MACHINE OILS. NOTICE. I beg to thank my numerous patrons throughout the Provinces for the liberal support they have been pleased to give me during my past seven years' connection with the machine oil trade of this country. I have now formed a partnership with the firm of ANDERSON & McCOLL, of this city, lubricating oil dealers, and would solicit for the new firm the continued patronage of all my old customers, and of whom I shall be pleased to see at our offices, No. 11 Adelaide street east, during the fall. We will continue to supply and guarantee the well known and popular brand of Machine Oils. GEO. B. STOCK, Toronto, January 22, 1877.

Referring to the above, we take much pleasure in announcing that the business heretofore carried on by MR. GEO. B. STOCK, the manufacturer of the celebrated Stock's Extra Machine Oils, has this day been united with that of the machine oil business of ANDERSON & McCOLL, and a partnership formed between the respective members thereof under the style of McColl, Stock, & Anderson. Our new oil house opens under the most favorable auspices, having in our combination the extensive experience in this line of Messrs. Geo. B. Stock and Isaac Anderson both so favorably identified with the lubricating oil trade of Canada, together with the business experience of our Mr. A. B. McColl, of McColl Bros., London. We feel safe to state that our facilities to meet the requirements of lubricating oil consumers and dealers throughout the Dominion, are superior to those of any other house. A large saving in expense will accrue to the special consumer of our oils, arising from our arrangements of buying in bulk, and selling to purpose sharing with our patrons, by supplying the best oils at the lowest possible remunerative prices. Our Toronto warehouse will have careful attention. Catalogues and samples sent free when desired. McColl, Stock, & Anderson, Manufacturers and Wholesale Dealers in Lubricating Oils, No. 11 Adelaide street east. Toronto, January 22, 1877. 253 12 eow

Mr. Mackenzie Bowell M. P.

The following letter has been addressed to the Belleville Ontario by Mr. Mackenzie Bowell, the member for North Hastings:—

"SIR,—I have just read in your issue of 18th instant I find the following paragraph:—

"'A gentleman states that the reason more Orangemen did not come down from Belleville was because the Grand Master, Mr. Mackenzie Bowell, M.P., spoke against it, and said their going to Montreal would have the effect of alienating the support of the members of the railway to Adrian-opple
