News Summary.

DOMINION.

—During the past few days three tons and a half of salmon have been shipped from Port Medway river, N. S., to Boston. The product of salmon on the river this season will reach 50,000 pounds.

—N. S METHODIST CONFERENCE.—The Nova Scotia conference of the Methodist church opens in Lunenburg to-day.

—They are still mulcting liquor dealers for fines and costs in Charlottetown for violation of the Canada temperance act.

—The Bridgewater Times says that the Nictaux & Atlantic Railway company have completed their financial arrangements in London, and that work will be pushed forward vigorously to completion. The rails have been purchased and will be shipped forthwith.

—A. M. Maine, who was arrested last week by the Bank of Nova Scotia at Amherst on a charge of embezzlement, was brought up before Stipendiary Cutten for preliminary examination on Monday last, and no one appearing against him, he was discharged. The amount short, some $150, has been paid by friends.

—The country is looking beautiful, and the fine weather has enabled farmers to make great progress in their farm operations. There is every indication of good hay and fruit crops.—Bridgetown Monitor.

—The government will increase the vote to cover bounties to fishermen from $150,000 to 180,000, and decrease the public works estimates to relieve this fund.

The Fredericton Capital says that President Jack, of the University does not contemplate resigning at the end of the present year, as previously reported.

—The first crushing at the newly-discovered gold mines in Kemptville, N. S., gave a bar of gold weighing seventy ounces from eight tons of quartz.

—OTTAWA, June 12.—The House passed through all its stages a resolution and bill providing for the borrowing of the 30 million dollars, about which Sir Leonard is now in London.

—Yarmouth, N. S., celebrated its 124th anniversary on Tuesday.

—Three places in Truro—the Custom House, the market and J. A. Leaman's office—were entered on the night of the third inst., by a gang of burglars in search of booty. The scoundrels were unsuccessful.

—Mr. Henry Dryden, of Coverdale, Albert Co., received word a few days ago that his son Alfred had died on June 3rd, from injuries received by being crushed by a brow of logs on the Penobscot River, Maine. The young man left home on the 22nd of April. His age was 24, and he was active and industrious.

—Wm. Wilson, barrister-at-law, will be the Government candidate in York County against J. D. Hazen, barrister-at-law, for the vacancy in the local.

—The Sun says Mr. Geo. W. Burbidge, Deputy Minister of Justice, will shortly proceed to Regina to watch Riel's trial on behalf of the Government. "Riel," (says the Ottawa correspondent of the Montreal Gazette) "will be tried before Stipendiary Magistrate Richardson, of Regina, by a jury of six, one-half French and one-half English. The evidence will be overwhelming in proof of his guilt, and it is to be hoped the verdict will be in accordance with the known facts."

The latest illustrated War News, of June 13, will possess peculiar attractions for the people of St. John, and of N. B. generally. There is a full page illustration of the departure of the St. John Fusileers as they were crossing the Market Square en route for Intercolonial R.R. Station. There is also a very fine portrait of Gen. Middleton, and other illustrations.

—The Senate's amendments to the Scott Act are to be considered in the Commons on Thursday.

—The debate on the Franchise Bill is about over. Petitions are coming in in great numbers against its passage.

—THE NORTHWEST.—Owing to the terrible condition of the trail, Gen. Middleton has been compelled to abandon the pursuit of Big Bear. It was hoped, at one time, that he could be hemmed in and compelled to fight: but he was too nimble to be caught. The General is reported as about to make another attempt to overhaul the Indian band: but little hope is expressed of success. In the meantime Indians on the reserves are uneasy, and it is feared that many of them may join Big Bear unless something decisive is soon done.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

—The final returns of the recent elections for representatives to the Austrian Reichsrath have all been received. The result is that 191 Ministerialists and 132 German Liberals have been returned. The German liberals according to these figures lose fifteen seats. The Ruthenians, Italians, and Centrals secure 22 seats and the Democrats 3 seats.

—The Madagascar government has just passed laws prohibiting the manufacture or sale of rum in the district of Imerina under a penalty for each offence of ten oxen and £2. Any person found drunk with rum will be fined seven oxen and 28s., and the introduction of any quantity of rum into a district is punishable with a fine of five oxen and £1.—Christian Register.

—A letter from Nice reports "the fiftieth Monte Carlo suicide of the present season." The victim, whose nationality is unknown, is described as having lost 300,000 at the gaming tables.

The French Chambers of deputies has rejected by a vote of 320 to 90 the proposal for commission to inquire into the finances of the Republic. This is going it blind with a vengeance.

—Rev. Edwin Paxton Hood, pastor of the Independent Chapel, Falcon Square, London, and author of many religious, historical and other works, is dead, aged 62.

—Prince Frederick Charles, of Germany, and one of her greatest generals, is dead.

—Mr. Cameron, the special correspondent of the London Standard, was, when killed in Egypt, receiving a salary of £2,000 a year.

—The romance of the youth of Victor Hugo was, passionate attachment to Adele Foucher, the young daughter of a neighbor. Her father disapproved of the match, and would not give her a dowry, and at the same time the young Hugo was cut off without a shilling at home. They decided to wait, and, each remaining true, were married when he was twenty and she eighteen, on a capital of $150.

—According to the quarterly return of the Registrar-General, the population of the United Kingdom in the middle of 1885 is estimated at 36,325,115 persons; that of England and Wales at 27,499,041, of Scotland at 3,907,736, and of Ireland at 4,918,338. In the United Kingdom the births of 299,248 children, and the deaths of 196,760 persons, were registered in the three months ending March 31. The recorded natural increase of population was thus 96,488. The registered number of persons married in the quarter ending December 31 last was 140,974. The birth rate in the United Kingdom in the first quarter of 1885 was 32.7, and the death rate 22.0 per 1,000. The marriage rate in the fourth quarter of 1884 was 15.6 per 1,000.

—GREAT BRITAIN.—The great event of the week is the fall of the Gladstone government. After having passed through all the dangers due to their war policy in Egypt and Afganistan, they were defeated on the question of levying a tax on beer. The Conservatives and the Parnellites formed an alliance, and were able to muster a small majority through the absence of a large number of Liberals, who were afraid to face the beer interest, and vote for an increased tax upon this commodity.

Gladstone, when he appeared in Parliament after his defeat, appeared more than ordinarily cheerful. There is no doubt but that he would gladly throw off the responsibilities of the government of Great Britain, and rest the short part of his life which remains. But the truest men of the nation cannot but view his retirement from politics with regret and even with some alarm. It appears as if the Queen has accepted Gladstone's resignation with almost unseemly haste. It is known that she has never been a warm friend of the "grand old man." The Earl of Salisbury has been summoned to undertake the task of forming a cabinet, and he seems to have accepted the delicate duty with alacrity. The position is a difficult one: for he has to govern the nation when there is a majority in the opposition, and he has some elements in his own party which will be difficult to control. Lord Randolph Churchill expects a place in the government, and it is supposed he will have it. The Parnellites will expect a reward for helping to defeat Gladstone, and this will complicate the Irish question. It is not difficult to believe, however, that like as Randolph Churchill begun by berating Gladstone for his leniency to Ireland and then outbid him for their favor, so the Conservative government will do the same, although this is not to be expected.

It is doubtful whether any material change will be made in the foreign policy of the country. The negotiations with Russia are so far along that they will probably go on, although the Russian press is apprehensive. Then there is a majority of Liberals in the House of Commons which will be a restraint upon the "blood and gunpowder business" to which the Tories are a little too inclined.

Nothing on earth has met with so much success in soothing and healing all kinds of flesh wounds, as well as pains and rheumatism, as Gates' Nerve Ointment, every one should keep a box on hand.

A statistician estimates that courtships average three tons of coal each, and Minard's Liniment will cure aches and pains wherever they exist. Price only 25 cents.

THE FAVORITE Washing Compound of the day is JAMES PYLE'S PEARLINE. It cleanses fabrics without injury and without the laborious scrubbing necessary with ordinary soap. For sale by grocers.

For constitutional or scrofula catarrh, and for consumption induced by the scrofulous taint, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the true remedy. It has cured numberless cases. It will stop the nauseous catarrhal discharges, and remove the sickening odor of the breath, which are indications of scrofulous origin.
