TWO CONCERTS ON CHRISTMAS EVE.

United Baptist and Methodist Sunday Schools Give Fine Entertainments

On Christmas evening a pleasing concert was given in the United Baptist church by the teachers and members of the Sunday school. A Christmas Pageant was the outstanding feature and was delightfully carried out with much credit to the directors and participants.

There was a large attendance and a collection of $59 was made which will be forwarded to the European Children's Relief Fund.

The only copy of the original program was accidentally destroyed, and the following one from memory is given The Observer from memory by one of the committee:

Chorus—Primary department.
Recitation—Harold Day.
Section by Class.
Scripture Reading.
Tableau.
Exercise—Mrs. K. W. Keith's class.
Duet—Howard and Harold Alton.
Chorus—Miss Estabrooks' and R. R. Nixon's classes.
Reading—Miss Drake.
Chorus—Miss Estabrooks' and Mr. Nixon's classes.
Motion Song—Miss Flora Britton (soloist) and intermediate class (motions).
Recitation—Muriel Sipprelle.
Christmas Pageant.
Recitation—Ruth Dickinson.
God Save the King.

At the Methodist church there was a similar concert and the church was well filled. As in the foregoing the collection was for the Children's Relief Fund. Following is the program:

Opening Address—Daisy Alton.
Recitation—Christmas Secrets—Clarence Wilmot.
Song—At Christmas Time—Children.
Recitation—A Joke on Pa—Charles Gray.
Recitation—Christmas Time—Clarence Kyle.
Duet—Hark! Bells Ring—Margaret Stevens and Creighton Baker.
Monologue—Making People Merry—Aubrey Baker.
Recitation—Song of Christmas—Reta Taylor.
Recitation—Go Forth as Shepherds—Clarence Wilmot.
Dialogue—The Orphan Boy.
Recitation—A Child World—Winnifred Moore.
Solo—Songs of Joy—Geo. W. Lucy.
Recitation—Seein' Things At Night—Creighton Baker.
Prayer—Four Girls.
Exercise—The Christmas Story—Children.
Recitation—A Little Boy—Clinton Clarke.
Anthem—Choir.
Recitation—I'm Going Back to Grandma's—Irene Barton.
Reading—A Christmas Guest—Beulah Gray.
Song—Jingle Bells—Six boys.
Recitation—Anna Carpenter.
Recitation—The Best Day—Viola Clarke.
Chorus—Children.
Anthem—Choir.

At the close of the program a treat was given the children.

Rev. J. K. King, pastor, was presented with a purse of money from the congregation.

Miss Marion Stevens, church organist, was presented with the purchase price of a fine club bag.

Miss Marion Baker, Sunday School organist, was presented with a leather bound Methodist Hymnal from the Sunday school.

COMPLIMENTARY

The Press wishes to thank the Carleton Observer, Ltd., of Hartland, for a copy of its reprint of "The Open Hand," an epic Poem written by W. D. Kearney and first published in 1884 at Presque Isle, Maine, by W. S. Gilman. It is clearly printed, artistically set up, typographically correct, and Fred H. Stevens should be proud of the job he has turned out. The Poem itself tells an interesting tale of early days along the St. John river. The advance sales have almost taken the entire edition, but there are a few copies left which can be had for $1 each by writing to the Carleton Observer, Ltd., Hartland—Press.

NEWMAN CLARK HUNGER STRIKES IN ANDOVER JAIL

Andover, Dec. 11—Newman Clark, condemned to hang on March 1st for the murder of Thomas Bell at Grand Falls, has started a hunger strike in Andover jail. For the past few days he has consistently refused to touch food. Water is the only kind of nourishment he has taken, at enforced feeding been attempted with success.

The prisoner's physical condition has steadily become worse since his trial last month, and it was thought he failed to appear from the court on the ordinary charge of murder, on account of illness. [illegible] lies of Perth, charged with statutory offences against two squaws, inhabitants of the Tobique Point Indian Reserve. Before a hearing was held it was learned that the two families of Indians had moved to Maine, consequently no evidence can at present be procured on which to prove the charges.

Oscar Hayward Gets Two Months for Killing Deer on Sunday

The Fredericton Mail says:

A severe penalty for killing a cow moose in violation of the Game Act of the Province of New Brunswick was handed out by Police Magistrate Limerick in the Fredericton Police Court this morning, when he imposed a sentence of a fine of one hundred dollars or two months in jail on Oscar Haywood of Carleton County. The accused went to jail saying that he could not pay the fine.

Haywood committed the offence in York County killing the animal on a Sunday. He is a man of poor circumstances and the charge was made as light as possible on that account. A warrant was issued for the man and Sheriff Allison R. Foster of Carleton County brought the man here. Chief Game Warden L. A. Gagnon appeared in court this morning.

Haywood did not defend the case.

The officials of the Game Department are determined to do their utmost to protect the game of the province. In many rural districts there is a tendency to regard the Game Act very lightly but a few more penalties like that given this morning will cause a change in opinion.

TEDFORD-CRABB

A very quiet but pretty wedding took place at the Reformed Baptist parsonage on Christmas eve, when Arthur Tedford of Windsor was united in marriage with Miss Kate [illegible] of this town, the nuptial knot being tied by Rev. H. C. Mullen. The bride was for three years a faithful member of the Observer staff, and to the paper's readers she became favorably known by her obliging and courteous manner. The groom is an "honest man" and since his return he has established himself in a good blacksmith business at Windsor. Only two weeks ago the house which he had finished and furnished for his bride-to-be took fire and burned to the ground. In spite of this misfortune at the beginning The Observer joins with a host of other friends in the wish for a long and happy life.

CARD OF THANKS

I hereby wish to express to my friends and neighbors my sincere thanks and appreciation for their kindness in remembering me with a purse of money at this season. This comes at a very needed time. May God richly bless and reward every giver.

Your friend and brother,
ZIBA ORSER.

Fatal Diphtheria at Wicklow

A number of cases of diphtheria have made their appearance in Wicklow, two proving fatal—Mrs. Killcollins and daughter. This family has been greatly afflicted and their sorrow has called forth much sympathy. All other cases are now improving.

BUILDING BURNED IN HARTLAND

It was an Old Landmark, Owned by H. N. Boyer, Built by Colby Henderson 35 Years Ago

About 8.45 on Monday morning fire broke out in the 2½ story building on Main street, opposite Queen street, and owned by H. N. Boyer. The fire caught from a stove in a bedroom and the interior of the whole upper flat was speedily in flames. The firemen were quickly on the scene and in a few minutes several powerful streams of water were being poured into the building. Several hours hard fight was required to put out the blaze. There was no wind and the fire was kept well within the building, the walls of which still stand, and at no time was adjacent property endangered.

The building was occupied upstairs by a family named Clark. Mrs. Clara Billing also had a lot of household furniture stored there. Downstairs Mr. Boyer had a quantity of stoves and surplus hardware stock, but all the contents of the building were removed with little damage.

Colby Henderson constructed the building 35 years ago and used it for a time as a wagon and carriage factory. The first roller skating rink in Hartland was on the upper floor—many years ago—and was run by R. W. Richardson. During the 35 years the building served many purposes and within its walls The Observer first saw the light of day, on May 30, 1906.
