CHICAGO, Nov. 3.

A little boom in wheat took place today which, although showing no very great advance in prices, was held to be an evidence of changing sentiment and the beginning of the long looked for rally. Corn acted independently of wheat. Weakness was the tone all day, receiving emphasis from a prospective heavy movement next week, the large estimate for Monday being taken as a precursor of what was to follow. Oats declined in sympathy with corn. Weakness ruled from the beginning to the end of the session.

Estimated receipts for Monday: Wheat, 130 cars; corn, 235 cars; oats, 115 cars; hogs, 35,000 head.

For next week 170,000 hogs are expected.

Freights—Only a few small lots of grain were offered. They were taken by the line boats at ⅛c to 1c per bu to Buffalo.

There was trouble at the conclusion of the first call. Some of the factorymen, and even other buyers, objected to Mr. Slater placing on the market cheese that he had already bought before the board.

John S. Pearce, the president, ruled that the bylaws were drafted in the interests of the factorymen and the board was not for buyers to use as a medium of selling their cheese after they had bought and stored them for speculation.

Mr. Slater got up and stated that if the ruling was sustained he would not only leave the board immediately but call off all the sales that had been made to him.

As Mr. Slater had bought all the cheese that was sold during the afternoon his statement had some weight and the members voted down the president's ruling.

Mr. Leitch, of Glencoe, then gave notice of motion to reconsider the bylaws next Saturday, when an effort will be made to shut out speculation on the board.

Mr. Slater bought up ten factories, representing 3,560 boxes. The prices paid were 10 1-16c and 10½c.

ODGENSBURG, N. Y.

ODGENSBURG, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Only 52 boxes of cheese offered today, nearly all having contracted for balance of season's makes. None sold; 10c bid. Board adjourned to May, 1895.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"
"I'm going a chestnutting, sir," she said.
"May I go with you, my pretty maid?"
"I prefer the kind in the trees," she said.

—The East Williams Township Council is going to erect a 100-foot bridge over the River Sable where it crosses con. 5.

—Inspector McGugan is asking for tenders for the Strathroy House of Refuge supplies, to be in on Friday, Nov. 16.

—A. Rivard, hatter, assigned this morning. Alf. Robinson is the assignee. The exact assets and liabilities are not known.

—It is at the Aged People's Home where the sewerage is pumped over the ground surface, and not the Protestant Orphans' Home, as stated on Saturday.

—Miss Marie Louise Bailey, the American pianiste, who appears at the Grand Opera House on Tuesday evening with the Symphony Orchestra, arrived in the city today.

—Warden Calvert was in the city on Saturday and gave his consent to the city storing the street sweeper and other civic machines on the south side of the court house square.

—The friends of Mr. Harry Gardner, 83 Briscoe street, will hear with surprise and regret that his wife lies dangerously ill at her home, and that but little hopes are entertained for her recovery.

—About fifteen members of the London Hunt enjoyed a run in a northerly direction from the club house on Saturday afternoon. The hunt was devoid of accident and the afternoon was very agreeable for the sport.

—An interesting game of Rugby football took place on the Asylum grounds Saturday afternoon between the Asylum juniors and Talbot street which resulted in a victory for the Asylum by a score of 11 to 5.

—Mr. Wm. Brown, fireman at the City Hall, had his garden devastated by cattle again on Saturday, and now he offers a bonus of 25 cents a head on all cattle, sheep or pigs impounded between Adelaide and Rectory streets, south of the track. This is in addition to the regular fee of 50 cents allowed for impounding.

—Mr. Ezekial Taminosian, of Antioch, Syria, will give a lecture, assisted by eight young people dressed in Syrian costumes, tonight in London West Methodist Church. The programme will consist of a description of Syrian customs, showing school life, courtships, marriages, songs, etc. Those who attend will enjoy an evening of interest and amusement.

—Sam Wilson, alias Jackson, the colored man who was convicted of breaking into Farmer Stevens' house near Delaware, came before Judge Wm. Elliot today for sentence. Assistant Crown Attorney McKillop asked a further remand for a week, as he had not secured some information concerning the prisoner's doings at Glence four years ago. The remand was granted.

—"I see that the Free Library Board is holding private meetings to let the tenders for the new Free Library building," said a local architect this morning. "I would just like to draw attention to what I believe to be a case of false economy. I understand they are going to slate the roof facing Queen's avenue and Wellington street, and shingle that portion facing the rear. What do you think of that?"

—A small boy got bitten by a bull-dog while trying to separate two canines in a fight on Richmond street, near King, on Saturday night. His hand was badly lacerated. P. C. Robinson took the boy into Dr. Graham's office, and the lad stood the cauterizing without flinching. "Do you make a practice of going around fighting dogs?" the doctor asked. "No, I don't," replied the youth; "but I don't intend to see my dog licked." His name was not learned.

—Henry Vincent, of this city, who was arrested in Lucan on Friday on a charge of stealing three photographs from Frank Quigley, was brought before Judge Wm. Elliot this morning. He pleaded not guilty and elected trial by judge. Mr. McKillop, representing the crown, stated that Vincent had gone to Quigley's photograph gallery and, seeing pictures of his two cousins, took them and another one also. Vincent, however, was slightly under the influence of liquor at the time and as the articles taken were valueless the crown had decided to offer no evidence. The case was dismissed.

—The Toronto Telegram says the air is full of rumors just now regarding changes in the permanent corps. The latest is that two new positions are to be created. The first will be inspector of cavalry for the Dominion, and will be filled for the first five-year term by Lieut.-Col. Benson, Eleventh Hussars, son of Senator Benson, St. Catharines. The second will be inspector of infantry for the Dominion, and no one will be surprised to hear that Lieut.-Col. Otter is to be the man. The command of Toronto will devolve upon Lieut.-Col. Smith, of London, or Major Buchan. Lieut.-Col. Count D'Orsonnens is to be made D. A. G. at Sherbrooke, and the command at St. Johns be taken by Major Gordon, of Fredericton.

The Fair Balloonist.

Miss Ruby de Veau, of the Grace Shannon Balloon Company, Georgia, who was badly injured while making an evening drop with the parachute at the late Western Fair, was able to walk out yesterday for the second time. She is still confined to the hospital. Miss De Veau has signified her intention to forgo the balloon business in future and remain in this city and study stenograpy.

Mr. Hyman, M.P., Detained.

Ald. Parnell, who has just returned from a visit to the home of his fathers in England, brings the latest news from Mr. Hyman, M.P., from whom he had a letter just as the City of Paris was leaving Southampton. It was Mr. Hyman's intention when he left this city to return from England with his wife and children as soon as he could conveniently move his sick son, who has been dangerously ill at Saint Leonard-on-the-Sea, an English health resort. Mr. Hyman crossed the ocean with Ald. Parnell, and both hoped to be able to return by the same boat, but Mr. Hyman wrote to the alderman on Oct. 25 that, contrary to his expectations, the doctors still refused to give sanction to the removal of his son Charlie across the Atlantic, so weak was he. This has been very disappointing to both Mr. and Mrs. Hyman, as they trusted the change of scene to home might improve the unfortunate lad's conditions. When Ald. Parnell left, Mr. Hyman still hoped to be able to bring his family back to London this month. There will be much sympathy for Mr. and Mrs. Hyman in their affliction.

Symphony Concert Tomorrow Night.

The London Symphony Orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Roselle Pococke, will appear for the first time this season in the Grand Opera House Tuesday evening. The success of the concert seems undoubted, if previous ones are criterions. The plan this time is well taken up, although a few choice seats still remain. Mr. Pococke has secured as an extra attraction the latest successful pianiste, Miss Marie Louise Bailey, whose American debut last week in New York was exceptionally brilliant. All the New York papers commend her performance. The Recorder said:

"A young American pianiste, Miss Marie Louise Bailey, who has been studying with Leschetitzky, selected the difficult D minor Rubinstein concerto for her debut. It was a dangerous experiment, for we have heard all the great pianistes of the day interpret this composition, and a comparison became inevitable, and might have been expected by Miss Bailey when she made this selection. Although young and comparatively fresh from her studies, she acquitted herself with great credit, showing in the concerto that she had imagination, tone, touch, and an enormously developed technique, particularly in the last movement, which was taken at a pace that verged on the dangerous. But Miss Bailey acquitted herself with satisfaction to the public, who demanded an encore. Then she played Liszt's 'Erlkonig.'"

A Hospital Addition.

If the city fathers grant the necessary $16,000, a new building for the use of paying patients will be added to the east side of the City Hospital. At Friday's meeting the Hospital Trust formally accepted the plans of Messrs. Moore & Henry, on condition that the City Council makes the necessary grant. The plan thus provisionally accepted is in the same style of architecture as the western extension, to preserve uniformity. It will be connected with the main building by a corridor and will contain a basement, ground floor, second story and attic. The basement contains the kitchen, storage, cellar, etc. On the ground floor will be six private rooms and the necessary nurses' rooms and serving and waiting rooms. The second story is similarly constructed and has seven private rooms. Both floors have the requisite bath and toilet rooms and the latest ventilating system. An elevator runs from the basement to the attic, and the stairway winds around three sides of it. In the attic is a 21x30 operating room, and the elevator will be utilized for the handling of patients. There is also a large hall in the attic. The heating will be the same as is now in force. The dimensions of the building are about 52x76.

THE JAPS WIN AGAIN.

Chinese Thrashed and a City Captured by the Victors—Quick Work.

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 5.—A dispatch from the front show that there has been heavy fighting in the country just north of Port Arthur. It appears that Field Marshal Oyama divided his forces. While one division landed on the east coast of the peninsula north of Talien Wan, another division was detached with orders to effect a landing near Kinchow and to proceed thence and join the main body of the army.

This plan was a complete success. The Japanese encountered no Chinese warships, and the transports reached Kayenko and disembarked the troops, guns, horses and munitions in safety. Hinchow, which is a walled town and which was believed to be held by a large garrison, was immediately attacked. The outer defenses were carried by the Japanese after a few hour's fighting. The Chinese made little further resistance and the Japanese were soon masters of the situation. In the meantime the Japanese fleet, which had convoyed the transports, opened a heavy fire on Talien Wan and Kayenko. The firing scarcely ceased for many hours. Aided by the fleet, the troops attacked Talien Wan and carried it in brilliant fashion.
