CONVENTION OF GOVERNMENT FORCES AT WOODSTOCK LAST NIGHT ONE OF THE GREATEST EVER HELD IN CARLETON CO.

Mayor W. Sutton Nominated.

He desired to move the nomination of one of the most illustrous sons that Woodstock had ever produced, a big man who was fit for a big job and would make an admirable colleague for Hon. B. Frank Smith in the Legislative Assembly at Fredericton. He referred to Mayor W. S. Sutton.

The nomination was seconded by Dr. W. H. Peppers, of Hartland, and was carried with great enthusiasm.

Mayor Sutton, in the course of a few well chosen remarks, expressed his appreciation to the convention for the trust and confidence reposed in him. He would endeavor to do his utmost to look after the interests of the county of Carleton. He was proud to be associated with a man of the integrity and ability of Hon. Mr. Smith and he would ask all the friends of the government party to work for his colleague and himself to bring about a magnificent victory on September 21st.

Hon. B. Frank Smith.

The Minister of Public Works on rising to address the meeting was tendered an ovation by the large audience. The cheering continued for some minutes while frequently during his eloquent and forcible address he was interrupted by outbursts of applause.

Hon. Mr. Smith spoke in part as follows:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:—It would be unnatural if I were not moved with feelings of deep appreciation at the very warm greeting which you extend to me as I make my first appearance before you since I have taken a seat in the New Brunswick Government.

In looking down over the very large and enthusiastic audience who have responded from all the different parts of this country to answer the call of this convention, I am led to believe that the stories which have been so assiduously circulated by the opposition party throughout this province have found but little place in the hearts of the electors of this county. I realize that in giving to this county the important portfolio of Minister of Public Works that great honor has been conferred upon myself and a tribute has as well been paid to this county and to the section of the Province of New Brunswick which I most particularly represent. I realize also that I am indebted, in a large measure, for this honor to the people of this county who have, on the various occasions I have appealed to them, given me such a large measure of their confidence.

In accepting this position, which brings with it the responsibility of the administration of the largest spending department in the gift of the government, I can assure you that my greatest ambition will be, during my tenure of office, to so administer the affairs that the confidence and respect of the people throughout the province generally will be commended, and that the public services of this province, which come directly under the control of my department, will be so conducted that it will not only prove a great benefit to the urban but to the rural population of our province as well.

Plans For His Department.

Under the control of my department are the roads and bridges, which are of paramount importance to our people and my ambition will be to evolve a policy—not an ill-conceived policy—that will lead to a much better condition, so far as the highways of New Brunswick are concerned. It is my intention, during the next season, to demonstrate in every county in this province, upon the pricipal highways at least, the patrol system, which means that the efficient and responsible men will be given such portions of the roads to look after as they can reasonably do, and who will devote all their time towards the maintenance of highays under their control.

A road construction gang will also be organized in which every county throughout this province will be equipped with such road machinery as is necessary, and will be under the supervision of a competent road builder moving to various sections in each county where repairs are needed.

Time will not permit that I should outline many of the ideas which will be carried into effect and which I am confident will result in a decided improvement to the roads of this province. Under my department also comes the control of the many public buildings—the Provincial Hospital, the maintenance of the Normal School—all these important services will receive the greatest care and attention.

In view of the importance of the portfolio to this county one migat naturally have expected that little opposition would have been offered. However, the gentlemen who control those forces in this county, together with the other workers in that line throughout the province, have seen fit, after much worry and travail, to place two gentlemen in the field in opposition to myself and colleague and, contrary, I believe, to the wishes of a very large majority of the Liberal party in the county of Carleton. This will afford an opportunity to have the issue discussed freely, and the speakers on the government side will endeavor to show how false and misleading are the arguments which have been the stock-in-trade of the opposition party for the last two years. We also propose to dwell in a considerable degree upon the advanced legislation which has been enacted since their party came into power in 1908.

True, it is, that some mistakes may have been made which is only natural to humanity. The campaign which we shall conduct I trust will be free from corrupt methods, free from slander and abuse—as I believe that these have been indulged in too much in the past—and I desire to say to my followers here tonight and to the gentlemen who are fighting my battles and supporting the government in this contest as I said to you in my last election, "let it be a campaign free from any corrupt methods that we may have a fair expression of opinion." In this connection I desire to place before the convention a communication which was handed to me on my arrival here today:

Hartland, N. B., Aug. 30.

HON. B. F. SMITH,
Minister of Public Works, East Florenceville:—

Dear Sir,—The undersigned, having been chosen candidates for the opposition party in the approaching by-election, propose to you as Minister of Public Works in the Government seeking re-election and through you to your colleague, that a mutual agreement and arrangement shall be made between the two parties that the election shall be conducted without the use of money or liquor to influence the electors.

We sincerely hope that, particularly at this present time when men and women of this country are making supreme sacrifices for Canada and the Empire, higher ideals may prevail in your political life and that we can agree there shall be no corrupt practices in this election in Carleton county. If you are agreeable to our proposal, we will be glad to send you the names of a committee of three supporters of the opposition party by Monday, 4th, who will confer with your committee.

Yours truly,
A. D. McCAIN,
G. R. UPHAM.

In dealing with this matter I desire to say that I am expressing my personal views as I have not consulted members of our party with reference to it.

An Admission of Grits' Unclean Past.

In the face of it, it would seem to be an admission that in the past the Liberal party in this county have indulged in corrupt practices, have used rum and money in order to obtain success at the polls. I do not say that either party has been absolutely clean in this regard, but I am convinced, Mr. Chairman, that I should be trifling with virtues which ought to be sacred to us to sit down and make an agreement with the gentlemen who are leading the opposition forces in this county today and in this province. Yea, I should be equally as guilty as they. All that it is necessary for them to do on this occasion is to run a clean election and I would defy them to place their finger upon one single act of mine, or of those who are active in my interests, to show that anything of a corrupt nature has been done. The last contest I engaged in in this constituency I asked my supporters as I asked you tonight to run a clean straightforward contest and I believe my request was complied with, at least I have never heard one single complaint from my opponents with reference to corrupted methods being used.

In this communication, however, to which I have just referred you, and which is signed by Mr. George W. Upham and Mr. Andrew McCain, they are asking that this contest shall be a clean one. I am forcibly reminded of the first election contest at which Mr. Upham was a candidate in this county. At that time Mr. Upham or his party made the same request, and our party, or at least a committee representing them, sat down with him and his committee and entered into the arrangement. I refer to the by-election at which Mr. Upham and William J. Owens were the candidates. It is common knowledge that Mr. Upham and his party openly and grossly violated that agreement after having entered into it. I should consider myself, as I said before, trifling with this great question if I were to sit down and deal with such men, knowing that such an agreement could only be violated by them. It is much the same as though some desperado has run amuck through his native town, pillaged houses, ravaged homes and then barricades himself in an empty barn and says to the people, "I am now prepared to make peace." The question of purity in political life is one that cannot be tampered with. It is not a surface work, but one from within. I would suggest as one step which will go far towards making politics cleaner and governments purer, that the press of our country should be more free and independent, that its pages each day could not be decorated with articles of slander and abuse, vilifying the men who are in public life.

It is true that we all have our faults but I trust that we have some virtues as well, and I think we should all hail with delight the day when we shall look upon the virtues of men to some extent, at least, without dwelling upon their faults.

I realize, gentlemen, that on the platform with me tonight are two other members of the government, Hon. Mr. Murray, Minister of Agriculture, and Hon. Dr. Landry, Provincial Secretary. I want that these men shall have time to give expression to their views. I need hardly say that I am extremely gratified at the choice of the convention tonight and the selection of His Worship Mayor Sutton as my colleague in this contest means, in my judgment, that the confidence and hearty support of the people of this county is assured. I desire to say that in this contest I should like the people to keep in mind that Mayor Sutton and myself are fighting this battle together and I desire to stand or fall with my colleague. My time will be fully occupied in connection with the campaign and I will make it a point to visit you as much as possible. I feel, however, that I can leave the matter in your hands with entire confidence.

G. L. White, M.L.A., of Centreville, spoke briefly asking the electors to roll up for Hon. Mr. Smith and his colleague the most handsome majority that had ever been given to candidates of any political party in Carleton county.

Hon. Mr. Flemming.

Cheers after cheers greeted Hon. Mr. Flemming when he was called upon by Chairman Hayward. Hon. Mr. Flemming said he was glad to say that his health which had been so seriously impaired had been partially recovered and that he was improving daily. He was most grateful for the reception they had tendered him. For several months he had been confined to his house fighting for his life, and it was only reasonable to expect that the opposition would leave him alone and not slander him for the time being, at least, but when he was in New York he was subjected to the most slanderous campaign of misrepresentation ever launched against a public man in this country. At that time he was fighting for his life, but Mr. Carvell had seen fit to abuse him vehemently. The people would find that he would go after the man who was willing to treat him in such a dispicable manner. He proposed to stay in public life and with renewed strength and the assistance of the people of Carleton county Frank B. Carvell would be eliminated from public life.

Same Old Gang—Plus Carter.

As a citizen of Carleton County he was glad to render his assistance to secure the return of Hon. Mr. Smith and his worthy colleague, Mayor Sutton. He felt it was his duty to support the government candidates because no one knew the old gang better than he. In the present election it was the same old gang, plus Carter, and he did not think the first member was worth much, while the second member has been added in order to give some measure of respectability. He defied any one of the old gang to put their hands upon any evidence that he had ever received one cent that he had not earned by honest and prudent administration and hard consistent work.

The opposition would not attempt to assail the crown land timber act of 1913 which had resulted in the magnificent return of $822,000 for a fifteen year renewal as compared with $252,000 received for a renewal of twenty-five years under the old government. That act had also introduced the principle of conservation which was of great advantage to the people of the province.

Central Railway Scandal.

Hon. Mr. Flemming referred to the Central Railway scandal and the fact that $135,000 had been stolen from the railway funds. The leader of the Liberal party had returned to the province several thousands of dollars following the defeat of his party and it was peculiar that although dated before the election that the letter was post marked three days after election day. Concluding, Hon. Mr. Flemming urged the people of Carleton County to demonstrate to the Dominion, by giving a grand majority to both Hon. Mr. Smith and Mayor Sutton, that they did not approve of the tactics of F. B. Carvell.

Hon. Mr. Murray.

Hon. Mr. Murray congratulated the people of Carleton county on receiving the portfolio of minister of public works, and he was sure that in Hon. Mr. Smith the county had produced a man eminently qualified to fill the responsible duties of this position. In Mayor Sutton the convention had chosen a strong candidate, and a man who would make a valued and valuable colleague of the new minister. He rejoiced with thousands of friends throughout the province that kind Providence had restored, in a measure the health of Hon. J. K. Flemming, one of the brightest minds of the province, a man who had done much for the upbuilding of New Brunswick. He felt sure that Mr. Flemming would soon be in a position to deal in a proper way with Frank Carvell and the others who had conducted such a miserable campaign against Mr. Flemming while the ex-premier was fighting for his life.

The magnificent convention has been a revelation to him; it presented a marked contrast to the conventions which the opposition party had been holding throughout the province. After Hon. C. W. Robinson had resigned as leader of the opposition his place was taken by that great apostle of purity, A. B. Copp, who had been acclaimed as the political Moses who was to lead them out of the wilderness. On June 20, 1912 there was a crash, a terrible downfall, resulting in the almost complete obliteration of the opposition party. Following that election the opposition remained leaderless until January, 1915, when C. W. Robinson was selected as leader at a gathering of the faithful held at Fredericton. In January of this year the opposition suffered still another disappointment; Hon. Mr. Robinson again resigned. Since that time the only evidence of the opposition was through the activities of a few hirelings bought with a price and paid for a purpose, which purpose was to slander every member of the government on the slightest suspicion of wrong doing. The government had been charged with all the crimes in the calendar, but proof was sadly lacking to substantiate their charges. The men who now went around the country saying that they would lead New Brunswick out of the darkness into the light were the same old gang of discredited politicians, the cast off timber.

The Potato Gift.

He desired to say a few words in connection with the patriotic gift of the Province of New Brunswick of potatoes to Great Britain and to Belgium. If there was any man who dared to say that he, himself, or any official of his department had made one cent out of this contract he would take the first opportunity to place the matter in the hands of his solicitor with a view to having the courts take action in the matter. The government of New Brunswick had made a magnificent contribution of 40,000 barrels of potatoes to Great Britain and 15,000 to Belgium and the shipments had been landed at their destination at the small cost to the province of $2.18 per barrel. Hon. Mr. Smith did refund $2,400 to the department on account of the shortage in some of the cars furnished by those from whom he had purchased and it was to his credit and not to his discredit that he had done so. The shipment was the finest that had ever left the shores of New Brunswick and the potatoes were distributed among the infirmaries in England and among the starving natives of Belgium.

Hon. Mr. Murray referred to the fact that E. S. Carter, a man whose political sins will yet be revealed in a manner that would not be pleasing to him, was at the head of the moral uplifters who comprised the local opposition, which the St. John Sun in 1909, although a supporter of the Liberal party, had described as buccaneers, parasites, grafters, camp followers and in other equally significant terms. The splendid financial record of the present administration was pointed out by the minister of agriculture and comparisons made with the reckless expenditures and grafting carried out under the old regime. More than a quarter of a million dollars had been collected annually by the present administration in stumpage payments which indicated how the public domain had been plundered by the old gang during their conduct of affairs. Hon. Mr. Murray urged the people of Carleton County to bury the opposition scandal mongers so deep in oblivion that never again will they show their heads in this county.

Hon. Dr. Landry.

Hon. Dr. Landry extended his congratulations to both Hon. Mr. Smith and Mayor Sutton. He voiced the opinion that the electors of Carleton County would not refuse this important portfolio and vote against Mr. Smith and his colleague to satisfy the political ambitions of F. B. Carvell. The government of New Brunswick had been assailed unfairly during the past few years. The opposition had endeavored to make much of the defeat of Hon. Mr. Mahoney in Westmorland County. It was the railway vote in the Parish of Moncton that had swamped Mr. Mahoney, not because of any dissatisfaction with the conduct of affairs under the local government but on account of dissatisfaction with the management by the federal authorities of certain matters in connection with the operation of the Intercolonial shops at Moncton.

High Financing of Tweedie-Pugsley Regime.

Hon. Dr. Landry showed that the Chandler charges were very trifling compared with the wholesale robbery that prevailed under the old government when members used the finances of the province for their own personal advantage. He showed how Tweedie and Pugsley had used the people's money and pointed out that Mr. Tweedie was still indebted to the province to the extent of several thousands of dollars. The total amount involved in the Chandler charges had been $1,351,869, while of that amount the commissioner found that only $525.50 had been unaccounted for. A glance at the auditor general's report for 1903 showed page after page of no account of money sent out to road commissioners for expenditure on the highways of the province. The provincial secretary pointed out that although there had been a vast increase in the volume of work carried on in the various departments that the travelling expenses of members of the executive for the seven years they had been in power were $10,000 less than for a similar period under the old government.

Dr. Landry paid his respects to Frank B. Carvell and said that the tactics he has adopted were a slur on the politics of Carleton County. He expressed his conviction that Mr. Carvell would be relegated to private life should he have the courage to face Hon. Mr. Flemming at the next federal contest.

The singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close.

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent In One Week's Time In Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was mentioned, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Wasson Drug Co. Saint St.

STRIKE CAN BE AVERTED ONLY BY CONGRESS

"But here is where I stand. For years my men have trusted me. When I stood before the president the other night, and he asked me if this could be done, I found my Gethsemane. To the men who have made me the recipient of all these things, I owe my first obligation.

I can put it off, but if I did without gaining a satisfactory settlement, there would linger in the minds of those who have trusted me thoughts of treachery. If I put it off, across a fair record of thirty years would be written the word "traitor."

For a moment the witness paused and seemed to peer far out over the heads of the crowd. Then tears came into his eyes and rolled down his cheeks. He started to speak, but choked. Apparently summoning all his strength, he threw out his arms, lowered his eyes to the crowd and in a low voice asked: "Can I face it?" And dropped into his chair.

Not a person in the room moved for several seconds. Mr. Garretson relieved the situation by rising from his chair and leaving the chamber.

Hope Strike will Be Averted.

Belief grew in all quarters here tonight that the great railroad strike called for next Monday morning would be averted. At the close of a day of conferences and hearings, Congress apparently was prepared to pass, tomorrow or Saturday, the eight-hour legislation, which heads of the employes brotherhoods have declared officially will cause them to telegraph the code message necessary to revoke the strike order.

Although President Wilson still desires strongly to see his whole legislative programme accepted, and Democratic leaders in the Senate have ideas of their own what should be done, administration spokesmen virtually conceded tonight that the bill, finally passed, would provide only for:

"An eight-hour day for trainmen in inter-state commerce, effective December 1 or January 1, with the present ten-hour rate of pay and pro rata overtime, and, a small commission, appointed by the president, to investigate the working of the law from six to nine months, and report to Congress.

"This, with the date December 1, is, in substance, the Adamson bill, revised by Representative Adamson and Democratic Leader Kitchin, after conferring with President Wilson, and which A. B. Garretson, spokesman for the brotherhoods, stated formally late today would be considered a "satisfactory settlement" and prevent the walkout. Tonight the Senate interstate commerce committee agreed to report out a similar bill, with the date January 1, and roads under 200 miles in length exempted.

Prompt Action Likely.

The House will meet at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning to take up the Adamson measure and the majority leaders have agreed upon a special rule providing for a vote by 4.30 o'clock in the afternoon. The Senate meets at 10 o'clock to begin consideration of its committees' bill, with the administration leaders determined to keep the body in continuous session until it is passed.

Only long speeches in the Senate can prevent prompt action, and the administration is confident that minority Senators will not carry their opposition so far as to make it impossible to get the necessary legislation through both houses by midnight Saturday.

Tablet to be Unveiled Monday.

The bronze tablet to mark the site of the old suspension bridge at the Falls, will be unveiled on Labor Day at 11 a. m., Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, as has already been announced, having complied with the request of the N. B. Historical Society in the matter of placing this interesting memorial.

"Seven Keys to Baldpate."

In "Seven Keys to Baldpate" George M. Cohan has eclipsed his own record. From the opening of the play when Magee, the novelist, starts on a wager to write ten thousand words in twenty-four hours at the "loneliest place in the world," until the finish the audience is alternately surprised, thrilled and convulsed with laughter. The novelist is encompassed by a cyclonic circle of sensational incidents, and throughout the play he is the centre of a gang of plotting politicians, ex-convicts, adventuresses, not forgetting the "Hermit of Baldpate," who has become a recluse because his wife ran away with a drummer. "Seven Keys to Baldpate" will be the opening play of the Klark-Urban Company engagement at the Opera House next Monday afternoon and will be presented for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Monday and Wednesday matinees.
