YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

James Dollery, an Aged Resident of Toronto Junction, Falls Out of His Wagon and Breaks His Neck.

A SERMON ON DOMINION DAY

Preached by Rev. J. W. Rae—East Toronto Orangemen Attend Church—North Toronto Notes.

Toronto Junction, July 1.—Mr. James Dollery, an aged resident of North Keele-street, accidentally fell out of his wagon and broke his neck. Dr. Clendenan deemed an inquest unnecessary, and he will be buried to-morrow at Prospect Cemetery.

The funeral of Birch L. Sproule, a promising youth, who was accidentally killed by crawling under a train in the C.P.R. yards on Friday, will take place to-morrow afternoon to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Rev. J. W. Rae preached an appropriate sermon for Dominion Day at Victoria Presbyterian Church this evening, in which he spoke of the British flag, its honor and its purpose. The Roman flag hoisted over Britain and incidents of flag raising over the Soudan and Orange River Colony served to show what flag raising in past and present meant. The sermon was a very patriotic and Scriptural one, and dealt with the component parts of the Union Jack.

Anniversary services were held in the Elizabeth-street Mission this afternoon.

East Toronto.

East Toronto, July 1.—The annual church parade of the East Toronto Orangemen took place this afternoon, headed by the King William Fife and Drum Band, to St. Saviour's Church, where Dr. Osborne addressed them from the 5th Chapter of St. Paul's Epistle to the Galatians and the 13th verse: "Ye have been called unto liberty." The reverend doctor said that the Anglo-Saxon, more than any other people, was a lover of liberty. Drive him, you cannot. For this reason coercive legislation was a failure. The Scott Act failed in its purpose for this very reason, and he believed prohibition would likewise fail. The condition of England during the reign of the Stuarts and the historical events of that day were cleverly depicted. The sermon thruout showed the inherent tendency of the Briton to be free, even free to evil if he pleased. The war in South Africa and the Dreyfus charges were slightly touched upon, and he closed by saying Canadians would always be loyal so long as they were free.

The garden party in connection with St. John's Church, Norway, to be held at Kew Gardens next Saturday, will be entertained by Ionic's choir, under Adam Dockray and George A. Mitchell, also by Harry Maughan and his Biograph.

The picnic at Woburn yesterday was in every respect a success, but the cup donated by W. F. Maclean, M.P., to the winners of the Scarboro Football League was not awarded, the Eglesmere Centrals and Scarboro Maple Leafs playing a draw game. Another day will be fixed for playing the final.

North Toronto.

Owing to the meeting of the York Township Council at the hall on Tuesday, the Town Council has postponed its regular meeting until Wednesday night next.

James Williams and Mary Soten, residents of Toronto, were arrested on Saturday, 7th inst., by Chief Lawrence and County Constable Tomlinson. The accused were in an incapable condition and driving furiously thru the town. Mayor Davis remanded them till Wednesday next, allowing bail in $100 each.

Rev. E. A. Pearson delivered his farewell address at the Davisville Methodist Church yesterday.

The congregation of St. Jude's Church, Wexford, enjoyed a social gathering on Saturday afternoon and evening.

Mr. T. Tomsett of Leaside and George Murray of Deer Park had another racket at the farm owned by Murray and rented by the former on Friday last. Chief Lawrence arrived in time to save any bloodshed, but Tomsett has applied to Magistrate Ellis to have Murray bound over to keep the peace in future.

The Sunday school pupils and friends of the Davisville Methodist Church spent the annual outing on Saturday to Munro Park.

The Methodists of Eglinton will hold their annual garden party to-day on the church lawn.

Thornhill.

Mr. William Ford, who has been laid up for some weeks from an accident, is now able to get out with the assistance of crutches.

Mr. Frederick Farr and Mr. A. Muldoon returned home on Saturday after a trip to Scotland.

Mr. Isaac Chapman has received the sad news of the death of his son, Fredrick, in British Columbia. Deceased was a sufferer from Bright's disease, and had only been in the West for a few months. The body will be brought here this week for interment. The widow and two small children have the utmost sympathy of the village in their bereavement.

Mr. William Golland, postmaster of Concord, is suffering from a serious illness.

The popularity of Miss Newton as teacher of Public school No. 1, Markham, was demonstrated on Friday, when the pupils and their parents gathered at the social given by Miss Newton at the school house. Games were provided for both old and young, and all joined in the entertainment with the greatest freedom. The married men's race was the feature of the sports, and was won by Mr. Albert Quantz; Mr. Arthur Quantz, the Reeve of Markham, was included among the also rans. During the proceedings ice cream and other suitable refreshments were dispensed amongst the large gathering.

With the large number of visitors that are always in the village on Dominion Day, the Presbyterians are sanguine of a most successful garden party at Langstaff's Grove to-day.

THE INVESTIGATION OPEN.

E. F. B. Johnston, Q.C., Says He Intended to Lay a Foundation at the Start of the Case.

MR. D. E. THOMSON ON THE STAND.

Little Evidence, However, of Public Interest Was Adduced on Saturday.

"Your Honor, this is as far as we shall go to-day," said E. F. B. Johnston to Judge McDougall, on Saturday afternoon, at the close of the first session of the Athletic Club property investigation. "We have been making a foundation," continued the counsel, "to see what witnesses could be called for the purposes of the investigation. At the next sitting I hope to deal with some of these men, to ascertain from them what connection they had with this matter."

"Very well," said the judge, "we will sit on Wednesday at 2 o'clock."

The judge had been sitting both in the morning and afternoon, hearing a great deal of very tame evidence. Ald. Spence, the Assessment Commissioner, and other familiars of City Hall daily life sat around and listened.

Mr. D. E. Thomson Called.

D. E. Thomson, solicitor for one of the executors of the McMaster estate, was the first witness. This estate owns the Athletic Club building and property. Mr. Thomson told the judge that the mortgage on the property was foreclosed early in December, and, shortly after, the adjoining property to the west, which is the piece the Milk Trust desires, was purchased. The estate had no agents. Charles Pierson, his brother, and Frank Cayley were among the agents who saw Mr. Thomson. Frank Cayley brought a letter from Assessment Commissioner Fleming, and wanted an option on the rear part of the property. John Massey of the Western Canada also wanted an option. Mr. Thomson preferred to deal with Mr. Fleming directly with regard to the proposed purchase of the property by the city. The negotiations between witness and Commissioner Fleming were reviewed, without revealing anything startling. J. K. McLaughlin, in behalf of the City Dairy Company, was also after the property. He wanted the piece of land to the west, but made an offer for the whole property. Last fall Mr. Charles Miller tried to get an option, but Mr. Thomson had not encountered Abe Orpen at all in the business.

Ald. Asher on the Stand.

Ald. Asher gave evidence to the effect that the treatment of the whole matter by the Property Committee and Council was straight and business-like. The only charge to the contrary effect was made by Ald. Lamb in Council.

What Mr. Pearson Says.

When the investigation was resumed in the afternoon, Charles Pearson, the Adelaide-street real estate agent, took the stand. He claimed that he had been employed in the spring of last year by the guarantors of the Athletic Club to sell a portion of the property, the price fixed being $70,000. Mr. Pearson saw Ald. Lamb and found that he was opposed to giving any more than $50,000 for the property. He believed that the guarantors had also interviewed Mayor Shaw about the sale. He was informed that Mr. Orpen was after the property and he sent for him. Orpen claimed he would purchase the property providing the price was not more than $50,000. Pearson saw Orpen a few days later in Charles Miller's office. The witness positively denied ever telling a reporter of The News that he had received an offer from Miller and Orpen, that they should help each other in selling the property to the City of Toronto and that the commission should be divided between them.

News Men on the Stand.

The rest of the afternoon was taken up with the evidence of Mr. Hocken and Mr. Cowan of The News. The former had all his information from the latter. Mr. Cowan told of interviews he had with a number of persons. He did not know that aldermen had been lobbied. Mr. Wilson of the Trades and Labor Council had acknowledged to witness that he had written the circular sent to the aldermen. D. J. O'Donoghue and R. Glockling were around the hall the night of Council meeting before the meeting had been held. Frank Cayley expected part of the commission on the sale of the western portion of the property and was disappointed that he had not got it. Such was the nature of the evidence and Commissioner Fleming wore an amused smile as he hustled out of the court room.

CRUSHED BETWEEN THE CARS

Another Distressing Accident Occurred at Toronto Junction on Saturday Afternoon.

HUGH M'CORMACK WAS THE VICTIM.

He Was Dreadfully Squeezed and May Die in the Emergency Hospital.

Another serious and probably fatal accident occurred at Toronto Junction on Saturday afternoon, the victim being Mr. Hugh McCormack of Caledon, near Orangeville. Mr. McCormack was working for the contractor who is putting in the new turn-table in the C.P.R. yard and was standing near the end of a loaded car on the turn-table, when Engineer Tuppi pulled back his engine and the car which preceded it struck him. McCormack was thrown against a standing car, and there not being space for a man to stand upright he was rolled along between the cars and dreadfully squeezed. Several of his ribs were broken, some of them penetrating the lungs.

Dr. Clendenan, the company's physician, was called and everything possible was done for the injured man. McCormack was then brought to the city and conveyed to the Emergency Hospital in the police ambulance.

A Wonderful Improvement.

A well-known young man whose face and neck were so painful after shaving that he dreaded to go near a barber shop was persuaded to use Campana's Italian Balm. He now delights to be shaved, as his skin is never sore or rough. Campana's Italian Balm is also exceedingly good for tan, sunburn, cuts, etc. 25c per bottle at druggists, or 786 Yonge-street. 135

Death of Judge Denny.

Portland, Ore., July 1.—Judge N. Denny died yesterday at Seaside, aged 62.

Judge Denny was United States Consul at Tien Tsin, China, under President Hayes, and Consul-General at Shanghai under President Arthur's Administration. From 1885 to 1890 he was Foreign Secretary to the King of Corea.

At the Ranges Saturday.

It was a "small day" at the Long Branch ranges on Saturday, there being only one competition. In the weekly tyros' competition for the 48th Highlanders Pte. Simpson won the prize.

The rifle ranges will be open all day today.

BAD TEMPER IN THE HOUSE

Morning Sessions on Saturday Seem to Be Conducive of Broils and Bad Feeling.

ELECTION BILL BROUGHT IN

When Mr. Foster Had Understood That It Would Not Come Up for Discussion.

Ottawa, June 30.—(Special.)—A rainy day with a wind as cool as a Government frown, brought but few members of Parliament to the House this morning at all. Fewer than 10 occupied the Opposition benches, while the Government chairs were occupied by a bare baker's dozen. Mr. Foster led the Opposition. All the Cabinet Ministers except Messrs. Tarte and Sifton were on hand.

I. C. R. Expenses.

Saturday being the last day of the current financial year 1900, for expenses on the Intercolonial Railroad, the various sums needed to wind up the business of the year were put thru. The money having thus been obtained, the next business rather naturally followed, namely, the consideration of the bill relating to the election of members of the House of Commons.

Forcing the Election Bill.

Mr. Foster asked: "Is there not some other business ready?" He explained that several members, notably Messrs. Casgrain and Martin, who had amendments to move, were unavoidably absent. "Besides," Mr. Clancy interjected, "the Solicitor-General agreed last night to let the bill stand over."

Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Fitzpatrick declared the bill would go on to-day. The fullest discussion would be allowed on Tuesday at the third reading.

An Unseemly Squabble.

Then an unseemly squabble took place, and for 15 minutes the matter hung fire, and finally, however, the Government had its way and several minor clauses were presented. The chairman, Deputy-Speaker Brodeur, was in a hurry and shouted "Carried" three or four times. Mr. Foster hotly exclaimed: "Wait till some of us, who know nothing about this, get the bill before us, for all those who know anything about it are away."

This was an intimation that the Government would not have a soft time in railroading the bill. The temper of the House was tart from the beginning. Discussion chased every clause.

The clause stating who shall not act as election officers was enlarged at the instance of the Opposition. The clause in the bill declared that persons convicted under the Dominion Controverted Elections Act were debarred. This was changed so as to debar persons convicted under both Dominion and Provincial election acts.

Recess came gladly at 1.

Why Mr. Wallace Objected.

After recess Mr. Wallace raised the point that the bill did not make provision for putting the names of persons now in South Africa upon the voters' lists. He thought this was a hardship that should not be tolerated.

Sir Adolphe Caron backed up this point. Mr. Wallace thought that a clause of Mr. Ingram's should be inserted. Mr. Fitzpatrick said that provision had been made for the enfranchisement of Dominion voters absent in South Africa, but means had not been devised by which those in South Africa who were not on the provincial lists could be put on the Dominion lists.

Mr. Ingram's Clause.

The clause in Mr. Ingram's bill that has been adopted in this connection is as follows:

No person, otherwise entitled to vote, who has left Canada under enrolment or entry under Dominion or imperial authority in admiralty for military or naval service to Her Majesty in the South African war, shall, by reason of absence caused thereby, be disentitled to vote; but every such person shall, upon his return after such absence, be entitled to vote as if he had remained resident of the place of which he was resident at the time of his so leaving; and if his name be omitted from the voters' list while so absent he shall, nevertheless, be entitled to vote on his offering to take, or taking if requested, before the deputy returning officer or other person in charge of the polling station, the following oath, in addition to such parts as are applicable to him of the oath he might be required to take, if his name had been on the list:

I (A. B.) do swear that I am legally qualified to vote at this election, and that I verily believe my name was omitted from the list of voters by reason of my absence, caused by my leaving Canada under enrolment or entry for military (or naval) service to Her Majesty in the South African war, and for no other reason.

Col. Prior wanted to know who sub-divided a constituency when the federal district was different from the Provincial district. He was told the returning officer did it. "But he may not do it just before the election," said the Colonel.

"No, within 30 days," said Sir Louis Davies.

Wants a Half Holiday.

It was proposed by Mr. Ingram that a half holiday should be proclaimed on election day. Mr. Wallace thought that the electors should have part of a day when they would be independent of their employers.

"Would you be able to compel the masters to pay the men for that half day?"

"No," said Ingram, "we don't want pay."

Mr. Wallace thought that the difficulty could be got over by making the day's work end on election day at 2 p.m., and the pay the electors got would depend upon a contract with the employers. The most convenient time would be from 2 to 6. Some time free should be given to employes. This was important, for the evils arising from the absence of this were growing daily.

Sir Louis replied, and said the Dominion Parliament should not compel idleness, and it would be an infringement on Provincial rights. He thought Mr. Casgrain's amendment on this line, opening polls in large cities at 7 a.m., might be worked.

Men Need Free Time.

Mr. Puttee wanted some free time on election day. "Open the polls at 8 a.m., and keep them open till 8 p.m." But he favored a half holiday. If they could not get a half holiday then the other is good.

Mr. Wood (Hamilton) was strong against a half holiday, because the factories at Hamilton would be stopped.

Mr. Maxwell declared that on the last Provincial election in British Columbia the poll was opened at 8 a.m. and closed at 8 p.m., and the largest vote ever polled was rolled up.

The half holiday was then left and other clauses discussed.

Mr. Casgrain's amendment regarding the sending out of ballots from the Government was carried.

This amendment provides that ballots shall be bound in a book and numbered on the counterfoil from 1 to 250.

Mr. Fitzpatrick, asked as to the form of the ballot, said that he did not think the disk ballot had been a success. He said any ballot marked on the right of the name of the candidate would be counted. The ballot selected is a plain one, on which heavy black squares separate the names of the different candidates.

Opening of Polls.

After further discussion, Mr. Casgrain's amendment that polls should be opened in cities for artisans at 7 a.m., was introduced by Mr. Fitzpatrick.

Mr. Foster said that polls should be opened at 8 a.m.

Mr. Puttee said the whole business could be settled by keeping the polls open from 8 to 8.

Mr. Wallace believed in the good old hour of 9 a.m. To keep the polls open till 8 p.m. would increase the temptations for rascality between 5 and 8. He proposed a new one, namely, that a day's work should end on election day at 3 p.m.

In this way a previous discussion was drifted back to, but that is not unusual in the present Parliament.

Mr. Wallace asked: "Why can the Government compel the hotel-keeper to close his hotel on election day and yet cannot compel a factory man to close his factory?"

The Premier said, after mature discussion, the Government had concluded the law had worked very satisfactorily on the whole and should not be altered.

The clause was carried.

The committee having risen and obtained leave to sit again, the Senate amendments to the Weights and Measures and the Penitentiary Acts were concurred in. The report of the committee on the resolution respecting the Judges Provincial Courts was adopted and the bill introduced.

The House adjourned at 6 p.m.

WOMAN'S PLUCK WINS.

A Lady Who Cured Her Husband of the Liquor Habit Writes a Pathetic Letter.

She writes: "I had for a long time been thinking of trying the Samaria Prescription treatment on my husband for his drinking habits, but I was afraid he would discover that I was giving him medicine, and he thought unnerved me. I hesitated for nearly a week, but one day when he came home very much intoxicated and his week's salary nearly all spent, I threw off all fear and determined to make an effort to save our home from the ruin I saw coming, as all hazards. I sent for your Samaria Prescription and put it in his coffee as directed next morning, and watched and prayed for the result. At noon I gave him more, and also at supper. He never suspected a thing, and I then boldly kept right on giving it regularly, as I had discovered something that set every nerve in my body tingling with hope and happiness, and I could see a bright future spread out before me—a peaceful, happy home, a share in the good things of life, an attentive, loving husband, comforts, and everything else dear to a woman's heart, for my husband had told me that whiskey was vile stuff, and he was taking a dislike to it. It was only too true, for before I had given him the full course he had stopped drinking altogether, but I kept giving the medicine till it was gone, and then sent for another lot to have on hand if he should relapse, as he had done from his promises before. He never has, and I am writing you this letter to tell you how thankful I am. I honestly believe it will cure the worst cases."

A pamphlet in plain, sealed envelope sent free, giving testimonials and full information, with directions how to take or administer Samaria Prescription. Correspondence considered sacredly confidential. Address The Samaria Remedy Co., 38 Jordan street, Toronto, Ont.

PURE SPANISH BRANDY

Distilled by Messrs. Jimenez & Lamothe, Malaga, Spain.

Dr. Don Ricardo Garcera Castillo writes: "Your Cognac combines all the best qualities. It is of good appearance, possesses an excellent bouquet, and offers such guarantees that it can be used in all confidence."

Dr. Don Bartoleme Robert, Professor of Pathology and Clinical Medicine at the University of Barcelona, President of the Royal Academy of Medicine, etc., writes: "I have had occasion to verify the qualities and effects of the pure wine brandy, which you prepare at Malaga, and am convinced that it is superior to the best brands of this or foreign countries."

Doctor Clarence Visick, Licentiate of the Royal College of Medicine and Member of the Royal College of Surgery of London, writes:

"My countrymen, so familiar with the disastrous moral and physical effects produced by the abuse of impure cognac made with all kinds of fermentable substances, are generally ignorant of the brilliant and salutary results which may be obtained by the moderate use of a cognac possessing the qualities of that distilled by Messrs. Jimenez & Lamothe."

Dr. D. Celestine Lazara Adradas, Physician of the Army Medical Corps, ex-Physician of the Princess Hospital, etc., Madrid, writes:

"I had no sooner assured myself of the purity of your cognac than I used it in cases of pneumonia, la grippe, gangrenous diphtheria and always with success."

Doctor Castellarnau, Founder and Director of the Hydrotherapic Institute of Barcelona, and of the "Bulletin d'Hydrotherapie," writes:

"In view of the state of purity of your grape alcohol and the care used in the preparation of your products, we are now free from the dangers of adulterations and commercial alcohols."

Ilmo. Sr. D. Juan Gine, Dean of the Faculty of the "Nueva Belen," Adylum, Director of the Journal Indepencia Medica, etc., writes:

"Your Cognac constitutes, in clinical use, an excellent resource in tonic excitant medication, which finds so many useful applications in contemporary therapeutics."

Dr. Tolosa Latour, Physician in Chief of the Asylum of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, etc., writes:

"As a hygienic drink mixed with water, your cognac is agreeable and does not produce the sensation of dryness of the gums, phenomena which are proofs of the impurity of other products. Several chemists who have analyzed your cognac substantiate the correctness of these assertions."

Dr. Hernandez Briz, Physician of the General Hospital, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academy of Medicine, Assistant Physician of the Princess and Jesus Hospitals, etc., writes:

"I have found your Cognac much superior to foreign brands, and worthy of being recommended in all cases where this tonic is indicated as a diffusible excitant and tonic, either alone or mixed with coffee or tea."

Don R. Martin Gil, Doctor in Medicine and Surgery, Physician Director of the Noble Hospital, Corresponding Member of the Royal Academy of Medicine and Surgery of Bar, ex-Naval Surgeon, etc., writes:

"I certify that the Cognac of Messrs. Jimenez & Lamothe of Malaga is the one which I recommend to my patients, as I consider it the purest of all, as it is exclusively prepared from wine."

Dr. D. Juan Manuel Mariani, Physician of the Princess Hospital, Member of the Academy, etc., writes:

"I congratulate myself on seeing implanted in our country an industry which on account of its importance, and by the proofs of the activity of its directors, will replace advantageously the foreign cognacs now on the market."

Sr. D. Simon Hergueta, Emeritus Physician to the Madrid General Hospital, etc., writes:

"I have tried Cognac Jimenez & Lamothe in a number of cases and I have always appreciated its tonic effects."

Don Sebastien Perez Souviron, Surgeon and Surgeon-in-Chief of the Malaga Civic Hospital, writes:

"I certify that, having used Cognac Jimenez & Lamothe, in my wards, the stimulant effects obtained surpassed my expectation."

Dr. Don Jose Ribera, Professor of the Faculty of Medicine of Madrid, Director of the Hospital of the Infant Jesus, Member of the Academy, etc., writes:

"Having had several competent persons try your cognac, they have all declared it not only equal to those of the best French houses, but much superior to several of the best known French brands."

Dr. D. Manuel Tapia Y. Serrano, Auxiliary Professor of the Faculty of Medicine of Madrid, etc., writes:

"As we have had occasion to observe the good effects of Messrs. Jimenez & Lamothe's Pure Wine Cognac, we have decided that in future we will recommend its use as a hygienic drink and to prescribe it as a remedy in all cases where alcoholic medication is indicated."

Dr. Larra Y. Cerezo, Director of the "Revue de Clinique, Therapeutique et Pharmacie," writes:

"Considering your Cognac "Old Brandy" as being of superior quality, I generally choose it, not only to combat disease, but also in certain convalescence, in which it gives me excellent results."

Dr. C. Alexandro San Martin, Professor of the Faculty of Medicine of Madrid, Member of the Academy, etc., writes:

"I am aware of the value of the Cognac of Messrs. Jimenez & Lamothe, and being convinced of its purity I will, with pleasure, recommend it to my patients." 13

JIM AUSTIN ARRESTED.

Colored Pugilist Broke Another Pug's Jaw and Was Arrested at Stamford.

Stamford, Conn., June 30.—Jim Austin, the colored pugilist, who three weeks ago broke Shep Walker's jaw in a boxing exhibition, arrived in town to-night to attend a benefit which was to be given to Walker, and was immediately arrested on a warrant served by Prosecuting Attorney Carter, charged with assault with intent to murder. Carter says he can bring witnesses to show that Austin pounded Walker while he was in a helpless condition, and when the latter was knocked out was heard to remark: "I am sorry I did not kill him." In the court Austin was remanded to jail, not being able to secure bail of $2000.

NORDLUND MUST DIE.

The Man Who Killed Seven People and Wounded Others Gets Death Sentence.

Stockholm, June 30.—The trial of Philip Nordlund, who, May 17 last, as the steamer Prins Carl, on which he was a passenger, was passing Quicksund, murdered seven men and wounded five others, a woman and a boy, after which he escaped in a boat to Koping, and who was captured the following day at Eskilstavana, 57 miles west of this city, was concluded to-day and resulted in the prisoner being convicted and sentenced to death.

The Yellow Car.

Word has just been received from Buffalo that the Buffalo Yellow Car will commence operations between Queenston and Buffalo to-morrow, connecting with Niagara Navigation steamers at Queenston wharf.

This will enable passengers to travel from Toronto to Buffalo in much shorter time than heretofore, and will also take in every point of interest on the Niagara River from Lake Ontario to Lake Erie. Harbottle & Rigout, agents.

"'East Kent' ale and porter," said a prominent physician the other day, "are really the best I have ever tasted, and I always recommend them to any of my patients who require a malt tonic."

All who have ever tried "East Kent" hold a similar opinion.

I was the whole of one summer unable to move without crutches, and every movement caused excruciating pains. I am now out on the road and exposed to all kinds of weather, but have never been troubled with rheumatism since. I, however, keep a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Oil on hand, and I always recommend it to others, as it did so much for me. ed
