beginning of the week sold at 11 5-8c and at 11 3-4c, the latter price being paid at Peterboro for the colored cheese boarded there. Towards the end of the week, however, the demand from England, which had been quiet up to this time, showed considerable improvement, and the effect was immediately visible at country points, where prices were advanced all round, and the offerings were sold at 11 7-8c to 12c a lb. The continued dry weather in Great Britain, which is curtailing the supply of milk and reducing the output of cheese and butter is entirely responsible for the present position, and unless there is a change in the weather conditions on the other side there will be a tremendous shortage in the output of dairy products. In spite of the high prices current the stocks in store on the other side are moving out freely, and the heavy shipments are going quickly into consumption.

The recent rains have improved pastures generally, and have arrested the decline in the flow of milk, but the make is going to be considerably less than last year, and this will help considerably to maintain high prices this season. The receipts this week will be 10 to 15 per cent. less than they were the corresponding week last year, and it is very likely that the output for the entire season will be about 10 per cent. less than last year.

The market for butter is stronger and prices are advanced over the average paid last week, although the prices paid this week do not equal the fancy price paid at Cowansville last Saturday afternoon, when the keen competition amongst the buyers ran the market up to 28c. This week's country markets ranged from 22c to 27½c a lb., local dealers asking 23c to 28c for fancy selected townships creamery.

A COMING SALE OF JERSEY CATTLE

The day after Farmers' day at the Canadian National exhibition, those farmers, or others, who want to secure some rich-blood, highly productive Jersey cattle, will have an opportunity to obtain the same at a public auction sale, for which arrangements are being completed, the same to be held at the Union Stock Yards, Toronto, the cattle being those bred by Mr. Thompson Porter, of Toronto, who will discontinue the breed. About 75 head are to be offered. Last week one of the editors of Farm and Dairy called on Mr. Porter at his farm and saw his Jerseys.

Mr. Porter's cows are strong individuals bred for milk production. Some of the cows have milked up to 45 lbs. of 5.9 per cent milk a day. The original stock were of the St. Lambert type. The foundation cows were in the herd, which is mainly composed of some five or six generations of their progeny.

The character of the breeding of the individuals in Mr. Porter's herd is possibly well known to Jersey fanciers; for the benefit of Farm and Dairy readers it may be illustrated by the blood lines of some of the individuals connected with animals sold in the famous Cooper sale—the public auction of pure bred Jerseys owned by T. S. Cooper, of Coopersburg, Pa., where many of the animals sold for immensely big prices. Mr. Porter has in his herd a cow which is a half sister to a bull that was sold by Mr. Cooper for $15,000. One of the bulls used by Mr. Porter, and which will be included in the sale, is Stockwell Lad, sired by Imported Stockwell—a bull which sold at the Cooper sale for $11,500.

Over 30 of the cows of Mr. Porter's herd are now in milk. Cream from the herd is sold in Toronto, and the young stock gets the benefit of the skim milk. The senior bull in the herd is Golden Fox of Dentonia. He is five years old, and is an excellent individual, of strong type. The young cattle in the herd are crosses of the Golden Lad strain, for which the Americans claim so much in the matter of milk production and persistency of production.

Further particulars in regard to Mr. Porter's sale will be announced in these columns later.

WESTERN FAIR AS A LIVE STOCK EXHIBITION

Exhibitors of live stock at the Western fair report large sales of their prize animals while at the London exhibition. Surrounded as it is by a large agricultural district, London affords a large field for prospective buyers of prize animals of all kinds. The management of the Western fair, having realized this, have year after year been adding to their live stock prize list, until, with the increase given this year, the magnificent sum of $13,000 has been reached, all of which may be won by exhibitors this year.

Another feature in connection with the live stock department which the management have adopted is that if the stock shown is worthy and prices awarded by the judges in charge all will be paid whether there is competition or not, as it is considered a hardship to withhold prizes from an exhibitor simply because, through no fault of his there may not be competition in a particular section.

The prizes offered in the Hereford class of cattle this year are particularly attractive. Through the kindness of the Hereford association $200 was granted this year, which was duplicated by the exhibition management, in addition to last year's list, making the prizes in this class away in advance of any previous year.

Prize lists, entry forms and information of all kinds regarding the exhibition will be promptly given on application to the secretary, A. M. Hunt, London, Ontario.

TWO CONCERNS UNITE SELLING FORCES.

By a mutual understanding the sales organizations of Cockshutt Plow Co., Ltd., and Frost and Wood Co., Ltd., have been united. The Cockshutt company take all territory in Canada west of Peterboro, and will act as sole agents for the Frost and Wood Company. The Frost and Wood Co. will take over all territory east of Peterboro in Ontario, Quebec, and the Maritime provinces, and will act as that territory as sole agents for the Cockshutt company. This will secure for the companies the best local agents where full lines of implements and repairs will be carried for the benefit of the local customers.

The two companies now operate very large manufacturing plants at Brantford and Smith's Falls, to both of which large additions are about to be made. They also have large distributing branches and offices at Smith's Falls, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec City, St. John, N.B., Truro, N.S., Charlottetown, P.E.I., Brantford and London, Ont., Winnipeg and Brandon, Man., Regina and Saskatoon, Sask., Edmonton and Calgary, Alta., New Westminster and Victoria, B.C.

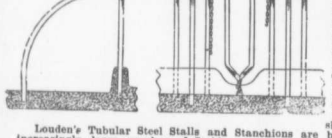
STEEL STALLS AND STANCHIONS



The most successful dairy men now realize that the only way to secure the largest returns from their dairy herds is to provide for them the cleanest and most sanitary surroundings. Wooden stalls and mangers often become saturated with offensive odors and prevent the purity that dairy stables should have.

Louden's Tubular Steel Stalls and Stanchions are being used in an increasingly large number of Stables, with perfect satisfaction. The Stalls are made of tubular steel, 1½ inches wide diameter, fastened together with malleable iron couplings. They are very strong, perfectly sanitary, and are easily erected.

Both Stalls and Stanchions are finished in aluminum, thus giving the stable a bright and cheerful appearance.
