IN HONOR OF ST. GEORGE.

The Englishmen of Toronto Pay Homage to Their Patron Saint.

The anniversary service of St. George's Society was held yesterday afternoon in St. James' Cathedral. The society mustered at its rooms on Louisa-street and marched in a body, headed by President G. W. Beardmore, to the Cathedral. There were between 700 and 800 members in line. The service was an impressive one, the musical portion being especially fine. Solos were rendered by Mr. Gustave Thalberg and Mrs. Agnes Corlett-Thomson. The collection was in aid of the charitable fund of the society, and a very handsome amount was realized.

The sermon was preached by Rev. H. P. Hobson, whose text was from verse 5, Psalm 137, "If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning." After briefly referring to the nature of the service and its object, the preacher dwelt upon the love, which time nor distance could never blot out, of an Englishman for his land of birth. If anyone had a right to be proud of his fatherland it was an Englishman, for the deeds of his ancestors had made England the envy of the civilized world. The lives of England's great men are aptly described by Longfellow's lines, when the poet says, "Lives of great men all remind us," etc. History records on every page the distinguished heroism and patriotism of its people. Philosophers like Bacon and Newton; Stephenson, the inventor; Capt. Cook, the navigator; Sir John Franklin, the explorer, of whose tragic death had been mourned by the civilized world; Milton, Johnson and Shakespeare, the scholars, were names mentioned as conspicuous on the historic page. An Englishman's love for his country should not be based upon the creditable manner in which his ancestors had acquitted themselves, but chiefly because England has and is still taking an active and commendable step in the evangelization of the world, in the extension of Christ's kingdom and in the preservation and circulation of the Bible. In this connection the efforts of William Tyndall, a foremost champion of God's Word, Elliott, Bishop Hannington, Livingstone, the National Bible Society of Scotland, the Hibernia Society of Ireland, and the British Society were instanced. Other illustrious names to which glowing tributes were paid were also mentioned.

The Coercion Bill was briefly alluded to, and the hope was expressed that the solution of the question would not result in the sundering of the present relations of the two countries, which had much in common. Irish soldiers had fought side by side with Scotch and English soldiers. Nelson and Wellington are buried in St. Paul's Cathedral, and the heroism and patriotism of those and kindred soldiers and statesmen teach the lesson of uniting more firmly the Empire. Queen Victoria was warmly enlogized, her reign being a fulfilment of the Earl of Carlyle's wishes, that it should be one notable for the blessings of peace rather than one of war, and her subjects may therefore very appropriately celebrate her jubilee.

The society will hold a jubilee banquet at the Walker on morrow evening.

CHURCHES AND GROSSHOPS.

Rev. George H. Vibbert's Lecture to the Young Prohibitionists.

The Hon. and Rev. Geo. H. Vibbert of Boston, Mass., delivered a lecture on "Churches, Schools and Grog Shops" in the Pavilion Music Hall yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Young Men's Prohibition Club. The audience was not large, but it made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers. Ald. Fleming was chairman. Mr. Vibbert is a tall, stoutly built, fine looking man, and a forcible, entertaining and sometimes eloquent speaker. His lecture was a masterly one from a Prohibition standpoint.

Mr. Vibbert declared himself an out-and-out Prohibitionist. He declaimed strongly against the license system or anything at all approaching it, because he believed in the utter annihilation of the traffic. Having been a resident of Maine, he could say that prohibition had great things for that state. In the great majority of the towns and villages liquor could not be procured. It could be got in some places, however, but one had to sneak after it, for it was imported in flour bags, egg boxes, coal oil barrels, and even in coffins, and it was hid in pig sties and manure heaps, in beds and in cradles. So degrading was the means of getting it that decent men become ashamed of it and quit. In Portland a hotel menu bore in place of the wine list the words "Weed like to, but dare not." The time will come, he said, when Canadian hotel keepers will have no wine list.

The value of property, Mr. Vibbert said, was greatly increased wherever prohibition prevailed. The savings bank deposits, the proof of the condition of the common people, showed a proportionate increase in Maine of five times as much as in New York State, which was soaked in whisky. There was in Maine a generation of young people who never saw a drunkard and never saw or tasted liquor. He made a strong plea for the universal extension of the franchise to women.

Mr. Vibbert said that temperance reformations have not been properly worked. Instead of trying to take the drinker from the drink by making him sign the pledge, the drink should be taken from the drinker by a prohibitory law. Out of ten drunkards who signed the pledge five years ago, seven are drunk to-day. The indifference of so many intelligent Christian people is the chief obstacle to the progress of temperance.

Are They British Subjects?

Editor World: Is Archbishop Lynch a British subject? I always understood he was an Irish-American.

Is Erastus Wiman a British subject? He could not hold real estate in the United States if he had not become naturalized. B.

Hold Him.

Editor World: I hope you will hold him, otherwise he will do somebody harm. "No Treason" is a desperate fellow, and he should not be allowed to run about loose, till he has cooled down and had time to reflect. He requires a soothing draught and I am sorry for him. With care, I dare say, he will survive. In the meantime hold him. A. JOHNSON.

Canadians are Loyal.

Editor World: Your paper contains judicious and honorable sentiments from day to day, fearlessly expressed, endearing you to the hearts of every true loyal subject of this our beloved Canada. Never was there a period of such uncertainty and faltering loyalty as exists among annexationists to-day. We do not want annexation. We do not heed His Grace Archbishop Lynch's predictions. We all know the Catholic Church would glory in England's humiliation, notwithstanding the concessions granted. We believe in Canada first, closely confederated with the mother country. I assure you, sir, these are the expressions of the masses of Toronto citizens to-day. Continue as boldly in the advocacy of our rights, as you are doing, and I predict a bright and solid future for you. SAXON.

The Don Improvements.

Editor World: I would like to call the attention of the public through your columns to the action of the Committee on Works of the City Council with regard to the carrying out of No. 3 section of the Don improvement scheme, which extends from Gerrard-street to Winchester-street. Messrs. Manning & Macdonald, who were awarded No. 2 section last fall, were the next lowest tenderers to Mr. W. Robinson, to whom No. 3 section was awarded. Mr. Robinson having refused to carry out his contract, and his deposit having been returned to him, surely these can be no doubt but that Messrs. Manning & Macdonald are entitled to that section. They are a responsible firm, and are at present doing good work on No. 2 section. Should the course proposed by the Board of Works be adopted, that of readvertising for tenders, it will cost considerably more than it would otherwise have done, as the figures of the twenty-one parties who tendered for the work last fall have been published in the scientific papers of Canada and the United States, thereby giving information as to prices, which would be unfair to those who tendered in the first place. DON.

Separate Schools.

Editor World: In speaking of recent changes in the school law, you and other Protestant journalists speak of them as "concessions granted to the Roman Catholics." Will you do me the favor, in future, to refer to them as "concessions granted to the Roman Catholic clergy." We never asked for these changes, and don't want them. Mr. Mowat granted them to our clergy in return for promised political support in the elections. The price was paid in advance by the Government and the clergy afterwards carried out their part of the bargain. Another part of the contract yet to be fulfilled is Separate High Schools and a Separate Model School. The change in the law making all Catholics Separate School supporters, without asking their consent or permission, has put a whip into the hands of our clergy, which they are using with unsparing severity. We can only pay our taxes and send our children to the Public Schools now, by notifying the clerk of the municipality that we refuse to support the Separate Schools. If we give this notice it is a declaration of war against the church, which incurs ecclesiastical censure and deprivation of the sacraments. As the law stood before, we could send our children to the Public Schools without putting ourselves in this position. As it stands now, we must either condemn our children to the mental degradation of the Separate Schools, or spend our own lives under the ban of the church. Yet you say the Mowat Government has given us important concessions. Heaven preserve us from such benefactors.

The Fishery Question.

From the Montreal Gazette of April 22.

So far as can be judged now, the American Government has suggested a negotiation in part, and availing of the overtures, the British and Canadian Governments have gone a step further and proposed to enlarge the scope of a commission. The Americans would have a determination of the limits of those territorial waters within which, subject to the stipulation of the convention of 1818, the exclusive right of fishing belongs to Great Britain; the Canadians would have considered, in addition, a measure of reciprocity in fish and other products, and pending this is prepared to restore the condition that prevailed for six months after the abrogation of the fishing clauses of the Washington treaty, with this difference: that Canadian fish shall have free entry into the markets of the United States. There certainly is nothing of stultification or for universal condemnation in such a proposal as that. On the contrary it opens the way to an honorable and permanent adjustment of the existing difficulty. That the United States will never again consent to giving money compensation, in addition to a free market, for the rights of fishing within the three-mile limit, and that alone is what they paid for before, has long been notorious, and it is no exaggeration to say that but for the five and a half millions to Canada, the fishery clauses of the Washington treaty would still be in operation. The Globe will have nothing short of commercial union. The people of Canada would, with singular unanimity, regret any overtures looking to that end, but a modified measure of reciprocity would prove of advantage to both countries, and, pending negotiations for that purpose, such an arrangement as appears by the despatches to have been proposed by the Canadian and British governments, seems an honorable adjustment of a threatened difficulty, which both countries desire to avoid.

Enjoy Life.

—What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us a grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like saying it is all a blank and dull or a dreary and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them free from disease and pain. Dyspepsia and liver complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, costiveness, nervous prostration, dizziness of the head, palpitation of the heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. 135

Photography.

—No art is more prominently and conspicuously brought before the public than photography. The question often asked is, "Where can I get a life-like picture?" At Lematre's, 324 Yonge-street, is the answer. By careful attention to business and using the Al material, and employing only first-class assistants, Mr. Lematre has built up a business that will bear comparison with any in the city. 361
