BAY ROBERTS, FRIDAY, AUG. 23, 1914.

"Me and Gott"

The Kaiser is dragging God's name into the present war with the familiarity which is his wont, saying in effect that his heavenly ally will help him conquer the godless Russ and the rest of us.

This war is a war of defence against the aggressiveness of the Teuton; and every shot fired at Germany and Austria is aimed against the survival of a past filled with successive stages of tyranny and brigandage, and for the better fulfilment of human liberty and progress, with universal peace the future goal.

Britain, France, Russia and the other nations now armed against Teutonic brigandage represent the FUTURE.

If Germany and Austria are victors, Europe will be for an indefinite term under the heel of tyranny.

Are we to retreat into the past, or press toward a better future? Speaking from a coldly practical standpoint France and Britain delayed too long before they stepped into the tremendous conflict; but these two great nations, so long the leaders of the cause of justice, liberty and progress, will emerge with every honor, for in their long delay the world has fully realized that they are the aggressed and not the aggressors.

Enlisting Volunteers

The Patriotic Committee, organized in St. John's recently, with Governor Davidson as its chairman, is now calling for 500 volunteers for service abroad. All ready a number of ex-Brigades men and others have volunteered.

The Magistrates in the outports have been asked to call public meetings for the purpose of taking some definite action in reference to recruiting. The time is a serious one for the world as well as the British Empire, and our homes and all we possess are jeopardized, to a certain extent.

The war to be waged will no doubt outlive any war in the history of the world in the number of men engaged, the nations involved, the number of dead and wounded and the awful sufferings and losses that are bound to follow in its train.

The Mother Country, which has been standing the burden and expense of our protection and safety as well as her own, is now calling upon her Dominions and her Colonies to come to her aid in the battle she is waging on behalf of Right and Freedom against Militarism and Despotism.

Let us therefore be prepared to follow the example of Canada and the Motherland and put aside for the time being at least all party strife and differences, and combine to do everything in our power to strengthen the hands of Old England in her present fight.

We in Newfoundland know very little about the ravages of war, never having actually experienced them. All these years our homes and families have received protection from Britain's bulwarks at no cost to ourselves. The people of the British Isles have borne the expense and have freely given of their best manhood.

Shall we then, those of us who are able, not hear the call to Duty and buckle on the armor in defence of the glorious traditions and principles of the British Empire. And those of us who may not be able to volunteer for foreign service, could we not assemble ourselves together and form ourselves into a corps and be trained in the art of gunnery and drill so that, if necessary, we may be able to defend our hearts and homes?

Opportunity

The following appeared in the last issue of the Orange Sentinel:

The War

"The shutting off of imports from Continental Europe into Canada, due to the war, gives many home industries an unexampled opportunity for immense and immediate development.

Canada will prosper at the expense of Continental Europe. This is not a time in Canada for repining on the part of the business man. We must be careful, even frugal, but we must also be bold.

Victory is to him who has courage.

May not the same suggestion, to a certain extent, be applied to Newfoundland.

Wedding Bells

On Wednesday, Aug. 19th, at 9:30 a.m. at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Coley's Point, the marriage of George Bishop, St. John's, to Mildred Lillian, daughter of Robert and Rebecca Dawe, of Coley's Point, was solemnized. The bride was dressed in white liberty satin and carried a bouquet of carnations, white roses and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Russell and Mrs. R. Parsons, sister of the bride. Both were dressed in cream with black picture hats. The flower girls were Misses Hilda Norman and Totie Parsons, who carried very pretty baskets of flowers. The groom was attended by Mr. S. Russell.

The groom's present to the bride was a gold ring, set in pearls and rubies. To the bridesmaids gold stick pins; to the flower girls silver stick pins; and to the organist piece of gold (half sovereign).

The bridal party entered the church while Hymn 281, 'Lead us, Heavenly Father,' was being sung, the bride being supported by Mr. James Norman, who gave the bride away. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. L. Pike, and to say the least, the service was taken by him in a very beautiful and impressive manner. As the bridal party were leaving the church, the wedding march was played by the organist, Mrs. S. Russell.

The whole party then drove to the residence of the bride's parents where a reception was held, followed by a wedding breakfast, after which the following toasts were proposed and drunk:

1. 'The Bride.' Prop. Rev. H. L. Pike; responded by Groom.
2. 'The Bridesmaids.' Prop. by the Groom; resp. by Mr. S. Russell.
3. 'Our Hosts and Hostess.' Prop. by Mr. S. Russell; resp. by Mr. J. Norman.
4. 'The Flower Girls.' Prop. by Mr. J. Norman; resp. by Rev. H. L. Pike.

At 2:30 p.m. the whole party of guests accompanied the bride and groom to Bripus, after which the guests returned home.

The gold watch advertised in last week's Guardian as lost, has been found by Miss Lizzie Snow and returned to its owner.

Captain Roberts, S. A., desires to thank the Sunday School workers for their aid in helping to make the Picnic a success. Also the public, who sent donations, candies, peanuts, etc.

"For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?" This is the subject for next Sunday night at the Adventist Church. Both timely and interesting. Come and hear. Service at 7 o'clock.

Several communications have been late in reaching us this week, and in consequence of this and lack of space we have to hold over some interesting news until next issue. We wonder if our readers would help us secure a typesetting machine which would enable us to produce a better newspaper.

The Liquor Traffic

At Central Methodist Church on Sunday evening Rev. W. Grimes dealt with 'The Liquor Traffic.' The text was Dan. 5, 27, 'Thou art weighed in the balances and found wanting.'

He showed how inconsistent it was with the goal of Christian civilization, which stood for a safer, happier, better world. Inconsistent, yet men defend it on the plea of personal liberty. But individual liberty is curtailed by the rights of others. No one is conceded the right to suicide, become criminal, or aid the enemy in war. Liberty to do wrong is not liberty, but license. It furnishes revenue, but costs far more than it supplies.

From the testimony of such men as General Booth, Archbishop Ireland and others, he showed how the traffic is responsible for from three-fourths to nine-tenths of the crime and poverty, one-fourth of the insanity and much of the slum conditions of populous cities. In the United States the various temperance societies are aiming at National Prohibition in 1920. The advice of Earl Kitchener to the British soldiers in Belgium, showed how the tide is setting. The Church should show uncompromising hostility to the traffic if it is to save itself and the people.

Mrs. C. E. Russell, who was seriously ill, is now improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Prendergast and Mr. and Mrs. Whitman, who were visiting Bay Roberts, returned to Canso, N. S., by Tuesday's express.

Mr. Robert French, son of the late Henry Thomas and Emma French, arrived here from Boston, Mass., on Tuesday, Aug. 18th. During his absence from Newfoundland he has travelled through nearly all the United States and Canada.

Rev. A. B. S. and Mrs. Stirling and four children, who have been visiting Mrs. Stirling's parents here, will leave for their home at Twillingate to-morrow (Saturday). They have spent a very pleasant holiday.

Mrs. Mary Russell celebrated her 80th birthday on Sunday last. A large number of congratulatory messages were received by her from friends in Toronto and other places. The pleasure thus given was somewhat marred by a fall on Wednesday afternoon.

We agree with the Mail and Advocate when it says that the Supreme Court on Circuit, Gazetted to sit in the Northern District in September, October and November, should be cancelled, provided that by so doing no unnecessary hardship to anyone who might have important cases to be heard would be inflicted. This could easily and readily be ascertained and action taken accordingly.
