THRILLING EXPERIENCE OF ST. JOHN AIRMAN

Flight Lieut. F. E. Power Carried Deep Under Sea-Recovers to week will be devoted to the women and Find Himself on British Destroyer

According to word from England, Flight Lieut. Fred E. Power, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Power, recently passed through an experience thrilling even for an aviator. On patrol duty off the English coast on August 11, he was flying over the sea about thirty miles from land when he thought he detected the periscope of a German submarine. He swooped down towards the under-sea pirate, but there was a deceptive mist over the water and his machine, traveling at eighty miles an hour, dived nose KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTO

In addition to a severe shaking up he sustained a deep gash on the side of his face.

MRS. MARY HURLEY.
On Friday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Brannen, Oromocto, Mrs. Mary Hurley, widow of Thomas Hurley of St. John, passed away. She had reached the age of eighty-six years. Two sons and eight daughters survive. Two of the latter are Mrs. Robert Brannen and Mrs. Chas. Ward, both of Oromocto. The body was brought to St. John on last evening's Boston express, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Ward. The funeral will be on Sunday afternoon at half-past two from the home of her son, David Hurley, 108 Brussels street.

pirate, but there was a deceptive mist over the water and his machine, traveling at eighty miles an hour, dived nose in into the sea. The young aviator was carried far under, for his safety fastening was strapped about him. His life belt must have done its work well, for he floated clear of the airplane and the next thing he knew was some hours later on board a British destroyer when he revived to find doctor and nurse caring for him. The machine was lost.

Many friends will be glad to know that Lieut. Power, at latest report, was recuperating well after the shock and injuries to his hip and shoulder, and was on leave while getting back to condition. This was his first accident in ten months of successful work in the air, and was thrilling enough to linger in memory a lifetime.

U. S. WAR TRADE REGULATIONS
The U. S. War Trade Board, in a circular of Sept. I, announces that the privilege of importing fresh fish, including fresh shellfish, from Newfoundland and Canada, under general license, has been extended to include cured or preserved fish and shell fish when said fish are products of the fishing industries of Newfoundland and Canada.

In a circular of Sept. 2, the U. S. War Trade Board announces that applications for licenses to export dried peaches and prunes to Canada will now be considered. Every application for an export license must have attached thereto an import permit issued by the Canada Food Board, to the consignee for the quantity mentioned in the application.

Amherst Team

Arrives In City

Patrons of the railways which have their terminals at the Union station are getting sick, sore and tired of the disgraceful condition of the asphalt walks leading from Mill street to the front entrance. For several years the depressions in these paths, particularly that from the Grand Union corner, have offered an almost unfordable barrier to travelers in wet weather. Passengers hurrying to the trains are forced to splash and wade through deep pools of water, with them for the rest of their journey, and those arriving in the city meet a similar fate.

In daylight it may be possible for an active person to hop and jump from one part of the walk to another and thus avoid the deepest puddles, but at night time, especially to those who are unfamiliar with the conditions, there is little chance of escaping an unpleasant experience. The matter is one of such substantial importance to the traveling public and the remedy is so easy and involving such trifling expense that patrons of the railways can find no ade-

SAVE THE SUGAR

John White, manager of the Giants, wishes all those who had tickets for sale to send him the returns before this afternoon's game. He pointed out that the expense of bringing the team here today was very heavy and wished those fans who have not as yet procured a ticket to do so.

Ottawa, Sept. 7—The Canada Food Board in a statement isued last night places definitely upon householders responsibility for so limited domestic consumption of sugar as to ensure a sufficient supply for preserving. The board trees that a family of two should not use more than one-quarter of a level use more than one-quarter of a level cup full of sugar a day for cooking, table use and all other purposes except preserving, asd other family consump-tion should be limited to the same pro-OF BEER IN STATES
