MORRISON MUST PRODUCE PAPERS

Manitoba Member Subject to Commitment to Jail if He Does Not Comply.

WINNIPEG, July 29.—(Canadian Press.)—The hearing was resumed this morning on the application for the commitment to the common jail of Alexander Morrison for contempt of court by failing to comply with an order of the court for examination and failing to produce certain documents regarding the petition that has been entered against his election as member of parliament for Macdonald. The point as to failure to attend an examination was not pressed by counsel for the petitioners, owing to an error in the date of the subpoena, but that concerning the commitment of respondent for failing to produce documents was vigorously pressed, and Justice Cameron, in spite of numerous technical objections raised by counsel for the respondent, made an order for the production of an affidavit respecting the documents within three days, the penalty for failure to comply with this order to be commitment.

SARDINE KING IS HERE FROM NORWAY

O. Jaaeger Says His Country Is Free From Money-Tightness.

According to O. Jaeger of Haugesund, Norway, the head of the sardine industry of that country, Norway has not been affected to any noticeable extent by the world-wide financial tightness of money. He is passing thru Canada and when seen by The World at the Queen's Hotel last night he attributed the financial soundness of Norway to the conservative policy in financial circles there.

In Norway most of the industries have been established for years and any expansions in business have been of the most gradual character. All business was going on in its normal state and not in one instance had it been necessary to lay off employes thru slackness of trade.

PAIL OF STARCH SAVES WOMAN FROM BURNING

Stirred Up Bonfire Which Set Fire to Woman of Eighty-Two Years.

BRANTFORD, July 29.—(Special.)—Mrs. Margaret Proctor, aged 81, residing with her daughter, Mrs. William Foster, had her neck and right hand severely burned, her face blistered and her hair singed as the result of stirring up a bonfire. The fire had been built in the backyard to burn up a quantity of rubbish and had died down, and Mrs. Proctor stirred it. The flames shot up, and being at an advanced age she was unable to get away, and her dress caught fire, burning it very badly. Her daughter hearing her scream rushed out, picking up a pailful of starch and threw it over her and afterwards a pail of water. A doctor was called at once and attended the aged lady, whose condition is precarious.

INJURED BICYCLIST CLINGS TO MOTOR

His Life Probably Saved by Action—Hit on Lorne Bridge, Brantford.

BRANTFORD, July 29.—(Special.)—Prompt action saved the life of William Plumstead, a Mount Pleasant man, on Lorne bridge last night. As it was he sustained a compound fracture of the right leg and severe cuts. Plumstead was struck by a motor car, driven by P. P. Allman, at the western end of the bridge. Spectators were horrified when Plumstead, who was riding on his bicycle, and the car crashed together. Neither bicycle rider nor driver apparently saw the other. The car crashed into Plumstead, pitching his wheel to the sidewalk. With remarkable tenacity the injured man clung to the radiator and spring of the car, which was traveling at twenty miles an hour. If he had been walking or standing he would have met instant death.

A SMALL DEFICIT ON CIVIC CAR LINE

Surplus Over Actual Operating Expenses Is, However, Shown For Seven Months.

From the returns to date Acting City Treasurer Patterson's report on the operation of the Gerrard street civic car line shows that the line is running at an apparent deficit of about $20,000 a year. The line has now been running for seven months and the deficit for this period is a little more than $10,000.

If no account were taken of the interest on the capital invested in the road it would be found that the line is producing a surplus, and the showing is a satisfactory one for a beginning. The earnings for the seven months were $16,296, while the operating expenses were $14,819. This leaves a nominal surplus of $1,477. The cost of the line, however, is equal to a forty-year sinking fund of $283,000, which is being redeemed by paying 7 per cent. annually. This payment amounts to $11,600 for the seven months, so that deducting the nominal surplus of $1,477 the deficit is found to be $10,000.

MEXICAN WAR FACTIONS DECLINE

the acceptance of his resignation today.

The American Government is no nearer a settlement on the Mexican situation.

President Wilson has received a new proposal for the solution of the Mexican problem from "big business" in Mexico.

From the highest sources, it was learned that President Wilson is determined that President Huerta shall not receive recognition at the hands of the American Government, until he is chosen as the constitutional president of the Mexican Republic. President Wilson will not consider the resignation of President Madero, accepted by the Mexican house of deputies, under guard before it had been presented by Madero. The president regards the action of Huerta in forcing the house of deputies into accepting the resignation, as a piece of political brigandage. Because Huerta forced Madero out in this way and in the same manner forced himself into the presidency, the president of the United States does not accept Huerta's claims as being the constitutional president of Mexico.

Inside Mediation Unlikely.

"In addition to learning that mediation by the United States would not be accepted, it was ascertained that there is little or no chance of mediation from within being accepted. The dispatches received tonight, both by the Huerta agent, and the Carranza Junta, state that the line between Huerta, and what Huerta represents, and what Carranza represents, is too sharply drawn for any consideration of mediation.

Both sides are claiming renewed and added strength. Both sides prefer fighting the question of supremacy among themselves.

President Huerta sees in the few military advances made in the past three days, renewed hopes. His agents here say that the dispatches received from Mexico City tonight, stated that the campaign against Carranza would be pushed vigorously from now on. Because on these few successes, President Huerta is not willing to give up the chances he may have of ultimately triumphing over the rebels and forcing the whole country of Mexico to accept him as president.

Carranza is so certain his followers here say, of defeating Huerta that he will not consider mediation. These followers held a meeting here in Washington tonight. Alfonso Madero, eldest surving brother of the late President Madero, attended. It was after the meeting that the statement was made by the Carranza agents, that mediation, either by the United States of within Mexico, would not be considered by Carranza. The repeal of the resolution of March 14, 1912, will be demanded by the revolutionists. They were sanguine tonight as to the results of their demands.

Australian Building At Panama Exposition.

MELBOURNE, July 29.—(Can. Press.)—The commonwealth government announces that it will contribute $100,000 toward the erection of an Australasian building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, provided the state government contribute sufficient funds to ensure their adequate representation at the exposition.

Nearly 50,000 Indian children went to school last year, more than half of them being educated at government schools. Mission schools cared for 3000, and more than 17,000 had so far adopted the white man's ways as to be enrolled in regular public schools, according to a statement on Indian education furnished by the Indian office to the United States Bureau of Education.

ORANGE RALLY IS IN FULL PROGRESS

Grand Master Squires Declares No Orangeman Would Circulate Foul Literature.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 29.—(Can. Press.)—Decorations and illuminations have been carried out on an elaborate scale in the Victoria, Orange and Methodist halls for the Orange Convention. The attempt of an itinerant pedlar to arouse hostility thru the circulation of inflammatory literature was put to an end by the prompt action of Provincial Grand Master Squires and members of the provincial grand lodge, who closed the doors.

In The Daily News this morning Mr. Squires emphatically repudiates the subjects recently reviewed in the American Catholic press and adds that no Orangeman who regards his obligations would be a party to the composition, compilation or dissemination of such objectionable and offensive matter.

On Wednesday a mammoth procession thru the city is scheduled to take place, when the delegates will be received by Gov. Davidson, The Masonic Club has extended privileges to all visitors during their stay.

Among the notables present are: Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Mayor Hocken of Toronto, Grand Master Scott, Walkerton; Col. A. J. Armstrong, St. John; Col. Bruce, Brandon; Rev. Mr. Saunders, Montreal, and Rev. Canon Walsh of Toronto.

DR. FRED FENTON LAID TO REST

Many Physicians Attended Funeral of Former Medical Staff Officer.

Following a funeral service at his late residence at 75 East Bloor street, the body of the late Dr. Frederick Fenton, who died in the Wellesley Hospital Sunday morning, was interred in Mount Pleasant Cemetery yesterday afternoon. Venerable Archdeacon Cody of St. Paul's church, and Dr. Neill of Westminster Presbyterian church, conducted the burial ceremony.

Many physicians and surgeons of the city attended the funeral of Dr. Fenton, who was ten years ago one of the most brilliant professors at Trinity Medical College and at the time of his death a specialist in obstetrical work at St. Michael's Hospital. The pallbearers were Drs. H. C. Parsons, J. A. Roberts, D. J. Gibb Wishart, Barrington Nevitt, Andrew Harrington and Frederick Cleland.

Wreaths from the various medical corps of the militia were arranged about the coffin, Dr. Fenton having attained the rank of lieut.-colonel in the army medical corps. He was an Anglican and for some time had been a sidesman at St. Paul's.

ENOUGH BEEN SAID SAYS HON. MR. BECK

Hon. Adam Beck put in a heavy day's work at the hydro-electric commission office yesterday. The commission chairman said to The World last night that it would take him several days to post himself thoroly on the present status of the various undertakings and propositions before the board.

With respect to the negotiations for the purchase of the Toronto Street Railway and allied interests by the city, Hon. Mr. Beck expressed the opinion that at the present stage perhaps "too much has been said al-

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

STILL WAITING FOR THOSE IMPROVEMENTS

Railway Board's Order re Level Crossing at Aurora Not Carried Out.

Travelers on Yonge street, are wondering what has happened to the great improvements planned for the level crossing, a mile and a quarter south of Aurora. The matter came up before the railway board, about a year ago, and they ordered that electric bells be installed, and a hill cut down which obscured the railway from the road. An adjacent side road was also to be moved further north.

It is reported that the cost of the improvement was a good deal more than anticipated, and the latest suggestion is that an overhead bridge, carrying the road over the railway, would not cost much more, probably not as much.

AURORA.

The Methodist Church Sunday School, will hold their annual excursion to Couchiching Park, Orillia, on August 13.

The date of the annual picnic of the Aurora branch of the North York Women's Institute to Bond Lake, has been changed from July 23 to July 30.

NEWMARKET.

In compliance with a resolution of the town council, Mayor Allen has proclaimed Monday, August 4, as a civic holiday, and asks all citizens to observe the same.

The Mission Circle of the Methodist Church, is arranging for a lawn social on Friday evening, the 8th of August, to be held on the church lawn.

There will be a cricket match on Saturday afternoon, between St. Paul's team and a team recruited from Newmarket, Aurora, Schomberg and the surrounding neighborhood. Wickets pitched at 2 o'clock.

WARD SEVEN

A blaze which originated in the cellar of a house at 23 Miller avenue took the Keele street firemen out for a run about 4.05 yesterday afternoon. The house, which was occupied by Wm. Madgett and owned by Miss Bertha Heyden, was damaged to the extent of $200, but the furniture and contents were removed before they were injured. The Carlton hose detachment also assisted.

The death occurred yesterday of Gertrude, the year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Stokes of 29 Kingsley avenue. Interment takes place this afternoon in Prospect cemetery.

At the county police court yesterday Enoch Ward, J.P., fined Mrs. Horlock of Swansea, $1 and costs for using abusive language to her neighbor, Mrs. Lockhart. Several other neighbors were present as witnesses and from accounts there must have been a lively time. The trouble, it is alleged, started over the behavior of some children. Another sentence of $1 and costs was handed out to Allan Crail, an Englishman, who bathed in the Humber on Sunday last without a bathing suit. While sunning himself on the bank in the same cool costume he was arrested by County Constable Skidmore. He stated that such scanty apparel was allowed in England, which somewhat surprised the magistrate, who hails from Yorkshire himself and could remember no such condition of affairs.

LIFE IS UNIQUE IN TINY TOWN

Performance at Massey Hall, Beginning on Saturday, of Unusual Interest.

Tiny Town, the wonderful Midget City, will undoubtedly prove a great attraction at Massey Hall Saturday and next week. The performers are all midgets, but not misshapen people. They are truly men and women with all the hopes and ambitions, feelings and emotions of full-sized people. They are punctilious about their dress, and their suits are cut and their frocks fitted with the precision that marks the work of the first-class tailor or dressmaker. Their meals look like dolls' tea parties, and they can effect some economy in the matter of sleeping apartments. Occasionally midgets marry each other, but more frequently the 35 inches high man seeks his life's companion among the girls of the "big" world.

Deiderich Uipts, who is one of the brainiest and smallest midgets in the world, is married to a normal-sized wife, and has two daughters who can easily lift their father up and put him on the mantelshelf. Mr. Uipts is well endowed with worldly goods, and has a beautiful home in Vienna.

Hayati Hassid, on the other hand, is a confirmed bachelor. Altho 56, he says: "I like to think I'm 21 with the girls." Nearly all the midgets of Tiny Town are bachelors, but there is rumor of a love match and a marriage between a charming damsel of 32 inches and a fine fellow of 35 inches is by no means an improbability. The tiny people have brought their Viennese cook to America, for they are mostly Austrians, and like their national dishes.

A barber (who is also valet to the men) looks after the ladies' hair, for women midgets, almost without expectation, have beautiful tresses, though the men shave very little. When a shave is necessary each Tiny Townsman uses his own specially small razor, or the barber uses it on him. For recreation their tastes vary quite as much as those of ordinary sized folk. The men like billiards, playing on a special miniature table which they bring with them.

"MRS. LEFFINGWELL'S BOOTS."

Beginning with a special matinee next Monday, Miss Haswell will present at the Alexandra Theatre "Mrs. Lefffingwell's Boots," a comedy by Augustus Thomas, who has given the American stage so many good things. Thomas has more successes to his credit than any other American dramatist. "Mrs. Leffingwell's Boots," while at times approaching the farcical, has an interesting plot and a charming love story, the course of which does not run smoothly for a time, but before the final curtain falls, the tangles have all been straightened out and everyone is made happy. "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," Miss Haswell's offering for this week, notwithstanding the extreme hot weather, has been drawing large audiences, and the Alexandra theatre is the most comfortable place in town anyway.

COOL AT HANLAN'S.

Hanlan's Point is proving a boon to those trying to keep cool these days, and many thousands are taking advantage of the pleasant sail to hear the band and watch the public enjoying itself with the many amusement devices. Mothers and children are always a pleasant sight, the elders sitting in the shade and the youngsters playing on the green sward. A special program of entertainments is being prepared for the Civic Holiday.

Commissioners Await Definite Terms of City's Electrical Purchase Scheme.

HOLD MEETING TODAY

W. K. McNaught Expresses Pleasure That Valuators Have Been Appointed.

W. K. McNaught, M.L.A., of the Hydro-Electric Commission, when seen by The World yesterday, stated that he was quite pleased with the manner in which the city's negotiations for the purchase of the Toronto Street Railway and the Toronto Electric Light companies were proceeding.

"I understand that the experts are at work now," said Mr. McNaught, "and that the tentative agreement between the city and the company has been signed. I was in New York when the agreement was signed and have not had a chance to see the tentative agreement since I returned. My attitude in the matter is well known. From the first I had been in favor of the plan and I must say that I am very much pleased to see that the two parties have at last come together and that the valuators are now at work."

"Have you seen Mr. Beck with regard to the matter since your return?" Mr. McNaught was asked.

"No, I have not. We are having a meeting today, but the city's plan to purchase will not come before us. We will not consider the plan until the definite terms of the agreement are placed before us. This will not be until the return of Mayor Hocken. Col. Hendrie is also away on his holidays and we will do nothing without him."

OPERATION FAILED TO PROLONG LIFE

H. W. Thorpe, Well-Known Figure on Local Fruit Market, Died Yesterday.

Following an operation performed last Saturday for hernia, H. W. Thorpe, for the past thirty-eight years general manager in the fruit retailing firm of McWilliam & Everist, died yesterday morning in the new General Hospital. Mr. Thorpe came down to the fruit market on Saturday morning, but after a few moments left for his home, whence he was taken to the hospital.

He was a native of London, Eng., and came to this country in the year 1871 at the age of twenty years. During his residence in Canada he has held membership in the Sons of England Society.

Mr. Thorpe leaves a widow, three grown-up sons and a daughter. One of his sons is with the Grand Trunk Railway in Toronto, while another is employed at C.P.R. headquarters in Montreal.

A funeral service will be conducted at his late residence, 494 West Marion street, at 2.30 tomorrow afternoon, after which interment will take place at Prospect Cemetery.

Only one coupon will be necessary together with 77 cents, which merely covers the cost of duty, freight and packing. Clip the coupon and mail it today if you would be a possessor of one of these books by the greatest business writer of the century. Seymour Eaton is a wizard in mathematical condensation, and his original short-cut in figures, which was published twenty-five years ago, has never been improved on. The book should be in the hands of every school boy or girl, and is practically indispensable to the business man or artisan.

Remember the attached coupon and 77 cents secures it. This coupon when presented or mailed to The World Office, together with 77 cents, is good for one copy of Seymour Eaton's book, entitled "One Hundred Lessons in Business."

THIS COUPON

together with 77 cents, if presented at The World Office, 40 West Richmond Street, Toronto, or 15 East Main Street, Hamilton, entitles the bearer to one copy of Seymour Eaton's great book, "One Hundred Lessons in Business."
