REJOICES WHILE HE WORKS

MR. W. J. HALL OF THIS CITY CURED OF CONSUMPTION WITH PSYCHINE.

Mayor Urquhart and Other Prominent Citizens Interested — Restored to Health After Hospital Physicians Gave No Hope.

Mr. Hall's Statement, made on the 12th Sept., 1903.

Dr. T. A. Slocum:

Some months ago I met with an accident in Ingles & Company's machine shop, having a marine boiler fall on me, breaking my leg in two places and injuring me internally.

Owing to my injuries and my run-down system, I fell a prey to consumption, and was given up by the doctors more than once. I was in the Western Hospital for quite a length of time, and physicians there informed me that my case was an INCURABLE one, and they COULD DO NO MORE FOR ME. In addition to this I have tried many doctors and different medicines, but nothing seemed to relieve me, or even do me good, until I commenced the use of Psychine in January of this year; and the improvement since that time has been very marked. Before commencing the use of the Dr. Slocum Remedies, I was too ill to get out of bed, but in two weeks I was able to be out and around, after starting the use of Psychine.

The serious nature of my injuries, which had been the cause of consumption, in my case, necessitated that I should persevere for some time in the treatment. This I needed not to be told, after the experiences I had already passed through. I knew full well if I was to be cured at all, and permanently, I must persist in the use of that which had done me more good than all other remedies and physicians combined, namely, Psychine.

I am so grateful for my recovery that I am willing to tell of my cury to all those who suffer. I live at No. 5 Dundas-street, Toronto, and will gladly prove to anyone who calls to see me, how Dr. Slocum's Psychine cured me.

This statement can be verified by Mayor Urquhart, and many other people who have known of my case.

WILLIAM J. HALL.

If you suffer from any form of Lung Trouble, La Grippe, Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Night Sweats, or run-down system, there is no other medicine that will act more promptly or more effectively.

Psychine is pronounced "Si-keen."

For sale at all druggists, in two sizes, or a sample bottle will be given you, free of charge, if your druggist does not have it in stock. Mention druggist's name. Dr. T. A. Slocum, 179 King-street west, Toronto, Ont.

GAME IN CANADA.

Lots of It, Says a Man Who Has Been Here.

New York, Oct. 23.—Warham Whitney, of Rochester, N.Y., was at the Holland House for a day recently, at the end of a hunting trip of several weeks in Newfoundland and New Brunswick. He was in the Adirondacks thru August, and when September opened he was off for Newfoundland. "Plenty of game and fish—splendid sport," was his comment on his experience in Newfoundland. "Much of the country," said he, "is a marshy plain, but there is plenty of caribou. I saw more than three hundred of them—twenty-eight in one herd, and I brought some trophies of my marksmanship and good fortune home with me. Proof of the plentitude of game was the variety on one occasion in our camp larder. We had black duck, teal duck, caribou meat and trout. The big game in New Brunswick is moose. They come to the water night and morning, and the quiet coves where they can stand in the water and nip the lily pads, is the place to get them unawares. I have the head of one I shot. Of course, one must endure some hardships on such a trip, but when it is all over the mounted heads upon the wall at home bring back the whole experience as a pleasing reminiscence. Up in Newfoundland quiet water surfaces, lakes and the like, are always steadies,' and the running streams are 'rapids,' while in New Brunswick the lakes are 'dead water,' the streams are 'quick water,' and a cove is a 'bogan.'"

MARK WAS BUSY.

New York, Oct. 23.—In answering a letter from the Acorns (a fusion club), Mark Twain has written as follows:

In boxing and labelling the family for Europe I have been so overwhelmed with labor and errands that I could not find time to answer letters. To-morrow I must work twenty-five hours, next day twenty-seven—than sail Saturday and take a rest.

I know the cause is just as good as it was before, and I wish I could have answered the compliment of your invitation with a word and a shout for the clean ticket from the Acorn platform, for certainly I am for that ticket with all my little might. But I am so crowded that I have not even had a chance to go to Madison Square—which I greatly regret, for now I shall never see Elijah this side of ——.

Rev. Dr. Perry Will Preach Sunday.

It is expected that large congregations will await the Rev. H. Francis Perry of Chicago, who will occupy the pulpit of Jarvis-street Baptist Church to-morrow at both morning and evening services. Dr. Perry has recently been invited to that pulpit, and is known as one of the strongest men in the denomination on the other side.

To Choose a Candidate.

North Bay, Oct. 23.—The Liberals of Parry Sound will meet here next Tuesday and choose a candidate for the Federal House.

The healthy woman need not fear the change which comes as the beginning of life's autumn. It is the woman who is worn out, run down and a sufferer from womanly diseases who naturally dreads the change of life. This is the critical period of woman's life, and the prevalence of womanly diseases makes it the duty of every woman who would avoid unnecessary suffering to take especial care of herself at this time.

The ills which vex so many women at the change of life are entirely avoided or cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong, and enables the weakest to pass through this trying change with the tranquility of perfect health.

"I have been a very healthy woman, and this time has been very hard with me," writes Mrs. Maggie Morris, of Munson Station, Clearfield Co., Pa., Box 16. "I am come to the time of change of life, and I have been sick a great deal off and on. When Mrs. Hemmis moved beside me I was sick in bed, and when she came to see me and we were talking over our sickness, Mrs. Hemmis told me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' also 'Pellets.' I got her to bring me a bottle of each from the drug store and I used them. They did me a great deal of good, and I got two more bottles of 'Favorite Prescription.' I never saw such a wonderful cure. Before I commenced your remedies I was good for nothing; was in such misery I hardly knew what to do with myself, now I can do all my work myself and feel well."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are easy and pleasant to take.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS.

It is not yet too late to prevent some of the disastrous effects coming in the train of the St. Lawrence Market muddle. The tenants of the lower market are thoroly dissatisfied. Their business is not a tithe of what it should be. Some of them are losing money right along, and a few have quit. The original scheme of the market is out of joint, and the tenants feel that they are the victims of this circumstance. They were put into occupation before the premises were ready, but they would not have gone in only that it had been represented to them everything would be made right and satisfactory. They have been a long time there now, and the mess is not showing the first signs of disappearing. Yesterday workmen were altering the inside of the porch from Front-street, which used to be the main door of the old City Hall. The east side of that old structure is undergoing alteration for Mr. Harris' meat business. The idea at first was that there could be competition among the banks for a branch in this corner. But no business is doing in the market to induce a bank to locate there. As things are looking at present there never will be, and if the policy in view for the upper market when finished be persevered in the entire future of the costly enterprise is likely to be sacrificed.

* * *

The florists who have rented the western wing at the entrance say they are not making enough to pay for the water used upon their plants and flowers. There is only a Saturday morning market for them in the week, and that is not even a busy day. The butchers inside are under heavy rental, out of all proportion to their declining trade. They are too far removed from King-street to hold their former custom. The fruit and vegetable end of the building is no better off. The prices ruling at both ends are below what the stores all over the city can command. People will not walk a block these days to do their marketing when it can be done so much nearer home. The farmers' market around the southern door is little better than a name. Farmer's wives bring in some butter and eggs, but a large number of basket traders step in from Front-street commission houses and keep up the appearance of this line of trade. Five days out of the week find the eastern aisle deserted from end to end. This depressing appearance of affairs grows worse month by month. The city is getting no rent there, tho keys to some of the stalls are in private hands.

Work is proceeding slowly upon the upper market building. The scheme of the city is to reserve all the upper market for wholesale trade in a sense. That is to say farmers will drive in their wagons, but will not be allowed to sell in less than wagon-load lots. The retailing will be confined as at present to the lower market. This scheme, however, cannot work out. Take as an example the summer fruit trade. It is intended that the fruit shall be discharged at the proposed wharf on the Esplanade. From there it would be taken along to the upper market, where only the retailers could come in contact with it thru the wholesalers. The retailers would then be obliged to take it back to the extreme end of the lower market again. Such a plan could have but one effect, ruin both to the wholesale and retail business.

* * *

It would be well for the Property Committee of the City Council to seriously reconsider the original scheme from the beginning. From the point of view of accommodating business, it would be manifestly better to locate the retail traders in the upper market, and the wholesalers below. That would obviate the vexatious and expensive hauling of stuff first one way and then the other. It would also improve the condition of the butchers in some measure. It is important that the butchers be retained in the St. Lawrence Market. If something is not done in their interest they will be driven away and with thm the best traditions of the market will go. It must also be borne in mind that the upper market, if occupied by the wholesalers, would not bring the city any revenue. It would, of course, be heated and taken care of at considerable expense. In the old days the farmers and their customers transacted their business out on Market-street. That way of managing did not cost the city anything, but inside the new building the city would be under heavy outlay without return. The market could never pay interest on the money sunk in it. If the butchers and provision dealers are to find themselves the only rent-payers, they will naturally expect whatever facilities and advantages the city can offer them, and it is in the upper market next to King-street they would look for them.

* * *

After the present year many of the aldermen who had to do with the making of the market scheme will fall out of the Council. A bunch of them will be candidates for the Board of Control, to find themselves in private life after the first of January, with four lucky exceptions. The changed complexion of the Board of Aldermen must also bring in a good deal of new blood. Therefore, it is imperative for the present Council, in the interests of the city at large, to deal with the critical conditions threatening the St. Lawrence Market trade.

Honors for the Bell Piano.

Honors seem to be literally "showered" on the Bell Piano of late. It was only recently that these noted instruments were selected for exclusive use in Moulton Ladies' College, Toronto, and Hamilton Conservatory of Music, Hamilton, and now word comes from Ottawa that they have been awarded the only diploma of merit for pianos given at the Central Canada Exhibition in 1903, and in competition with practically all makes of any note.

That the superb tone and quick repeating action of the Bell Piano is being so generally and promptly recognized by the musical public must be a source of great satisfaction to the Bell Company, and the fact that their immense factories are taxed to their utmost capacity evidences the demand that a superior instrument will create for itself.

Another car was stoned by strikers at the same time.

Plattsville, Ont., Oct. 23.—(Special).—Thousands of women in Canada will read with interest and profit the experience of Mrs. J. Barnett of this place. It is best given in her own words:

"I had been ailing for years," Mrs. Barnett says. "The symptoms of my disease were Nervousness, Rheumatism in the left arm, pains in the small of the back, up the spinal column, in the back of the head and through the eyes. I grew weak, for I had no appetite, and I could not sleep at nights. I was a physical wreck.

"The doctors afforded me no relief, and my symptoms according with those of Kidney Disease, I determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"Before I had finished one box there was an improvement in my condition. My appetite returned, the pain was lessened and I was able to sleep. I took in all twelve boxes, and was completely cured. The cure was permanent."

BRYAN ON GETTING WEALTH.

Defends Himself From Charge That He Opposes It.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 23.—Mr. Bryan defends himself in The Commoner from the charge that he is opposed to wealth. He says:

"There is no evidence that there is any real hostility in this country to wealth honestly acquired and rightly used. No one can, on the contrary, defend the possession of wealth that is not honestly acquired.

"Aside from gift there is only one way to honestly secure it. If a man, either by his brain or his muscle, contributes to the welfare of the world he is entitled to a recompense, the person who makes an intellectual contribution, whether it is teaching or writing, is entitled to a reward commensurate with his work.

"The same is true of the merchant, the manufacturer and middleman, provided each renders equal service and is doing real necessary work. The man who by craft or cunning accumulates money must not be permitted to throw upon honest wealth the odium his dishonesty has brought on his particular accumulation.

"A man driven to bankruptcy by trusts or who suffered great loss at the hands of speculators in Wall-street is not in a frame of mind to be lectured on respect for wealth accumulated by wrongdoing. Those interested in the supremacy of the law must eliminate the causes of ill-feeling. It is not sufficient to devote themselves to suppressing manifest actions of disapproval. Neither is there any place here for the idle rich."

Almost all disease is the result of poor nerve action. Without good nerves neither brain, nor stomach, nor liver, nor heart nor kidneys, can work well. Nerve food must be such that it will be absorbed by the nerve ends. Such a food is South American Nervine, the greatest tonic known, a cure for dyspepsia and all stomach ailments.

ADOLPH LE BODIE, B. C. L., Montreal's well known barrister, writes: "I was suffering from insomnia and nervous debility, prostration and exhaustion. I took five bottles of South American Nervine, and am wholly recovered.

The Great South American Rheumatic Cure is the only one that has not a single case of failure in its record. Cure sure within three days; relief instantly. 5

THE RT. HON. JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN AND THE MASAI WARRIORS.

REMARKABLE INCIDENT.

On the occasion of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain's recent visit to Mombasa, East Africa, a torchlight war dance by the picturesque Masai warriors was given in his honour. In this connection a striking incident, as showing the world-wide use of Holloway's famous remedies, is illustrated by the accompanying photograph, taken on the spot by a correspondent of The Sphere. Indeed,

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT are used wherever the white man has set his foot.

The Masai warrior carrying his grease pot slung from the lobe of his right ear. The pot in this case was a HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT jar, and the lobe of the ear had been stretched to get round the pot.

THE PILLS are a wonderfully prompt and effectual, but gentle and benign, remedy for all disorders of the Liver and Bowels. They cleanse and thoroughly regulate the system. Females should never be without them.

THE OINTMENT is the greatest healing agent known for Old Sores and all skin affections. Rheumatism and Sciatica yield to its influence quite magically, as also most throat and chest troubles.
