

THE SEVENTH SESSION OF QUEEN'S COLLEGE, will begin on the First Wednesday of October, (6th October), 1847, at which date all Intrants and regular Students in the Faculty of Arts, are requested to be present.

The Divinity Classes will be opened on the first Wednesday in November.

Candidates for Matriculation, as regular Students, will undergo an examination before the College Senate in the first three books of the Aeneid of Virgil, the first three books of Cæsar's Commentaries, Mair's Introduction, the Greek Grammar, on Vulgar and Decimal Fractions, and the first book of Euclid.

The only charges are £1, to cover incidental expenses, and £2 for each class per Session, to be paid on entrance.

Accommodation will be provided for Students as Boarders within the College Buildings, the expense to each boarder averaging about six dollars per month. Students intending to avail themselves of this accommodation, will require to bring their own bedding. The Boarding Establishment will be under the superintendance of the Professors.

All Students must produce a Certificate of moral and religious character from the Ministers of the Congregations to which they respectively belong.

A number of Scholarships of £5, £10, and £15 will be awarded at or near the commencement of the Session. The Scholarships for Students of the first year will be conferred on those who display the greatest proficiency in the subjects of examination for matriculation. For Students of previous years, the subjects of examination for scholarships, will be the studies of former Sessions.

A Prize of considerable value will be adjudged next Session to the writer of the best Essay on the following subject—"The influence of a healthy state of piety upon the cultivation of the Intellect." The competition to be confined to those studying with a view to the Ministry, and the Essays to be given in to the Principal within one month after the commencement of next Session.

By order of the Senatus Academicus.
