Kintail.

Mr. Whitty, of the post office store, has lately added a tailoring department to his business, and now the young swells of Kintail and vicinity will not have to go from home to get the nobbiest style in raiment.

Saltford.

Wm. Lasham, of the Union hotel, is suffering from an attack of gout.

An entertainment was held in the hall, Saltford, on Friday evening in aid of the Union Sabbath School. The attendance was not as large as might have been expected from the number of tickets sold by the children, and the programme provided. Rev. T. M. Campbell's lecture on "God Save the Queen," which he shortened somewhat on the children's account, was well received and deservedly applauded. There were also some songs and three readings, which seemed to give equal satisfaction with the lecture. Mr. McIntyre occupied the chair, and Miss Annie McIntyre presided at the organ.

Benmiller.

Mr. and Mrs A. B. Potter start for their home in the west on the 18th.

We regret to learn of the sudden illness of Samuel Hart, Jr., who is down with an attack of inflammation of the lungs.

Mrs. A. B. Potter was presented by the Benmiller temperance lodge, on the eve of her departure for the N. W. Territory, with a valuable silver cruet stand. A. Heddle, on behalf of the lodge, after the regular meeting, in a few appropriate remarks on her long continued presence at the lodge, as well as other help in the temperance cause, presented the gift to the sister, who was considerably surprised, and expressed her thanks to the lodge not only for the value of the article (which was not a small item), but the remembrance it will bring of the old friends when away.

Londesborough.

Miss Lizzie Walters was made the recipient of a number of valuable presents on the occasion of her marriage on Wednesday last. The following is a list of the gifts, with the names of the donors: Log-cabin quilt, presented by Mrs. Allin, mother of the bridegroom; pair feather pillows, ½ doz. silver teaspoons, by Mrs. John Allin; crystal sett, by Misses Sarah and Libbie Walters; linen tablecloth, by Mrs. W. Walters; butter cooler and silver knife, by Mr. and Mrs. Saml. Allin; silver cruet stand, by W. Allin and Mrs. McSwain; gilt teapot, by Mrs. Wallice; preserve and jelly dishes, by Mrs. Grantim; meat platter, gravey pitcher and glass water pitcher, by Mr. and Mrs. J. Stevens; butter cooler, by Mrs. Newton; ½ doz. preserve glasses, by Miss Almina Treble; glass lamp, by Miss Ruth Allin; carving knife and fork, by Geo. Brooks; pair vases, by Mrs. Robt. Allin; pair pickle dishes, by Miss Eliza Jewel; pair linen towels, by Miss Brooks; looking glass and pair of goblets, by Mr. and Mrs. R. Allin. The evening was enlivened by the services of the village band. We wish the young couple a long and happy life.

Dungannon.

Mrs. B. J. Crawford has returned from a lengthy visit to Lucknow.

We understand that Mr. Agar intends putting an engine into his factory here this spring.

Protracted services are to be commenced in the Methodist church here this week. Thursday evenings are to be specially devoted to the young people.

An eagle was seen in this vicinity last week.

The Foresters held a supper at Martin's hotel last Friday evening.

The great excitement here this week was the race on the rink between Albert Cook of this village, and Kerr, of Lucknow, for $10 a side. The rink was literally crowded, and the excitement was intense. Cooke easily won by half a lap in the three miles. It has been rumored that Cooke is billed for another race with one of your Goderich skaters. If so your man had better trim up pretty well. Cooke is a graceful skater, and went the three miles without the least sign of fatigue.

Paramount.

ACCIDENT.—John Struthers, of Ayr, while helping his brother to take out timber for a barn, had the misfortune to get his finger cut with an axe. It was necessary to have the finger amputated.

A very pleasing entertainment under the auspices of the Dewdrop Lodge, R. T. of T., was held in the school house, on Friday evening, the 7th inst. Owing to the good roads and pleasant evening, and past reputation of the lodge for giving entertainments, the house was comfortably filled even before the appointed time for commencing the programme. Mr. David Agnew was appointed chairman of the meeting, which position he filled to the satisfaction of all. After the chairman's speech, the following programme was gone through with:—Quartette, "Vine Covered Cottage," members; recitation, John McInnis; solo, W. G. Murdoch; recitation, The Loss of the Asia, Miss M. A. Beaton; solo, by E. W. Richards; dialogue, "Remember Bunow;" recitation, Miss Mary Martin; solo, K. Kerr, (Lucknow); trio, "I'll be true to thee," by Misses Bella Reid, Annie McLellan and Jane Agnew; dialogue, "Lung Tester;" solo, "The Bridge," by Mary Horton; recitation, Miss Niney Murray, (Lucknow); dialogue, "Photograph Gallery;" recitation, Allan McKenzie; solo, "The Comet," by Miss Smith, (Lucknow); recitation, W. McIntosh; song and chorus, "Little Cottage Home;" recitation, R. Murray, (Lucknow); duett, "Faithful Johnnie," by H. Horton and Martha Murdoch; dialogue, "Very Bashful;" duett, "Gypsy Countess," by J. W. Hillyard and Annie McLellan; recitation, Ellen Kirk; trio, by Misses E. Smith, Clara Berry and Mr. K. Kerr, (Lucknow); dialogue, "Rival Orators," Robt. Murdoch and H. Horton; solo, "Nora McKay," J. W. Hillyard; recitation by C. Rutherford, Lucknow; profundo basso, by E. W. Richards, H. Horten, Miss Annie and Jane Agnew. The meeting was brought to a close by singing the national anthem.

Belfast.

George Snell, blacksmith, late of Lanes, but formerly of this place, has removed to Londesborough.

Mrs. Robt. Strothers, of Holyrood, is visiting friends in this vicinity.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—On Saturday last, while Jas. Irwin, son of Wm. Irwin, who resides near hear, was unloading a stick of square timber in Lucknow station yard, the stick fell against his leg and broke it at the ankle. He has been engaged most of the winter in drawing square timber. Although suffering very much, he is in a fair way of recovering.

Dunlop.

Miss Toombs, of London, is visiting her sister Mrs. Tobin, of Lansdowne Farm.

On Tuesday of last week Mrs. Allen entertained a number of young folks in an hospitable manner. It was a merry assembly.

A PAINFUL SQUEEZE.—Wm. Stirling, who has been hauling logs to the saw mill, met with a painful accident last week by having his hand badly crushed by being gripped by the chain in such a manner as to hold him fast until rescued by a passer-by.

Amberley.

It is our painful duty to chronicle the death of Elizabeth, beloved wife of Geo. White, of Belfast, at the residence of her father, James Courtney, 2nd Con., Huron. She had been prostrated with an acute attack of inflammation, and was about entirely recovered when a relapse took place, from which she never rallied, but gradually grew worse till death put an end to her sufferings on Monday morning at eight o'clock. She was interred in the Pine River cemetery on Wednesday, when her remains were followed to her final resting place by a large concourse of people. Her bereaved husband and friends have the sympathy of the community.

Auburn.

Rev. Messrs. Turnbull, of Goderich, and Pritchard, of this place, exchanged pulpits on Sabbath last.

The Orangemen and Young Britons of this village have decided to erect a hall, and will commence building operations as soon as spring opens. They have secured the lot adjourning Rev. Mr. Hillyard's residence.

Rev. A. E. Smith was unable to perform his usual duties on Sabbath, owing to his suffering from severe cold. We are glad to see him around again.

The parties who carried on auction sales of dry goods, &c., here last winter, are now carrying on sales in Wezzel's shop. In common fairness, those who have been running accounts with our storekeepers and tradesman should settle their accounts, before dealing with strangers.

Blyth.

V. Y. Halliday is appointed precentor in the Presbyterian church, vice John Fraser, resigned. He is attempting to organize a choir.

John Young evidently believes that it is 'not good for man to be alone,' and has in consequence joined the army of the benedicts. He and his bride went on their wedding tour, and have since returned.

S. Harrington, for a long time salesman in D. B. McKinnon's store, and who a short time ago moved to Clinton, has returned to Blyth, and is now head salesman in W. H. Watson's store.

H. Ritchie has been appointed assessor for the village of Blyth.

Mr. Plaigford, of Strathroy, was in town this week, and was the guest of C. Tanner.

The Good Templar's concert came off on Wednesday evening, and was a complete success. Songs were given by Prof. Jones, of Seaforth, and Messrs. Shibley and Shane, and the Misses Philips, Ritchie, Whitt and Barker; recitation by Miss Rienhart; reading J. A. Taylor. Proceeds about $32.00.

[We cannot publish our correspondent's article on the editor of the late Blyth Review. That person may or may not deserve all that was written, but we do not believe in personal attacks of that nature. Our correspondent has evidently judged us by other county papers which allow vile flings to be made at their contemporaries by their correspondents. If THE SIGNAL denounces J. T. Mitchell or any other man at any time, it will do so editorially. For this reason the correspondence does not appear.]—[ED SIGNAL.

Leeburn.

Samuel Morris is to build a new residence this coming summer.

R. Sallows was out with his wheels two hours ahead of S. Potter.

Mrs. Bundly, we are sorry to learn, is laid up with severe attack of illness, which causes much anxiety among a large circle of friends.

ACCIDENT. — While chopping in the woods last week, Fred Linfield slipped and fell over a brush heap, cutting himself severely on the back of his hand with an axe. He will have to use the left hand during the next few weeks when he wants to shake with the boys.

Our constable had a number of young folks in his lockup one evening last week, but there was no solitary confinement. The party was a joyous one, and the "cooler" was voted not so terrible a place after all. Music and dancing were the leading features of the evening.

LONG SAWS AND AXES.—A large number of the lads turned out last Friday and gave Samuel Potter a heist by cutting him a large supply of summer wood. The boys were under the command of W. F. Clark. Percy Steward and James MacCracken made the best record with the tempered blade and also winning several contests in single handed matches Joseph Thompson made the best splitting with the axe. The bee passed off pleasantly.

Hullett.

THE LATE MRS. MCMICHAEL.—Much surprise and regret was felt on Thursday morning last on it becoming known that Mrs. Thomas McMichael, of Seaforth, and formerly of Hullett, had died the previous evening. About three months ago Mrs. McMicheal leased her farm in Hullett to her son, and with her daughters removed to Seaforth. Soon after leaving the old homestead, on which she had resided for 40 years, and around which had clustered so many dear and hallowed associations, she became very morbid and dejected, and continued rapidly growing worse, until about a month ago she had to be removed to London asylum. Although weak intellectually she seemed perfectly well physically until about a week ago when she took ill and sank very rapidly. Her remains were interred in the Maitland-bank cemetery. Mrs. McMichael was relict of the late Thomas McMichael, and with her husband settled in Hullett many years ago when the country was in its natural state. She was a most estimable lady, and was held in the highest esteem by all who knew her. Her son and daughter were in attendance upon her until her death.

Death of Hugh Love, Sr.

Our readers will learn with surprise and regret of the death of Hugh Love, sr., of Hills Green, in the township of Stanley, The sad event took place at the residence of his nephew, Dr. James Kerr Love, near Glasgow, Scotland, on the 19th of February. The sad news only reached his friends here on Wednesday last. As is known, Mr. Love has been in poor health for several months, and, accompanied by Mrs. Love crossed the Atlantic about six weeks ago with the hope that the change would effect an improvement. He stood the journey remarkably well, and on arriving in Scotland seemed so much better that his friends sent home the most encouraging reports. Soon after arriving in Glasgow, however, he had an examination made by one of the most eminent physicians of the city, who pronounced the disease cancer in the stomach, and that recovery was hopeless. This diagnosis was afterwards confirmed by others. Upon being informed of his condition Mr. Love seemed to lose hope entirely, and from that out sank so rapidly that he passed away within six days thereafter. He was in his fifty-fourth year. He was attended throughout by Mrs. Love, who was by his side until the last, and who will remain in Scotland until the first of May. The melancholy intelligence was conveyed to the friends here by Robert Jamieson, who left Scotland the day after his death. There are few men who will be more deeply or sincerely regretted than Mr. Love. He was one of the pioneer settlers of this country, and did as much as any other one man to advance its interests, and he will be much missed, not only in his own immediate neighborhood, but in the county. He was a man of much more than ordinary intelligence and ability, and being a good writer and an easy, fluent, public speaker, he took a prominent and leading part in all public matters. As an agriculturist, he stood in the front rank, and ever took a deep interest in everything calculated to advance the interests of his brother farmers. He was one of the first in this county to import thoroughbred stock from the old country, and at different times made several valuable importations, both of horses and sheep, which proved of inestimable benefit to the public and resulted in profit to himself. Had his life been spared to retnrn to Canada, it was his intention to bring out with him several heavy draught horses, but an all wise Providence has decreed it otherwise. He was an enterprising and public spirited citizen, a warm hearted, true friend, and a conscientious, honorable man. The writer of this has enjoyed the pleasure and honor of his acquaintance since boyhood, and we can feelingly testify to his warm and sincere friendship. He leaves a family of four sons and three daughters, all well provided for. His loss to them will be inestimable as he was a kind and indulgent father and a wise and prudent counsellor, while to Mrs. Love none can truly tell the great affliction his death will be to her. Her home coming will be a sad one indeed.—[Seaforth Expositor.

Disastrous Fires in Michigan.

Kalamazoo, Mich., March 12.—A fire at Allegan this morning burned 12 stores on one side of the street and 11 stores on the opposite side, including the Sherman House and three newspaper offices. The loss will reach $250,000. The high wind blowing at the time rendered the fire unmanageable. The aggregate loss is placed between $400,000 and $500,000.

Grand Rapids, March 12.—A fire here this morning burned Stradon's woolen mills, the Novelty Manufasturing Company's works, Richmond's box factory, Comstock's sawmill, Clarke & Ocker's sash and door factory, Bissell's carpet sweeper factory, Hendley's belt factory, and the Felt Boot Company's works. Losses, $100,000. The wind was blowing a gale at the time. The losses aggregate $150,000.

Her Wedding Cake.

Arabella—How kind it was of you to print such a nice notice of my wedding. I told you, didn't I, that I made my wedding cake myself.

Editor—Yes, but it was unnecessary. I knew at once that it was made by your fair hands.

Arabella—Then the piece I sent you arrived safely. Did you take it home and dream over it?

Editor—Well, no. You see I need it in the office.

Arabella—Why, what for?

Editor—It makes a lovely paper weight.—[Philadelphia Call.

The above were received in refrigerators in splendid condition, and were readily disposed of, notwithstanding the exorbitantly dear prices, which would be at the rate of about 3c. a berry.

It is asserted that Hon. James Blaine, of Maine, has shrewdly stolen a march upon rival candidates for a presidential nomination by the publication of his book of political reminiscences, an edition of 300.000 copies of which has been issued. The army of book agents required to work off this immense issue naturally sound the praises of the author, and thus a much stronger boom is started than could have been set on foot by the ordinary political advantage of of paying its own way and leaving a handsome surplus for Mr. Blaine.

AUCTION SALE, OF A FARM IN ASHFIELD.

There will be offered for sale by Public Auction, by Geo. Coote, Auctioneer, at Bailey's Hotel, in the Town of Goderich, at the hour of one o'clock in the afternoon, on Saturday, March 29th, 1884, the farm commonly known as "the Shaw farm," containing 50 acres, more or less, and being composed of the Easterly half of the Westerly half of Lot Number Two, in the First Concession of the Township of Ashfield (in the Eastern Division), having thereon a log house and outhouses, and a never-failing creek running through the same, and being well drained. About 35 acres cleared and free from stumps, and the balance, about 15 acres, being mostly uncleared, or unimproved. The soil in the cleared part being principally first-class sandy loam, and in the bush or rear part inclines more to a clay soil. All the land could be cultivated if cleared, there being no waste land, or any unfit for cultivation. About 8 or 10 acres in clover, and about 6 acres in fall wheat. The farm faces on a good gravel road leading from Goderich, which is about 7 miles distant, and there is a school and also a church within about 1-8 of a mile. An agreement has been made with the present tenant, under which possession can be given within a short time in the event of a sale.

TERMS:—Ten per cent. of the purchase money to be paid down at the time and place of sale to the Vendor's Solicitor, and the balance of the purchase money, without interest, to be paid to the Vendor's Solicitor within one month thereafter. The property will be subject to a reserved bid.

Further particulars and conditions will be made known at the time and place of sale, or at any time previous on application to the Vendor's Solicitor, Dundas P. O.
