MONTREAL, June 20.

Yesterday—being the Anniversary of the Battle of Waterloo—the Troops in Garrison were reviewed upon the old race ground, by His Excellency the Commander of the Forces, attended by a most brilliant Staff. The Regiments marched past in both slow and quick time, and afterwards performed a variety of evolutions, thirty rounds of blank cartridge being expended on the occasion. His Excellency looked most remarkably well—and never, we apprehend, were the orders with which he is covered worn by a more distinguished member of his house—a race who are born soldiers. He and Col. Gore alone (as far as we observed) wore the laurel which was of course assumed by the 43d colours in honour of the day.—Morning Courier.

QUEBEC, June 22.

The departure of a regiment ever conjures up a feeling of melancholy among the friends they are about to leave, perhaps for aye; but the regret called up at the last glimpse of their martial forms is still more keen when the departing corps has become a favourite where it has sojourned. The 43d Light Infantry were especially esteemed in Quebec, and their departure will be much felt by many coteries in which the officers had from their early arrival mixed as welcome and favoured guests.—Their hospitality will be long remembered in Quebec. The men, in their degree, were not less favorites, from their orderly bearing and quiet habits. This regiment embarked yesterday for Halifax. The Apollo will sail at 3 o'clock this afternoon. May happiness and success attend this gallant corps in its future destinations.

The following complimentary General Order, from Major General Sir James Hope, was read to the regiment yesterday morning, by Lieut. Colonel Furlong. We are happy to find their valuable services at the late fire so highly commended by the General:—

(Copy) "Quebec, 20th June, 1845.

"Major General Sir James Hope cannot take leave of the 43d Light Infantry, without expressing his approbation of the conduct of the regiment during the time it has been under his command.

"He begs in the most sincere manner to assure Lieut. Colonel Furlong, the officers, and non commissioned officers and men, that he will always feel a lively interest in their future welfare, and that he is confident the 43d Light Infantry will continue to be an example of gallant and good conduct and maintain the name the regiment has acquired on so many occasions.

"The Major General has also to remark, that in the early part of the service of the 43d in Canada, they had the good fortune to contribute to the glory of the British arms and to the success of Wolfe in the conquest of Canada.

"The Regiment now leaves these Provinces, having mainly assisted by their exertions to save the greater part of the Town of Quebec, during the late extensive conflagration on the 28th of May, and to have thereby merited the everlasting gratitude of its citizens.

(signed) "J. A. HOPE,
Major General."

The New York Journal of Commerce thus takes down the warlike bombast of the Polk Organ at Washington:—

The "U. S. Journal," that takes the place of the Madwoman in a late number has the following:—

"It will plant its right foot upon the northern verge of Oregon, and its left upon the Atlantic ocean, and waving the stars and stripes in the face of the once proud mistress of the ocean, bid her, if she dare—

——"Cry havoc,
And let slip the dogs of war!" "

We should without speculation on such a spectacle, be glad to known, says the "Concordia Intelligencer," the exact size of Ir's unmentionables; and whether they will be made at the expense of government, or private subscription.

Release of Santa Anna.—The Mexican steamer Neptuna, Captain Parkinson, which touched at Charleston on Thursday last, on her voyage from Havana to this port, brings information that Gen. Santa Anna, lady and family, exiles from Mexico, arrived at Havana on the 7th instant, in the British mail steamer Medway from Vera Cruz. They were going to Venezuela.

On the same day Gen Bustamente landed at Havana on his way to Mexico, in the British mail steamer Dee, from England.

HALIFAX, July 1.

FIRES—The past week has been prolific in alarms of Fire. On Saturday last, at one o'clock, p.m., the roof of an unoccupied house opposite the old Methodist meeting was discovered to be on fire—but timely aid being procured no damage was done. Later in the day, about half past four o'clock, there was another, and as it turned out a more serious alarm—a fire broke out in the workshop of Mr. George Patterson, Carpenter, in Gottingen street, which spread amongst the inflammable materials, with great rapidity, and unfortunately communicated to the house adjoining, owned respectively by Mr. John Metzler, and Mr. Cooper, both of which were consumed. The troops of the garrison and the sailors of the men-of-war, did excellent service in subduing the flames—and the Fire Department deserve the best acknowledgement of the citizens for the energy zeal, and ability they displayed in the execution of their several duties.—Times.

ARRIVAL OF THE 43D REGIMENT.—H. M. Troop ship Apollo, arrived on Sunday afternoon, in 7½ days from Quebec, with the 43d Regt. They landed at the Steam Boat wharf at 2 o'clock yesterday. The 46th Regiment at present in this garrison will shortly embark on board the Apollo for Quebec.—Ib.

THE QUEBEC RELIEF FUND.—On Friday last His Worship the Mayor sent a Bill for £1000 to Quebec, in aid of the Fund for the Relief of the sufferers by the late calamitous fire in that City.—Ib.

LAUNCH.—Messrs. Moseley launched a beautiful schooner, which they have built for the Revenue service at Richmond, between 1 and 2 o'clock, on Friday. Captain Darby performed the ceremony of christening, and named her the "Daring." Her construction combines the qualities of speed and safety, and it is anticipated, from the perfection of her model, that she can hardly be matched in skimming over the waves. She has a keel of 60 feet in length, with a beam of 22½ feet. Her burthen is 140 tons old—71 new measurement.—Journal.

MINING EXPEDITION.—A party of labourers under Mr. Bulgin, has been employed at Hammond Plains for several weeks past in exploring a tract which, from appearances, is supposed to be rich in mineral deposits. Some tin and other ores have been obtained, and the specimens are reported to be very fine.—Recorder.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—A Frenchwoman residing on Lot 9, (formerly of Miramichi,) was killed by Lightning on the night of Monday the 9th of June inst., during a very severe storm of lightning and rain. It appears the unfortunate woman and her husband had retired to rest, and were awoke by the rain dropping through the roof on to their bed, they arose and were in the act of moving the bed alongside a stove, when the electric fluid struck the stove, shattered it to pieces, and killed the poor woman on the spot.

Another accident also occurred, on the same day, during the same storm, at Rolla Bay. A party of men (3 French and 3 Irish) of the name of Fidele Peters, Charles Burke, Isaac Cheverez, Michael Howlett, Stephen Hacket, and J. Hacket, were out fishing in the above bay, in two boats, when a squall struck the boats, and capsized them, and melancholy to relate, the whole six were drowned.—We have heard that two large barns were razed to the ground, in the vicinity of the above accident; but have not been able to ascertain the particulars.

[Since writing the above, we have received the following additional information from a correspondent to the Eastward:]

"On Monday the 9th inst., about 3 p m., a hurricane began suddenly, and six persons out fishing in a boat were drowned; another boat in which were eight persons was upset, but a vessel lying at anchor near, they were providentially picked up and saved. The violence of the wind blew a vessel off the stocks, building by Mr. A. M'Dougall, and dashed the timbers apart, scattered them some distance; large half fell in abundance, and broke all the windows facing to windward, for miles along the coast—breaking the window-frames also in many instances. Several houses and barns were blown down, and others unroofed and otherwise damaged; fences and trees prostrated, &c. and if the crops had been more forward, the destruction might have been immense. It is said, that an old man deemed weatherwise, told the Fishermen in the morning (when apparently due) of the approaching storm, and advised them not to go out, or if they did to keep near the shore, but they disregarded his advice. This person says three more like storms may be shortly expected."—Islander.

SOMETHING MORE THAN GOOD WAGES WANTED.—It may be said that the distressed condition of the labouring classes is owing to temporary causes, and that good times by which is meant good wages, would remove a large part of the evil. I confess it does not appear to me that a good harvest or two, or ready customers on the other side of the Atlantic or the home demand that may arise from exhausted stocks, or any other cause of that nature which is simply to end in better wages, would of itself do all, or even any considerable part, of what we should desire. I do not for a moment, mean to depreciate the good effects that would flow from an increase of employment and better wages. But still I imagine that there are may cases in which, if you were in ordinary times to double the amount of wages, a very inadequate proportion of good would follow.—You have to teach these poor people how to spend money; you have to give them the opportunities of doing so to advantage; you have to provide a system of education which shall not vary with every fluctuation of tide, and to adopt such methods of working as shall make the least possible disturbance of domestic ties. No sudden influx of money will do all these things. In fact, whatever part of this subject one takes up, one is perpetually brought back to the conviction of the necessity which exists for an earnest and practical application, on the part of the employing class, of thought and labour for the welfare of those whom they employ.—The Claims of Labour.

NOVELTY.—A very handsome and commodious Iron House arrived in our harbour, during the week, and will shortly be erected near Little River in the vicinity of the city. It is the property of Mrs. Brown, formerly of Glasgow, and has every convenience and comfort attached to it. A particular description of it was recently given in the Chronicle. It is the first building of the kind ever imported into this Province.

COMMUNICATION.

MR. EDITOR—Having heard that Kotzebu's play of the Stranger was to be performed at the new Theatre in Duke street, on Wednesday night, and this beautiful written drama being one which I was always particularly attached to, I determined to witness its performances, and gratify my curiosity of viewing the arrangements of the new Theatre.—I send you the result of my observations. I found that there was a clean and commodious entrance, the stairway wide, and the walls well plastered, the Boxes neat and conveniently seated; and what I consider a great improvement in the arrangements there is no gallery, so that the gods are confined to their proper region the Pit, which seems also to offer from the convenient arrangement of the seats, every facility for their comfortable observation and repose.

The Theatre is extremely neat and well proportioned, and is effectually lighted by a large chandelier suspended from the centre of the ceiling. Having given you these brief remarks respecting the building, let me turn your attention to the performers.

I must confess that I was most agreeably surprised at the very capital acting of Miss McBride and Mr. Preston in this play. Miss McBride as Mrs. Haller threw great effect and interest into her character, and evinced a feeling and pathos so true to nature as took me quite by surprise. She is evidently an actress possessed of abilities much above the common standard. The modesty of her demeanor is at once prepossessing and interesting; her enunciation is pleasing, with a clearness which reaches the ear distinctly. Mr. Preston as the Stranger, was the very misanthrope; the injured yet loving husband, he presented the character to the audience well deserving approbation and applause, but the rest of the performance been in any degree equal to the two impersonations I have mentioned, a treat would in my opinion have been offered which we have seldom an opportunity of enjoying. Mr. Slader was not quite at home as Francis, Mr. Mason gave a new version of Solomon, which was barely possible, Mr. Smallwood as the Baron was abominable and my Lord his brother was ridiculously disgusting. These gentlemen do not seem to know their places. CANDIDUS.
