FREDERICTON, SEPTEMBER 29, 1894.

RADICAL REFORMERS.

The good ladies who have been meeting and resoluting in this city during the past week, under the name of the Maritime Women's Christian Temperance Union, have given us a programme of reforms which, if all carried out, would render this world almost too sacred for the residence of ordinary sinners. They not only want to banish drinking customs, to vote and sit in parliament, etc., but they also desire to run the newspapers, or at least they have drawn up a schedule of "don'ts" for the guidance of the editors, who are supposed to know much less about their duties and responsibilities than the enlightened women of the Maritime Women's Christian Temperance Union. They would also deprive the editor of his pipe, and for schoolmasters who smoke they have no use at all. While THE HERALD very heartily commends the women for their philanthropic work, their temperance agitation, their many deeds of kindness and charity, we think they have included in their programme some matters which may be safely left to their lords and masters. On the question of woman suffrage, THE HERALD is directly opposed to the Union. We don't believe one tenth part of the women of Canada desire the privileges of suffrage. After all, while the W. C. T. Union is a very respectable body, composed of many of our best wives and mothers, intelligent women interested in the good of mankind, they represent only a very small fraction of the Canadian women, and have no right to speak for the great majority who are opposed to the suffrage movement. If we are already forbidden to drink or smoke, by these enthusiastic women, what restrictions might they not place around us if they became members of parliament or even had the right to vote. We will not say the women of the Union are fanatics or cranks; they are evidently in earnest in their work; they take counsel with the Creator; they labor in His name, but enthusiasm leads to unrestraint, agitation to fanaticism, and if the Union expect the co-operation of their less radical sisters, of the men, and the other forces of civilization, they must not enlarge their programme to include such objectional features as woman suffrage. The Union is a force for good in the fields of humanitarianism and philanthropy; the members are right in their crusade for temperance, for social purity, and a great many other things included in their platform, but if they overreach and extend their operations into arenas which we think are not intended for their exploration and action, the Society will lose its influence in the work which they are now doing in the cause of temperance, purity, and religion. Too many irons in the fire.

THE TABLES TURNED.

Hon. D. C. Fraser, M. P., for Guysboro, N. S., was one of the Liberal politicians who accompanied Hon. Mr. Laurier in his tour to the Northwest and British Columbia, and next to the Opposition leader was given the most cordial reception of any member of the party. Mr. Fraser while a giant in stature, is as frolicsome as a boy, and in his addresses is humorous to a degree. At the Vancouver meeting, however, in the midst of his most eloquent passage, Mr. Fraser was interrupted in a manner that for the moment threw him badly out of gear and created no end of amusement, the speaker himself joining in the merriment. Mr. Fraser started off in a poetical strain to flatter the local pride of the people. Said he: "I have seen your lofty trees, your magnificent trees, rearing their heads up to heaven; I have seen your mighty mountains, I have seen your majestic rivers, I have seen your rich mines of coal, I have seen your magnificent harbor." (A voice—"Have you seen our Chinese?") The flop from the sublime to the ridiculous was so abrupt owing to this spontaneous remark, that it was some minutes before order was restored owing to the uproar of merriment it occasioned.

The next time Mr. Fraser was interrupted by the same person, however, he turned the tables and the laugh on the offender, a prominent Conservative. "Time, time," called the interrupter, as Mr. Fraser was making a good point against the Government. "Yes," quickly retorted Mr. Fraser, "You old Tory, you want time, that's what you all want; but if we gave you a hundred years you wouldn't improve the country."

It is needless to add that Mr. Fraser was permitted to conclude his speech without further interruption.

CHANGED HIS VIEWS.

The temperance workers of England have been thrown into an unpleasant condition of mind by the declaration of Mr. Gladstone against local option, or as we have it in Canada, the Scott Act. In a letter to the Bishop of Chester he declared that if the Local Option Bill pretends to be a remedy for evils for drinking, it is little better than an imposture. The principle of the Gothenburg system he maintains to be the only one permissable or at all tenable, and to the great amazement of both the Gladstonians and the Conservatives, adds, that for long years he has been strongly of this opinion. The temperance party in Great Britain has been highly scandalized by this declaration, and their organs recall the fact that when Mr. Gladstone last came into power, it was largely in consequence of his having repeatedly pledged himself to secure the passage of a local option measure. During his incumbency of the premiership he approved the bill and did not say a word in reference to the Gothenburg system.

THE Governor and his Lady were received in true Miramichi style on their visit to Chatham and Newcastle this week. The good people of those two towns never do a thing in a half-hearted way, and they were especially hospitable to their recent distinguished guests. They are very proud over the fact that the Governor is a native of Miramichi, and they took all possible means of showing their appreciation of his distinguished professional and public career. In Mrs. Fraser they had a direct representative of another distinguished New Brunswick statesman whose name will be kindly remembered in this province as long as the people enjoy the privileges of responible goverment, and in honoring the Governor and his lady our friends at the north were according distinction to guests worthy their most tender regard.

IN STRIKING CONTRAST.

When a temperance delegation interviewed Sir John Thompson last winter to learn the Government's intention with regard to the question of prohibition, the Premier put them off with a most indefinite and discouraging reply. He would not say what he might or might not do, and the temperance people came away from his presence very much disgusted with their reception. However, the less credulous ones, no doubt, knew what they might expect, when they remembered how the Premier had shelved prohibition by appointing that fraud on the public, the prohibition commission, which cost the country the large sum of $120,000.

How differently has Hon. Mr. Laurier treated the temperance party. He has been open, frank and fearless on the question, while Sir John thinks the Government has given the prohibitionists just enough encouragement to keep them on the string for another general election. In one of his Northwest speeches, Mr. Laurier in replying to the questions: "(1) Are you in favor of the immediate prohibition of the liquor traffic? (2) Will you if returned to power use your utmost endeavor to enact and enforce such a prohibitory law? said: "We have determined that we will test the feeling of the people on that question, and furthermore than that I cannot go. I speak as an honest man. I come here to endeavor to win people to the party to which I belong, but I will not do that by promises which it is not my intention to fulfil. I come here standing upon the platform of my party. I believe that it is a platform formulated in the interest of the people. If it is not satisfactory, in order to capture votes I I cannot do more. I have stated the position of my party, and to that position I will adhere. We have determined that when returned to power we will have a plebiscite. That plebiscite we will have, and by the result of it we will abide.'"

This frank statement was received with applause by the temperance electors present, and is in striking contrast to the uncertain position of the Government on a question which is so much discussed in political and social circles these days. If the people of Canada want prohibition, they have but to express themselves in the plebiscite, and Mr. Laurier when he comes into authority will carry out their wishes. Sir John Thompson is in a position now to take a similar stand, but nobody expects him to do it.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson was one of the speakers at the meeting in the City Hall Tuesday evening to advance the woman suffrage movement, and made an eloquent speech from his point of view. The Chief Commissioner is one of the most determined exponents of the suffrage movement, and his addresses on the subject are always fresh and vigorous. When the women of New Brunswick are accorded the right to vote, no doubt they will make Mr. Emmerson high priest, so thankful are they in having a gentleman of his position and ability enlisted in their ranks.

FREDERICTON is to be honored on Tuesday with a visit from General Booth head of the Salvation Army throughout the world, and no doubt he will receive a cordial welcome. The General and his loyal hosts are doing a great work for humanity. They occupy a field peculiarly their own, and no one can question their devotion and energy in the sacred cause of religion.' The General will arrive from St. John Tuesday and will address a meeting in the City Hall, the same evening. He will be formally welcomed on behalf of the city by Mayor Beckwith.

IT must be pleasing to the friends of the University of New Brunswick, that it has attracted to its halls this year the largest class of Matriculants ever known in the long history of that institution. Thirty-one young ladies and gentlemen, the latter numbering twenty-four, presented for examination this week. Once more the Herald directs the Telegraph's attention to the fact, that while Dalhousie college only matriculates fifteen candidates this autumn, the University opens its doors to thirty-one.

SENATOR HILL has received the unanimous nomination of the Democrats for the New York governorship, and it is expected will unite all wings of the party against Morton, his Republican opponent. Hill was lieut. governor in 1882 and governor in 1888.

ON THE MIRAMICHI.

Cordial Welcome Extended to Governor and Mrs. Fraser,

By the Hospitable Residents of the Bleak North.

Nothing could exceed the warmth and cordiality of the greeting extended to Governor and Mrs. Fraser, during their visit to the Miramichi towns this week. His Honor and his lady left here, via the Canada Eastern, Tuesday morning, accompanied by Major Campbell, A. D. C., and on their arrival at Chatham Junction, were greeted by Hon. L. J. Tweedie, Sheriff Shireff and F. E. Winslow, and on landing at Newcastle, the whole town was present at the depot to meet the distinguished visitors.

The Newcastle Field Battery, stationed near the freight house, fired a salute of fifteen guns, and the 73rd battalion band played the national anthem. Hon. Speaker Burchill and Messrs. Robinson and O'Brien, M. P. P.'s, officials of the county, and other prominent persons, including His Lordship Bishop Rogers, Senator Snowball and Judge Wilkinson, were present. The Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Fraser, accompanied by the high Sheriff and the Warden of the county, D. G. Smith, occupied the leading official carriage in the procession through the town, and the children of the public schools, grouped in front of the court house, greeted His Honor and Mrs. Fraser by singing My Own Canadian Home.

The procession passed through some of the principal streets, and His Honor was greeted in many as he passed along, quite a demonstration being made at Hickson's mill, when the men assembled and cheered lustily.

Arriving at the Masonic Hall, which was packed to the doors, the Governor was presented with an address from the municipality of Northumberland, read by the Warden, D. G. Smith, to which His Honor made a verry happy reply. Then a large number of old friends greeted His Honor and Mrs. Fraser, and some presentations were made, and the public demonstration, which was one of the heartiest that ever took place on the Miramichi, closed.

His Honor and Mrs. Fraser afterwards on an invitation, proceeded to the school of the sisters of the convent of Notre Dame, accompanied by a number of ladies and gentlemen, escorted by the Bishop and Rev. Father Dixon. Beautiful music and a welcome song were rendered and an address presented, to which His Honor appropriately replied.

The Governor and Mrs. Fraser held a reception at the Masonic Hall, Wednesday forenoon, when a large number of residents of the Shiretown and vicinity, paid their respects to him, and then he went on board the steamer St. Nicholas to witness a yacht race. A lunch was served and after the race, the steam squadron, having on board hundreds of ladies and gentleman, and towing the yachts, formed in order under the direction of Commodore J. C. Miller. All the steamers and sailing yachts were gaily decorated and moved in line, at distances of fifty fathoms apart. They proceeded from Newcastle to Chatham, and formed a very imposing sight as they moved down past the towns and the shipping, which were generally decorated with flags, the people on the wharves, men at the mills and on the vessels, cheering and every evidence of a spontaneous welcome to the most popular governor that has ever visited Miramichi. His Honor and party disembarked at Snowball's wharf, and proceeded to the Adam's house.

Wednesday evening, the Governor and Mrs. Fraser attended a reception given in their honor by Hon. L. J. and Mrs. Tweedie, and it was one of the smartest social functions ever seen on the Miramichi.

Thursday morning, His Honor and Mrs. Fraser, accompanied by prominent Chatham gentlemen, visited the public schools, at each of which they were received with either addresses or other formal manifest tokens of welcome, and at some, short programmes of entertainment were carried out in a very pleasing and perfect manner, His Honor speaking in response thereto. The public reception at the Adams house in the afternoon was well attended, in view of the fact that it was the third function of the kind, including that at Hon. Mr. Tweedie's residence on Wedneseay night.

Between five and six o'clock, the party were driven to the pulp mill, where they were received by Superintendent Bruce, and shown through the different departments by that gentleman.

The Governor entertained at dinner in the evening, Hon. Surueyor General Tweedie, Hon. Senator Snowball, the High Sheriff, Warden Smith, F. E. Winslow, R. A. Lawlor, R. Flanagan and Capt. Mackenzie. After dinner, he and Mrs. Fraser were serenaded by the 73rd Batt. band, and in thanking them he expressed great pleasure over the kindness and enthusiasm with which he had been received in both Newcastle and Chatham during his present visit. He was heartily cheered at the close of his short speech.

His Honor and Mrs. Fraser returned home yesterday, bringing with them very pleasant recollections of their visit to His Honor's native county.

MILITARY INSPECTION.

The inspection of the troops, which took place on the Plains of Abraham, on Saturday morning, says the Quebec Chronicle, was a very pretty sight, one calculated to gladden the eyes or those who remember "the good old days" when Quebec was garrisoned by Imperial troops.

The red coats were composed of six companies, made of four companies of the Regiment of Royal Canadian Infantry from Frederioton, St. John, Toronto and London, and the two companies of attached men. Nos. 1 and 2 companies of the Regiment of Royal Candian Artillery, stationed in Quebec, were also present, as well as "B" Battery, R. C. A. Col. Montizambert was in command of the Artillery, which was headed by its brass and reed band, while the Infantry, headed by a bugle band, was commanded by Col. Otter. At 10.30. Major-General Herbert, came on the grounds, accompanied by Col. Lake, Quarter-master-General, and Capt. Streatfield, A. D. C., General-Montgomery-Moore, commander of Her Britannic Majesty's North America Forces, was also present, in mufti, with Col. Duchesnay, A. D. C. The inspecting officer was as usual, received with the general salute, and inmediately proceeded on his tour of inpection of the men's arms and accoutrements, with which he seemed pretty well satisfied. After this the troops marched and doubled past, "B" Battery leading, with the Artillery and the Infantry last. Some other field movements followed, when the line was was reformed, and the R. C. I. went through the firing exercise by sections. One of the field guns was then brought into action and was afterwards dismounted and the gun carriage dismembered, all in splendid style. After a few other movements the troops marched from the field to reverse order and the great review was over, having been on the whole a decided success.

The horse was paced by a runner and Ziegler trailed along behind until near the distance stand, when he shot ahead and won by about eight feet.

The New York Sun thinks that the extraordinary popularity of Lord and Lady Aberdeen in Canada, which has been made manifest on every day of their tour through the provinces, is due to the ready gifts and democratic ways and festive disposition of both of them. His Lordship the Governor General, dances in kilts to the music of the bagpipes, and Her Ladyship makes eloquent speeches at women's meetings. Lord Aberdeen looks splendid in the Highland garb at a ball, and as the Scotch say, he can 'turn a leg in the fling with anybody.' Lady Aberdeen is a temperance advocate, and she organizes the women into branches.

NEW TRAIN ARRANGEMENTS.
