO SLAY THE DRAGON.

Final Expedient to Rid the Province of Evil of Strong Drink.

Rev. Alexander Esler of Cooke's Church preached a strong sermon last evening on the evils of intemperance. Drawing upon legendary history for an illustration, he likened the present day apparent helplessness of civilized nations before the liquor traffic to that of the people told of in the story of St. George and the dragon. This fabled beast of terror, whose food was the inhabitants, whose eye was death, and whose breath was poisonous, he likened to the liquor traffic. As in the legend we were told that many expedients were devised for ridding the district of the baleful monster, so, he said, Ontario had tried many plans for doing away with the drink evil, with like futility. Bands of Hope had been organized, high license and other restrictive measures had been tried and professedly temperance men had been sent to legislature. But when the people asked, thru the plebiscite, for prohibition, it had not been granted. The members did not believe in prohibition, and had not granted it, yet had been returned because people thought more of party than of principle. When all other expedients had failed, St. George, armed with strength from on high, had slain the dragon, and, likewise, the true need at the present time was for men to go to the root of the matter, and, after prayerful consideration, act as Jesus would have them.

SEARCH FOR THE CONDOR.

U.S. Revenue Cutter Ordered From San Francisco to Aid.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Capt. Shoemaker, chief of the revenue cutter service, this morning wired the commander of the McCulloch at San Francisco to start out in search of the lost British steamer Condor. The McCulloch's orders are to sail "well out and as far north as the mouth of the Columbia River."

The revenue cutter Grant started on the search yesterday from Port Townsend, her orders requiring her to explore the waters as far south as the Columbia River.

"I believe the Condor is lost," said Capt. Shoemaker, "but we intend to do all in our power to find her if she is above water."

INGENIOUS TAX COLLECTING.

Corean Minister of Finance Hews Out a New Path.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 25.—It is reported from Seoul that on account of want of money the Corean minister of Finance has suggested to the Emperor that all those tax collectors who have not paid in the money collected shall be deemed to owe the Crown ten thousand dollars.

The Emperor has confirmed this suggestion. There are over a thousand of these collectors, and their united debt to the Crown amounts to over two million sterling.

SAYS THEY'RE HEAVEN-BORN

A lady in writing of her faith in Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets calls them "A HEAVEN-BORN HEALER." Chronic Dyspepsia was her "cross," and they cured her.

Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets is not a long tedious treatment. They work in nature's way—quickly, effectively and harmlessly. They're handy to carry. Take one or two after eating, they prevent stomach distress, cure the worst cases of Indigestion and Dyspepsia, keep the nerve centres well in hand, and they're pleasant to take. Try a box—you'll prove them "a Heaven-born healer" too. 60 tablets, 35c. 72

DOING THE MASTER'S WORK

Short Sketch of Rev. Solomon Cleaver, M.A., and the Sherbourne Street Church.

WHERE STRANGERS ARE WELCOME

Gowned Choir Meets With Favor—Singing Bright, and the Surroundings Attractive.

It is the purpose of The World to present, from time to time, a few terse remarks concerning Toronto clergymen, and the churches over which they minister faithfully and well. To-day is given a striking likeness of Rev. Solomon Cleaver of Sherbourne-street Church, accompanying a short sketch of his career, and something of his church.

Sherbourne-street Church is one of the most important in the Toronto Conference. The congregation is one of the first in wealth and influence in the community. Recently, the whole interior of the church was renovated, richly-upholstered opera chairs being put in; the gallery was extended all the way around to meet the choir loft, and every detail of decoration was carried out, with the one purpose of making the church attractive, comfortable and homelike. Further, the trustees inaugurated a striking inovation. They put the choir in black gowns. It was a sensational departure, and some staid ones demurred; but opposition vanished when the idea was tried out. The ladies wear neat bows in their hair, and the millinery is relegated to the vestry. No more feathers or frippery, but the music is just as sweet. The church people like the gowned choir. Strangers, invariably, are pleased with it, and it would not be surprising if other churches did not soon take up the idea.

Strangers are made to feel easy in Sherbourne-street Church. The music pleases the ear, the surroundings are attractive to the eye, there is someone to greet a new face at the door, and the pulpit gets close to every heart. Rev. Solomon Cleaver impresses one as being a genuine man, a true Christian, sincere and straightforward. His sermons are given in the easy style of a conversationalist, who talks to you, and not at you. He eschews declamation, and appeals to the finer feelings by presenting his subject in a manner that it would be impossible to take exception to. The matter is interesting, the conclusions well argued, and there is no attempt at sensationalism. He pitches his voice in a high key, and does not defect to any extent thruout his whole discourse.

Rev. Solomon Cleaver, M. A., was born in Halton County in 1855, the son of James Cleaver, a pioneer of that section of the country. He spent his early years on the farm, and, at the age of ten, passed from the Public schools to Rockwood Academy, and, afterwards, to the Galt Collegiate Institute. He graduated in arts from Toronto University in 1880, and took a post-graduate course at Syracuse University. At the age of 13, Mr. Cleaver united with the Methodist Church. During his probation, he traveled Hagersville and Waterdown circuits, as junior preacher, and, after his ordination, was appointed to the charge of the Merritton Church. While on that charge, he married the eldest daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Edgar of Toronto. Mr. Cleaver's other churches were Niagara-on-the-Lake, Burlington, Dundas, St. Catharines, A. Victoria, B. C., and Grace Church, Winnipeg. He came to Sherbourne-street Church last June.

A Bit of History.

Sherbourne-street Methodist Church was opened in March, 1872, by Rev. Morley Punshon. It grew out of the Elm-street Church, and was made a separate circuit in 1878. It was enlarged twice, in 1876 and 1887, and was refitted in 1901. The pastors of the joint circuit were Rev. Dr. Griffin, Rev. Dr. Potts and Rev. Isaac Tovell. Since 1878 the church has had the following pastors: Rev. T. W. Jeffery, Rev. J. B. Clarkson, Rev. S. J. Hunter, Rev. S. Y. Shorey, Rev. E. A. Stafford, Rev. T. Manning, Rev. James Henderson, Rev. R. P. Bowles, Rev. James Allen and Rev. Solomon Cleaver. Last year this church contributed more largely to the conference schemes than any other church in the Dominion. Over $100,000 was contributed towards the Twentieth Century Fund, of this amount $25,000 going towards paying off the church debt. The membership is 800.

HOPE FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

Remarkable Success Credited to Tesla's Electrical Currents.

New York, Jan. 25.—Experiments are being made on a most elaborate scale in London with a modification of Tesla's high frequency electrical currents in the treatment of consumption. It is stated that some remarkable results have been achieved, says the London correspondent of The Herald. These experiments, for the most part, have been quietly conducted by Dr. T. J. Bokenham, an eminent west end surgeon.

Dr. Bokenham's experience is that in very bad cases of consumption the cough has been greatly reduced, night sweats have disappeared, the appetite has improved, and there has been a great gain in weight and general health. So that even if the consumption bacilli have not been destroyed, it is certain that their virulence has been much decreased; that they have been brought under control, and that the patient has felt cured. A doubt entertained by phthisis specialists, who do not question this temporary improvement, is whether it is anything but a mere exhilaration. Dr. Bokenham, however, has great faith in the future of the system.

SMITH-DORRIEN'S POSITION.

London, Jan. 25. — Major-General Smith-Dorrien was gazetted last night as Adjutant-General in India, vice Lt.-Gen. Sir W. Nicholson, appointed Director-Geneal of Mobilization and Military Intelligence at headquarters.

Mr. Wade Disappointed.

The lecture to have been given by Mr. F. Wade upon the Klondike at Toronto University yesterday afternoon was indefinitely postponed, owing to the unavoidable absence from the city of that gentleman.

My Lungs

Perhaps they are sore and weak from constant coughing. How is this? Have you forgotten about the cough medicine your grandmother gave you fifty years ago,—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral? Ask your doctor how many years he has prescribed it.

"An eminent physician told me I certainly had consumption. I took Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and it completely cured me."

VERY LIKELY SOLD

Denials of the C.A.R. Transfer Do Not Wholly Satisfy.

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—The statement, made on Wall-street, Friday, in regard to the alleged sale of the Canada Atlantic Railway to the St. Lawrence and Adirondack, was somewhat more explicit than the press despatches made it appear. The announcement was that Arthur L. Meyer, Vice-President of the St. Lawrence and Adirondack Railway Co. had bought, for $10,000,000, the control of the Canada Atlantic, with 466 miles of road.

When asked, Friday night, for a statement on the subject of this alleged deal, the management of the C. A. R. gave an unequivocal denial to the assumption that the road was to be bought out for the New York Central. The denial was telegraphed to The New York Herald by its Ottawa correspondent, and was published in that paper on Saturday morning.

But, following it, was the further statement: Notwithstanding this denial, it was stated by an official of the St. Lawrence and Adirondack Railway that the contract of sale had been signed by President Booth of the Canada Atlantic, and that the document was in the possession of Arthur L. Meyer, vice-president of the former road. Mr. Meyer said last evening that it was not the intention of the syndicate of which he is the head to sell the Canada Atlantic to the New York Central in the immediate future.

A leading official of the Canada Atlantic, when made acquainted, this evening, with the foregoing observation, attributed to Mr. Meyer, said: "Well, I have nothing to add to my statement, made on Friday night, viz., that no transfer of the stocks or bonds of the Canada Atlantic has taken place." This guarded reply is taken to indicate that, while the Canada Atlantic System has probably not changed hands, negotiations have been in progress, looking to its acquisition by American railway interests.

Canadian Forest Trees.

On Saturday evening at the Canadian Institute, Dr. E. C. Jeffrey, the university's eminent botanist, lectured to the largest gathering of the year on "The Growth of Some Canadian Forest Trees." His address, which was illustrated with a wealth of new photomicrographs, dealt with the internal structure of our forest trees. From this in each case he deduced the properties of the wood, and its corresponding economic value.

The lecture embodied the results of recent research work of Dr. Jeffrey. He will lecture in the Chemical Building, Varsity, to-day at 4 p.m.

For the Children

To Keep Their Digestion Perfect Nothing is So Safe and Pleasant as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Thousands of men and women have found Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the safest and most reliable preparation for any form of indigestion or stomach trouble.

Thousands of people who are not sick, but are well and wish to keep well take Stuart's Tablets after every meal to insure perfect digestion and avoid trouble.

But it is not generally known that the Tablets are just as good and wholesome for little folks as for their elders.

Little children who are pale, thin and have no appetite, or do not grow or thrive, should use the tablets after eating and will derive great benefit from them.

Mrs. G. H. Crotsley, 538 Washington-street, Hoboken, New Jersey, writes: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets just fill the bill for children as well as for older folks. I've had the best of luck with them. My three-year-old girl takes them as readily as candy. I have only to say 'tablets' and she drops everything else and runs for them."

A Buffalo mother, a short time ago, who despaired of the life of her babe, was so delighted with the results from giving the child these tablets that she went before the notary public of Erie Co., N.Y., and made the following affidavit:

Gentlemen,—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were recommended to me for my two-months-old baby, which was sick and puny and the doctors said was suffering from indigestion. I took the child to the hospital, but there found no relief. A friend mentioned the Stuart Tablets and I procured a box from my druggist and used only the large sweet lozenges in the box and was delighted to find they were just the thing for my baby. I feel justified in saying that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets saved my child's life.

Mrs. W. T. Dethlope.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of April 1897.

Henry Karls,
Notary Public in and for Erie Co., N.Y.

For babies, no matter how young or delicate, the tablets will accomplish wonders in increasing flesh, appetite and growth. Use only the large sweet tablets in every box. Full sized boxes are sold by all druggists for 50 cents, and no parent should neglect the use of this safe remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles if the child is ailing in any way regarding its food or assimilation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been known for years as the best preparation for all stomach troubles, whether in adults or infants.

SATISFIED WITH OUR KING

British Public Approve of Edward the Seventh's First Year as Ruler.

RECONCILES DEMOCRACY AND EMPIRE

Has Kept Strictly Within the Limitations of His Royal Prerogatives.

New York, Jan. 26.—The Sun's London correspondent wires: "One year of King Edward" is a subject much discussed, both publicly and privately, on the occasion of last week's melancholy anniversary. It is somewhat curious that the chief note of comment is one of thankfulness that the King has maintained what Queen Victoria established, "the reconciliation of democracy and empire."

To use the words of the loyal Spectator: "It would be unjust to say that there is any surprise in the public mind that the King should have confined himself so strictly within the limitations of his royal prerogatives, which his predecessor so scrupulously observed. It is perfectly true that the King has not manifested the slightest disposition to usurp any power or authority outside the scope of Queen Victoria's well-known policy. His subjects' grateful acknowledgment of his restraint signifies nothing more than the inherent English jealousy of popular liberties, coupled with the strangeness to the present generation of the functions connected with the demise of the Crown."

Power Hedged in.

The average Englishman, however, likes to be told, as The Spectator reminds him, that "the Sovereign of that royal republic, the British empire, does not hold within his hands such powers of producing rapidly colossal results for good or evil—especially evil—as are attached to the headships of the Russian and German empires, or even to the Presidency of the United States. By obstinate adherence with the full force of his authority to any single false initiative, any one of those potentates could almost at any moment plunge, not only his own country, but the whole world, into calamities which could not be repaired in generations. It is not so with the British Monarchy. Our system checks and balances and makes it practically impossible that any immediate and irrevocable determination of world-wide issues should rest with any individual, however masterful; and, if any exception should be made to this observation it would not relate to any conceivable occupant of the throne."

No Mere Figurehead.

It should not be inferred from either of these comments that King Edward has been a mere figurehead of the British Empire for the past year. It is a very practical truth that Lord Salisbury's ministry has had to reckon with the King on many a matter of important government policy. It is no secret that His Majesty strenuously desires early peace in South Africa. This does not imply, of course, any sympathy with the so-called pro-Boer party, or any wish to make concessions which his country would regard as humiliating, or which would interfere with the policy of an all-British South Africa. Two months ago, the King had hopes that the war might be brought to a close before the end of the year. Now, he has considerable confidence, of which he recently gave public intimation, that peace is not far off, and it is well-known that he will be grievously disappointd if fighting has not ceased before his coronation.

It is well understood, also, that his official relations with Lord Salisbury, as the mouthpiece of the government, will come to an end about that date. It may be added that this consummation will not be seriously regretted, either by the Sovereign or by the Prime Minister.

BRITISH CHUCKLE OVER IT.

Alleged German Embarrassment re Spanish American Relations.

London, Jan. 26.—There has been a considerable amount of quiet satisfaction and inward chuckling indulged in by the majority of Englishmen over the unexpected results of Lord Cranborne's statement to the effect that it was Great Britain's point blank refusal to the Austrian Ambassador that prevented the European powers making further attempts to interfere between the United States and Spain. Particularly is this self-satisfaction felt with regard to what is considered to be the awkward position in which Germany is placed at this moment by the revelations of the secret history of the Spanish-American war.

Statements as to the exact attitude of the other powers at that time, which the Associated Press has gathered in the various capitals of Europe, are seized upon by the English press to demonstrate beyond a doubt that Great Britain was the only true friend of the United States in those disquieting days. Editorially the English newspapers more than suggest that Russia, Germany and France were with Austria in her abortive attempt.

NATIONAL LIBERAL PARTY.

Free Thinkers Organize in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 26.—The National Liberal party was organized here to-day by representatives from all parts of the country. The preamble to the new legislation, which was adopted, declared for the separation of church and state to the extent of abolishing chaplains in the army and navy, legislative bodies and all public institutions, the taxation of church property and the abandonment of Sabbath observance. The party is the amalgamation for political purposes of free thinkers, and it is more distinctly in politics than the American secular union. The free love element was not admitted into the new organization, but the woman suffragists were admitted.

MORE LIBERALITY TO BE ASKED.

Prince Chin Will Memorialize the Throne, After Pressure.

Pekin, Jan. 25.—As the result of pressure brought to bear upon him, Prince Ching will memorialize the throne, asking that more liberality be displayed in the treatment of the Pekin industrial institution, which the court recently ordered to be closed on the suggestion of Chen Pi, the reactionary Governor of Pekin.

Prince Ching will also ask that the institution be allowed to revive its paper, The Common People, which Chen Pi succeeded in having suppressed. Prince Ching says the paper can be issued subject to the inspection of the censors. The institution has been compelled to remove from its former quarters and its promoters say that this means the court intends to strangle it, tho a modification of the order of suppression may be issued. All the foreigners here and many officials, including Viceroy Yuan Shih Kai, are favoring the promoters, but as yet they have been unable to defeat the pernicious influence of Chen Pi.

It is reported that a son of Prince Ching has been appointed Chinese Envoy to attend the coronation of King Edward. Sir Ernest Satow, the British Minister, has informed the Chinese that there is no objection to the appointment, but Prince Ching's brother would have been preferred. The appointment has not yet been confirmed by an edict.

ROSEBERY A NOVELIST.

Is Putting the Finishing Touches on His Latest Innovation.

London, Jan. 25.—Lord Rosebery has written a novel on which he is now engaged in putting the finishing touches. It is expected that it will be published in the autumn. In spite of his Chesterfield speech and many political and other diversions, Lord Rosebery, it is said, found time to re-write the manuscript three times. The name and plot of his novel are not hinted at so far, but one of the weekly papers suggested that it should be called "The Lonely Furrow"; or, if compiled on the lines of Dickens, it might be named "A Neutral Inn," which is a sarcastic reference to Lord Rosebery's recent suggestion that peace negotiations with the Boers might well be initiated at a wayside tavern.
