ASQUITH PREPARED TO CRUSH REBELLION

and belief that the new system of government in Ireland would be brought into operation without recourse to armed forces by the crown; but if a statute deliberately enacted by parliament were to be met by organized armed resistance it would clearly be not only the right but the duty of the executive to assert the authority of the law by every appropriate and adequate means." (Loud cheers.)

Mr. Asquith, after referring to some of the extravagant manifestations in Ulster, declared that it was the duty of every man to deal respectfully with the deep-seated and genuine sentiments of the minority, altho he believed their apprehensions to be without foundation. All Liberals and Nationalists, therefore, should spare no effort to eliminate such apprehensions. He had offered to consider any honestly put forward proposals consistent with the scope of the bill. Proposals, however, for the exclusion of Ulster had been avowedly put forward not as a help towards the solution of the problem of Irish self-government but with the most uncompromising declaration that their acceptance would not diminish hostility to the principles of the bill.

Should Unite Ireland.

He would be glad to be authoritatively informed that this was no longer the case. There were two obvious reasons why all patriotic men should desire a settlement by consent. In the first place, there was the supreme importance of the future well-being of Ireland. The new system should not start with the apparent triumph of one section, however preponderant in numbers, nor with the apparent humiliation of another section. He firmly believed that the ties binding Irishmen would prove more durable and effective than their differences, if the unifying process were given a fair chance of success. It was worth paying even a considerable price to secure the absence of ill-will and the possibility of co-operation.

Then the second reason was that whatever was done should be regarded by all parties as resting upon a solid foundation and capable of future development beyond the risks of party vicissitudes. Ireland had far too long been the cockpit of British politics. (Cheers.) Proposals, however, made in perfectly good faith and good will, for a formal conference of the party leaders, did not appear to him to be practically helpful. A conference without defined limits would be almost certainly abortive and would probably leave matters worse; nor was a conference necessary if there was a genuine disposition in all quarters, by an interchange of suggestions, free and frank, without prejudice, to contribute to the common stock.

Cannot Alter Principle.

"I invite that interchange," added Mr. Asquith. "Both I and my colleagues are ready to take part in it. (Cheers.) We should not depart, however, from the root and principle of the bill—a subordinate Irish parliament at Dublin with an executive responsible to it. (Cheers.) In the second place, nothing must be done to erect a permanent barrier to Irish unity. Thirdly, while the importance of the extension of devolution to the United Kingdom is fully realized, the claim of Ireland is prior in point of urgency.

"I myself am sanguine enough to believe that the difficulties ought not to be beyond the resources of statesmanship. One thing is certain, we are not going to be false to the trust which the vast majority of the Irish people have reposed in us. (Cheers.) We are not going to betray their cause. We are bound to prosecute their purpose and ours to a successful issue, not only by obligations of loyalty and honor, but by profound conviction that it has behind it the sympathies of the British democracy at home and thruout the empire; that it carries with it the best and only enduring prospect of a happy and prosperous future for Ireland and Great Britain." (Loud and prolonged cheers.)

WILL ASK LARGER FEDERAL SUBSIDY

Provincial Conference May Result in Request for More Liberal Grants.

Sir James Whitney, Hon. J. J. Foy and Hon. I. B. Lucas left Saturday evening for Ottawa to represent Ontario in the interprovincial conference. It is understood that the assembly this year will be productive of an unusual amount of helpful suggestion for the various provinces and an imposing array of questions will be tabled as agenda at the first meeting.

One of the matters which has been standing for years and on which it is expected that a conclusion will be reached this year is the increase of provincial subsidies. This has been so strongly urged that it is felt that the negotiations will tend to bring the desired result next year.

Increase for Sir John.

If one of the demands now being pressed almost universally comes to pass the yearly stipend of Lieutenant-Governor Gibson, as well as of his brother officials thruout the Dominion, will be materially increased. The salary now is $10,000, but the social requirements to be met are enormous and on the increase.

Quebec and the prairie provinces agree in asking that provincial control of federal subsidies to agriculture, education, and similar causes be granted to a greater extent than ever in the past. This demand is somewhat revolutionary and would seem to interfere with the jurisdiction of C. C. James, now acting as superintendent of agriculture for Canada and largely instrumental in the disposition of the money in particular channels. On this account it is considered unlikely that the movement will be successful.

Promises Well.

The recent privy council decision to the effect that provincially incorporated companies have a Dominion application, is counted a victory from agitation rising in these conferences and in any event, the exchange of views on similar interests by the various premiers is always counted as wholesome to the general co-operative progress of the states within the nation. The 1913 conference is regarded as most promising in this regard.

Any Woman Can Have Smooth, Hairless Skin

(Beauty Topics.)

Here is a simple treatment, which, if used, will quickly banish hair or fuzz from chin, cheek or lip. Mix enough powdered delatone and water to cover the hairy surface, apply and in two or three minutes rub off and the hairs are gone. Then wash the skin to rid it of the remaining paste. This is quite harmless and does not injure the most sensitive skin. Definite results are had quickest if the delatone is bought in an original package.

ROYALTY AGAIN AT RIDEAU HALL

Capital Gives Quiet But Warm Welcome to Governor-General's Party.

DUCHESS QUITE WELL

Cabinet Ministers and Wives Present When the Train Arrived.

OTTAWA, Oct. 26.—(Can. Press.)—Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and the Princess Patricia with the royal suite were given an undemonstrative yet warm welcome home at 5 o'clock Saturday evening by nearly all the members of the cabinet council and their wives, a few other prominent people and a big crowd of the general public. The special C.P.R. train of nine coaches steamed into the Central Station sharp on scheduled time.

When their royal highnesses alighted they shook hands with the cabinet ministers and their wives and others. Contrary to reports the duchess was in excellent health and for a few minutes she and the Princess Patricia held animated conversation with Mrs. Borden, wife of the premier. Mr. Borden was with the royal party on their trip from Quebec.

Their royal highnesses and suite left Ottawa for England on March 19 last owing to the severe illness of the duchess.

Shortly after their arrival the party were driven directly to government house, which was entirely renovated during their absence. They remained indoors today owing to the inclement weather.

Seven-Point Margin Decided Struggle at Long Branch—Nine-Man Teams.

AVERAGED NINETY-ONE

And Gray-Beard of Each Team Made Highest Aggregate Score.

By the narrow margin of seven points, the Toronto Newspaper Rifle Association was defeated by the Irish Rifle Club, in a match at Long Branch Rifle Ranges on Saturday. As the margin of victory would indicate, it was a tough battle. It had been proposed to have ten men to a team, but as only nine of the Irishmen with shooting records behind them were on hand, each team was cut by one man.

High scoring featured the match. The 18 men averaged over 91 out of a possible 105. Another feature of the shoot was that the oldest member of each team led the scoring. Lt.-Col. F. W. Brown, after making 99 out of 105, persisted that he was 70 years of age, and that George Crighton of the newspaper men, who made 101, was 68 years old. The colonel may have exaggerated in each case, but neither he nor Crighton is a spring chicken. Here are the scores:

I.R.C. Match.

The second annual rifle match of the Irish Rifle Club took place at Long Branch ranges on Saturday. The day was bright, but a strong east wind was at times tricky. There was a good turnout of members, there being about fifty present. The shooting was very good, Col. F. W. Brown for the second time won the general match, with 99.

The tyro match, seven shots over 100 and 200 yard ranges, brought out some promising new shots. J. A. Reid putting on a possible at both ranges. Following are the scores:

1, Col. F. W. Brown, 99; 2, T. McBrien, 95; 3, J. Phillips, 94; 4, A. Emo, 93; 5, D. Craig, 92; 6, J. Hillis, 91; 7, D. G. Hagarty, 91; 8, G. Robinson, 89; 9, R. Surphlis, 89; 10, R. GRANT BALLOT TO RENT-PAYER

Jesse O. McCarthy Voices Defects in Present System of Allotment.

SPOKE TO LABOR MEN

After Drive of Inspection—What About U. S. Tariff? Asks Guest.

"Controller McCarthy may yet be asked to take the reins out of Wesley Rowell's hands," remarked a man who heard the speech Controller McCarthy made at the civic supper Saturday evening to the members of the Trades and Labor Council who had inspected during the afternoon the greatest of the civic works under construction.

The controller's speech was certainly high-grade. One of his statements was: "In the building of the City of Toronto we may give much thought and energy to the advancement of commerce and industry, but we will not build well unless we give equally as much thought and energy to the betterment of social life and conditions. After all, it is the people who make the city. To make the people good city builders they should be educated to it thru having each one a sanitary environment and the convenience of public utilities, so that they may have a home life in Toronto that will influence them to clean living. It then follows that the building of the city in the best interests of the community goes on with each succeeding generation."

A Feudal Institution.

Another of the controller's statements, and it was applauded, was: "When I came to Toronto I paid $50 down for my home, the balance to be paid in instalments. My neighbor was paying $50 a month to rent his home. He had as big a stake in the city as I had. Then why should I have had a vote on matters relating to the betterment of the city, where the expenditure of extra money was involved, while my neighbor was barred from voting? It is a condition that has come down to us from the feudal system. It should have been abolished long ago. It should be attacked now until it is overthrown."

There was more applause when Controller McCarthy said: "You have seen under construction today civic works that the ratepayers have voted millions of dollars for. You will have noted in our trip around the city a large number of building lots on which there are no buildings and the owners of which are holding for increasing value. It is most unfair to those who pay taxes upon improvements to have to contribute a greater share in the expense of civic works than do those who hold unimproved land for increasing value. Some plan should be worked out whereby a fair proportion of unearned increment would be diverted to the city treasury and utilized for a better proportioning of the expense of civic works."

A Tariff Dilemma.

In the speeches of the guests two queries were propounded. One was: Why does the board of education persist in paying carpenters 42 1-2c an hour while the city is paying them 45c? The other was: How will the Dominion Government meet the new tariff bill of the United States should the free admission of Canadian foodstuffs send up prices in Canada during a shortage in the United States and the Canadian tariff send up the prices of foodstuffs from the United States when there is a shortage in Canada?

EL ORO CHANGES OWNERS AGAIN.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 25.—The Ethelbert horse, El Oro, which was taken from N. K. Beal by a raise from $1500 to $2000 in a selling race yesterday, has an interesting history. El Oro, now seven years of age, has been in Beal's charge since he was a two-year-old. J. E. Seagram bought El Oro as a yearling, and he was highly tried, but one day El Oro fell and broke his nose, whereupon Mr. Seagram gave the horse to Dr. J. W. Groves, a veterinarian of Hamilton, who turned the horse over to Beal. Later on Beal bought Dr. Graves' interest. The late R. S. Garrett of Baltimore then purchased a half-interest in El Oro, and upon his death Beal acquired the Garrett interest. In Beal's colors, El Oro has won many races and naturally he was sorry to lose his breadwinner.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 25.—By winning today's game by a score of 4 to 3 the White Sox evened up the series with the Giants. It was one of the best games of the series, and sensational fielding kept the spectators on edge thruout the contest. Three double plays were factors in keeping down the score, and in this respect the Giants were unfortunate, as they were shut off from probable tallies.

The game proved a big attraction here and drew many fans from the surrounding country. First Baseman Chase of the White Sox met with a painful accident in the eighth inning, but was fortunate in escaping serious injury. He turned his ankle and retired from the game, but a couple of days' rest will find him on the job again. He was relieved by White, who covered the first bag in a satisfactory manner. The score:

WASHINGTON SENATORS SHOW GREATEST PROFITS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Basing the estimate on the figures for the past season, the local American League Club is said to be the best baseball investment of modern times in matter of profit compared to principal. The season of 1913 was the most profitable in the history of the club. At a meeting of the board of directors the treasurer's report presented showed unexpectedly large profits. The team was a splendid attraction on the road, as was shown by the amount of money paid over by other clubs during the season. The directors, after paying off a goodly portion of the club's indebtedness, decided to declare a 20 per cent. dividend, which borders on "frenzied finance."

DUNDAS SWAMPED ST. CATHARINES

ST. CATHARINES, Oct. 26.—The Dundas Junior O.R.F.U. team on Saturday captured a fixture from the 19th Regiment Club of this city, 12 to 1. They came on a special train, with 135 rooters, who gave the police a busy time in keeping them in a semblance of order. Referee Marsden and Umpire Mills of Toronto handled the game well. The teams were:

Dundas (12)—Lawson, rover; F. Smith, left half; Mawn, centre half; Martin, right half; Martin, quarter-back; Arthurs and Graham, outside wings; Fleming and Norton, middle wings; McDermott and Boyle, inside wings; W. Smith, Haynes and Burton, scrimmage.

St. Catharines (1)—Ireland, rover; Blain, left half; Loveland, centre half; Flynn, right half; McGhie, quarter-back; Carmichael and Lancaster, outside wings; Davis and Wellein, middle wings; F. Gayder and Finlay, inside wings; J. Gayder, Woods and Selway, scrimmage.

ENGLAND WINS SOCCER HONORS

England won the international city championship and The Star trophy, which she will hold for one year, when she defeated Ireland in the deciding game by three goals to nothing. The followers of the rose opened with a fusillade of shots on the Irish goalie and kept him busy thruout the period. The English forwards succeeded in putting two past him before half time was called. The second half saw the green shirts, aided by the wind, make the Englishmen play on the defensive, but they were unable to tally, altho they had numerous chances. Finally the Englishmen got under way and forced the Irishmen back. After some very pretty play Sturch sent a long pass to Howard who trapped the ball and scored. For the winners Richardson, Simmonds, Lowe, Winter and Hopper were the best, while for the Irish Martin, Gilmore, Carroll, Forsythe Bros. and Molyneux were in the limelight.
