RECENT PICTURES OF TURKISH PRISONERS AND ARTILLERY THAT BATTERED FORTS

TURKISH PRISONERS AT PODGORITZA

SERBIAN ARTILLERY AT USKUB

These pictures of scenes in the Balkan war were made during the hostilities and while the allied troops were scoring victory after victory against the Turkish troops. The prisoners are under the guard of Montenegrin soldiers in the open, as there was no stockade in which to confine them. As they were treated better as prisoners than while fighting for their country, it is not likely that any of them would have made a serious effort to escape. The Serbian artillery shown in the picture has proved tremendously effective in various engagements.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Budget of News Concerning Stage Favorites Known to St. John Audiences.

Friends in St. John will be interested in a sketch of a former favorite, Miss Alice Fleming who played here with distinction in support of Daniel Ryan in his palm days. A portrait of her is published in a prominent dramatic exchange this week, looking prettier than ever, with the accompanying complimentary sketch:

"Alice Fleming is the interesting leading woman of the Baker Players at Portland, Me. Her start in the profession was with the Grand Avenue Theatre, Philadelphia, about twelve years ago as an extra. She rose to the leading woman's position with Rose Stahl who was the leading woman. Since then her name has been identified with the Baker Players in Shakespearean plays. About five years ago she began playing the leading role with Daniel Ryan's Repertory company in Shakespearean plays. Because of her experience in the romantic classic drama she was engaged by James O'Neill as his leading woman for his tour in Virginia, Monte Cristo and Julius Caesar. Unfortunately she did not appear with him at the Lyric, New York, in Virginia, her engagement beginning with his production of Monte Cristo.

The next season Miss Fleming went into vaudeville with William Hawtry, in his sketch entitled Complainant. About February of that season she joined the Crescent Theatre in Brooklyn, where she remained the rest of that season and the following year.

Two years ago last September she joined the Baker stock company, Portland, Ore., and while with the company met her fate (a very enviable one, too). It was her intention to retire from the stage, but well-timed the old story. Mr. Baker asked her to play a special engagement, which she did, and followed that with short engagements in Ottawa, Canada, with the Dominion and Colonial Stock companies; also a number of S. Z. P. stock in the White Sater.

Last winter Miss Fleming was specially engaged by the Belasco management to create the leading role in City M. Green's play, The Desert, produced at the Alhambra, San Francisco.

This season she was engaged again by Mr. Baker, and next season she expects to be a road star under George L. Baker's management. She is now looking for a suitable play.

Donald Mack, a former St. John favorite, is playing in "Madame X" in Boston this week, at the Castle Square theatre. Gaby Delany, after all brought $23,000 worth of jewels—not to mention $25,000 worth of gowns—back to the states with her, according to the appraisal of the customs officials. In addition she has costumes full of theatrical effects which, with their contents, were valued at $25,000. Not being a resident she will not have to pay duties on her personal belongings, but she must give a bond for the stage effects. Being thus authenticated by Uncle Sam, this account disappears from the realm of conventional press agency activity.

Grace George is proving a decided success in her new play "Carnival," in upper Canada. It opened in Toronto last week. George Oper, who played here many years ago with Harkins, is dead. He passed away at his home in Hastings. Mr. Ober was born in Baltimore sixty-three years ago, and there began his stage career in boy's parts, at the old Ford Theatre. Later on he figured, variously, in companies supporting the most famous stars of the period, including Edwin Forrest, Edwin Booth, Charlotte Cushman, Frank Mayo, and E. L. Davenport. During the regime of Charles Hoyt, Mr. Ober was a member of the Madison Square Theatre, where he created the part of Uncle Toby in "A Contented Woman," making it in his own right. Subsequently he became famous as an out of the road producer of "You Like It," "She Stoops to Conquer," and "The Rivals." Latterly he was identified with the moving pictures. Mr. Ober is survived by his wife, who was Adelaide Power, of Chicago, and a niece, Miss Minnie Power.

Few people recognized in an item that was published in the newspapers a few days ago the William Courtenay whose name had been changed from William Hancock Kelley, which by an order signed by Judge Forbes became Courtenay. It is Courtenay of Winchester, Me., an actor laity of their respective dioceses is asked in this concentrated effort to bring all classes, irrespective of their creed, into a national union for the eradication of immoral plays from the American stage.

The official plan calls for a national committee, which shall advise the formation in every city in the country of a Catholic civic committee, under the supervision of its bishop. The civic committee for each diocese will be as well as upon the stage bill. So it was that William Hancock Kelley went out of existence as it were, and William Courtenay stepped forth in private life. He is about thirty-five years of age. He is one of the most competent leading men in the profession.

Robert Mantell is preparing to present "The Merry Widow" in New York early in the spring. He will have Florence Hoekstra in the leading role. Miss Rockwell is now appearing as the leading woman with Mr. Mantell in his Shakespearean repertory. Cardinal Farley is expected soon to announce his selection for the national committee to direct the organization of a National Catholic Theatre. The organizers were to meet to establish a far-reaching censorship over all plays produced in the United States, and all hope soon to be in the hands of the American people. Boston has a new and pretty playhouse in the Huntington Avenue Theatre, which opened recently after a remarkable speedy construction. While the house is intended for vaudeville and moving pictures, it is so built that small productions can easily be given. Its absolute fireproof construction, the attractive soft color scheme in old Spanish leather brown, and the general good taste of the interior decorations have drawn much favorable comment from the theatre-going public. The playhouse occupies the property at 175 Huntington Avenue, formerly known as the Century Building. The management of the new theatre will be under the supervision of the H. E. Jones Amusement company.

The closing of three productions, Oliver Twist, The Five Frankforters and the Discretion of Truth—leaves idle clever artists. While the echoes of the explosion have not yet faded, the theatre-going public is still in the grip of the excitement of the explosion. The explosion was a great success, and the theatre-going public is still in the grip of the excitement of the explosion.

It was a spectacular exhibition of daring. Law undertook to prove, for moving picture purposes, that Melvin Vaniman and his four companions, who were killed when their dirigible blew up on its trial trip at Atlantic City, might have been saved if they had taken proper precautions. He said that he would fill a balloon with highly inflammable gas, explode it with dynamite and escape injury. When ready for the test he was dressed in wooten knit clothing from head to foot, because wooten resists fire flames. He wore a football player's leather helmet under his wooten hood and a thin wooten veil covered his eyes. Strapped about his waist, under his sweater, was a life preserver.

Seated on a cross dais, directly beneath the balloon he held a trigger string in one hand, with which to explode the dynamite. When the balloon was filled with gas, there appeared a great burst of flame followed by a dense cloud of pitch black smoke. While the echoes of the explosion rumbled up and down the river, the figure of the man who had been on the trappe dropped out of the dense cloud, a parachute opened and he fell gently on the water. He floated unconsciously about until picked up by his friends on the Lillie. When it was all over Law was the coolest man in the party. He was not hurt.

TO FORM BRANCH OF BROTHERHOOD HERE

A public address on the work of the National Brotherhood was given by Mr. Jeffs of England in Portland Methodist church last evening. At the conclusion of the meeting a committee, consisting of Rev. W. W. Brewer, Rev. D. Hutchinson, W. A. Steiper, A. W. Robb, Mr. Robertson and J. King Kelley was appointed to take steps to form a local branch of the order.

In the course of his address Mr. Jeffs outlined the motives for the existence of the society and mentioned the good work that had been done. The brotherhood, he said, had become worldwide, and men of every race and every color were joining the ranks. In the case of finances, Mr. Jeffs said, had become worldwide, and men of every race and every color were joining the ranks. HUNDRED OF THEM MORE THAN NINETY YEARS OLD

Several Have Left Century Mark Behind and One is 108

Honolulu, Nov. 26.—If Ponce de Leon had gone another way in his quest for the fountain of youth and landed upon West Hawaii there can be little doubt as to what he would have done, according to Chief Henry O'Sullivan, of the territorial office, who finds that in one small district there are more than 100 natives more than ninety years of age, several who are past the century mark and one who has lived in the same house for upon the same parcel of land for 108 years.

Mr. O'Sullivan became interested over his official returns and made a personal visit to the section to verify them, and he says that they are all correct, so far as age is concerned. All these aged persons, he says, are pure blooded Hawaiians, who have lived pastoral lives, have seen little or anything of civilization and know not the vices of the white man. Most of them, however, are ardent and continuous smokers and use gin whenever it is around.

Reform Chinese Currency

Peking, Nov. 26.—Dr. W. R. West, of Davis, Utah, East India, is to be appointed advisor to the Chinese government for the reform of the currency.

PIERROT TROUPE AGAIN PROVE FINE ENTERTAINERS

The entertainment last evening in the theatre's Institute by the Pierrot Troupe from the steamer Empress of Ireland was first class in every particular. The performers showed splendid ability and the vaudeville was of a high order. The large auditorium was crowded and every one present seemed to enjoy every minute of the performance. The singing was good. H. Tunstall was pleasing in the sketch by Terry and Laycock, and kept the audience in good humor.

The entertainment was in two parts and the programme was as follows: Opening chorus by the troupe; song (Thora), W. Roberts; humorous song (Peter Bag Cook), J. L. Jones; song (Come Back to Me), A. Grey; chorus song (I Want to Be with You), T. Sanderson; song (Ragtime Violin), H. Tunstall; song (Two Eyes of Grey), C. Lewis; humorous song (Solitaire Farwell), Messrs. Grey, Lewis, Tunstall and Terry; grand vaudeville entertainment by Messrs. Jones, Laycock, Tunstall, Kennedy, Sanderson and Terry; God Save the King.

SOME CLASS 'RH' BLUE LINE CIGARETTES

"What's this?" said the editor. "Mr. Longlow is lying at death's door." Make that read "lying".

"What?" exclaimed the reporter in surprise. "It's not correct."

"No," replied the editor, "but it's better to make a grammatical error than of feed Longlow's relatives. His reputation for veracity is notoriously bad."

TRIOUBLED WITH KIDNEYS COULD NOT SWEEP FLOOR.

It is hard for a woman to look after her household duties when she is suffering from a weak and aching back, for no woman can be strong and well when the kidneys are out of order.

The weak, lame and aching back comes from sick kidneys and should be attended to at once so as to avoid years of suffering from the kidney trouble which is sure to follow if the back is neglected.

On the first sign of a pain in the back, Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken. They go right to the seat of the trouble.

Mrs. Joseph Throop, Upper Pointe Du Lac, N.B., writes:—"I cannot speak too well of Doan's Kidney Pills. For two years I was so tired, I was a burden and I got up more tired than when I went to bed, and my back was so lame I could hardly straighten up. I took different kinds of medicine, but none of them did me any good until a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I did so and to-day I don't know what it is to be tired and my lame back is all gone. I can recommend them to any person suffering with lame back and that terrible tired feeling."

Three Day Cure For Drink Habit

The Neal Home Treatment Gives Perfect Relief From Drink Craving NO INJURY TO HEALTH

CURED OF THE MORBID CRAVING for strong liquor in three days and forever freed from bondage—this is the marvelous work now being performed by The Neal Method.

This safe and effective remedy that affords suffering humanity this wonderful aid was first employed several years ago.

Since then many hopeless human wrecks have been returned, clean men, to their families and have become useful and enterprising citizens by its aid. Year by year, also, the remedies employed have been improved upon, making the treatment even more effective, and absolutely safe. Sociologists long since realized that the spirituous liquor habit was rapidly gaining a fearful headway in Canada, particularly among young men, thereby robbing the country of untold millions of wealth yearly and that unless some radical method to check the evil could be discovered, the ravages of alcohol would soon amount to a national calamity.

The medical profession was appealed to and several so-called cures were placed at the disposal of the public. But in the majority of instances it was soon discovered that those who did not fill the bill. There were too many drawbacks of one kind or another. Several required too long time for the treatment, making it prohibitive to all but men of independent means, men who could afford to remain idle while being "cured." With others the cure was merely a temporary relief to the life-sustaining habit after a short time, every recurrent relapse leaving the victim with reduced vigor, power to fight against the craving. Again, nearly all of them were made too expensive for the average man, and nearly all of them were more or less injurious to the patient's health, frequently resulting in moral diseases.

It was when humanitarians had almost despaired of obtaining relief by medical help that the Neal Method, short, safe and effective, was perfected and offered to the world. Since then the claims of the originator have been demonstrated and proven beyond all doubt so that the treatment stands today pre-eminent and unrivaled in its line. Institutes are being established in the principal cities of the world. St. John branch, 46 Crown street, corner King street east.

Suffered From Boils Constipation And Sick Headache.

There is no more frequent source of illness than that arising from bad blood. When the blood becomes impure the whole system is impure; boils and pimples break out, the bowels become constipated, and the head aches more or less.

Do not neglect to purify the blood on the first appearance of a pimple or boil. Cleanse it thoroughly by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters and thus prevent untold suffering.

Mr. D. M. McBlaine, Niagara Falls, Ont., writes:—"It is with pleasure I testify to the sterling qualities of your Burdock Blood Bitters. After the Boer War, through which I served in the 1st L.I., I suffered from boils, constipation, and sick headaches, and tried many preparations, but got relief from none till I used Burdock Blood Bitters. To say I got relief is to put it mildly. It made me myself again, viz., a man who knows not what it is to be sick, and who has been, and is still, an athlete."

"To anyone in want of purified blood and the resultant all round vigorous health I can conscientiously recommend B.B.B." Get the 3 B's. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
