The Last Car Club members and several invited guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nickson, Paradise row, last evening at the weekly whist meeting. Scores were close and interest keen in the results. Mr. and Mrs. S. Caddell came out victorious and won nice prizes. The consolation prize fell to the share of Miss Cline and Mr. Wrench. Among the guests of the evening was Mrs. W. E. Moran of Boston who, with her little son, Edward, had been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Nickson on a very pleasant visit.

ST. JOHN BAPTIST TEA AND MUSICAL ATTRACT THROUG

The tea and musical held yesterday afternoon and evening in the former Wiggins Orphanage, which is now the property of the parish of St. John the Baptist church, in Broad street, were splendidly successful. It is estimated that about 1,200 people patronized the double event and the great throng of people packed every corner of the spacious building. The crowds endeavoring to pass up and down the stairways were jammed in the process and the audience at the musical overflowed into the corridors, while so great was the number to be served at tea that the time of serving, which had originally been fixed at from 5 o'clock until 7 o'clock, was lengthened out for another couple of hours. The entertainment was held to raise funds to pay for the building, and the financial results were very gratifying. In spite of the fact that the time of the arrangements, and the crowd was handled admirably. Everybody had a good time and everybody was in a good humor.

The reception committee consisted of Mrs. Hugh O'Connor, general convener; Mrs. J. H. Duddy and Mrs. Katie Ritchie, who had many guests to welcome. Large flags and bunting of the colors of the church were hung from the front of the building. The large tea room at the rear of the building had red shades for the lights and white curtains in the windows, while the table flowers were red dahlias. In both tea rooms autumn foliage in brilliant hues graced the walls and windows.

Mrs. Hugh O'Connor was the convener of the tea committee and those who presided at the serving tables and poured the tea were Mrs. Edward Moore, Mrs. Henry Stephens, Mrs. William Driscoll, Mrs. Henry Regan, Mrs. Austen Powers, Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Thomas Baxter. The ladies in dressers and the dumb waiter to the kitchen below aided the committees in serving so large a company so promptly and efficiently, and the good things were heartily approved of.

Miss Nellie Colahan was the convener of the musical programme and had provided a fine concert, which was much enjoyed. Those who took part in the programme, all of whom rendered vocal solos that received hearty applause, were H. McQuade, Mrs. Alice Harris, Mrs. William Duerr, Miss Mildred White, Mr. Gillis, Miss Bernice Mooney and Miss Florence Kierlan. As the accompanist, Mrs. M. Quinlan aided much in the success of the concert.

The convener for the taking of the tickets was William H. Oates and those in charge of the checking room were John Butler and William Doyle. Other departments at the musical included a room with fruits, jams, preserves and jellies, presided over by Miss A. Magee and Miss Beatrice Mooney; an ice cream stall, in charge of Miss Mary Lower; candy booth, which Mrs. D. Owens was in charge, and a soft drinks counter run by Daniel M. Doyle, Charles Garnett, Arthur Finnigan and Barry O'Neill.

A magnificent cake, with elaborate frosting design, was iced and was won by ticket No. 502, owned by Joseph Mulloy.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Moncton, Sept. 19—The annual convention of the graduate nurses of New Brunswick opened in the city hall here today. The morning was taken up with a meeting of the executive and the first general session was held in the afternoon.

A feature of the afternoon session was a lecture by Dr. W. A. Ferguson, of this city, on the subject, "Principles of Surgery." In the course of which he traced the development of the profession from the time of Hippocrates to the present day. Several resolutions were passed during the session, the most important of which were as follows:

SUGGEST THE CITY

ASSUME ONE-THIRD

OF COST OF PIER

A communication from the board of railway commissioners in regard to the replacement of a pier in the overhead bridge at the junction of Strait Shore road and Douglas avenue was received by the city commissioners at the meeting yesterday afternoon. In this letter it was suggested that the city assume one-third of the cost of moving the abutment so that a wider roadway might be secured.

R. E. Howard, of Montreal, offered his services in a consulting capacity on harbor or hydro work. The letter was filed.

The St. John Board of Trade presented a letter calling the attention of the council to the proclamation making Oct. 9 fire protection day. This was received and referred to the commissioner of public safety.

Railway Communication.

The communication from the board of railway commissioners of Canada in reference to the request of the commissioner of public works for a hearing on behalf of the city in reference to the renewal of a pier under the overhead bridge at the junction of Strait Shore and Douglas avenue, was received and referred to the commissioner of public works. The engineer of the board made a report setting forth the probable cost of the new pier and suggested that the C. P. R. assume the cost of reconstruction, but that the city contribute one-third of the cost of moving the pier to a new site. According to the explanation of Commissioner Frink some defect had developed in the pier, making it necessary to replace it. It was suggested that the pier be moved so as to meet the highway wider at this point where it was expected that heavy traffic would develop. It was pointed out that the city's share of the work would be about $700.

His worship said he would not vote for a bond issue to cover this, and Commissioner Thornton said he was opposed to spending money on the work. The communication was referred to the commissioner of public works.

St. John Salvage Corps and Fire Police No. 1 reported that Harry Colwell had been elected a member of that organization. It was ordered that this action be approved and that a warrant be issued to him.

EAST ST. JOHN

GROWING FAST

The growth in the population of East St. John was brought home to the trustees of the school very forcibly when school opened and it was found there were twenty-eight pupils in the first grade and a total enrollment of 123 pupils. The lower grades were so crowded that it was decided to open the fourth room in the building and engage another teacher. This was accordingly done and Miss Zella Parlee was appointed to take charge of the new class. A rearrangement of classes was made and the four teachers now have a more even distribution of the pupils. When the school was opened there was no anticipation of so many pupils entering the school building is now in use, but the four rooms should be sufficient to meet the requirements of the community for about 200 children.

At the Little River school many improvements were made during the vacation. The building has a much smarter appearance. The lower room was painted and the whole of the outside of the building was painted also. While the community of Little River is not making quite so rapid a growth as that of East St. John, there were more than fifty children enrolled in the two classes at Little River, which was a decided increase on the enrollment of last year. The second room in the school was opened last year.

ARCHBISHOP

CALLS DE VALERA

FOE OF IRISH

Baltimore Prelate Declares the Leader of Irregulars is Ireland's Greatest Menace—Churchman and Party Return from Europe.

New York, Sept. 20.—Archbishop Michael J. Curran of Baltimore returned on the White Star liner Celtic from Europe, accompanied by Mgr. L. R. Stegney, rector of the Cathedral of Baltimore, and the Rev. Patrick Healy, D. D., professor of history in the Catholic University of America. The party visited Naples, Rome, where the archbishop was received by the Pope at the Vatican, and then traveled through France to England and Athlone, Ireland, to visit the archbishop's aged mother. The archbishop met John McCormack at Athlone, and said the Irish tenor was

In fine health and voice and would return to the U. S. in October.

When asked for his opinion on the existing conditions in Ireland, the archbishop dictated the following statement:

"In Ireland there is an Irish government functioning, with back of this government ninety-five per cent. or more of the Irish people. There is nothing more evident in Ireland today than that the Irish people want the peace treaty and the Free State status. Ninety-five per cent. of the men who fought the Black and Tans are with the people and are being guided by the will of the people. In other words, Irish Ireland is thoroughly democratic.

"At the head of this government are men like Cosgrave, O'Neill, Hogan and others, among the most brilliant men Ireland ever produced. Outside of that vast proportion of the Irish people stand de Valera and his irregular followers. They are bent on destruction and the bringing about of chaos in Ireland. They have no constructive programme, and can have none, because they, as a small minority, are fighting the Irish people.

"They are killing, burning, destroying and wrecking Ireland as far as they can. That's all that they are doing. There is no menace in Ireland today greater than Eamon de Valera, who seems to have completely lost his head, lost his senses. The people of Ireland are suffering at the hands of de Valera's followers as much as they ever suffered at the hands of the Black and Tans.

"Whenever the people's army appears the irregulars fly before them and the soldiers of the National army are hailed as saviours. With de Valera are the Englishman, Childers, the ex-English officer, Barton, and the Polish countess, known in socialistic circles as 'Comrade' Markiewicz. That is the situation in a nutshell. It is anomalous, unlikable, unnatural.

"The worst feature of it, however, is that de Valera and his followers are receiving help from supposed friends of
