A FAMILY REUNION

Children of Mr. Richard Hobbs Meet for First Time In Dozen Years.

Among the many pleasant reunions this week was that of the family of Mr. Richard Hobbs, of 373 Maitland street. These who gathered around the family hearth were Dr. Alfred Hobbs, Guelph; Dr. W. A. Hobbs and wife, of Omaha, Neb.; Mr. Oliver Hobbs, of St. Louis, Mo.; Miss C. Hobbs, of Guelph, and two daughters, at home, Misses Ada and Lucy Hobbs. It was the first time the family had been together in twelve years, and the verdict of all present was that the pleasure they alone experienced was sufficient to guarantee the continuance of the Old Boy reunions.

WAS GIVEN UP FOR DEAD

But Isaac E. Hemming Comes to London and Meets Sister.

This has been a week of family reunions, some of them stranger than fiction. And one of the strangest of all is the reunion of Mrs. Stockline, mother of Mrs. (Col.) Colby, with her brother, whom she had not seen for sixteen years. Away back in 1889, Mrs. Stockline lost sight of her two brothers, while she was residing in Reading, Pa. For years she heard nothing of them and she gave them up for dead. Then one day in December last she picked up a copy of a Chicago paper, and there she saw a picture of her missing brothers, and an article which gave them great credit for being weather prophets. She wrote to the address given, but she heard nothing in return. Yesterday one of the brothers arrived in the city, and at once called upon Mrs. Stockline at the home of Col. Colby, York street west. His name is Isaac E. Hemming and he is 76 years of age. He had heard of the Old Boys' reunion here and had taken advantage of the excursion. He will remain in London several weeks with his sister.

Some of the Czar's children are free of speech, unfettered of action and fully appreciative of their exalted rank. This is particularly true of the fair-haired, blue-eyed Grand Duchess Olga, who has often been known to stop her little pony carriage in the parks of Peterhoff—the Czar's summer residence—to call to order some passersby who had failed to occord her the attention she considered due to an emperor's daughter.

According to the figures compiled by the Publishers' Weekly, the number of new novels and volumes of stories published in the United States in 1904 was 1,007, nearly 200 more than were recorded in 1903. The number of new editions of fiction published in the same period was $14.

CLOSE OF OLD BOYS' REUNION; LUNCHEON HELD AT GLENMORE

Officers of Outside Associations Were the Guests of Hon. Adam Beck.

The Old Boys' reunion of 1905 was last night brought to a close when a large number of the members of the local executive, with the officers of outside associations who were in the city, sat down to a luncheon at Glenmore, the clubhouse of the London Hunt. There were about seventy-five in all present, as the guests of Hon. Adam Beck, who unfortunately found it impossible to be on hand.

Chairman MacRobert presided, and after a few appropriate words, he introduced the toasts. The first was "The King," and it was drunk in a hearty manner.

The toast of "The United States" was coupled with the name of Mr. W. A. Small, of Chicago, ex-president of the International Old Boys' Association. Mr. Small paid a warm tribute to the many excellent qualities of the head of the American nation, and then spoke of the Old Boy reunions. He alluded to London as "a dear little spot," where any one might feel proud and happy to live. He referred with regret to the fact that since last the Old Boys visited home Hugh McLean, always a good fellow to meet, had passed away. He hoped that when next they came there would be no breaks in the ranks and that "Old Nick" might be spared for many years to attend the reunions. The reunions were very popular, because a man who had been away from London might come back to the city at a time when the reunions were not on and he might walk the city for days and not meet any acquaintances. But at an Old Boy reunion all his schoolmates and former chums are gathered from the four quarters of America and he meets them on the streets even as he did when all were boys.

The next toast was "Canada," to which Mr. John Stevely replied. He quoted some statistics which greatly interested all present, especially those from across the line, who did not appear to know that Canada has been making such rapid progress in business the past few years.

The toast of "The International Association" was replied to by President Plummer; Honorary Vice-President Eggleton, of Toledo, Mr. C. Harwood, Cleveland, Mr. Walter Gillett, Cleveland, and Mr. Frank Arnold, Detroit.

Secretary McCann replied to "The Home Guard," and, as usual his speech was one of the brightest of the evening. The home guard was well repaid, he concluded, when the old boys came home and enjoyed themselves as they did this week.

President Carrothers and Mr. Walter Bartlett also replied to the same toast.

"The City of London" was responded to by Ald. Wyatt, Stevely, Cooper, Chairman Yeates, of the Public School Board, and President Arthur W. White of the Board of Trade.

The luncheon proved to be a most pleasant one in every particular, and so excellent was the cooking that a vote of thanks was passed the club staff by all present.

MR. WILSON ON DUTY

New Y. M. C. A. Secretary Takes Over His Work.

The new secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., Mr. E. R. Wilson, arrived in this city on Thursday and assumed his duties yesterday. He has a great deal of hard work before him, on account of the fact that the office has been vacant for some time.

It is the intention of the directors and the secretary to greatly enlarge the committees which have charge of the association's work. Some of these committees, both in the board of directors and those chosen from the members themselves, will be made five times their present size. Mr. Wilson is now engaged upon the plan.

The Y. M. C. A. Ladies' Auxiliary are preparing to change the whole interior of the boys' room in the association building by adding furniture and decorations of all kinds. For this purpose, an art bazar will be held next month at the home of the president, Mrs. (Dr.) J. N. Wood. The rooms will be very attractive when the ladies have accomplished their designs.

MECHANIC AND COFFEE
The Old Coffee Troubles Left When He Quit.
"Since quitting coffee I am hearty and well at 63 and go to my work every day and feel stronger and better in every way than I used to when I was considerably younger.
"I am a mechanic and have been a great lover of coffee and used it all my life until a few months ago when I made up my mind that it was hurting me. I suffered from constipation, indigestion and kidney troubles and I used to bloat up and have pains in my back.
"Something had to be done, and I quit coffee, the old kind, I mean, and began to use Postum Food Coffee. In a few weeks I was a well man again. My bowels became regular, my food digested comfortably, the bloating, and pains in my back no longer troubled me and my kidneys resumed healthy, normal action. That improved condition remains. I am sure I owe it to Postum Coffee, for I have used no medicines.
"I like Postum much better than the old kind. It seems to be more satisfying and I and my whole family drink it morning, noon and night. This is my honest statement of what Postum has done for me." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.
