The match started at 11.30 before an attendance of about 4000. London's costly errors contributed largely towards the Leafs' victory. This makes the pennant sure for Guelph in the Western series. In the afternoon game there was more enthusiasm displayed. The game was close and exciting throughout, but the visitors by playing a faultless game were again victorious. THERE WAS A YACHT RACE,

And the Result Was No Fluke, of Course, For the Vigilant Won.

Cowes, Aug. 6.—The Vigilant, Britannia and Satanita started this morning in the big event of the regatta of the Royal London Yacht Club. The course was around the Isle of Wight, starting eastward, once around, to make a total distance of 55 miles. The Vigilant, it was announced shortly before the race, allows the Satanita 55s., owing to the reduction of the latter's sail area, and it was also announced that the Vigilant allows the Britannia 2m. 22s.

All three yachts started for the line carrying club topsails and balloon jibs, and crossed it as follows: Satanita 10.01.00, Britannia, 10.01.05, and Vigilant 10.01.20. The wind freshened later in the game, and the Vigilant, catching the breeze first, moved slowly on and passed Hurst Castle 1m. 35s. ahead of the Britannia. Spinnakers were set to starboard on the run home from Yarmouth to Cowes, and with all kites flying the Vigilant drew away from the Britannia and made a show of the Satanita, which was always almost hull down about forty minutes astern. Time at the finish: Vigilant, 5.04.35; Britannia, 5.12.48; Satanita, 5.46.35. Nearly all the Vigilant's lead was made in the run from the Needles.

The Cibola ran aground at Eastern gap and was detained yesterday afternoon for an hour. A tug pulled her off.

This meeting has been the most successful of any in the history of the association, and its success has been largely due to the prompt action of its Board of Stewards, who have done much to rid the turf of dishonest racing. On Wednesday the American Jockey Club will begin its meeting at Jerome Park, where racing will continue daily until Saturday, Aug. 25, when the fall meeting of the Coney Island Jockey Club begins.

Canuck Tennis Champions Win.

Bar Harbor, Me., Aug. 6.—W. Gordon Parker and F. J. Ward, the Canadian champions, were the winners of the two important matches played this afternoon in the singles. The Parker-Landreth match was very pretty tennis to watch, although the result was hardly at all doubtful from the outset. Parker won the first set, 6—3. The second set was much slower and Parker again outplayed his opponent. Parker won, 6—3. The other interesting match of the afternoon between F. K. Ward and G. P. Herrick was not very closely contested. Herrick was out of form, or else the play would have been much more even. Ward played a strong, graceful game, and in his running up to the net and smashing he showed good judgment. Ward won, 6—2, 6—2.

Mr. Thomas Ballard, Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "I have been afflicted for nearly a year with that most-to-be-dreaded disease dyspepsia, and at times worn out with pain and want of sleep, and after trying almost everything recommended I tried one box of Parmelee's Valuable Pills. I am now nearly well and believe they will cure me. I would not be without them for any money."

DOES THIS MAN RUN THE CITY

the action on this Sunday has not in the eyes of right-minded people prejudiced Mr. Kelly. In fact he is regarded as cleverer than ever he was before. I believe he acted conscientiously, and was not evading the law."

In conclusion, Ald. McMurrich moved that Mr. Kelly, who was anxious to address the committee, be heard.

He Was Roughly Handled.

Citizen Kelly made a short speech. He ridiculed the Mayor's statement that he did not know whether it was an arrest or not, by stating: I tell you Archabold pulled me out of the 'bus, used me shamefully, and took me to headquarters. I had made arrangements with my son, who lives on Dovercourt road, to drive him to St. Helen's church, whither I was going with my family.

If Mr. Meredith defends Archabold, and the city takes responisibility for his action in my arrest, I shall bring an action against the city for $50,000 damages for illegal arrest and the assault on my daughter."

Someone Blundered.

Ald. Crawford said he would not decide whether it was Kelly or Archabold made the mistake. Whether Kelly laid a trap, and the police fell into it was not for that committee to decide. All the committee could do was to stand by the police when they believed they were doing their duty. Otherwise they would not have efficient government. The police do make mistakes. It seems to me that the decisions of the courts are as much a lottery as the arrests of the police.

Ald. Lamb said the ground was being changed. At first the police commissioners said that Archabold acted on his own intuition; then that he got a nod from the chief that what he had done was all right; further that he had definite instructions from Col. Grasett. The committee did not know the whole facts.

Ald. Hallam also made a curious speech. He said the Chief of Police could do as he liked irrespective of either City Council or Police Commissioners. His action in this case should be upheld. As for Arahabold he had had many cautions, he had made many mistakes, and had had many narrow escapes on appeals. Those many mistakes must have taught him wisdom at last. Hence he gave him credit for knowing what he was about this time.

Ald. Frankland agreed with Ald. Lamb's contentions. He objected to the committee taking any action and condemning Kelly and justifying Archabold when they had not the whole of the facts to guide them. Then the Mayor twisted round and made a speech contrary to his previous one, and directly against the vote he had given a short time before. He said it was all right to defend officials of the corporation; but the police are not corporation officials. On reflection he thought it would be wiser to adopt Ald. Lamb's proposition, and have in writing from the Chief of Police what was inferred from his nod.

Archibold was right or wrong the city would have to pay the bill.

The city had already lost 1000 through an error of Archibold's. If the city did not defend him someone else would, and the bill would be sent into the city.

The Mayor—You may take it for granted Archibold in making this arrest was not going on a warfare at his own charges.

It's a Nice State of Things.

Ald. Dunn: If the chief of police, who is a servant of the city, has unrestricted power it is time the citizens should know it. It is a nice state of things if a man can be arrested whether he is breaking a by-law or not if the chief thinks he is. The chief of police should understand he cannot do as he likes. The dignity and self-respect of a citizen is as worthy of consideration as that of the chief of police.

"I would not for $1000 be stopped in my conveyance, and have my coat torn from my back, and be dragged to the police station as Kelly was. I am for supporting the police force in all that is right, but the chief of police must be told that he cannot do as he likes with citizens, and his men must be told this also.

"If the city is to defend a policeman in everything he does, the sooner we call a halt the better. Are we to defend a man in all his fanciful doings merely because he wears a policeman's uniform? If so, it is time to stop. If so, let the police run the city, and the citizens know that they have no rights whatever.

Is the Chief's Nod to Decide Arrest?

"Is a man's liberty to be dependent on what the Mayor calls 'the gentle nod of the chief of police? I bject to my liberty being at the head of the police or not."

Ald. Jolliffe: Kelly can't intimidate me with his $50,000 writ against the city. It's only a bluff.

Ald. McMurrich: After hearing this discussion I shall support Ald. Lamb's proposition that we have a written statement of the orders the Chief of Police gave.

The chairman put theamendment of Ald. Lamb, when the voting was For—Ald. Lamb, Dunn, Frankland, Atkinson, and McMurrich. Agains—Ald. Jolliffe, Hallam, Crawford, Graham and the Mayor.

Ald. Lamb moved another amendment, That the Police Commissioners report on Mr. Meredith's request before any instructions be given the City Counsel.

Ald. Jolliffe hereupon moved the previous question. Said he: "We want no more amendments."

Objected To Do So Unless Specially Requested.

The Mayor interposedwith the information that Mr. Meredith said he would express no opinion whether it would be right or wrong to defend Inspector Archabold, considering all the circumstances. He certainly would not do it unless instructed by the Executive.

Ald. Lamb's second amendment not being seconded, the chairman put the original motion, which was carried by 6 to 4 voes.

For the City Counsel defending Archbold and Barton: Ald. Jolliffe, Hallam, Crawford, McMurrich, Graham, the Mayor—6.

Against: Ald. Lamb, Dunn, Frankland, Atkinson—4.

The Cat Out of the Bag.

Whilst the meeting was in progress the Mayor told Mr. Kelly that the reason he wanted for the city to be a party to the suit was that "Archabold had nothing," and that if the verdict, as would most likely be the case, were in Kelly's favor, the city would pay him, whereas if Mr. Meredith did not represent the city Kelly would get nothing out of Archabold's estate.

CUT HIS HEART OUT.

How a Mexican Avenged the Murder of His Sweetheart.

New York, Aug. 6.—A Recorder special from the City of Mexico says: A tragic affair is reported from a mining camp in Northern Mexico. At a rustic gathering, Mescal, a liquor made from cactus leaves, had been drunk to excess, and all were intoxicated. While the dance was in progress a general quarrel sprang up. A young girl who saw her lover in danger ran to his rescue. Just as she was about to fling her arms about his neck his antagonist plunged a dagger into her breast. The lover, rendered frantic at the sight, flew at the murderer, and literally cut his heart out. Before the riot was quelled four lives were lost.

"Nadgy" At the Gardens.

Last evening the Royal Opera Company opened their second week at the Pavilion with an excellent production of Chas saigne's romantic comic opera "Nady," which, although heard in Toronto before, is more of a novelty than its predecessor, "The Mikado."

The opera, which is in three acts, is from the French or MM. Liorat nd Fouteny, the English version being by Alfred Murray and the music by F. Chassaigne. As Pal ix Pharagas, the professor of music, etiquette and dancing, and follower of the Hungarian patriot, Rakoczy, Richard F. Carroll sustains his reputation as a comedian of sterling merit. He was excessively funny and at times convulsed the audience with shrieks of laughter. As Nadgy, Mis Toma Hanlon was a revelation to the audience, as in "The Mikado" she had little opportunity to show her undoubted ability. Her sparkling vivacity, chic and abandon were charming in the extreme, and her interpretation of the difficult role is worthy of all praise. Miss Louise Moore was a beautiful Princess Etelka, and made up for any little first night lapses of memory by the sweetness and purity of her voice. She sang the interpolated song, "Your Heart," with much beauty and expression Of both the acting and singing of Joseph W. Smith, the Count de Rosen, naught but the very highest praise can be given. His voice is possessed of a quality the beauty of which is more apparent the oftener one hears it. His interpolated song, "Answer," by Gounye, was superbly sung, and called forth a triple encore. As the Margrave of Bobrumkoff, the fantastic old uncle, Fred C Palmer filled the role to perfection. As the Hungarian patriot, Rakoczy, George Sinclair looked picturesque and sang well, his rendering of the patriotic song with chorus, "At the Signal of Battle," being received with well-merited applause. Miss Grace Atherton also did well as Dama Angelin. As Peterman Mr. Arthur Etherington made his first appearance during this engagement. It is perhaps not generally known that Mr. Etherington is a brother of Miss Marie Tempest, and, in fact, resembles his sister very much in face. The audience last evening was a large and brillant one. Among those present were: Sir Francis Smith, Messrs. John Foy, Brian Macdonald and party, Andrew Darling and party and many more of Toronto's best known citizens. "Nadgy" will be repeated every evening this week, with matinees on Civic Holiday and Saturday. Next week Gilbert & Sullivan's popular opera, "The Pirates of Penzance," will be given.

Valparaiso, Ind., Aug. 6.—Samuel Ensign, who left this city 21 years ago to make a trip as engineer of an ocean steamer, returned to this country yesterday, and tells a strange story of his absence. The vessel on which he shipped went to Cuba, where the captain got into trouble with the authorities and the crew was seized by the Spanish authorities. Ensign was thrown into a cell in the old Government prison, where he was kept prisoner for 12 years, when he was taken out and given to a prominent Catholic priest as a body-guard and servant, and for nine years he was a slave. The priest, with Ensign as a valet, started on a year's tour, arriving in New Orleans about a month ago, when Ensign deserted him, starting north to try and find his wife, whom he had left in this city. Yesterday he reached Michigan City and made his way to the home of James and John Prentice, two prominent farmers who are nephews of his, where he found his wife.
