CEMETERY IMPROVEMENT.

In line with our editorial remarks of last week, regarding the Bridgetown Cemetery, we are pleased to learn that there is already a movement to improve and beautify this important locality.

The land was originally owned by the estate to which Mr. William Chipman, formerly of this town, now of Wolfville, is heir. The original burial lot was purchased from the Chipman estate by a corporation composed of a number of leading citizens, most of whom have now passed away. All the original plots have been sold and of late years Mr. Chipman has been disposing of new plots privately as desired, extra land being reserved for the purpose. Within a few days this reserved land has been purchased by J. H. Hicks & Sons from Mr. Chipman, and it is their intention and expectation to form again a corporation which shall have at its disposal and direction the affairs o. the Cemetery. Messrs. Hicks have already set out one hundred shade trees and it is proposed to otherwise beautify the place.

SMALL-POX OR CHICKEN-POX?

Dr. Armstrong, County health officer, was called upon to go to East Dalhousie, Monday, to investigate an epidemic which was suspected to be small-pox. The disease appeared to be similar to that found at New Ross, only twelve miles away, as to the nature of which the doctors disagree, except that in East Dalhousie the epidemic is confined to children, the worst case being that of the 14-year-old daughter of Postmaster Wright. A semi-quarantine was established until it could be decided whether the disease was small-pox or chicken-pox. Since the small-pox scare at New Ross all the roads from there have been barred excepting the one leading into East Dalhousie, which leads to the suspicion that this epidemic is of the same nature.

A recent notable improvement in the business portion of the town is the business stand of J. W. Ross. Mr. Ross has been established in business here over a quarter of a century and has grown prosperous in the management of a business conducted on square business methods. This shop on the corner of Granville and Washington Streets is completely transformed. Plate glass fronts upon the two streets with corner entrance and other exterior improvements, the enlargement of the floor space by 25 or 30 square feet, hardwood floor, white enamel finish, and attractive arrangement make this one of the neatest and prettiest stores in this part of the province. A comprehensive stock of leather goods, harness, bags, etc., and a good line of trunks and fur goods is carried, and we trust Mr. Ross may long continue to serve the public in the same capacity which has established him as a valuable member of our business fraternity.

CLARENCE CENTRE.

(July 10th)

The W. M. A. Society met at the home of Mrs. F. W. Ward on July 1st, a large number of the members being present. After the devotional exercises the Secretary, Mrs. Ward, called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. The Treasurer, Mrs. Byron Chesley, gave a report of the money received during the year. Mrs. S. N. Jackson gave a report of the women's meeting at Bridgetown. The President Mrs. E. J. Elliott, presented an address, accompanied with a life member certificate to Sister Emma Jackson, the first President of the Society. Miss Elliott, who presided at the piano, then struck the sweet chords of the familiar hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds," and all joined heartily in the music. Miss Jackson responded in a feeling and appreciative manner. Readings were given by Miss Annie Marshall and Mrs. L. W. Elliott. Miss Cora Elliott, missionary elect, gave some very interesting remarks on her work during the winter. The very helpful and entertaining meeting closed with "Mizpah." Tea was then served, after which an hour was spent in social conversation, and the members parted to meet next month with the oldest member of the Society, Mrs. Joshua Ray.

L. G. White, in connection with other repairs, is improving the looks of his residence by the addition of a Bay window on the east and a plate glass window in front.

ALBANY.

June 28th was a red letter day in the social and educational life of Albany South and Albany Cross.

The two sections decided to celebrate the year's work with a united picnic, and no such event has taken place in a long time. The day was one of the most delightful that June can give. The place selected for the gathering was Zwicker's Lake, a charming spot. Practically all the parents and children from both sections were present. For the little ones it was a day of gladness and glee, for the elders a day of good fellowship, and merry making for the juveniles. The table spread on nature's lap by the side of the sparkling lake revealed a wealth of provision that might well excite the envy of the epicure. Swinging, racing and games filled the fleeting hours. In the midst of the general joy, order was called and Mr. Thomas Merry in a neat and appropriate address referred to the good work done during the year by their teacher, Miss Wilson, whose consciencious and faithful services were highly appreciated, both by parents and children. The address was followed by the presentation of a handsome rocker, which Mr. Merry said he hoped might prove a source of pleasure and a reminder of the pleasant relations that had existed during the year. Miss Wilson, though greatly surprised, made a few pleasant remarks, heartily thanking all for their uniform kindness and for the unexpected gift. This presentation was followed by another to the popular teacher of Albany Cross, Miss Fairn, in the form of a beautiful and valuable trunk. The water of the lake was not more liquid than the brimming eyes of the young teacher at the unexpected token of confidence and good will from the parents and children of her school. She, too, made a feeling reply, thanking all for their great kindness throughout the year. Mr. Kenneth Zwicker contributed in no small degree to the pleasure of all by numerous selections from the phonograph. All too quickly passed the afternoon, while the general verdict was "a splendid time."

HINTS FOR PANCAKE MAKING.

A good way to prepare the pan for pancakes, fritters and such things, is to put the butter in a clean cloth, and rub the little bundle all over the pan. The heat, melting the butter, will let just enough through the cloth to butter evenly and prevent waste. For the pancakes themselves, there is an increasing use of Blended Flour, which, good cooks agree, is without an equal for making light, tasty pancakes. It can be had from any good mill—and is a scientific blend of Ontario fall wheat and Manitoba spring wheat. Freed, as it is from waste matter, this Blended Flour is richer in flavor and food value than either of the wheats could give alone. It contains just the proportion of those elements in flour which prevent the food becoming soggy and indigestible.

The blending of flour is an old trick, taught good housekeepers by their mothers and grandmothers. It is convenient to have this by-no-means-easy task shifted from our burdened shoulders onto the broader, sturdier ones of the dustless millers of today. And they should certainly do the blending more accurately, with all the modern machinery, than could be accomplished by the most painstaking work at home.

Careful housekeepers are using Blended Flour for bread and pastry, too.
