ACHINE FOR ORK ON EAST SIDE

In Connection With Church Report on Social Conditions ullin—The Chamcook Situ-

g operations were all also in evidence. promise had been received from sev- al of the steamship companies to do as tle work as possible in loading or un- ding freight on Sundays. Good work d been done in the interests of ration- Sunday observance by Rev. Mr. Roch- ter and his associates. In the matter the liquor question Rev. Dr. MacVicar oke of the conditions in several places. n Fredericton, where public opinion is vided, conditions could scarcely be worse. here is no reasonable enforcement there. Chipman there is no enforcement, while other places like St. Stephen the deal- s are being brought into line with the w.

"With regard to social vice in the great- number of cases, the local conditions e not such as require immediate atten- n. They seem to be about the same as ual. Comparing them with twenty years o they seem better, with ten years ago, ey seem about the same. In Fredericton e most that can be said for it, is that is not flaunting itself. In Moncton, nditions are receiving close attention, d police are doing their best to stamp out altogether. In other parts of the ovince it is known to exist."

Dr. MacVicar's report was adopted by e Presbytery.

The following representatives to the eneral Assembly were appointed by ro- tion and election. By rotation: Rev. MacVicar, Rev. F. W. Murray, Rev. H. A. Anderson. By election: Rev. ank Baird, Dr. W. It was recommended that the increase the augmentation fund which amounted more than $2,000 be called to the at- ntion of the ministers and sessions.

In regard to the vote at the morning ssion, Rev. J. J. McCaskill made it clear at in voting against the motion to re- ore Rev. Mr. Mullin, he had no inten- on at all of protesting against Rev. Mr. ullin coming in to the church.

ther Business.

Rev. J. A. MacKeigan presented a rec- mendation that the traveling expenses the general assembly be borne by the ferent churches in the presbytery and plained that all churches, no matter how they were removed from the place of general assembly, would contribute the ne amounts in proportion to the num- of the congregation. WHAT HE ESCAPED.

One evening, several years ago, in a gold mining camp in the Transvaal, a man, partially intoxicated and supposed to be actuated by jealousy, attempted suicide. He first took morphia, but this not proving strong enough he tried to hang himself, but was prevented, and handed over to the sheriff to be kept in safe custody for the night, and to be tried before the Acting Gold Commissioner, a shrewd and solemn Scot, the next morning.

There being no law to prevent him from committing suicide if he thought fit, but it being considered desirable to punish him in some way, it was decided to bring a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct against him. To this the prisoner pleaded guilty, whereupon the Acting Gold Commissioner, without a ghost of a smile, delivered the following extraordinary judgment:

"I shall fine ye twa punds for your drunkenness; but I'll just gie ye to understand that I ken vera weel what ye attempted to dae, and, had ye succeeded in your atempt, your poonishment would have bin vera much more severe than it is!"

REAL ESTATE

Tuesday, Mar. 18.

Under the heading, That Maritime Revival, the Financial Post of Canada, says: "During January and February 247 settlers from the Old Country have made their homes in New Brunswick. They included 42 married couples with children, and 149 single men. A much larger number of new settlers is expected during the next two months. The Imperial Home Reunion Association at St. John, which assists men from the Old Country to bring out their families is continuously receiving applications. 3,000 immigrants landed at St. John in three days last week."

Owing to the large increase in business at this port, which is expected to amount to more than $300,000 additional for the year ending with this month, and because of the greater developments which are anticipated here, it is understood that St. John is to be raised in the customs classification to the rank of a first class port, thus placing it on a par with Montreal.

The growth in business at St. John has drawn the attention of the authorities at Ottawa to the need of better facilities for transacting the business, and plans were drawn up by the chief inspector for some changes which are to be put into effect at the Customs House. One of the changes will be the concentrating of more of the work in the long room, in order to eliminte the time lost in going from one part of the building to another. The counter has been moved out nearer to the front entrance, giving the public less room, but providing more for the clerks. In the additional space provided, the warehouse department staff will be accommodated.

The guagers will be transferred to the rooms occupied by the warehouse department, as this will be more convenient for them. The room formerly used by the guagers will be given over to what is practically a new department, the refund department. Formerly all refunds were handled by the clerks in the department in which they arose, but under the new system they will be looked after from the one office.

Another change in the method of doing business relates to the handling of warrants and collector's orders. Formerly when an importer made an entry the warrant for the delivery of the goods was handed to him. Instead of this the warrants will now be sent direct by special messenger to the officer who looks after the deliveries at the warehouse where the goods are located.

The contract for laying new sewerage pipes in Main street, Paradise row and Hazen alley having been completed, the commissioner of water and sewerage recommended at yesterday morning's meeting of the city commissioners that the twenty per cent. of the cost which has been withheld should be paid to Tobias and George, the contractors. A deposit is still held by the city to guarantee that the contractors will make any additional fillings that may be required, as the ground in the excavations settles.

The Moncton Times says:—

A St. John syndicate has taken over all the property in this city formerly owned by the Moncton Land Company and we understand this property will be immediately put on the market—C. S. Hanington, of St. John, being located here with J. H. Harris, who was the former secretary of the company.

A communication from the I. C. R. announcing that the railway has removed its tracks which were encroaching on some city lots at the foot of Sheffield street, regarding which complaints had been made, was presented to the city commissioners yesterday morning. The commissioner of public works was authorized to proceed with the plans for establishing the city yards for street materials on these lots and will communicate with the I. C. R. regarding their plan for having a siding laid for the convenience of the department in handling large quantities of supplies.

Keith & Gates have completed the sale of three leasehold dwelling houses, two double tenements and one self-contained, situated in Munro's Alley, off Paradise row. The properties were owned by Mrs. William Hekns and were sold to Horatio Beesley. The same firm is placing "Midwood," a new sub-division at Courtenay Bay, on the market and already report the sale of a block of seven lots to a local purchaser.

The sale of the leasehold residence, 230 Duke street, owned by A. W. Sulis to a local investor has been completed by Allison & Thomas. The building is a two story wooden double tenement dwelling on a city lot 40 by 100 feet.

Camel Isaac has purchased from the estate of Robert Braden the two family leasehold dwelling on the western side of Brunswick street, near Brussels.

Thomas M. Wisted has bought from the heirs of Patrick Quigley fifty acres of farm lands on the Golden Grove road a few miles from the city.

F. L. Potts has disposed of two leasehold properties at auction. A ten room house in Somerset street was sold to M. Whitzman for $580 and a two family house, 171 Chesley street, was purchased by John J. Correll for $475.

A Montreal man is now in the city in the interests of the syndicate who control Reed's Castle. He is pushing forward the project to convert the building into an apartment house and to sell some of the adjoining ground for private dwellings.

It is said that a man acting for local interests a few days ago offered Joseph Bardsley $20,000 for his house and large strip of land at The Ferns. While the offer was not accepted, it is understood it is still under consideration.

Thursday, Mar. 20.

One of the most important real estate transfers so far this year is the sale announced yesterday by Taylor & Sweeney, real estate brokers, of the residence of Mrs. A. I. Trueman, in Hazen street, to the Local Order of the Moose. The price is understood to be upwards of $15,000.

The purchase consists of four lots of land, fronting on Hazen street and running back to Thistle court. The house, which is of brick, is one of the most substantially built in the city. The interior is well finished, the wood work in the large front hall being of solid mahogany. In the main building there are three stories with a two story ell. It will make a handsome home for the club, who expect to make some alterations at once and to take possession on the first of May, when their lease expires on their present quarters in Charlotte street. The membership of the order is now very large, but by their purchase yesterday the club will have plenty of room for future expansion in a part of the city which must become more central as the city expands.

The excavations at the site of the new post office are being made as rapidly as possible. Several dozen men are engaged on the levelling work with a number teaming down a building on the site. It is expected to have the force increased as soon as possible. On account of the nature of the work, only a limited number can at present be employed.

It is reported that the St. John Railway Company is seeking to acquire the property adjoining Seaside Park, known as the Ferns and owned by Joseph Bardsley. The price offered is said to be about $20,000. The report is not confirmed.

All that remain of the old Wilcox building in Market Square are a few scattered bricks in a pile in one corner and the beams which supported the lower floor of the structure. The big building has been almost completely razed and in a few days no vestige of it will remain. Quick, effective work has been done and those having the contract for the building of the new B. N. A. structure will have a chance to start work in a very short time.

Still another industry is looking for a site in St. John. The owner of a block of property at the eastern end of Sheffield street has been consulted by representatives of outside purchasers who wish to acquire the lots for use as the site of a factory.

The nature of the industry has not been disclosed but, judging from the amount of room they will require, it is apparent that it would be one of some importance and which would give employment to a considerable number of hands.

TORIES IN ROW OVER PATRONAGE

William Lyons, of Doaktown, Says Patronage Committeemen Give Spoils to Themselves.

Doaktown, March 17—The following spicy circular addressed to the members of the Blissfield Conservative Association is being circulated;

"In view of the action taken by the Patronage Committee of the Blissfield Liberal-Conservative Association, or some of them, in placing themselves in nomination and afterwards sitting down to decide on the merits of their own cases, some remarks may not be considered out of place. In making these remarks the writer has no feeling in the matter whatever, and no other object in view than to point out some facts which, possibly, some of the committee men may have overlooked.

"Now when these committee men, whose duty was to investigate and consider the respective claims of the several applicants for the position of fishery guardians, filed their own applications before themselves, they not only prostituted their place and abused their privileges, but they violated a principle which runs through and through the whole warp and woof of our social and national life. It is a principle of justice observed as well in the discharge of moral duty as in the proceedings of courts of law, that no man has a right to sit in judgment on his own case, or where his own private interest is involved. The Independence of Parliament act is based on this principle. A member of parliament cannot contract with the government because of this principle. For the same reason judges are not allowed to try actions nor jurymen permitted to decide causes. This rule obtains even at horse races and prize fights. It has found expression also in the proprieties and courtesies of life, and its breach has long been considered highly dishonorable in social intercourse, as well as culpable in official dealings.

"The reason for this rule is not hard to find. It is founded on wisdom and experience. Man's integrity is not proof against self interest. It is therefore wrong for him to put himself in a place where his honor may be sullied through temptation and also because it is prone to injure others; yet this salutary rule was ignored by the Patronage Committee when, in voting for themselves while others could not, they took an unfair advantage of their positions, to secure all the places for themselves. Whether other applicants had or had not good claims, they had a RIGHT TO HAVE THEIR CLAIMS FAIRLY CONSIDERED; but who will say they received this under the prevailing conditions?

"These men were selected, on account of their supposed fitness to represent the association in determining who, amongst the applicants, were most deserving of recognition; but while it is to be observed that the chairman did his duty fully in the premises, it is only too apparent that others, forgetful of their obligations and trust, thought only of themselves. Will the club overlook this act, thus setting up a bad precident, and encourage others to do likewise? This, on the part of the association, would disclose an utter want of tone, an utter prostration of strength, as if it were sunk in indifference, or stricken with an incurable decay.

Yours, etc.,
WM. LYONS,
Applicant.

Mr. Churchill Should Learn

(Manitoba Free Press).

The First Lord of the Admiralty sets forth among the many arguments which he arrays as conclusive, in his own mind, against the possibility of Canada creating a navy, the fact there would be needed in the work of building vessels 170-ton cranes and solid soil on which to place the blocks. As Mr. Pugsley has remarked in the House at Ottawa, there are many such cranes at work in Canada, and Canadian soil has not yet proved too porous to sustain the blocks. The First Lord of the Admiralty should inform himself about Canada. He should see, for example, that traveling crane in the shops at Transcona, which was shown in the reproduction of a photograph in the Free Press a couple of Saturdays ago, in the act of whisking a locomotive through the air.

One of the best darning baskets imaginable is made of strong reed and raphia worked in a simple stitch.

CHANGE OF CLIMATE DID NOT HELP

But GIN PILLS Conquered His Rheumatism

THE act that men of standing and responsibility do not hesitate to come out and state frankly how much good GIN PILLS have done them, speaks volumes for this good old remedy.

Mr. W. G. Reid, of Hamilton, whose statement we publish below, with his permission, is one of the best known commercial men in Canada. His many friends throughout the country will be delighted to learn that he is quite himself again. He says:

"I have been for the last two years a cripple with Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I have tried almost everything known to medical science to relieve me of the intense pain and inflammation. I sought change of climate in Kentucky and other southern points without relief. Your manager in this city recommended GIN PILLS and I have since taken eight boxes and am now cured. I consider GIN PILLS the conqueror of Rheumatism and Kidney Diseases."

(Signed) W. G. REID

Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica and all other troubles arising from weak, inactive or diseased kidneys, have little chance against GIN PILLS.

The curative properties in these pills go straight to the root of the trouble — the failure of the kidneys to keep the blood free from the irritating Uric Acid which is continually being formed in the body. GIN PILLS help the Kidneys to perform this function properly, and the train of troubles vanish.

Just try it and prove it to your own satisfaction. There is no risk—money back if GIN PILLS do not help you.
