Brooker Beat the Russian Twice.

The assault-at-arms in Massey Hall on Saturday night brought out an exhibition of strength and dexterity that highly pleased a large, mixed audience. Capt. De Malchin, late of the Russian Imperial Dragoons, and Sergt.-Major Brooker, R.C.D., were in three contests for points. The first, with foils, the captain won, 5 to 3, but lost the sword contest, 2 to 5, and the sword combat, 3 to 5. Both contestants received hearty applause. E. S. Jarvis, the former champion of Canada, acted as referee and went on for an exhibition bout with Capt. De Malchin, showing that he had lost little of his skill, both boys receiving and giving many things freely. Harrison got the decision, but the crowd expected another round. Smith and Davis were the welterweight attractions, but neither had much to show, the bout was very tame. Smith won. The prizes were presented immediately after the last bout. Summary:

105 lbs., bantamweight—F. Oswald (Good Luck A.C.) v. W. Clark (Alerts)—Oswald, decision.

112 lbs., featherweight—Bert Gale (Musketeers) v. N. Lang (Avenue A.C.)—N. Lang, decision.

Peter Smith of the Marlboros won the welterweight honors, and once more Ell Gibson, under the Mutuals' colors, captured the heavyweight championship. The referee for Hamilton had a good one in Frank McIntosh, who boxed each night, as did also Peter Smith, Thomas Holt and J. H. Aitken. The judges were overworked up to give several close decisions, the verdicts were generally accepted as correct. The best feature was the splendid order maintained among the spectators throout the tournament.

Young Corbett Won at Chicago.

Chicago, April 2.—Young Corbett was given the decision over Tommy Mowatt, the fighting street car conductor of Chicago, after six rounds of fast fighting at the Waverly Athletic Club to-night. Determination won by a decisive margin. Corbett started after Mowatt at the beginning of the first round, and endeavored in every possible way to bring the contest to a speedy end. Mowatt showed game in the first, and the Denver man had things all his own way during the first three minutes, but from that time on Mowatt stood his ground and swapped punches with Corbett.

Mowatt reached Corbett with powerful right swings to both the body and jaw. Corbett was the stronger of the two, however, and had the better of every round except the third. Corbett steadily gained the upper hand in the last three rounds and undoubtedly would have finished his opponent had the contest been a little longer.

The winner was challenged by Neary of Milwaukee, Kid Goodman of Boston and Abe Attell of San Francisco.

In a contest before the Corbett-Mowatt fight Kid Goodman of Boston knocked out Joe Galligan of Chicago in the sixth round.

CANADA WITHDRAWS AN ORDER.

Coasting Law Outside Yukon Inland Waters Annoyed U.S. Interests.

Washington, April 2.—A letter was received by the state department today from Consul Foster at Ottawa, giving notice that the Canadian commissioner of customs has removed instructions ordered Feb. 19, 1903, for the free entry of Canadian goods carried by foreign vessels from ports in British Columbia via St. Michael into the Yukon.

A little more than a year ago the Dominion government passed an order-in-council putting in force a coasting law outside the inland waters of Canada similar in effect to the law which has been in force in the United States for many years. The order was intended to confine the carrying trade between Canadian ports on the Great Lakes and between British Columbia and the Yukon Territory to British vessels. The order was waived for 1903, however, so far as it applied to the Pacific coast.

Last week it was represented that the order was about to be applied in full force, and there was a violent protest from American transportation companies on the Pacific coast who have every year carried many thousands of tons of freight from Victoria and Vancouver to Dawson by way of the Yukon River.

Thereupon the state department asked the authorities at Ottawa to waive the order again for 1904. At present this government winks at the violation of our coasting law when American shippers on Puget Sound use the Canadian route to Alaska, as is constantly being done.

FINAL BOUTS SATURDAY 8 CITY BOXING CHAMPIONS

Enormous Crowd Saw Clever Amateur Contests on Closing Night of Spring Tournament.

City Champions.

105 lbs.—F. Oswald, Good Luck A.C.
112 lbs.—N. Lang, Avenue A. C.
118 lbs.—C. Christie, Alerts B.B.C.
125 lbs.—W. Harrison, Alerts B.B.C.
135 lbs.—W. Walsh, Good Luck A.C.
145 lbs.—Peter Smith, Marlboro Hockey Club.
158 lbs.—H. Long, Avenue A.C.
Heavyweight—Ell Gibson, Mutual A.C.

"A fitting climax to the best amateur tournament ever held" was the general opinion expressed by the large crowd which witnessed the final bouts at Mutual-street Rink Saturday night. Nine bouts were billed, one a semi-final, but two were decided without any boxing. In the semi-final in the welterweight, H. Sangster (Markham) was overweight, and N. Davis (Stouffville) went into the final with P. Smith (Marlboros). The middleweight was the other class in which there was no bout, T. Boyd (Musketeers) meeting with an accident and being unable to box. H. Long (Avenue A. C.) received the title by default.

The rest of the bill amply repaid for the loss of these two bouts, and the crowd were perfectly satisfied that they had received their money's worth. Three classes returned the same champions of a year ago—Oswald in the 105-lb. class, Christie in the 118-lb., and Ell Gibson in the heavyweight class.

The officials on Saturday night were: Referee—William A. Hewitt. Judges—D. F. Maguire, F. O. Weighart, J. J. Smyth. Timers—W. J. Morrison, C. H. Good. Clerk of the scales—Frank McLaughlin.

All the bouts were spirited ones, replete with hard hitting and clever defence work. Only one championship was decided by the knockout route. Aitkens being unable to continue after the first round in the 118-lb. class.

The lightweight bout between F. McIntosh (Hamilton) and W. Walsh (of J. Moriarity's Good Luck A.C.), and the heavyweight contest between Ell Gibson (Mutual A.C.) and Hugh Kennedy, New Zealand (Good Luck A.C.), were the best bouts of the night. Walsh and McIntosh were even up when they went on for the third round, and they made things merry. Referee Hewitt ordered an extra round: Walsh did the leading and received the decision.

Kennedy, a big six-footer, but slim-built, was picked by some to beat Gibson in the heavyweight class, but good old Ell showed great form and won the decision handily. He knocked Kennedy down in the first round, but the latter came back strong and made a great finish. In the 105-lb. class, Oswald punched a little too hard for Clack, and he was awarded the title of champion. In the 112-lb. class, N. Lang was a little too good for Gale, and he gets the gold watch and championship. The 125-lb. final between W. Harrison and T. Holt was a hot affair. Both boys were willing, and swapped things freely. Harrison got the decision, but the crowd expected another round. Smith and Davis were the welterweight attractions, but neither had much to show, the bout was very tame. Smith won. The prizes were presented immediately after the last bout. Summary:

105 lbs., bantamweight—F. Oswald (Good Luck A.C.) v. W. Clark (Alerts)—Oswald, decision.

112 lbs., featherweight—Bert Gale (Musketeers) v. N. Lang (Avenue A.C.)—N. Lang, decision.

118 lbs., extra—C. Christie (Alerts B.R.C.) v. J. Stevens (Musketeers)—Christie, knockout, first.

125 lbs., special—W. Harrison (Alerts B. R.C.) v. T. Holt (Avenue A.C.)—Harrison, decision.

135 lbs., lightweight—W. Walsh (Good Luck A.C.) v. F. McIntosh (Hamilton)—Walsh, four rounds.

145 lbs., welterweight—N. Davis (Stouffville) v. E. Smith (Marlboros)—Smith, decision.
