

DRESS UP TODAY

LET us take the "Tailor" worry off your mind. Be like the gentleman we had in yesterday. He'd been tailored to measure for years until he was sick and tired of it. He dropped in to see if we could help him any, and we did quick; he's got one of our best value $25.00 Suits on and tickled all over, because there were no long waits and "try ons." We had the best laugh we have had in weeks when he told us the number of things the tailor told him was wrong with his shape. We fitted that same shape in a few minutes and convinced him that he wasn't far off the normal at that. His last words going out were, "You have surely dressed me up today in a way that pleases me and I'm coming back." You do the same come in and "Dress up today."

BRITAIN ADDS MATERIALLY TO LIST OF GOODS BARRED

Many More Articles Classed As Luxuries Will Be Rigidly Excluded From Country After March Thirtieth.

LONDON, March 24.—A lengthy extension of the list of articles, the importation of which is prohibited, which was forecasted by Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, in an interview with the Associated Press last week, was announced tonight by the board of trade. The board gave notice that a proclamation would be issued shortly prohibiting after March 30 the importation of the following goods: Baskets and basketware, except of bamboo, cement, chinaware and pottery, not including cloisonne ware; cotton yarn, cotton piece goods and cotton manufactures of all kinds, except hosiery and lace; cutlery, fatty acids, furniture, manufactured joinery and other wood manufactures except lacquered wares; hardware and hollowware, oilcloth, soap, toys, games and playing cards; wood and timber of beech, birch, elm and oak; woolen and worsted manufactures of all kinds except yarns. The importation of the prohibited goods will be admitted only under a license, but the board of trade states such licenses will be granted only for goods on the way to the United Kingdom or goods actually purchased when the notice is issued.

GERMANY EMBARRASSED THRU NEED OF FUNDS

Financial Exhaustion Upsets Plans of the Kaiser's Staff, 'Tis Said.

CANNOT WAIT LONGER

Teutons Must of Necessity Reach Decisive Moment in Near Future.

ROME, March 25.—The German general staff is now faced with a most embarrassing and critical situation, writes the military critic of the Corriere della Sera. On no front, he explains, is there any probability of a successful offensive. But the gravest question for Germany, says the Italian critic, is the necessity for obtaining a decision as speedily as possible, the rapid financial and economic exhaustion of the central empire rendering it dangerous, if not impossible, for them to play a waiting game. Every month Germany is spending many millions of marks, and her financial resources are by no means limitless.

Dreams are vain. Germany's dreams of solving her financial and economic difficulties in Asia and Africa are vain, because, even if expeditions in this direction proved to be military successes, they would yield nothing, these territories being already ravaged by war. Everywhere she has gone so far Germany has carried misery, whilst she herself has reaped little, but added economic difficulties. Germany is absolutely compelled to continue on the offensive unless she is prepared to relinquish the illusion of coming out of the war victoriously.

To organize and execute an expedition against Egypt or India, Germany would have to expend scores of millions of marks, and where can Germany find the money? One is forced to the conclusion, says the critic, that all talk of such expeditions is the outcome of idle dreams, and it is also becoming more and more plain that the German general staff is beginning to despair of forcing a decision in favor of the central powers on either of the principal fronts.

Some Spree

Men everywhere are saying how they intend to stock their cellars should prohibition be effective. Instead of purchasing at the Hotel Teck they will report to their homes in large quantities when their first supply is exhausted. It certainly will not be prohibition.

MIGHTY MILITARY HOSTS PARADE THRU HAMILTON

HAMILTON, March 25.—The immense parade of last Saturday, when over eight thousand stalwart Canadian troops for overseas service marched thru the streets of this city, will be reproduced in a series of photographic pictures, which will appear in this week's Art Section of the Toronto Sunday World. There are views of the troops at various points in the parade, showing the thousands of spectators who lined the route. One view which will bring the war home to our citizens was the section of the parade picturing those who have done their bit—the returned heroes. Another shows his honor the lieutenant-governor, Col. Hendrie, taking the salute. The scene showing the 178th Hamilton Highlanders at James and Main streets is an inspiring one, as is also the artillery passing Gore Park. Remember, The Sunday World is for sale by all newsdealers and newsboys at 5 cents the copy. These are supplied at The World branch office, 40 South McNab street, where all orders should be sent.

MONTENEGRO'S CAPITAL HAS REMARKABLE PRISON

No Walls Enclose It and Inmate Therein Provide Their Own Cells.

COPENHAGEN, March 25.—Cottages, the capital of Montenegro, which is now in the hands of the Austrians, has the most remarkable prison in the world. No walls enclose it, and the inmates, who furnish their own cells as they please, seem to stay there only because they find their quarters comfortable. The diet is liberal, with wine on occasions, and cigars toasts. There is no work to do, no distinctive garb is worn, and comparatively free intercourse is allowed with the outside world. Indeed, on certain fast days the prisoners are permitted to entertain their friends.

BAITER OF JEWS GIVEN NO HEARING IN DUMA

M. Lamysloosky Forced to Abandon Floor and His Faction Quit Chamber.

PETROGRAD, March 24.—(Via London).—The first day's discussion in the duma on the interpellation brought by opposition members, urging a cessation of alleged illegal acts against the Jews, and an extension of their privileges, caused a tumult in the chamber. A speech by M. Zamyatov, Conservative, against the adoption of the interpellation, was continually interrupted by shouts from the opposition and he finally was forced to abandon the floor. Thereupon the entire Conservative faction marched out of the house. Favorable action on the interpellation, said M. Zamyatov, would be interpreted as an act favoring Hebrewism, and the conduct of the Jews was not such as to deserve a favorable declaration from the duma. As the speaker proceeded to bring a series of indictments against the Jews, he was interrupted by cries of "It's a lie," and requests were made to the president that the speaker be forced to retract his unparliamentary language.

DUBLIN POLICE SEIZED DISLOYAL IRISH PAPERS

Armed Transport Workers Challenged Officers in Workers' Republic Hall.

DUBLIN, March 25, 2:05 a.m.—The military and police yesterday visited publishing offices and seized copies of five Irish publications and in some cases dismantled the printing machinery. This step was taken on the ground of disloyalty. When the authorities entered the hall where the Workers Republic is published they were challenged by a number of armed members of the Transport Workers Union, who demanded that they show a search warrant. The authorities immediately withdrew. Later members of the "Citizens Army" formed in connection with the recent dock strikes, in uniform and armed with rifles and bayonets, occupied the hall and remained there through the night.
