NORRIS & CARRUTHERS

185 Toronto, Ont.

Drummond & Brown received the following today over their private wire from W. G. McCormick & Co., Chicago: To-day's wheat market furnished quite a surprise to the bears. Cables were firm, but noted an increase in cargoes on passage of nearly 3¾ millions. This was accepted by our local traders as a very bearish feature and resulted in heavy short sales by them, in which they were joined by St. Louis and the Northwest. These offerings, however, were readily absorbed, and when they undertook to buy back their shorts the market advanced with great rapidity in front of them. It is difficult to state by whom the wheat was bought, but whenever the market approaches $1.01 for May there seems a demand from some unexpected source. We do not believe it possible to break our market so long as the strength abroad is maintained. Receipts were large at the primary points, but seemed to have very little influence on the market. Closing cables are strong at ½d advance. Corn and oats have been practically controlled by the bullish factions to-day. The opening of both markets was wild and excited, a marked advance being at once established, after which the crowds traded with great timidity, taking very little punishment either way. These articles look high, but we hesitate to advise selling except for the purpose of taking profits. Provisions opened firm and higher. The advance, however, was met by free realizing, which broke prices below those of the opening. The market begins to look a little tired and having had an advance of $2 a barrel on pork and a corresponding one in other articles, we believe a reaction is due and advise taking profits on long stuff.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Drummond & Brown received the following today over their private wire from W. S. Lawson & Co. of New York: "A rapid movement against the shorts in Lackawanna just before the close yesterday caused that stock to jump a point or so and the whole list responded by advancing. The market this morning was inclined to move further, but it was checked by announcement of an order for one million gold for export. This caused the traders to throw over their stock and quotations weakened for a time. There was considerable activity in Ontario & Western. The trading was worked up on an idea that the road is included in the new deal with the New York Central and Watertown road. We have no evidence of this, but are told the new arrangement takes in the Canadian Pacific and gives the latter entrance to New York. The Atcheson income bonds seem to us to have rallied as far as they will go and are again being sold. The spurt in Lackawanna would appear to be over. The rush at the close yesterday made a good market to sell on this morning.
