SWEET CLOVER RAN SECOND

William J. Smith's Crack Two-Year-Old Showed Up Well at Morris Park.

OVER A HEAVY TRACK AT WORTH.

Favorites and Outsiders Divided the Purse—Good Racing at Louisville.

New York, May 22.—The weather was dull and threatening at Morris Park today, but no rain fell, and the track was fast. The features of the day were the victory of Black Fox in the Van Cortland Handicap, and the fact that Matt Simpson ran in two races, and won one. He started in the hurdle handicap, first on the card, and, after racing out in front with the Chamberlain for a mile, threw his jockey at the fourth hurdle, and went on with his field for another half mile. He was coupled in the betting with Magic Light, and the last-named won by a neck from Monroe Doctrine. Matt Simpson was cooled out, and started again in the last race, at 1 mile. He was at 6 and 8 to 1 in the betting, made all the running, and won cleverly by a length. The Gaiety Stakes and the Van Cortland Handicap were the fixtures. Lucilline won the Gaiety easily, after making all the running. She was favorite, coupled with her stable companion, Blanche Hermann. Sweet Clover was an easy second, four lengths before the Hoyden. Black Fox took the Van Cortland. O'Connor rated him along behind the pacemakers, King Pepper and King Lief, to the head of the stretch, and then came on and won easily by two lengths. King Pepper got the place cleverly from All Gold. Summaries:

G. & J. Fables.

THE TIMELY FABLE OF THE QUEEN'S PLATER WITH A LENGTHY PAST.

Once there was a Queen's Plater which Got Inside the Thousand Dollars three times Hand-Running, and in the Meantime Outgrew her Youth. But a Good Many Sports were Willing to Put Up their Coin because the Queen's Plater had been the Best Crock in Sight.

Now, it Happened that a Dark Horse was In the Running and the Queen's Plater with a Past was Reported as an Also Ran. This the Sports declared a Great Mistake, for if the Queen's Plater had Got There last Year she ought to Have Done It this Year, too.

When you buy a bicycle, you will be offered tires which were all right before there was such a tire as the G. & J. in the field. You have the right to get the new G. & J. detachable tire on your new bicycle free instead of a tire that was all right ten years ago. You can get the G. & J. tire by insisting. It is easy to mend because it has soft edges. It is hard to puncture because it is vulcanized rubber—the only tire with fabric and rubber vulcanized together. If you can't get them on one wheel, get them on some other make—wheels not made in the Trust will attach them.

CHAMPIONSHIP LACROSSE MATCH.

Ralph, Binks and Robertson Will Play for Champions—Ier and Starrs.

Capital or Toronto? That is the question lacrosse men the country over are asking each other to-day. Perhaps the most interesting match of the whole championship season will be played at Rosedale to-morrow. Both teams are in the best of shape, and both are determined on making a desperate struggle, win or lose. The Capitals robbed the Torontos of the championship last season. To-morrow's game, altho it is the first fixture at Rosedale, is still the crucial one for the locals. "Beat the Capitals and you beat the barrier," is a truism fathered by Archie Allan in the old days, but it holds good to-day. The visitors can be assured of one thing, to-morrow's match will be a stubbornly contested affair. Whether we win or lose, or whether rain or sunshine prevails, it will be right smart lacrosse. The Capitals shape up well. O'Doherty may play in the flags. Ralph is sure to appear at cover, marking Jimmy Murray. Then O'Hara takes Frank Grimes' place at first defence. Bowery Robertson is the man at second defence whom Querrie will have to beat. Jack Binks, the slashing checker, is detailed at third defence. Nobody is quite sure concerning McStravick and Starrs. Allan Ier is well prepared to take on either Starrs, of course, is a source of great strength to the champions. Pat Murphy may play Capital. According to the Ottawa press, he is coming to the Tecumsehs after Friday. White, Watts and Woods are a trio of very strong fielders. McBride, Stewart and Lamb, if they are not drawn out, ought to hold the Capitals' home. To-day it looks like a fight in the field. The better conditioned team ought to win. Toronto certainly lacks nothing on that score. These two great teams should delight the thousands at Rosedale to-morrow. The club, having gone to great expense to build a stand on the club house side, exclusively for members, without charge, has decided to charge members who desire accommodation in the grand stand public prices. A regimental band will play during the intermissions. The plan opened at Nordheimers' yesterday morning. Members who have not yet obtained their badges may do so from the honorary secretary-treasurer at Nordheimers'.

DR. SPENCE MAY BORROW

School Board Authorizes Him to Do So if Money is Not Placed in Bank This Morning.

TEACHERS MUST BE PAID TO-DAY.

Trustee Douglas Strongly Opposes the Action of the Board—May Get Into Hot Water.

The Public School trustees expressed their unqualified contempt for the bad manners of the Board of Control last evening. It appears that the latter body held a private conclave in the afternoon, and decided at last to place the $39,400 at the disposal of the School Board without restrictions of any kind whatever. But, altho the representatives of the press received a full report of the meeting, and altho the controllers knew that the School Board was to be in session in the evening to consider means for the payment of the teachers' salaries, yet the trustees received not a line from the Board of Control to set their troubled minds at rest as to what had been done in the afternoon.

Thereupon, up rose Trustee Dr. Buck and gave it as his candid opinion that the City Council were simply trying to drag this question along till the estimates were passed, minus, of course, the salary increases, which the School Board would then have to raise by an overdraft, which would be saddled on next year's Finance Committee.

Is It in the Bank?

Dr. Spence, chairman of the board, interrupted to announce that he had received a telephone message to the effect that the $39,400 was in the bank, without any string to it whatever.

Here Mr. Gooderham quietly slipped out, returning with a telephone message from the bank of Toronto, stating that they had received no official notification from the Council to that effect.

A Drastic Motion.

Dr. Noble then made the following motion, seconded by Mr. Kent: "That the chairman be and he is hereby authorized to borrow for the uses of this board such sums of money as may be necessary to meet the requisitions sent in, provided the money required therefor is not now to be paid over at once by the Corporation of Toronto, as provided by the statutes in that behalf."

Mr. Douglas vigorously opposed the motion. He had grave doubts as to what powers the board had to borrow money. He called the attention of the trustees to the fact that, according to Dr. Noble's motion, the chairman was empowered not only to borrow the $39,400, but the whole interim appropriation of $75,000 necessary to meet the requisitions, which were made out on the raised scale of salaries. The first thing the members of the board knew they would find themselves held personally liable for any sum borrowed in this unprecedented manner. He advised the board to go slow and stick to the beaten track, or they might find themselves in hot water thru an inflated estimation of their powers.

Mr. Baird spoke in the same strain, calling attention to the fact that there was nothing in the School Act that empowered the board to borrow on their own responsibility.

Mr. Hales admitted that there were difficulties in the way of borrowing; it was useless to conceal the fact. Some lawyers consulted had been perfectly sure of the legality of such a loan, while others were equally convinced that no corporation would lend while the matter was in dispute.

A Slim Majority.

After a heated argument, Dr. Noble's motion was carried by the slim majority of one:

Yeas—Noble, Buck, Lee, Keeler, C. A. B. Brown, Kent, S. A. Jones, Hales—8.

Nays—Davis, Chisholm, Levee, L. Brown, Watson, Douglas, Baird—7.

Dr. Spence did not vote, but when asked to take a stand on the question, declared himself in favor of the motion.

Mr. S. A. Jones now had a motion ready that an action be forthwith commenced against the City Council to test the legality of the reduction of the salary estimates, but several members had drifted out, and there lacked one to make a quorum. Messrs. Davis and Chisholm were discovered outside, but refused to re-enter, so the meeting was adjourned.

Dr. Spence afterwards instructed Secretary Wilkinson to inform the teachers that their salaries would be awaiting them this (Thursday) afternoon. The board is determined to pay the teachers at least part of their money before the 24th.

FAREWELL TO COL. DELAMERE

Supper at the Armory Last Night Given by Colonel Pellatt in His Honor.

NEW COMMAND INAUGURATED.

Some Nice Things Said by Several Prominent Military Men of Colonels Old and New.

Lieut.-Col. Pellatt gave a supper in the officers' mess at the Armouries last night to mark the retirement of Lieut.-Col. Delamere from the command of the Queen's Own Rifles, and to inaugurate his own command. The affair was one of the neatest military functions held in Toronto in some time. An elaborate spread was provided, the toast list was brief, and, between times, the musical talent was brought well to the front. While the menu was being disposed of the band of the regiment discoursed a number of selections on the balcony, the sweet strains mingling with the clinking glasses and the chatter of as merry a little company as one would wish to gather with. Col. Pellatt had on his right hand the guest of the evening, the retiring colonel of the regiment, and on his immediate left sat Col. Otter. Around the head table were noticed these prominent citizens: Lt-Col Mason, Major Peters, Major Myles, Lt-Col Davidson, Lt-Col Grasett, Lt-Col Bruce, Lt-Col C A Denison, Lt-Col Ryerson, Lt-Col Buchan, Lt-Col Macdonald and Mayor Howland.

When the health of the King's Majesty had been honored in a hearty manner, Col. Pellatt proposed the health of Lieut.-Col. Delamere, paying a warm tribute to the popularity of the retiring officer and to his efforts on behalf of the regiment. We in Canada, he said, had as splendid a body of militia as any country could boast of, and the state of efficiency of the Queen's Own had come thru years of hard work on the part of Col. Delamere and the officers and men. Col. Delamere had won the esteem of the officers and men, and the regiment parts with him with very great regret. When the history of the Canadian militia was written the name of Col. Delamere would be inscribed on the roll of fame and honor.

Col. Delamere replied briefly, telling of his appreciation of the good-will of his old fellow officers. There had been difficulties to contend with, but he had tried his best to get things accomplished on behalf of the regiment. The clothing is disgraceful, he declared, but he could not get any better. He had also endeavored to make arrangements that the honors the regiment had won should be worn on their cross belts, and he hoped that Col. Pellatt would be successful in accomplishing these matters he had left unfinished.

The only other toast was that to the new commanding officer, which was proposed by Col. Otter. In recalling old memories, Col. Otter stated that only one officer in the room had not been at one time a member of the Queen's Own, and Col. Pellatt had risen steadily from the ranks to the command of the regiment. All regretted, he said, the severance of Col. Delamere, who had done yeoman service for the militia, and especially for the Queen's Own, and his retirement only emphasized the fact that the time of all must come. In wishing him good-bye, they wished success to the new commanding officer in his management of the regiment, feeling sure that he will be able to keep the corps up to its well-known standard of efficiency.

Col. Pellatt, replying, said he accepted his new duties fully understanding the responsibilities of the position, for the Queen's Own is recognized as one of the best regiments. He would try to sustain the reputation the regiment had gained. Notwithstanding the regiment's reputation for efficiency, he believed it was one of the most poorly-clad.

Someone interrupted with the remark "All but the Highlanders," and this gave the colonel a chance to say that it was only a question of time when the Queen's Own would excel the 48th in brevity of apparel, for they had only 450 trousers to go around 680 men. In concluding, he assured the company that he would try to earn the confidence of the men of the corps.

Vocal selections were given by Captain Wyatt, Captain Barker, Colonel Buchan and Major Gregory. The gathering broke up about midnight with the National Anthem.

It Keeps the Boys Busy.

Late into last night two weary errand boys were wheeling with a load of parcels around the streets in all parts of the city.

They were from Archambault, the tailor, at 125 Yonge-street, and they were delivering the suits which had to be ready for the races. They will be going same all day and to-night with the suits promised for the holiday.

The rush has let up a little, but there are still some up-to-date patterns in those $14.25 suits and $3.75 trousers. Call.

Shamrock Will Win.

They were discussing all the sure things and wondering how they could get an opportunity to waste their money at the races.

The men with the sure tips were listening to the sure tips of the other fellows and the man with the long head remarked:

"I won't bet anything this year, because I need the money worse than the bookies do. I'm tired of this missionary work and am going to stand pat.

"When some of you fellows are so badly broke that you haven't the price of a drink, come round to my place, where you will always find a bottle of Shamrock Ale. It's a sure winner. I get it from Taylor, the liquor man, at 205 Parliament-street and order from Main 585 by phone.
