Mrs. E. M. Copp was hostess on Thursday and Friday afternoons of last week at an at home which is mentioned as having been one of the best arranged functions of the season. In spite of the cold, stormy weather, many guests assembled at her beautiful home on Bridge street to partake of her hospitality. Mrs. Joseph Dixon, Mrs. Logan and Miss Lucy Logan, guests of Mrs. Copp, received with her. In the dining room, where pretty lights and crimson tulips decorated the small tables, Miss Josephine Crane and Miss Nellie Copp served delicious refreshments. Mrs. A. H. McCready ushered. Miss Mary Dixon and Miss Dormer Dixon, who played on the piano and mandolin, helped to make the afternoon very enjoyable.

On Friday afternoon Miss Etta Ayer and Miss Marjorie Bates served in the dining room, while Mrs. C. H. Read ushered. Among those present were Mrs. R. C. Bacon, Mrs. H. C. Rand, Mrs. A. H. McCready, Mrs. Arthur Atkinson, Mrs. Gains Fawcett, Mrs. W. R. Rodd, Mrs. Albert Coster, Mrs. Warren Carter, Mrs. C. W. Cahill, Mrs. Bliss Anderson, Mrs. B. C. Borden, Dr. Baker, Mrs. Calkin, Mrs. George Black, Mrs. Edgar Dixon, Mrs. James Dixon, Mrs. Thos. Patterson, Mrs. F. J. Wilson, Mrs. H. R. Fawcett, Mrs. J. L. Dawson, Mrs. W. Turner, Mrs. Alex. Ford, Mrs. Horace Ford, Mrs. S. W. Copp, Mrs. C. C. Avard, Mrs. Ellsworth Fowler, Miss Cahill, Miss Copp and Miss Silliker.

A very quiet wedding took place recently at the Catholic church, Cape Bauld, when Miss Sadie Forest was united in marriage to James Deverenne. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Colerette. After the ceremony dinner was served at the bride's home. Mr. and Mrs. Devarenne will reside at Port Elgin.
