A Few of the Lessons.

There are a few lessons growing out of the fracas between Col. Leys and the editor of the Free Press that are worthy of reference.

The chain of causation seems to nave been, briefly, this: Col. Leys, on the 16th of May, addressed a meeting in favor of the Street Railway Employes' Association. Next day he was assailed in the Free Press in an anonymous letter. The anonymous letter-writer, not content with assailing and sneering at Col. Leys, sneered likewise at Mrs. Leys, who it was known also sympathized with the position taken by organized labor. Col. Leys demanded the name of the author of the letter. A month elapsed, during which the Colonel vainly asked for the name. It is true, Mr. Potter, superintendent of the street railway-three weeks after the lettersent a note to Col. Leys, somewhat defiantly taking upon himself responsibility for the letter. But Col. Leys did not accept this, having reason to believe the real writer was another person connected with the Company. The rest of the incident-the meeting on the street between Col. Leys and Mr. Bremner, and the culminating fracas need not be again summarized, having been given, without coloring, and in perfect fairness, in Tuesday evening's issue.

There are a few lessons which grow out of the occurrence. The first is, that relating to the publication of anonymous letters in newspapers. The Advertiser's long-standing rule against the insertion of anonymous letters foreither love or money, is inflexible. We know of few things more cowardly and abominable than the writing of anonymous letters, whether in newspapers, or anywhere else; and the printing of them we regard as being as discreditable as the writing.

Assuming for the moment that Mr. Potter was the real writer of the letter complained of, why did he not write It over his own name? Col. Leys, at the public meeting, said what he had to say in the open; why did not any who objected to what he had to say, also say it in the open?

Even in a signed letter, there would have been no justification for either writing or printing a communication containing absolutely gratuitous impertinences against a lady.

Of course, the chief revelation grow ing out of the fracas is the additional light it throws on the means employed by the Company to load up public opinion. To the system of cut-anddried interviews, which easily made out organized labor in the wrong, there seems to have been added an anonymous letter bureau; the result of which was that, as we have seen, all sorts of supposedly indignant letters against the men's association kept appearing in certain papers, signed, variously, "Fair Play," "Citizen," "A Dundas Street Merchant," "An Admirer of the Colonel," "Ratepayer," "Shareholder," "Resident of the Fourth Ward," "A North End Citizen," "Grocer," "Loyalist," "An East End Citizen," etc. These were put forth as the voice of the public, when, as there is good reason to suspect, they in reality were the voice of the Company.

What strikes one most forcibly in connection with the London Street Railway Company's whole handling of their former employes, and their handling of the strike, generally, is the manifestation of such a plentifulness of perverted ability in small ways, and the absence of anything like a large handling or a large conception of the situation.

There would probably have been no by the large concession to his busistrike had one-tenth of the money, energy and device spent in circumventing the men, directing detectives, and loading up opinion against organized labor by means of cut-and-dried interviews and anonymous letters, been devoted to endeavoring to find out some form of reasonable compromise with the men through conciliation and arbitration.

The Cleveland Council Intervenes.

A special committee of the City Council of Cleveland, Ohio, have taken the street railway strike in hand, and have brought about a conference of the Company and the men.

The City Council of Cleveland believe that the street railway strike is a matter that concerns the public, and that the public, through their representatives, have a right to interfere.

The Exemption System.

In commenting on the exemptions taxation lately granted by the City Council to the Mc-Cormick and Perrin factories. Advertiser might have added that the assessment of the McCormick Company was reduced from $73,000 to $50,000, and fixed at the latter sum for ten years, while Mr. Perrin did not apply for or obtain any reduction, but merely asked to be guaranteed against any increase in his present assessment during the same period of ten years.

We understand that Mr. Perrin is not in favor of exemptions from taxation, and would not have asked for the fixing of his assessment had he not been in a measure forced to do so ness rival. We believe the majority of manufacturers would gladly see the exemption system abolished, if they were assured that the abolition could be made general and complete. In these days, when exemptions are the rule, a manufacturer who pays his taxes in full, is in the position of being discriminated against through the sudsidizing of his business rivals. He is perfectly justified in asking the same treatment as his competitors, but he would prefer that all should be on an equal footing and pay their taxes alike. So long as one municipality is permitted to subsidize local industries, other municipalities are impelled to do the same in self-defense. The new section of the municipal amendment act which goes into effect Sept. 1 next, should partially check some of the worst features of the system. It provides that any bylaw to exempt a manufacturing establishment from taxation, in whole or in part, must be approved by two-thirds of all the electors on the voters' list. While this is a step in advance, it does not go far enough. Any municipality, say Aylmer, if two-thirds of its ratepayers were agreeable, could make a bid for a London factory by granting exemptions and other privileges. With such an offer in his pocket, the London manufacturer could ask for the same concession here, on the threat that if he did not get it he would remove his business. The system of exemptions and bonuses must be entirely wiped out or it will always be open to Pacific Cable Scheme Under Discussion by Imperial Authorities.

French Cabinet Crists Continues-Prob able Loss of a Steamship-Sensational Divorce Case in London.

Sydney, N. S. W., June 20-11:20 p.m. -The Australian colonies voted today on the federation question. The struggle was most acute in New South Wales. The referendum on the federation has resulted in 11,045 votes in favor, as against 10.551 opposed, in the city of Sydney. In the suburbs the voting was 24,458 in favor, and 25,048 opposed, and in the country districts the returns, now practically completed, show 65,697 for federation, as against 44,035 opposed. The result has been received here with great enthusiasm and the federation leaders are applauded and eulogized on all hands. CONTRADICTED.

The admiralty officials, when questioned regarding the announcement made in special dispatches from Halifax that vessels belonging to the British North Atlantic squadron were being sent to quell trouble on the French coast of Newfoundland, said there was no truth in the report.

THE NEW CABLE SCHEME. In the House of Commons, Hon.

Joseph Chamberlain, in reply to a question asked by J. F. Hogan (Nationalist, Tipperary), stated that the question between England and the colonies specting the construction of the Pacific cable was still under discussion. Mr. Chamberlain, in replying to another query, said that nothing was known at the admiralty about a man-of-war having been ordered to Anticosti. DIVORCE CASE.

The hearing has commenced of the application for the divorce of Mrs. Chandespole against Samuel Chandes pole, whom she charges with cruelty, and names as co-respondent Miss Inez Broome, now the wife of Hon. Rupert Cecil Craven, brother of the Earl of Craven. The allegations are denied. Extraordinary letters from the husband to his wife and mother-in-law, full of abuse, abominable language and were read in court. Right Hon. Edward Henry Carson, Q.C., formerly solicitor-general of Ireland, is counsel for the petitioner.

ENTERPRISE. The C. P. R.'s enterprise in connection with the new transcontinentl service is widely noted here. The Daily Chronicle says: "We may well wonder how such a journey in four days can be even contemplated. There can be no more luxurious or beautiful trip in all the empire, and its popularity will, no doubt, become greater than ever.

KILLARNEY LAKES. Replying to a question on the sub-Gerald Balfour, chief secretary for Ireland, admitted the county council of Kerry had petitioned the government to purchase the Herbert estate in Killarney. But, he added, there was no evidence of a general demand on the part of the public to purchase the estate, as the place, he explained, was removed from the population center, and was of value to tourists during many months of the year.

NO REINFORCEMENTS FOR THE TRANSVAL.

After a two hours' session, the cabi- | age price was $1,252.

Result of the Vote in the Aus- | net decided not to send reinforcements to the Transvaal at present. The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "The Natal volunteers have been officially ordered to hold themselves in readiness for active service."

CRISIS CONTINUES. A Paris dispatch says: The prolongation of the cabinet crisis is be-

Loubet vesterday (Tuesday) and expressed their anxiety to be released of the responsibilities of office as soon as possible. DREYFUS' COFFIN. Miss Emily Crawford, the Paris correspondent of the Daily News, says: A curious message has been received from the Isle of Devils: "Dreyfus has

What shall we do with the coffin and embalming drugs?" This coffin was specially made about the time of Zola trial, and was sent out by the Meline Government, because it was feared that if Dreyfus died it would be necessary to bring the remains France for indentification to allay the suspicions of the anti-Semites that he had been allowed to escape like Marshal Bazaine.

OUTRAGES IN INDIA. A dispatch from Simla says over 50 small villages have been looted and burned in the Timmevelay district. At one town more than a hundred mur ders were committed. The victims, in many cases, were literally hacked to pieces, and then thrown into the flames of their burning homes. THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

The Brussels conference sub-committee of the international peace conference convened yesterday, Prof. De Maartens of the Russian delegation, presiding. Ten clauses of the drafting committee's report were adopted. The report will now be presented to the conference, and it is expected that nearly all the powers will adopt the new articles as a basis of instructions for armies when entering the field. The Persian delegate, Gen. Mirze Riza-Khan, who is Persian minister to Russia, moved to change the Red Cross emblem to a white flag with a red sun. The plenary conference met to adopt these additional articles, and appointed a committee to draw up a general act embodying the report of the Geneva convention section. This is the first definite result of the conference.

Occupied the Filipino Town of Peres Das Marinas Without Serious

Opposition. Manila, June 20 .- The troops commanded by Gen. Wheaton entered Perez das Marinas today without opposition, except upon the part of small bodies of rebels, who inflicted no losses upon the Americans. The town is an unimportant place, surrounded by swamps, and Gen. Wheaton will probably go to Buena Vista tomorrow, where it is reported the insurgents have re-established the arsenal and powder mill which they removed from Imus. The latest list of the American casualties in Monday's fighting shows that five were killed and 23 wounded. The list includes no officers.

MONDAY'S FIGHT.

Washington, June 20 .- Gen. Otis forwards the following from Manila: Wheaton at Imus, Cavite Province, with four guns, four battalions, Fourth and Fourteenth Infantry, Nevada troop cavalry; sent battalion south on reconnoissance in the direction of Das Marinas yesterday morning, where enemy was reported concentrating scattered forces; battalion encountered enemy's force, 2,000 marching to attack Imus. Wheaton, with two guns and two battalions, hurried forward and repulsed the enemy with heavy loss, the enemy leaving over 100 dead on the field; our loss five killed and 23 wounded. Wheaton reinforced last night by a battalion of the Ninth Infantry, and is driving enemy beyond Das Marinas, now in his possession. Casualties to-day not reported. Two privates of the Fourth Infantry, who were wounded during the reconnoissance toward Perez Das Marinas, were left temporarily on the roadside owing to the lack of transportation facilities. On Canadian Railways To Be Covered by Dominion Legislation. [Special to The Advertiser per C.P.R.] Ottawa, June 21.-It is understood that the government intends to bring in legislation this session providing running rules for railways, so that all roads may take advantage of them, instead of every road having its own rules, which causes confusion in case of companies that have running rights over other roads. The government bill, when introduced, will be referred to the railway committee, so that its details may be thoroughly threshed out. Some time ago the Grand Trunk adopted American rules, because a good portion of its system is in the United States. There was some dissatisfaction about the change among the employes and the trouble is said not to be en-tirely disposed of. The course which the government intends pursuing would set-

TWO RIBS BROKEN. A carpenter named Robert Bonney, employed at the Grand Trunk shops, fell from a scaffold yesterday, and had two ribs fractured. Bonney was removing some siding from a car, when he lost his balance, and fell to the floor, a distance of ten feet. He was conveyed to his home, 369 Glebe street. He will be laid up for some weeks. It is feared that his spine is injured.
