GAGETOWN PAIR UP FOR BIGAMY

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 2—(Special)—Quite a sensation was created at Gagetown a few days ago by the arrest of an elderly man named James A. Little, on a charge of bigamy. It appears that he was married on August 21st last to a young colored woman named McIntyre, belonging to Otnabog, and as he was known to have another wife living, a complaint was made to the authorities and his arrest followed. It also came out that wife No. 2 had also had a previous matrimonial venture, and as there is a strong suspicion that she has two husbands living, she was also arrested.

The preliminary examination of Little took place at Gagetown yesterday before Justice J. P. Belyea, and resulted in his being committed for trial. Peter J. Hughes, of this city, appeared for the prosecution, and the prisoner was undefended.

The evidence went to show that Little was married to a woman named Clark in 1863, and his wife and a grown-up family are residents of Queens County.

The record of the second marriage with the McIntyre woman was also put in evidence. The preliminary examination of the McIntyre woman will be commenced on Friday.

It is charged that at the time she entered into a matrimonial contract with Little she was the wife of a colored man living at Otnabog.

NO LIKELIHOOD OF LOCAL ELECTIONS

T. C. Allen Early Named, Hon. H. A. McKeown Later as Probable Attorney-General

BUSY DAY IN POLITICS HERE

Local Government in Session—Premier Has Long Consultation With Minister of Public Works—Belief That There Will Be an Early and Brief Session Before Appeal to People.

The politicians were astir Thursday and the general belief among men who are close to those having the decision in such matters was that something decisive resulted from meetings held here. In brief it was believed last night that it had been decided there would be no appeal to the New Brunswick electors by the local government at present, but that the probability was that there would be an early and brief session of the provincial legislature before the general elections.

Another matter much discussed was the selection of a new attorney-general. In the afternoon T. Carleton Allen, of Fredericton, clerk of the supreme court, was most prominently named and many believed he had been offered and might accept. Later the name of Hon. W. P. Jones, the present solicitor-general, came up prominently, but Thursday evening, after a session of the government and after the premier and minister of public works had held a long conference in the Royal hotel, the report was equally strong to the effect that Hon. H. A. McKeown would re-enter the government as the new attorney-general.

Premier Robinson, Hon. Messrs. LaBillois, Ferris, Sweeney, Jones and Barnes were all here for the meetings. There was an afternoon meeting and the session at night lasted till nearly midnight. It was announced that at the evening session the vote for the New Brunswick Tourist Association was passed and the time was taken up with matters relative to crown lands.

Premier Robinson, when asked if it had been decided to call on the electors or have another session, replied that he had nothing to say.

When asked in the early evening if it were true Mr. Allen was to be attorney-general, he also said he had nothing to say. Later he was asked if it had not been decided to call Hon. Mr. McKeown to be attorney-general. To this the premier replied that it had not been so decided. There were, he said, several names mentioned—Judge J. H. Barry, of Fredericton; T. C. Allen, of Fredericton; R. A. Lawlor, of Chatham; Hon. H. A. McKeown, of St. John; Hon. C. N. Skinner, of St. John, and Hon. W. P. Jones.

The premier was asked if these were all claimants, and answered that he could not say, but all had friends and were all exceedingly good men.

BELL TELEPHONE CO. DROPS THIRTY YEARS MONOPOLY

In Future Will Sell Its Apparatus and Supplies in the Open Market.

Boston, Oct. 3—An important change in the policy which the Bell Telephone companies have maintained for thirty years, became known today when President Theodore N. Vail, of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company confirmed a report that the Western Electric Company, which manufactures the apparatus used by the Bell companies, would hereafter sell telephones and supplies to all buyers.

Heretofore the Western Company has refused to sell its instruments to independent companies, partly, Mr. Vail said, because the full resources of the Western plant were required to supply the demands of the Bell company. Now that large additions have been completed at the Western company's plant at Chicago, that company is able to take care of outside orders. Owing to the fact that the independent companies have been unable to secure Bell instruments, it has been difficult at times to make good connections between their lines and those of the Bell companies. It is believed that the new arrangement, whereby the Bell instruments will be placed in the open market so that anyone who wishes may buy them, will result in great benefit to the telephone-using public.

WELL PLEASED WITH I. C. R. WORK HERE

Board of Trade Committee Go Over Improvements With Mr. Pottinger

TO DREDGE BERTH AT FLOUR SHED

Facilities for Small Steamers to Load There--Double Main Track From Depot to Jardine's Bridge--Dominion Coal Company's Application for Smythe Street Track.

That the work of improving the terminal railway facilities at this port is proceeding as rapidly as possible was the opinion expressed Thursday by David Pottinger, general manager of the Intercolonial, who, acting on the request of the minister of public works, inspected the work in company with a committee appointed by the local board of trade. Each detail of the improvements was looked into and members of the committee said last evening that everything that was required was being done and that without doubt the congestion would be relieved this winter.

Mr. Pottinger and his assistant, Robert Simpson, arrived in the city at 1 o'clock and were met by the committee, composed of Allan Schofield, G. E. Barbour, J. F. Tilton and W. E. Foster, and the plans were talked over. About 4 o'clock Mr. Pottinger was joined by Messrs. Barbour, Foster and Schofield, of the committee, and L. R. Ross, terminal superintendent of the I. C. R. The party first visited the flour shed at York Point, where good progress is being made, the foundation being well laid. It was decided to dredge one face of the York Point wharf to a depth of twelve or fourteen feet in order that small coasting steamers might dock there at any time irrespective of tide and load flour. This decision was made at the request of captains and owners of the steamers and members of parliament. This dredging will be done as soon as can be. As before announced, the western side of the Long wharf will be dredged to a depth of thirty feet.

The inspection party also watched the rebuilding of shed No. 3 in Pond street, which will be complete in three or four weeks.

Taking a waiting engine, the party then went out as far as Forest street, where a loading platform is being built. Here there will be accommodation for twenty cars and an unloading track accommodating the same number will be constructed.

The steam heating plant is being removed from its present place to the old stores department and some forty or fifty passenger cars can be kept there always heated.

Another important addition is the laying of another main line from the depot to Jardine's bridge. This will allow incoming and outgoing trains to proceed without the delays which have occurred. The corner of Gilbert's Island is being blasted off and four or five new sidings will be placed there. The C. P. R. wash plant has been removed to the new roundhouse.

Two ballasting trains are at work continually and about 100 men are employed on the improvement of the facilities.

Mr. Pottinger said he was perfectly satisfied with the progress of the work. The scarcity of labor had proved a handicap at first but this was being overcome. A tremendous amount of work was under way, but he hoped to see all finished in time for the winter's rush. Mr. Pottinger was asked regarding the request of Alexander Dick, of the Dominion Coal Company, that a spur be run into Smythe street to accommodate the company, and to this he said: "There is nothing new to that."

Mr. Pottinger returned to Moncton on the 7 o'clock train.

W. E. Foster, speaking for the committee last evening, said: "We feel convinced that the work being accomplished will prevent any such congestion and inconvenience as was experienced last year. The improvements are costing $50,000 and will mean a lot to St. John. We feel very grateful to Hon. Mr. Pugsley, as it is largely through his efforts that the work is being pushed, and we have to thank him altogether for Mr. Pottinger's visit.

Alexander Dick, sales agent of the Dominion Coal Company, was in the city Thursday, on business. He says that the company is anxious to improve its facilities here. With the plant now installed they feel they could handle more coal than they are now doing and they would like to send through here 150,000 or 200,000 tons more, which is now going to their western customers by way of Portland (Me.)

In connection with this they are desirous to run a track along Smythe street to connect with the I. C. R. Thursday Mr. Dick looked over the ground in company with General Manager Pottinger, of the I. C. R. He also had an interview with Hon. Wm. Pugsley. Nothing definite was decided on, however, as Mr. Dick says it will be necessary to make a formal application to the city. Before he left last night on the 11.25 train he said he would be back in a week or ten days and in the meantime a course of action would be mapped out in the matter.

MAN HURT AT ST. JOHN HAS TOUGH TIME COLLECTING DAMAGES

Ottawa, Oct. 3—Logan vs. Lee was taken up in the Supreme Court this afternoon. The plaintiff, Lee, a longshoreman, residing in Montreal, was engaged by the defendant, Logan, a contracting stevedore, also of Montreal, to act as "walking boss" in loading and unloading ships at the ports of Montreal and St. John (N. B.) While at work on the steamship Evangeline at St. John in December, 1904, plaintiff was in the hold and was injured by a barrel falling upon him through an open hatchway, on account of the fault of one of the men employed on the dock.

In an action taken in the Superior Court, at Montreal, plaintiff got a verdict for $2,835 damages for which defendant was held liable under the laws of the province of Quebec on account of negligence by employes. The court of review affirmed this judgment, Justice Charnonneau dissenting. On this appeal the defendant contends that the relations between the parties are governed by the laws of New Brunswick and that the plaintiff is prevented recovering damages under the common law rule as to common employment as the injuries were caused by the fault of a fellow servant.
