GUELPH'S GRAND OLD LADY REACHES 100TH BIRTHDAY

Special to The Advertiser.

Guelph, Sept. 25.—Enjoying the best of health, and remarkably active for a person of her advanced years, Mrs. Mary Carruthers, "Guelph's grand old lady," is tomorrow, September 26, celebrating her centenary, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Robertson, 33 Audrey avenue. City officals did not fail to remember the happy occasion, and his worship, Mayor Stephens, called on "Mother" Carruthers and presented her with a handsome bouquet on behalf of the city of Guelph.

Her memory is wonderful, and in conversing with her numerous callers she even recalled the name of the vessel on which she came to Canada 67 years ago, the "Sunbeam," which took 29 days to cross the Atlantic. Mrs. Carruthers is a native of Lockerly, Dumfrieshire, Scotland. Of the ten children born to her, five survive, Mrs. Charles Robertson and Miss Bella Carruthers of Guelph, Mrs. McCrae, New Zealand, Mrs. R. W. Godfrey, Detroit, and John of Aberfoyle.

South Australia, West Australia and Victoria, which is the largest of the assemblies of Australia, rejected the amended basis of union and the union proposals, while New South Wales and Queensland voted in favor of the proposal.

FRANCE ASSUMES NEUTRAL STAND IN RHINE AFFAIR

Practically All Parties Approve Idea of Separation From Prussia.

WISH ASSURED PEACE

By WILLIAM E. NASH.
Special Cable to The London Advertiser and Chicago Daily News. Copyright.

Paris, Sept. 26.—With Germany on the verge of surrender and, according to some observers, on the point of disintegration as well, it is important to know the attitude of France toward the Rhineland Separatist movement, which aims at the breaking up of Prussia. After a painstaking inquiry, the writer is prepared to offer an authoritative statement on this point, the first statement of its kind issued from Paris.

Watchful waiting and benevolent neutrality, involving approval but not material aid can be said to symbolize France's attitude toward separatism.

"The Rhenish movement is an internal German affair with which we can sympathize, but in which we cannot take sides," Paul Tirard, French delegate on the Rhineland high commission, said recently.

"The Rhenish Separatist leaders may or may not be sincere," said a high functionary of the Quai d'Orsay to the writer today, "but at least they profess to be well-disposed toward us. To suppress them in the midst of their protestations of friendship for France would be asking too much. They constitute a distinct improvement over the other Germans."

Withhold Aid.

Practically all parties and shades of public opinion in this country except the Socialists and the Communists, approve the idea of separation in the abstract, but all are unwilling to offer concrete aid in putting it into practice. There is only one small faction headed by the historian, Maurice Barres, which comes out openly for Rhenish independence. The coldness of Britain toward this movement probably has much to do with the reserve. That the Poincare government supplies money directly to Dorten Matthes and company, as the German propagandists claim, is doubtful, but that Premier Poincare is instrumental in showing them where they can find money is possible.

Different men in different parties hold different ideas on the Separatist movement. Opinions of a few representative French political leaders are herewith cited:

Not New Problem.

General De Castlenau, Conservative deputy and supporter of Premier Poincare, said: "The problem of Rhenish independence is no new one for France. It presented itself in similar circumstances to the French revolutionary General Hoche in 1797, and might have been settled at that time had it not been for the vacillating attitude of the government in Paris and the premature death of Hoche. Conditions were much the same in the revolutionary epoch as they are today—extreme fatigue and misery brought about by the war, disgust with the former masters, anxiety over reparations, anxiety over wars of revenge, desire for peace and tranquility at any cost.

"Egoism on the part of Berlin, the fear of bankruptcy and the dread of a social upheaval, are well calculated to inspire dismay in the minds of peaceful Rhinelanders. They want only a regime which will assure them peace."

Would Assure Peace.

Francois Albert, Liberal senator, says: "The inhabitants of the Rhineland should be given what they want. That is all. If they do not want independence, we cannot force it on them. People cannot be divorced in spite of themselves. On the other hand, if the Rhinelanders want a divorce from Prussia, they have no need of our permission. Nevertheless, I think it would be advisable to encourage them in case of necessity."

Albert Orry, secretary-general of the Republican bloc, the strongest political group in parliament, states: "An independent Rhineland is the best guarantee for European peace. For France and Belgium it is indispensable. In case of its realization, France would still have to maintain small military garrisons in towns like Cologne, Coblenz, Mayence and Mannheim. France seeks not to annex new territory, but to assure her own national security on a permanent basis."

SAY TOWNSHIPS LIABLE IN GRAVEL PIT ACCIDENTS

Special to The Advertiser.

Chatham, Sept. 25.—In the future, where the county and various townships jointly operate gravel pits or other public work, such arrangements will be specified in the agreement. The problem was raised over a supreme court action in which a Harwich Township man claimed damages sustained by injuries received while at work in a gravel pit jointly operated by the county and township. The committee decided that in future the township in which the gravel pit is located will be responsible for the welfare of employees.

REDUCE HYDRO RATES.

Special to The Advertiser.

Exeter, Sept. 25.—Reductions have been made in the domestic and commercial rates to hydro users. In ordinary domestic lighting, which formerly cost 4 cents per kilowatt hour, the price has been reduced to 3.5, and in commercial rates from 2 cents to 1.75 cents per kilowatt hour. Against this an increase has been made in the power rates to $9 with lessened discounts.

TENSION RELAXES WHEN PREMIERS SUPPORT DECISION

German State Leaders Concur in Abandoning Ruhr Resistance.

COUP IMPROBABLE

Special Cable to The Advertiser.

Berlin, Sept. 26.—Approval by the state premiers of Chancellor Stresemann's decision to abandon passive resistance in the Ruhr had relaxed tension considerably throughout Germany today. The attitude of Bavaria was considered especially hopeful in view of Premier Knilling's uncomplaining ratification of the stand taken by the government.

The danger of a coup d'etat has been greatly exaggerated, Finance Minister Hilferding said. The government, however, was taking no chances and was prepared to deal with any demonstrations against the decision to surrender.

Careful measures were taken to protect Chancellor Stresemann after he had received a number of threatening letters promising him the "same fate as Ratheneau," the assassinated foreign minister and characterizing him as a "traitor" for his surrender to the Allies.

Stresemann was scheduled to make his public declaration on his decision to abandon passive resistance probably today, either in the form of a proclamation to the public or a statement in the Reichstag or both.

Expected Resistance.

Bavaria's acceptance of the abandoning of passive resistance came as a considerable surprise, as it had been expected the nationalist organizations in this state would force strong resistance.

President Knilling's ready acquiescence, it was said, was caused by strong pressure from the Bavarian crown prince, Rupprecht, who induced the premier to vote for surrender and also for unity with the Reich.

It was still uncertain, however, whether the Bavarian fatherland organizations—frankly in favor of restoration of the monarchy—would accept Knilling's stand that German national unity shall not be touched, but defended by all states. Participants in yesterday's conference between Stresemann and the premiers were loath to discuss details, but hinted there had been some discussion not entirely pleasant to the proponents of a unified Reich.

Funds Lacking.

The upshot, however, was that all sides agreed passive resistance could not be continued further for the simple reason that no funds were available.

Finance Minister Hilferding was jubilant over the decision, seeing an opportunity to restore national finances to something like an even keel following elimination of the Ruhr expenses, which has been costing the Reich government millions of dollars a week.

"I believe we can now start to put our financial house in order," he said, "and look forward to improvement in our internal situation."

Socialists planning a dramatic gesture, hoped some plan could be conceived to confiscate a part of funds of German citizens in foreign banks, for use as part payment of reparations.

RAVAGE COUNTRY.

Special Cable to The Advertiser.

Paris, Sept. 26.—Grave troubles are expected in Crefeld following cessation of passive resistance in the Ruhr, the Mayence correspondent of Le Journal telegraphed today. A strong guard has been placed about the city hall.

Groups of miners armed with iron bars are ravaging the countryside for food, following a lockout in the mines, the complete report declared.

BAILIFFS TAKE CHARGE OF LOCAL AUTO PREMISES

Baliffs, acting on behalf of the landlord, have taken possession of the garage and building used by Tennent and Wilkinson as a showroom and workshop for the cars which they are agents for in this city.

A visit to the premises this morning disclosed no sign of activity but the bailiff sitting in the office. Not a car was to be seen in the garage and according to the bailiff, three display models which are kept in the show windows have disappeared. Steps are being taken to bring these cars back, and secure them for part of the assets to cover the liabilities.

On Monday a bailiff acting for the city seized the repair truck of the firm for taxes unpaid, amounting to about $85, while the landlord's bailiff took possession yesterday.

It is not known for what amount the firm failed for nor whom the creditors are, but it is understood that the liabilities are much greater than the assets.

THINK BLAZING KLAN CROSS TO BLAME FOR FIRE RUMOR

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, Sept. 25.—There is no foundation for reports received in Winnipeg by radio to the effect that Oklahoma City was on fire. Following receipt of messages from Winnipeg, the Associated Press made inquiries direct to Oklahoma City, and was informed that there was no fire. It is thought probable that the blazing cross set at Muskogee by the Ku Klux Klan was responsible for the rumors.

News From City Churches

TO HOLD RECEPTION.

The Ladies' Aid of the First Methodist Church have set Oct. 3, as the day upon which they will tender a reception to their new pastor, Rev. J. Bruce Hunter and Mrs. Hunter. Plans for this, as well as arrangements for a rummage sale were discussed at the regular monthly meeting held this week. Mrs. W. H. Sanborn presided over the meeting.

ANNUAL ELECTION.

L. L. Bissett is to be the new president of the Young People's Union of the Adelaide Street Baptist Church. The other officers who were elected at the regular meeting this week are the following: Hon. president, John Hislop; first vice-president, Mrs. Jas. McNaughton; second vice-president, Fred Norton; secretary, Miss Maude Carson; treasurer, Lorne McIntyre. Plans are being made by the society for an active participation in the rally of next Monday night.

EXECUTIVE ELECTED.

The junior B. Y. P. U. of the Maitland Street Baptist Church met this week for their annual election of officers. The following will be the coming season: President, Mrs. J. Prescott; secretary, Allan Miller; treasurer, Miss Rosa Murty; pianist, Miss Dorothy Brown; convener of the flower committee, Charles Burnett; group leaders, Hartley McVicar, Reggie Shorten, Miss Charlotte Smith and Miss Velma Walters. Allan Miller presided over the election.

SEASON'S FIRST MEETING.

Mrs. A. E. Barbour lent her home yesterday afternoon for the season's first meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church. Sixteen members were present. During a meeting, opened with prayer by Mrs. B. Newton, the group leader, Mrs. J. F. Barnard, gave an excellent talk on the new study book, "The Building of a Nation." The members referred with deep regret to the loss of one of their members, Mrs. J. A. Cole. Mrs. Cole, whose death occurred just a short time ago, had for many years been a most faithful and active member of the society.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Barbour, assisted by her daughter Miss Ruth, served afternoon tea.

MEETING POSTPONED.

Last night's meeting of the Junior Auxiliary of the Church of the Epiphany was postponed owing to alterations and improvements which are being made in the church buildings.

SERVICE BAND.

Miss Mabel Hynd has been made secretary of the Service Band of the First Presbyterian Church. At a recent meeting, when the annual bale for the mission school at Portage la Prairie was packed, the members elected the following officers for the coming season: President, Miss Hynd; secretary, Miss Kathleen Dickerson; treasurer, Miss Mabel Gibson; conveners of the sewing committee, Miss Jessie Gillespie and Mrs. C. Watson; convener of the social committee, Mrs. J. H. Langford.

WEINER ROAST.

Under the charge of their leader, Mrs. Ed. Bourne, the C. G. I. T. group of the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church last night held a successful weiner roast at Roxall Park. About twenty-five girls were present. One of the features was a ghost-story contest, the prize for the most weird tale going to Miss Hannah Johnston. The girls built their own fire, scout fashion, and during the evening held a sing-song of songs made popular at the Port Bruce summer camp. Miss Kathleen Copeland is president of the group.

SUCCESSFUL PLAY.

Given under the auspices of the Young People's Association, the short play, "Fulfilling His Promise," last night attracted an audience which quite filled the parish hall of St. Mark's Church, East London. The performance was most successful and the large audience will result in the addition of a substantial sum to the Young People's Association objective. Rev. A. L. Beverley, the rector, acted as chairman, and between acts vocal solos were given by T. S. Holland and a number of readings by Mr. Appleton. Following the play the talent were entertained at a supper. The cast were: Hon. Sandy Berrault, John Mirehouse; Mrs. Ollway, nurse, Mrs. Harry Pearson; the butler, Harry Pearson; Miss Lawrence, an actress, Peggy Ellis; Eliza Vandan, Miss Julia Ellis; Montagu Jordan, Sidney Febray; Lady Elizabeth, Alice Cooper; and the Honorable Alexander, Harold Skellett.

TO COMPETE FOR CUP.

Last night's meeting of the Anglican Young People's Association of the Church of the Redeemer resolved itself into a business meeting during which the winter's program was outlined. Foremost among the plans laid was that for a social next Tuesday evening, when the society will have as their guests the A. Y. P. A. of St. James' Church. A committee have been appointed to look after the winter sports. The association is entering upon a strong campaign for new members. Four groups have been formed to compete for the silver cup, donated by the president, George Farr, for the group obtaining the largest number of members.

With the Mothers' Clubs

CHESLEY AVENUE.

Mrs. L. Frank Mayne was elected president of the Chesley Avenue Mothers' Club at the meeting of the club last night to fill the vacancy left by the retiring president, Mrs. James Mills. The other officers elected were: Mrs. W. H. Griffin, first vice-president; Mrs. Thomas Owen, second vice; Mrs. H. Huddart, secretary; Mrs. W. Greatorex, assistant secretary; Mrs. G. Collingwood, treasurer; Mrs. A. E. Tutt, press secretary; Mrs. Ed. Pellow, convener of the program committee; Mrs. Henery, convener social committee; Mrs. James Paton and Mrs. H. Moyer, joint conveners of the reception committee; Mrs. A. Lucas, visiting convener; representative on child welfare committee, Mrs. J. Mills; and Mrs. E. S. Littie, pianist.

The election of officers was conducted by Mrs. W. A. Tanner, president of the Union Mothers' Club. An enjoyable solo was given by Miss Doreen Donohue, who has not only a charming voice, but a most pleasing personality. Mr. A. B. Steen acted as accompanist.

RYERSON MOTHERS' CLUB.

Double grading at Ryerson School was explained to the parents at the meeting of the Mothers' Club Tuesday evening. In fact, Mr. Galpin, the principal, stood his ground for an hour or more while all manner of questions were fired at him, ranging from the keeping of the young hopefuls in after 4 all the way through to the advisability of giving the children advice on eating plenty of vegetables. But the trend of questions always came back to the matter of double grading, and it was very easy to see that the parents were decidedly opposed to the manner in which classes have been mixed up in the North End school.

The opinion was expressed several times that children were being shoved through too fast, simply because there was an increasing pressure on the kindergarten and junior departments, and that it was unfair to the children themselves to try to make them work harder than they were capable of handling. There is not enough school accommodation in the North End, and with the growth of that section, which is bound to be greater with the completion of the university, the problem is apt to become more acute than it is now.

The parents present at the meeting expressed every sympathy with Mr. Galpin in the manner in which he was trying to carry out the double grading with as little injury to the pupils as possible, but realized that something more definite would have to be worked out to meet the situation. Mrs. W. H. Paddell conducted the question box, in the absence of Mrs. W. A. Tanner.

Mrs. R. T. Govenlock was appointed recording secretary to fill Mrs. Williams' office. A splendid report of the well baby clinics held during the summer months was presented, and during the coming months St. George's, Broughdale and Ryerson Clubs will be in charge of the clinics monthly.

An appeal was made by the principal for assistance in purchasing a new piano, as it is necessary to move the piano from the auditorium to the kindergarten each day. A pageant will be presented under the direction of Miss Cook on November 3, to raise funds for the piano, and the mothers decided to hold a Halloween social, the proceeds to be given towards the piano. Mrs. Frank Jones was appointed convener of this affair.

The meeting, which was an exceptionally large one, showing the interest of the fathers as well as the mothers, was presided over by the new president, Mrs. Arthur Kennedy.

RUHR SURRENDER INVESTS MEETING WITH IMPORTANCE

British Cabinet May Hear Result of Premier's Conversation.

PAPERS PERTURBED

Associated Press Despatch.

London, Sept. 26.—Germany's unconditional surrender in the Ruhr invests today's meeting of the British cabinet with additional importance. It is the first cabinet council in several weeks, during which time events of great moment directly affecting British interests have happened. The deliberations, of course, are secret, as usual, and no official report of them is to be expected. It is taken for granted that the foremost subject of the discussion will be foreign affairs, and that before the close of the meeting the ministers will be in possession of a full account from Prime Minister Baldwin of his much-discussed conversation with Premier Poincare. It is not supposed, however, that the cabinet members will be called upon to decide any important point of policy, in view of the present uncertainty in the situation all around.

Editorial comment on the surrender of Germany is very limited. The Daily Mail, staunch supporter of France, raises a paean of triumph and praise for Premier Poincare, but the newspapers which so severely condemned his policy are mostly silent.

The Morning Chronicle, however, harshly scores France and the present British government for causing in Germany "a financial collapse of appalling magnitude," and adds: "The economic ruin of Germany is a deadly blow to British trade and to the British ideas of reconstruction. . . . It is rather a bad day for England and English prestige."

Some of the newspapers are greatly perturbed as to how Great Britain will fare in reparations in view of Germany's present position. The Times more than doubts whether the payment of reparations to any of the Allies appears more than probable as a result of the French success in the Ruhr.

CAR RUNS INTO WALL OF BIG CREEK BRIDGE

Special to The Advertiser.

Houghton, Sept. 25.—What might have been a serious accident occurred on Friday evening when Charles Biddle and Allen Procunior were motoring to Port Rowan. While crossing Big Creek bridge on the first concession they ran into the side of the bridge, smashing the windshield, fender and wheel and one light. Fortunately, they escaped with slight injuries and a bad shaking up.
