THREE STOREY SCHUSTER BLOCK WAS DESTROYED BY FIRE LAST EVENING

Heavy Loss in Conflagration Which Started in Rear--Still on Fire at Noon Today--Schuster Co., C.P.C. Telegraph, C.N.R. Ticket Office, C.P.R. Construction Offices, Sam Domenico's Fruit Store and Lodge Rooms Destroyed--The Losses.

Fire last evening completely destroyed the Schuster block, corner of Bridge and Pinnacle streets, causing a loss of about $30,000. Today as a result the five following offices were destroyed or almost totally damaged

The Schuster Coal Co., Ltd., office
Canadian Northern Ticket and Express Office
Canadian Pacific Telegraph Office.
Sam, Domenico's fruit store
Canadian Pacific Railway Engineers' quarters, on first floor

Also destroyed are the halls used by the following lodges.—

Mizpah Lodge No. 127 I.O.O.F.
Quinte Encampment No. 19, I.O.O.F
Quintena Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah.

It was shortly before 7.30 when a pedestrian on Pinnacle street noticed a blaze in the rear of the Schuster building, not many feet from the new Bell Telephone building. When he got to the front he learned that the alarm had already been sent in to the fire stations and the firemen. Just how the conflagration originated is unknown. One man says it was in the rear of Domenico's fruit store, while another states that when he first saw it it was breaking through the ceiling of the [illegible] above, leading to the impression that the fire had started in the part formerly used as a kitchen by the Canadian Pacific surveyors. Some complaints were heard that some time was lost in getting the water streams playing upon the building and that the water-pressure in the early evening was not very strong. Before eight o'clock the fire had got upstairs into the top floor and was playing havoc with the vestments and robes of the three lodges. The flames had not worked very rapidly towards the front and to some it seemed that the regalias could have been saved. However at first it did not appear that the lodge rooms were in danger. About eight o'clock the flames burst through the front windows of the lodge rooms, and then the large crowd which had gathered began to fear for the downstairs offices.

The firemen had a difficult task, handling the cold hose and utterly unable to reach any place of vantage to play upon the flames except one position on the roof of the old Bell Telephone building on Bridge street. The other leads had to be operated from the ground on Pinnacle and Bridge streets and it was with difficulty that the water could be made to reach the windows. From 8.30 onwards the fire ate slowly but steadily but the volume of water gradually told upon it, soaking the solid timbers of the building which has been standing for over thirty years.

Every precaution was used to protect the Bridge street telephone office. However the fine stone and brick fire walls of the two buildings prevented the spread of the flames.

The fire invaded the second story, where all the documents of the Canadian Pacific Railway Engineers' construction office were stored. A few of Mr. McGann's field notes were thrown out of the window, but other invaluable papers, profiles and maps for the past 14 months were destroyed.

The street offices were not burned but were ruined with a deluge of water which froze inches deep on the floor.

The losses in the street offices will not be very heavy as much of the effects were saved. They are covered by insurance.

The desks and papers were rescued from the Schuster Company's office, the C.N.R. ticket office and the C.P.R. telegraph office. The telegraph instruments were saved early in the course of the fire.

Some of the fruit was removed from the fruit store, but the rest was destroyed by the frost, once the window was broken and the cold air could get in.

Sam Domenico's store was insured for $500 with Mr. H. F. Ketcheson. He claims his loss is much greater than the insurance although this is the slack season in his business.

Invaluable were the papers destroyed in the C.P.R. engineering department here. Resident Engineer McGann managed to save some of his field notes, but as far as the office documents are concerned, very few were rescued. It is stated that many of the notes and documents cover the period of the past fourteen months.

Mr. McGann had $500 insurance on his personal effects with Mr. W. H. Hudson in the Rochester German Co. His loss includes a six hundred dollar piano, undoubtedly badly damaged and clothing, etc., amounting to $1500. Other engineers also suffered loss.

Nothing remains of the beautiful Mizpah lodge room, the regalias and robes of the I.O.O.F., hundreds of Encampment collars and the brand new Rebekah garments. Also suffering loss was Mr. E. T. Thompson, whose dishes and dining outfit which had been placed there in preparation for tonight's installation banquet, could not be saved. The loss is about $100.

[illegible] Rebekahs had not a cent of insurance on their robes. These were all new and at the last meeting there was a suggestion to have the regalia protected by insurance. Their loss is about four hundred dollars.

An effort was made to rescue the time honored charters of Mizpah lodge and Quinte Encampment and the recent charter of Quintena lodge but in vain. No one was able to penetrate the smoke.

The Mizpah and Quinte regalia is valued at about $2000.

The building was valued at over $20,000. It was purchased a few years ago by the Schuster Company, Ltd. Mr. H. F. Ketcheson had $9,000 insurance on it in three companies Atlas 3,000, British America, 3000; and Northern 3,000. There was further protection by insurance of $5000 in [illegible] Company, Mr. W. H. Hudson of this city.

During the early night the post office steps, and interior, the street, the Hotel Quinte steps and rotunda were crowded with spectators.

The firemen watched all night on the scene.

The corner presented a fairylike appearance this morning with a solid coating of glistening snow and frost on the walls. On the east side was a remarkable sight where the spray had formed a bank of snow and ice six feet deep on the sidewalk and a funnel shaped hole of ice had been formed at a window, through which the stream of water was poured for some hours. The sight was unique

The walls of the building are strong and are unshaken. The roof was of galvanized iron.

After nine o'clock this morning the firemen were called out again to the scene where the fire had broken out again at the rear.

At one o'clock this afternoon the brigade was called out, the upper story having taken fire again.

In a number of the adjoining blocks the rooms are full of smoke.

The C.P.R. engineers and surveyors made an effort this afternoon to remove some of their effects, which had not yet been damaged, for fear of further damage.

The work of reconstruction will likely begin as soon as insurance adjustments are made as the offices are in demand.

Many mechanics who have been in enforced idleness for several weeks past will be gratified to hear that the Steel Company of Canada propose to open up work in full force on Monday morning next. This will mean that there will now be practically no unemployment in the city.

WEDDING BELLS

CASSIDY—EGGLETON

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walton Eggleton on 2nd concession of Sidney on the 7th inst., a very pleasing event took place when their eldest daughter, Mary Alberta, was united in marriage to Mr Thomas Cassidy, the son of James Cassidy of Copper.

The home was tastefully decorated for the occasion and promptly at eight o'clock to the strains of the wedding march rendered by Miss Effie Cassidy, sister of the groom, the wedding party took their places beneath an arch of evergreen and roses under a floral bell.

The bride was given away by her father and looked charming in a gown of white silk with overdress of shadow lace and pearls. She wore the traditional bridal veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of carnations and lily of the valley.

The bride was attended by her sister Ethel, who was becomingly gowned in a dress of Copenhagen blue silk with trimmings of lace and carried a bouquet of carnations and chrysanthemums.

Two cousins of the bride, Miss Ruth Eggleton and Miss Bessie Dickens acted as flower girls and were beautifully dressed in white silk carrying a basket of daisies and carnations

The groom was ably assisted by Mr. Arthur Blair.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. E. Howard of Bayside Circuit, in the presence of 175 invited guests.

The bride was the recipient of many valuable presents showing the high esteem in which she is held.

The groom's gift to the bride was a sable muff, to the bridesmaid a bracelet set with sapphires, to the flower girls rings set with rubies and to the best man gold cuff links.

The young couple left on the train for Toronto, the bride travelling in a brown suit with white beaver picture hat and plumes.

On the evening of December 31st, about seventy friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. Walton Eggleton to present his daughter Mary, with a linen shower in honor of her coming marriage.

The evening was spent in recitations music and a poem contest About mid-night lunch was served and the party broke, all having spent an enjoyable time.

BALDWIN—HINCHEY

A pretty wedding was solemnized at high noon, Tuesday, December 23, when Laura Pearl, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Hinchey, Shannonville was united in marriage to Mr. Allan L. Baldwin Res. Eng., Toronto. The bride entered the drawing-room leaning on the arm of her father to the strains of the Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Grace Hill. The bride looked charming in a gown of ivory duchess satin, with real lace trimming, and carried a bouquet of white roses and maiden-hair fern. Her veil was draped in cap effect and caught up with orange blossoms. She was attended by Miss Naomi Irving, Queen's University, who wore pale blue crepe-de-chene, trimmed with pink rose-buds, and carried pink and white carnations. The groom was assisted by Mr. N. Polson, Bank of Commerce, Toronto. The ceremony was performed under a bower of evergreens and holly, by Rev. Barcham, of Trinity Anglican Church The interesting ceremony was followed by a dainty luncheon, along with the usual toasts and speech-making. The groom's gift to the bride was a cameo; to the groomsman a silver cigarette case; to the pianist gold pins set with pearls. The happy couple left amid showers of confetti for Montreal, and other eastern points, the bride travelling in a suit of brown bedford cord, with plush hat to match The popularity of Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin was evinced by the number of useful and costly presents received by them.

The guests from a distance were: Mrs. Baldwin and the Misses Baldwin, Toronto; Miss Tait, Campbellford; Mr. Anderson, Cobalt, Mr. Montgomery, Pembroke.

INQUEST ON RAILROAD VICTIM

Coroner of Lennox and Addington Had Evidently Not Been Notified—Advisable to Hold the Inquest Here.

Coroner Yeomans on Tuesday afternoon empannelled at Tickell and Sons Company's morgue a jury to inquire into the death of George Russell, killed in the pitch-in near Enterprise yesterday. The following are on the jury—E. T. Cherry, foreman; W. H. Panter, B. J. Black, F. J. Arnott, D. Donahue, R. H. Day, P. Harrison, J. B. Archibald and J. H. P. Young.

The coroner told the jury the report as given to him of the fatality—that fireman Russell and engineer Pratt were on an engine behind a flanger running through on the C.P.R. construction line for the Dominion Construction Company to Enterprise. It was reported that the orders were to look out for two standing engines at the water tanks near Enterprise. Before the pitch-in the men on the standing engines jumped, except one who had his face cut and two teeth knocked out. Russell was caught between the engine and the tender. He was crushed and scalded with escaping steam. He fell between the engine and tender beneath the wreckage. It was there that he was found.

Death was apparently due to crushing and inhalation.

The injured men and the dead body were placed in a boxcar for shelter.

Dr. Yeomans said that in the excitement evidently a coroner of Lennox and Addington had not been notified and it was deemed advisable to hold the inquest here.

The jury after viewing the remains adjourned until a week from tonight

LOCALS WIN FROM TRENTON

Junior Hockey Match Last Night—Accidents to Players—Game Was Late.

At the arena last night the Trenton Junior hockey team were defeated by the Belleville Juniors by the score of 16 to 5. Mr. Ernest Cook of Toronto was official referee. The game did not begin until after nine o'clock the Trenton team not arriving at the rink until nearly that hour owing to the lateness of the arrival of the train from that town.

The ice was keen and there was a fair crowd to watch the game. But accidents marred the second half. In the first half Delisle of Trenton received a severe cut, which laid him up for the game and in the second another player fell on his shoulder against the boards and had to be carried off the ice. So the game was finished with five men a side. During part of that time less than five on a side were playing when penalties were imposed.

The first half was exceedingly fast. Belleville youths played well and scored five one of which Trenton was unfortunate enough to score itself. The second half was a clean sweep for Belleville. Towards the close Trenton got three shots in the net, but then the locals were playing loosely owing to their great lead, Goyer was now and then breaking through the Trenton defence, single-handed and scoring. Nurse did some good stopping of shots in goal. Finkle, Pimlot and Box did good work in the second half. At one time Goyer played the whole forward line alone. Trenton left its defence somewhat unguarded and did not check as closely as the locals who were very active. Very little combination developed on Trenton's side. Mills and Elliott retired owing to the two accidents to Trenton men.

The line up was:

Trenton		Belleville
	Goal
Hatton		Nurse
	Right Defence
Anderson		Pimlot
	Left Defence
Hough		Finkle
	Rover
Bohan		Box
	Centre
Mitchell		Elliott
	Right Wing
Hawley		Mills
	Left Wing
Delisle		Goyer

NOTES

Trenton looked good for 10 minutes Hough for Trenton played well.

If Box and Finkle would play more combination there would be nothing to it.

Goyer came strong in last half.

Pimlot only needs to take about 4 strides to go from one end of the rink to the other.

Nurse in goal is another Winchester Mills has a swell shot, he calls it the fadeaway shot.

Elliott being laid off a few minutes after the game started to even up when a Trenton man was hurt didn't have a chance to show himself.

If Belleville boys had watched where they were passing the puck they would have scored about fifteen more goals last night.

Standing of the group

	W	L	t.	p.	g.s.	g.a.
Belleville	3	0	3	29	11
Kingston	1	1	4	14	14
Picton	1	1	4	6	7
Trenton	0	3	3	14	31

Belleville should not lose a game in this group as they only have 3 more games to play, one game in Picton and two games at home.

Complainant Disappears

Magistrate Masson this morning dismissed the charge of theft which had been brought against George Renfrew, by a foreigner Franco Koshakowski, who did not turn up on two occasions to press the charge. Renfrew was discharged.

Burial at Brockville

The remains of the late Geo. Russell, the victim of yesterday's fatality near Enterprise were shipped at noon today to Brockville for interment.

-OBITUARY-

MRS. ISABELLA JONES.

Mrs. Isabella Jones, relict of the late Henry Jones passed away on Monday morning at her home in the township of Thurlow. She is survived by one son, George N. Phillips, and three daughters, Mrs. (Rev.) W. J. Ford, Glencoe; Mrs. Annie Lanxon, of Chicago; and Mrs. J. N. Kent, Campbellford. Deceased was born in Scotland but has spent all of her life since childhood in Thurlow. The remains will be interred in the family plot at Salem cemetery. Mrs. Jones was a lifelong Methodist.

MOVING PICTURES TAKEN AT QUEBEC

Nothing Was Spared In Making the Representation of Battle as Realistic as Possible

A motion picture production was staged in Quebec upon the locations of the original battles. Twenty-five performers who were to represent the principal characters in the picture were sent to Quebec. Then came the hiring of an army of more than six hundred men to represent the French and English troops.

Three months were spent in photographing the various scenes, and training the "soldiers" for the work required of them. It is estimated that between the time of planning the production and the photographing of the final scene fully $70,000 was spent.

Not a detail which would add to the realism of the picture was overlooked. A notable instance of this occurred when a historic vessel was hired from the Canadian Government and utilized as the flagship which carried General Wolfe. To bring the fleet up to the proper numerical strength, other vessels were hired or purchased.

The Canadian Government allowed the use of the old historic fortifications for the pictures. The dismantled cannon used by the French in 1759 were remounted and once again frowned through the bastions.

The men comprising the French and English armies spent several weeks in acquiring the rudiments of a military education. The danger of allowing inexperienced men to handle the cannon can readily be seen. Therefore, the "gunners" spent many hours a day at drill before the directors were satisfied they were capable of handling the weapons.

The producers were fortunate in finding a portion of the town in old Quebec, which contained several deserted houses. Permission was secured from the authorities to use these buildings for the purposes of showing the effects of the English bombardment. The picture showed the bombs hurling through the air and piercing the walls of these buildings.

A camp city was erected on the Island of Orleans, near Quebec, and here the troops were quartered while the pictures were being made. An added touch of realism was acquired by securing the Caughnawaga tribe, a branch of the Iroquois, for the battle scene. These red men are the direct descendants of the Caughnawagas who aided the French during Wolfe's campaign.

This last few weeks I have given our Company's cheques for about $20,000.00 to Matured Policyholders, and am still handing them out every month. This is very much better than paying increased premiums in Assessment Societies as you get older. Particulars cheerfully given. Burrows of Belleville.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
