taken towards embarrassing this enterprise.

The amended resolutions were then concurred in, and the bill based upon them introduced.

The Committee on standing orders today refused to report in favor of Burpee obtaining an act to justify the consolidation of the Western Extension Railway. This act was applied for in consequence of the New Brunswick Government refusing to grant a similar act.

Messrs. Domville, McLeod and DeVeber were present, and spoke against the bill on behalf of the stockholders.

Railway Investigation—The Charges Against King and Gough.

OTTAWA, May 1.

At a meeting of the Public Accounts Committee yesterday the examination of Alex. Light, District Engineer at Miramichi, was begun. So far as his evidence went it gave an emphatic denial to the evidence of Fitzgerald, acting engineer on Section 16, who had charged Messrs. Gough and King with fraud. Mr. Light's evidence shows that everything on the line was done open and above board, and that so far from Messrs. Gough and King being benefitted by any changes made injustice was done them in several instances.

Partisan feeling is so strong in this Committee that they refused to allow a motion of Mr. Mitchell's summoning witnesses. Mr. Mitchell brought up the motion again when the Committee was fuller. He was strongly supported by Mr. Holton and the motion was successful.

County Court.

The case of Osborne vs. the Trustees of schools occupied yesterday afternoon. A number of witnesses were examined for the defence, including T. H. Rand, Esq., Superintendent of Education. The case was adjourned until Monday, as some of the counsel were unable to be present today. This morning the Court opened, but the next case on the docket was not ready for trial and the Court adjourned until Monday.

The Parliamentary Bear Garden—The Premier Uses Disgraceful Language—Charges and Counter Charges—"Reform" Legislation—Officials to be Dismissed to Make Room for Hungry Grits.

OTTAWA, May 2.

The House went into Committee of Supply, and most of the proceedings might be characterized as a Parliamentary free fight.

In connection with the promotion of officials the Premier said that if any cases of Government officials taking an active part in elections were brought under his notice such officials would be dismissed.

Mr. Jones hoped the system of dismissal would be extended to Nova Scotia. In the late elections the officials canvassed and worked for Tupper.

Dr. Tupper denied this, and challenged Jones to name one who had canvassed for him. In the Halifax elections Jones had stated on the hustings that any official who voted against the Ministerial candidates would do so at his peril. The leader of the Nova Scotia Government went to Cumberland and stated at a public meeting that officials could work for the Ministerial candidates, but, if they worked for the opposition, they would be dismissed. Dr. Tupper had told Annand that he did not believe Mackenzie would approve of the statement, when Annand replied that he had just come from Ottawa and was in a position to say that the Premier did approve of it.

The Premier rose in a violent passion, charged Tupper with deliberate lying, and continued in the most violent and disgraceful language that has ever been heard in Parliament. Of course the Grit chairman did not call him to order. The Premier, in closing, announced his intention of discharging all officials who took an active part in the late elections.

After other speeches, and speeches from Jones and Tupper, Carmichael charged Mitchell with dismissing officials for political reasons.

Mr. Mitchell challenged proof of this. He had always been liberal towards his ponents. After the late crisis he came back to the House an independent Liberal, and day after day he was attacked by the Ministry and forced into Opposition. He was anxious to treat this Government fairly, yet, his election in Northumberland Messrs. Snowball and Hutchinson proclaimed through the country that if the officials voted for him they would be dismissed. He replied to them that he did not believe his successor would authorize them to make such a statement. They replied they had telegrams from two Ministers, one of them Smith, to that effect. He (Mitchell) replied he did not believe it, for he had too much faith in Smith. Now it was announced by the Premier that the Yankee system of dismissing officials at every change of Ministry was to be carried out. As an independent member he was bound to oppose the Ministry.

Mr. Smith said he had never attempted to influence officials to vote for the Ministerial candidates. He had been informed that Mr. Mitchell claimed that he had the patronage of Northumberland in his hands.

Mr. Mitchell gave the statement a flat contradiction.

Mr. Smith said he had received such information, and, in response to it, he had sent a telegram to the effect that Mr. Mitchell had not the patronage of the country. He was informed that Mr. Mitchell was telling the fishermen that the new Government would reconsider their rights, and he sent a telegram saying the new Government would not. These were the only two telegrams he had sent.

Mr. Mitchell denied that he had used such language to the fishermen, and explained what he really did say.

The House adjourned in a bad humor at 2.45.

The Ministry have been hit so hard on the tariff question that they took all last night to vent their feelings by charges against the late Government. Everybody is laughing at their exhibition of spleen.

Supreme Court Judgments

FREDERICTON, March 12.

The following judgments were delivered in the Supreme Court to-day:

Whittier and wife vs. Dibblee, Rule absolute for a new trial, Fisher dissentient.

Morrison vs. Western Extension Railway Co., verdict reduced to $100, rule discharged.

Young vs. Blackall—rule nisi for new trial, unless the plaintiff consents that verdict be reduced to $352.66.

King's Co. Convention.

There will be a convention in Hampton on the 8th, of delegates from all parts of King's County, for the nomination of Non-Sectarian School candidates for the Legislature. The candidates will probably be Hon. J. H. Crawford, Hampton; John Flewelling, Hampton; Finnemore Morton, Sussex.

An Aged Family.

These last few days items have been going the rounds about aged people. One parish has been heard from where the ages of the eight oldest inhabitants foot up a total of 685 years. The people are of different families. In this city there is a family of nine brothers and sisters whose united ages foot up seven hundred years. The second eldest of the family, a lady, thinks nothing of walking to Portland, a distance of two miles, visiting her friends, and returning. We question if there are many families in New Brunswick who can show such a record.

A meeting of farmers was held at Newmarket, England, Tuesday, to consider the present difficulties with the agricultural laborers. Among the speeches delivered was one by a Mr. Wood, a native of England, but now a resident of Ohio, who offered to bring from that State any number of persons who were willing to work for fourteen shillings a week in place of the laborers now locked out.

A correspondent of a Scottish journal announces that the town of Blantyre, in which Livingstone was born, will build a monument to his memory as "the self-sacrificing pioneer of light and truth." "We propose," says the writer, "to erect an obelisk with the word 'Livingstone' inscribed, so that the young of succeeding generations may be reminded of the noble career of the weaver boy of Blantyre, whose body a mourning nation is about to lay in Westminster Abbey, to find there a resting place beside Britain's greatest and best.

Five garroters, who had been convicted at the Leeds Assizes, were flogged with the cat-o'-nine-tails at the Armley jail, Leeds, on April 13. James Boyd, who received twenty-five lashes, screamed, "Oh! my back! Murder! murder! Doctor! Doctor!" during the whole of his punishment. John Dyer, aged 16, who received the same number of lashes as Boyd, was very much terrified. When the last stroke had fallen he exclaimed, "Thank God! Thank God! O, Lord God! it's terrible! It's awful."
