LETTER FROM THE FRONT

FROM LANCE-CORP. G. BLAIR FINIGAN

France, Sept. 26, 1915.

Dear Mother:

All the R. C.'s have gone to M— to church, and as we Protestants have none to go to, we are busying ourselves writing letters. Received the papers, a letter from Elsie, one from Raymond, and a card from Lelia a few days ago. You cannot imagine how much a letter or bundle of papers means to us.

I notice by the Telegraph that recruiting is going on pretty good now. I am glad I signed on when I did. If the boys in Canada could only see the conditions in this country, they would not be very long getting on a uniform and be waiting to get a chance at the Germans.

Our time has come; we can hear the guns roaring from one day's end to another, and expect to be in the trenches any day. We are all well, and just as eager as ever to get into the trenches. Day after day we hear the remark, "I wish they would put us in those trenches to-night."

There is a whole lot I would like to tell you, but cannot, so will have to save it until I come home. Harry Bartlett's son, who is in the 14th Battalion, was down to see me a few days ago. He has been in the trenches and is having a rest now.

Well, I must close for this time, as I cannot think of anything more to write. Love to all.

Your affectionate son, BLAIR.

FREE UNTIL 1916

Have you subscribed yet for The Youth's Companion for 1916? Now is the time to do it, if you are not already a subscriber, for you will get all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1915 free from the time your subscription with $2.25 is received.

The fifty-two issues of 1916 will be crowded with good reading for young and old. Reading that is entertaining, but not "wishy-washy." Reading that leaves you, when you lay the paper down, better informed, with keener aspirations, with a broader outlook on life. The Companion is a good paper to tie to if you have a growing family—and for general reading, as Justice Brewer once said, no other is necessary.

If you wish to know more of the brilliant list of contributors, British as well as American, who will write for the new volume in 1916, and if you wish to know something of the new stories for 1916, let us send you free the Forecast for 1916.

Every new subscriber who sends $2.25 for 1916 will receive, in addition to this year's free issues, The Companion Home Calendar for 1916.

Local and General

In the casualty list published in Ottawa on Sunday appears the name of W. Hazen Carson, 26th Battalion, of St. George, N. B., reported seriously wounded.

While the Committee of the Patriotic Sale are most anxious to receive gifts, they feel that a live porcupine is too bristly a proposition for them to handle.

A party from Robbinston came over to St. Andrews in a motor boat on Saturday, and on their return a little boy, son of Wm. Hayward, was put aft in the cuddy-hole to keep warm. A set-screw on the propellor shaft, which passed through the cuddy-hole and was uncovered, caught the boy's coat-sleeve and his arm was broken as a result. The boat returned to St. Andrews, and Dr. Wade attended to the boy's injuries.

A special Harvest Service was held in the Methodist church on Sunday. The music for the occasion was repeated from the previous Sunday evening's service, when Rev. Mr. Purdy, of Truro, N. S., made an address on behalf of the Protestant Home for Girls at Truro.

Great improvements are being made by the new jailer, Mr. T. E. Worrell, in and about the Court House and jail, including the whitewashing of the fence at the rear of the jail. It is to be hoped that the grounds in front of the Court House will receive proper attention next summer.

The distinguishing feature of the Smith Premier Typewriter is a key for every character. Only one stroke is needed to print each letter.
A. Milne Fraser, Halifax, N. S.

On Sunday last His Lordship Bishop Richardson held a Confirmation Service in All Saints Church, when the following persons were confirmed; Hazen P. McDowell, Wilfred B. Rankine, Frederick S. Rankine, Charles E. Anderson, Charles E. Stinson, Mary H. Sharp, Mary M. Pendlebury, Georgie D. Johnson, Frances E. Thompson, Florence A. Thompson, and Mina Pendlebury. His Lordship's address to the candidates was very inspiring, and was listened to by the Congregation with a great deal of interest.

At the evening service, it being "Children's Day" in the Church of England, His Lordship addressed the Sunday School children in a very delightful manner, and afterwards preached to the congregation on the subject of Missions; making a strong appeal for aid to the Church in performing her duty in this respect, and in carrying out the various schemes begun long before the war.

Both services were well attended.

In the afternoon His Lordship preached to an unusually large congregation at St. John's Church, Chamcook.

EXPERIMENTAL FISH CURING ON NAVY ISLAND

Mr. Arthur Calder, caretaker of the Biological Station, and Mr. Fulton Cross have erected a small house near the shore on the government property on Navy Island, and are making experiments in the curing of fish, especially finnan haddies, under instructions from Prof. McCallum, of the Biological Station. The experiments are being made according to the Scotch method, which differs from the one in general use in the Maritime Provinces. In the Scotch method the fish are split down the back. The first lot of fish cured by Messrs. Calder and Cross was shipped to Toronto on Saturday last.
