RACE TIME HATS

We claim that there is no store in America, and we might justly include the whole world, where a more complete collection of Men's Hats is on sale We do not limit our stock to designs by one or two makers, but include them all---English, American, Italian, German, French and Canadian. Also we particularize in being sole Canadian agents for two of the world's greatest makers of hats-Dunlap of New York and Henry Heath of London, Eng., maker to His Majesty King Edward.

Wife to Garden Where She Made Vain Fight for Life,

FAIRMONT, W. Va., May 18.- Temporarily insane, according to his own statement, the Rev. S. A. Coffman, aged 50 years, a prominent Methodist Episcopalian clergyman, killed his wife to-day by cutting her throat. A moment after the crime, he says, he regained his senses and realized what he had done. He surrendered himself and was locked up.

Prof. Galbraith Will Represent the City-Finding Flaws in Architect Lennox's Work.

The gas meter question was brought before the directors of the Consumers' Gas Co. yesterday at the regular fortnightly meeting by Mayor Oliver. His worship suggested that Prof. Galbraith of the School of Practical Science be present at a test of 20 or 30 meters in the government gas inspection offices on Wednesday afternoon, the company to bear the expense. This was agreed

.Chief Inspector O. Higman will arrive from Ottawa to-day and Inspector McPhee of Hamilton is also expected. In the meantime Inspector James Pape has taken no action in the city's request that the meters at police stations Nos. 1, 2 and 4, fire stations Nos. 4, 10, 12, 14, 15 and the cattle market be inspected. Other private meters to be tested are those of Ald. J. J. Graham and A. B. Barry. Built Hall Too High.

The city's legal department has filed particulars in support of its contention that Archifect E. J. Lennox in building the city hall exceeded the specifications.

Dealing with the south elevation, from the ground line to the top of the stonework of the tower is 245.13 feet, whereas the plan calls for 206.3 feet; while from the ground line to the top of the spire is 287.96 feet, when it should only be 260 feet. The east and west pavilions are each more than three feet higher than originally planned, as is also the height of the main roof at ridge. The centre gable is several inches higher, while the top of the west dormer gable is more than 12 feet too high. From the top of each dormer gable stone work to the ground line is 118.86 feet, exceeding the plans by nine

On the north elevation the most striking difference has to do with the east dormer gable, which is 119.85 feet, and should only be 107 feet. On the east elevation, from the centre gable to the ground line is 120.31 feet, against 118.6 as planned. On the west elevation the north dormer gable, planned 107 feet, is 114.34 feet, and the south dormer gable, planned 107 feet, is 114.67 feet.

The tower above the second floor is built of cut stone instead of brick, with stone facings. The general construction of the top of the tower is entirely altered, in particular seven small storeys being built where suddenly seized a poker and began shown from about four feet six inches striking her on the head. There was on plan being greatly increased in size a struggle, during which Mrs. Coffman and length; the construction of the succeeded in escaping from the house to a garden in the rear. She was followed closely, however, by her husband, and when he caught up with her, another battle for her life took.

THE SIMPSON

TUESDAY, MAY 19.

Like the Hum of Progress

Canadian statesmen, with their ears to the ground, have often boldly announced the hum of progress to be distinctly audible. In the West the hum of the harvester sings through the September sunlight over all the wheat plains. Here in old Ontario the hum of factory wheels and the hum of traffic has been the keynote of the past ten years. To these tunes of progress we are contributing more than our share just now. The riveters are at work! High on iron beams and girders 100 feet above the street they work like sailors on the yards of great square rigged ships, as sure and as steady as though they stood on earth. Compressed air, fed to the "gun," beats upon the red hot rivets until they clinch and cool. In the brazier, standing on a board ten inches wide, a dare-devil heats the rivets till they gleam fierce yellow with fire, and tosses them across the span to the tenderer of the riveters, who catches the hot gleaming meteor in a bucket and sets it in its place with a pair of tongs. Then r-r-r-r-p, the air is turned on and the rivet is driven. The riveters on their perches high aloft must strain and brace themselves against the 90 lb. jolts of the air gun rattling shots like a maxim, three to the second. Then that done—calmly a rivet man slouches along a 5-inch beam to the brazier and lights his pipe with a red hot rivet. If he drops it, it falls on the head of a brick layer in the basement 120 feet below.
