

FINE WEATHER FOR BIG FAIR

Crowd Yesterday About 20,000—Judging Continues—Cases Treated at the Ambulance Booth.

Ideal September weather attracted another big crowd to the St. John exhibition yesterday. While the throng was not quite so large as that which attended on Labor Day it is estimated that at least 20,000 people passed through the gates during the day. Everything went off in good fashion and no trouble marred the proceedings. Both city detectives and liquor inspectors who were on the job said last night that everything was as it should have been and they had no reports of any infractions of the various laws.

The judging of Ayrshires, shorthorns, sheep, swine and flowers was carried out and there was a killing and plucking demonstration staged in the poultry section. Several classes in the dog show were also judged. The fashion show, the band concerts in the open air and the free acts in front of the grandstand all drew big crowds. The grandstand was packed both afternoon and evening.

The fireworks last night were about the same as on Labor Day but the more suitable weather gave them much better effect. Particularly of interest were representations of Niagara Falls, the battle of flowers and a picture of the Prince of Wales.

A Painful Accident.

Eighteen cases were treated at the booth of the St. John Ambulance Association by members of the V. A. D. The most serious was that of a young chap from the Boy's Industrial Home who was gored by an infuriated boar while the animal was being led from the pens to the judging ring. A nasty flesh wound in the leg just below the knee was the result and there was considerable bleeding. After the bandaging, the youth rested for an hour or so before he was driven home. The other cases were chiefly of minor cuts and infected old wounds. There was one case of material in the eye.

Playgrounds Work.

Nearly two-thirds of the articles made by the children in the public playgrounds and offered for sale had been disposed of last night. Great interest was manifested in the exhibits and praise of the work of the children was heard on all sides. Miss Heffer, who is in charge, takes this as an indication of general encouragement from the general public.

The Band Concerts.

The City Cornet Band, under the direction of Bandmaster Frank Waddington, gave two delightful concerts in the main building, one at 5 p. m. and the other at 9 p. m. Music for the free acts in front of the grandstand, both afternoon and evening, was rendered by the 62nd Battalion Band with Milton Perkins welding the baton.

The Poultry Show.

One of the principal centres of interest yesterday was the poultry show. Here the monotonous sameness of their upon tier of crates each containing bird specimens which has marked previous arrangements of this branch of the fall show, has been varied with good effect.

This department has been moved to the ground floor of the agricultural hall, which gives better scope for display than in former years. The place is brighter and there is much more floor space. Around the walls are placed the crates containing the show birds, while in the middle of the floor are several pens of newly-hatched chicks, incubators in operation, and exhibits of wild ducks and geese as well as birds from Rockwood Park.

Yesterday afternoon, J. G. Morgan, of Ottawa, an official in the experimental farm branch of the dominion department of agriculture, gave a fine demonstration of killing and plucking. Not only was the method adopted one in which the work was carried out with ease and a minimum of suffering to the bird, but in an incredibly short space of time the bird was stripped of its feathers without a drop of blood showing on the outside of its body.

No Deceptions.

Mr. Morgan, after slinging the bird up by its feet, placed a small knife in the roof of its mouth, severing an artery. This bled the fowl freely. A turn of the knife pierced the brain and allowed the feathers to come away easily. All the blood passed out through the beak and into a can hung under the bird. He explained that fowl in upper Canada were now being marketed without being decapitated or drawn, as it was through

FARMER'S WIFE REGAINS HEALTH

Gives Credit to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fork River, Manitoba.—"I saw in the newspapers where Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing so much good to women, and as I needed something I began to take it. I used to be very sick but I am not now. I live on a farm in the home-stead district and we have to do all our own work. I tell all the women I see what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound does for me. I think it saves me from going to a doctor and is the best medicine women can take."—Mrs. Wm. Couvras, Fork River, Manitoba.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for the ailments peculiar to women. It is prepared from medicinal plants, with care and accuracy. It can be taken by women of any age.

Women make a serious mistake in allowing themselves to become so weak and nervous that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

Such symptoms as pains and irregularities, all-gone feelings, backache, headache, hot flashes, nervousness, with a general run-down condition, indicate some form of female trouble.

The Vegetable Compound has brought relief to thousands of women suffering from such ailments. Let it help you.

GIRLS! LEMONS WHITEN SKIN AND BLEACH FRECKLES

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin. Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

A GASOLINE RECORD.

12,229,975 Barrels Was the Output for May of This Year.

New York, Sept. 6.—The greatest production of gasoline in the history of the oil industry occurred in May of this year, according to data compiled by the American Petroleum Institute and submitted to the Senate Committee on Manufactures, which is investigating the industry. The output was 12,229,975 barrels of forty-two gallons each. The highest previous production was in September, 1920, when 10,506,898 barrels were produced.

In spite of the unprecedented production, however, the amount of gasoline available in refinery storage on May 1 of this year was said to be only 82 gallons for each of the 10,500,000 automobiles registered on Jan. 1, as against an average of 87 gallons for each of the automobiles registered for the years 1918 to 1921.

Although the demand for gasoline varies more than 100 per cent. between seasons of maximum and minimum consumption, it is necessary for the oil refineries to operate on practically a uniform basis throughout the year. Otherwise it would be impossible for the industry to accumulate sufficient stock to meet the peak demand, the committee has been told.

SLAYER "FINDS" BODY AND GIVES WORD TO POLICE

Contractor Later Confesses to Shooting, but Says He Did it in Self-Defence.

New York, Sept. 6.—After shooting a man through the head and killing him on a lonely road on Staten Island, Charles Maki, 32, a prosperous builder and contractor, went home to his family at 5 Purdy Place, New York, and later he telephoned the police that he had seen the body of a man at Purdy Place and Martin avenue, but did not say that the man had been shot.

Detective Sergeant George Detroit found the body of Yelma Ralio, a boss mason, of 121 West Wood avenue, Port Richmond, lying in some bushes just off the road. He had been shot through the right temple with a bullet from a .22 calibre revolver. His clothing and the ground around his body showed signs of a struggle. There was nobody in the vicinity, but the footprints of another man were found.

When Maki telephoned to the police he gave his name and address. Police went to the house and found Maki alone, sitting at the table in his dining room. At first he denied knowing anything about the manner in which Ralio had come to his death, but his clothing was torn, matted and dirty, giving evidence of a struggle, and he finally confessed that he did the shooting. He gave up a .22 calibre revolver he still had in his pocket.

Insisting that he had shot in self-defence, Maki told the following story: He and Ralio were both married, with children. For some reason, which he did not make clear to the police, there had been a smouldering feud of long standing between the two families. This came to a head two months ago when Vincent Carmino's house at 9 Purdy Place burned down. Carmino is Maki's brother-in-law. Maki had accused Ralio of setting fire to the house, and the latter had resented the charge.

According to Maki, he received many reports that Ralio had bought a revolver and was threatening to kill him. He said that on Saturday afternoon he had learned that Ralio was looking for him and had told everybody he met that he was going to shoot Maki.

Mr. and Mrs. Maki entertained some friends at a party on Saturday night.

Cocoonut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain Mulsified cocoonut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten your hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

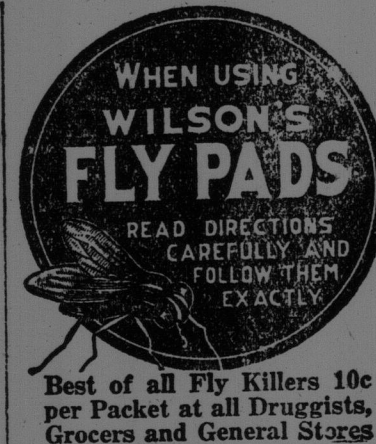

You can get Mulsified cocoonut oil shampoo at all drug stores. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure you get Mulsified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

Maki took some of the unescorted women to their homes about midnight and was returning through Purdy Place, he said, when he met Ralio. According to Maki, he and Ralio began quarrelling about the fire and in a few minutes they were engaged in a fist fight. After fighting for some minutes, Maki said, his opponent forced him back step by step across the road until he got him on the uneven ground of the adjoining field.

In the field, according to Maki, he lost his footing, fell and Ralio threw himself on him. Ralio then seized him by the throat, Maki said, and began choking him so that Maki believed he was going to choke him to death. It was then, according to Maki, that he drew his revolver and shot his opponent in the head.

Maki said that he jumped up and ran away in the belief that Ralio had merely been wounded. He went home and waited, thinking that if Ralio did not have a revolver in his pocket, he would go home and get one, and then go to Maki's home to continue a fight. According to Maki he expected that he and Ralio would then fight a duel. After waiting until about 6 o'clock, Maki said, he went back to the scene of the quarrel, and found that Ralio was dead. Then, not knowing what to do, he notified the police that he had found a body.

Maki was arraigned before Magistrate

William Croak on the charge of murder in the first degree and was committed without bail, to the Richmond County jail for a hearing.
