OXFORD PROBES GRAFT CHARGES

Misconduct Charged in Connection With Good Roads Funds.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Woodstock, Feb. 3. — A special committee of the Oxford county council is meeting here today to investigate more or less definite charges of graft in connection with the county roads system. The committee is Reeve Vickert, of Blenheim, Reeve Lammiman, of East Oxford, and Reeve Gleason, of East Nissouri. The system has now been in operation two years, and nearly $200,000 has been spent, the Government contributing one-third. It was started in the face of great opposition among the ratepayers, and ever since allegations of misconduct on the part of officials have been freely heard on all sides. At the January council meeting, a letter sent by Jacob Luizzler, of Cassell, to Hon. Dr. Reaume, was received from the minister. It charged misconduct in the operation of the system, and insinuated that there had been graft for somebody in the buying of bridges and cement, and he had been told that one superintendent had been paid $5 for a job. Acting upon this, the council appointed the committee to investigate. Officials of the system and others were examined today, and upon what is discovered the committee will report to a special meeting of the council shortly. Their recommendation will be either that an investigation be held before a county judge or that the matter be dropped.

ELECTRIC SMELTING PROVES SUCCESS

Its Introduction to Ontario Will Be of Great Benefit.

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—That the complete success of the electric smelting process of treating iron ores has been demonstrated is the significant report brought back to Ottawa by Dr. Eugene Haanel, director of mines, who has just returned from a visit to Dumnarfvet, Sweden, where he went on the invitation to inspect the new electric smelting furnaces recently opened there. The fact that these new furnaces have proved a success in the electric treating of iron ores is of incalculable importance to the whole iron and steel industry of Ontario and Quebec, and means that the enormous supplies of iron ore in these provinces can be profitably exploited in the absence of neighboring coal deposits by means of the abundant water powers scattered throughout these provinces.

FARMER LOSES $4,000

New Scotland Man's New Barn and Its Contents Burned.

Highgate, Feb. 2.—Wilford Watson, of New Scotland, lost one of the best new barns in Harwich yesterday, by fire. Nearly twelve hundred bushels of beans and a large quantity of other grain and feed were destroyed.

The loss will be over $4,000, partially covered by insurance. The stock and some implements were saved.

A bursting steam pipe was the cause.

IMPERILLED BY FLAMES.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 2.—Fifty lives were imperilled early this morning by fire which partially destroyed the Old Homestead Hotel at Homestead, a suburb of Pittsburg. The sleeping guests, aroused by firemen, escaped in night attire, and three children were carried out of burning rooms by firemen. Joseph Wagner, a bartender, was overcome by smoke while aiding firemen, and was carried out unconscious. Upon being revived he went back for his overcoat, and was again overcome, but was carried out a second time and revived. The loss is about $50,000.

OBJECTS TO NEW STOCK ISSUE

But Minister of Railways Shows C. P. R. Needs It in Great Work

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—The Maclean got into the limelight today for the first time this session by protesting against the proposed issue of new C.P.R. stock, claiming it was not in the public interests. He wants bonds rather than stock.

He asked that the railway act be so amended that the railway commission would have authority to control all such issues of stock and that before the sanction is given for such issues companies should be called upon to establish beyond dispute that it is in the interests of the public.

Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways, said that such a question affecting the financing of a large concern could not be settled off-hand.

He believed that the C. P. R. is the best-managed railway company in the world. It had in all cases carried out its undertakings and had made every effort to meet the demand of the people. In the Canadian west there exists a crying need for increased facilities and it was the duty of the Government to aid the C. P. R. in its endeavors to bring the doors of the markets of the world nearer the great portions of the west which are being opened up.

Mr. Graham contended that the company could better keep its position intact by issuing additional stock instead of bonds. He promised, however, to take into consideration the recommendations made by Mr. Maclean.
