

SMASH RUBRICS OF IN THE WAY OF CHURCH UNITY

"Co-operation More Essential Than Ancient Rules"

REV. MR. SHATFORD

Montreal Clergyman's Views on Present Day Question - He Would Like to Welcome Missionary Leader to His Pulpit

(Montreal Herald) "I do not believe any rubric of the prayer book will be violated if we admit members of other churches to occasional communion in the Church of England, but, if they were, I would be willing to smash a rubric or two to give a place at the Lord's Table to some needy soul. These rubrics are very odd. Are we not big and brave enough to make our own laws, to decide, for instance, such matters as how long a cassock will be or how short a surplice? "I don't know, and I don't care, to what religious faith John R. Mott belongs, but I had permission to ask him to come to my church on his return from China and India and tell of the great work he is doing there. If Jesus were here He would recognize these other men, and what He would do surely I am not afraid to do. "It would seem that the heart of Christ Himself would be broken by the pathos of our unreasonableness in maintaining in small and scattered communities our own country ties or six weak churches where one would serve the people. "We should unite so that we can build up a national Christianity. There is a Latin Christianity, we know what that is a Scotch Christianity, and thank God for it; an English Christianity, which finds expression in the Church of England, but we have no Canadian Christianity to give to our world our own character in the essentials of solid truth. "His voice vibrating with earnestness and speaking with such emotion that the closing benediction was scarcely audible, the pastor of St. James' the Apostle, made a plea for church unity last evening which deeply stirred his congregation. "As he preached the gospel of tolerance and of a universal brotherhood his hearers sat spellbound, and at the close they seemed loath to go, but gathered in little groups discussing the pastor's message and the evident feeling that he put into it. "A reporter sat beside an elderly couple, evidently strangers to the church, and probably of some other denomination. As the speaker laid down his belief that the lack of confirmation was no bar to the occasional communion of strangers with the Church of England, a significant look passed between the couple and the look man's hand rested lightly for a moment upon that of his companion as much as to say: "Here we are welcome to matter how unfriendly the rest of the world may be. "Names a Sacrilege "In beginning Rev. Mr. Shatford said one of the saddest things he had ever read was the list of religious bodies in Canada, seventy-nine in number, including the larger denominations and ending up with a few Homeless, Holy Rollers and all the other names which were almost a sacrilege. "There has been much talk of union," he said, "but these bodies are engaged in uncharitable undertakings, one against the other seeking to proselytize Christians. While all the time professing love for Jesus and to see such a fuss made over the turning of one leaf in the Christian into another kind while there are still a thousand million heathens left in the world. "Rev. Mr. Shatford spoke of the necessity of unity from three standpoints - the economic, the social and the national. The economic need was for the present the prevention of overlapping both in the foreign field and in our own country, the social need was to meet the fact that outside organizations had to carry on the salvage work of the church and that education was non-religious if not irreligious.

Loyal to Church

Speaking of the movement in the Church of England and the now famous circular sent out by himself as secretary the speaker said he was loyal to the principle of a historic episcopate and the importance of confirmation but that no man was narrow or stupid enough to believe that a preacher not ordained by a bishop was not a minister of Jesus Christ. "I will state my ministry from the Church of England never did refuse the communion to an outsider simply because he was not confirmed. Easter tide and at Christmas there are 800 communicants at our table and who am I that I am to deny if I see a Presbyterian or a Methodist approaching the altar to say, 'Go back, go back.' This is the Lord's table and not the Church of England's. "What can we Anglicans do to help church unity?" concluded the speaker. "We can forget our arrogance, our bigotry and our sinful pride and join with other churches, realizing that the unity is greater than our differences in order that the motto of the Lutheran Missionary Movement may be an accomplished fact, 'The world for Christ in this generation.'"

WATERLOO STREET CHURCH

The annual meeting of the Waterloo street Baptist church was held last night and was largely attended. Reports were received from the various officers and all were encouraging. The report of the treasurer showed that the church is at present in a splendid financial condition and that besides defraying expenses, the collections from the various sources were sufficient to leave a large credit balance. A pleasing feature of the evening was an address by James Patterson on being re-elected for the twenty-first time as treasurer of the church. Rev. F. H. Wentworth, the pastor, presided at the meeting. The members appointed on the advisory board were as follows: James Patterson, chairman; Thomas Robinson, E. Duval, M. Galey, Jacob Smith, W. Fenwick, G. Willagher, Rev. A. F. Newcomb, John Connell, F. Wright, Thomas Graham, W. Kiernan, G. Lewis, C. Hamilton and George Earle. At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served, and speaking enjoyed.

OLD SORE HEALED IN SIX DAYS

Nearly Impossible to Heal Skin, Badly Hurt, Sore, Red and Inflamed. Could Not Sleep, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed. "Bosman River, Manitoba. - "When I was fifteen years of age I got my skin badly hurt and when healed the skin was attached to the bone. The least breeze would inflame it and it was nearly impossible to heal. The sore would be very red and inflamed round the edges and had a burning sensation. When extra sore I could not sleep at night on account of the pain. I saw the advertisement offering a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a sample and purchased some more and in six days the sore was healed completely." DRUGGIST RECOMMENDS

Vinyl For Run-Down People If any one person should know the value of medicine it is the druggist who dispenses them and from our experience we want to say if people in this vicinity only knew the value of Vinyl, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil), this season of the year, we would not be able to supply the demand. This is because Vinyl is a combination of the two most world-famed tonics, namely, the medicinal curative elements of cod's livers without the oil, iron for the blood. Vinyl tones up the digestive organs, purifies and enriches the blood, promotes beautiful sleep and a normal appetite. Old people, delicate children, run-down, overworked and tired women, should try a bottle of Vinyl with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.
