TRIBUTE TO REV. DR. KELLY AND HIS WORK

The Messenger and Visitor has the following on Rev. Dr. Kelly:—

"Rev. E. W. Kelly, M. A., Ph. D., left his old home at Collina, N. B., on June 11th for his post in Burma, where he has been a most faithful member of the staff of the American Baptist Missionary Union since 1882. Friends in his native community as well as elsewhere are congratulating him on his being graduated a Doctor of Philosophy at Boston UDniversity. He received the degree on June 2nd the day of Acadia's Anniversary. Dr. Kelly was a brillant student in the public schools of New Brunswick, at the Normal School and Baptist Seminary at Fredericton, and at Acadia College where he took the degree of B. A., in 1876 and from which university he subsequently obtained the degree of M. A., in course.

"He took the full course of Theological study at Newton which he left in 1880 when he became pastor of the Leinster Street Church, St. John. His post graduate course leading to the Doctor's degree was taken in part at the University of Chicago and has now been completed at Boston University where his work in Metaphysics under the distinguished Professor Bowne has received very high commendation.

"While Dr. Kelly's work as a student has been of a high order, his service as a minister and missionary has been equally honorable. He is very highly esteemed by the Missionary Union, by his fellow missionaries and by his brothers in Canada. Especially in Windsor, N. S., where he was ordained and where his ministry was greatly blessed, and in St. John where he was pastor, and where he has preached when on furlough, will the announcement of Dr. Kelly's success be received with sincere delight.

"Dr. Kelly leaves his widowed mother, and his own family, who for reasons of health remain in America, to go back to his post as a preacher to the heathen.

"We wish him abundant blessing and thank him for his labors and sacrifices for the best of all works. And we express also our appreciation of the sacrifice his aged mother has made all these years in giving her son to exile from his home and country."

Miss Rose Flanders left by last evening's Montreal train for Sanstead, P. Q., where she will attend the commencement exercises of the Wesleyan College, of which her father, Rev. Mr. Charles Flanders was principal until he accepted the pastorate of Centenary church.

The present head of the college is Mr. George Trueman, a Mount Allison graduate, and a teacher who has been principal of several of New Brunswick's largest public schools. Mrs. Holden, a cousin of Mr. Trueman, is another of the college's instructors, and there are several graduates of Mount Allison Conservatory of Music in charge of departments in the musical college affiliated with the Wesleyan institution. The closing exercises of the college are now in progress.

Miss Flanders will also visit Sherbrooke, to attend the wedding of the daughter of Inspector Morey, of the Eastern Townships Bank, a gentleman known very generally as one of Canada's most prominent art critics. After leaving Sherbrooke, Miss Flanders will be a member of an motoring party from Montreal to Oldtown, Me.

ST. JOHN MAN BADLY HURT IN A MILL

Mr. William Melaney, of this city was severely injured on Saturday in a lumber mill at Fairfield, Me., in which town he has been living for above a year and a half.

Both bones of Mr. Melaney's lower leg were broken, the smaller bone being completely fractured. The limb was also split open in several places.

The accident took place while Mr. Melaney was standing close to a cog wheel, in which the leg of his overalls became entangled. Fortunately Mr. Melaney's clothing was thick and strong and it choked the cogs of the wheel. Had the cloth been thinner Mr. Melaney could hardly have escaped without the loss of the limb.

Mr. Joseph McHugh, of the depot baggage room, who is a brother-in-law of Mr. Melaney, went to Fairfield on Monday, believing the latter's condition to be more serious. He reached the city yesterday at noon.

BATTLING NELSON GOT DECISION

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 22.—Battling Nelson got the decision against Jack Clifford in the fifth round of a fifteen round bout tonight. Referee David Porteous stopped the fight when Clifford had been knocked down by a heavy jab in the stomach. He said he feared Clifford would be hurt and the police would interfere. Clifford rose after the count of five, however, and demanded that the fight continue.

IMPORTANT WORK OUTLINED FOR THE NATIONAL COUNCIL DURING NEXT FIVE YEARS

Special to The Standard.

Toronto, Ont., June 22.—With a garden party beside the cool shores of Lake Simcoe at the beautiful summer home of Lady Edgar, in prespect, the International Council of Women rushed their business along and practically cleared the agenda paper.

Reports Received.

The greater part of the morning was occupied with the reception of reports from various national councils. One item of interest is that the Danish Government is paying the expenses of two of the delegates from Denmark to the International Council of Women, an example the ladies thought that might very well be followed by other Governments.

Members of Finnish Parliament.

Baroness Gripenburg in her report on the condition in Finland reported that twenty-one women are members of the Finnish Parliament of whom nine are wives of working men. She expressed regret that now that the franchise had been granted succeeding elections showed a decrease in its exercise.

On behalf of the executive Lady Aberdeen moved, "That the National Council should during the period 1909-14, devote a large share of their attention to questions concerning children and should hold special discussions on such questions at the next quinquennial meeting of the International Council of Women."

This resolution was seconded by the Marchesa Bourbon and carried without discussion.

Mrs. Ogilvie Gordon moved that a standing committee on education should be formed and national councils who had not already an educational section should be recommended to follow a similar course.

Peace and Arbitration.

Mrs. May Wright Sewall brought the following resolution in the interest of peace and arbitration: "The International Council of Women urges all national councils to promote the use of such text books and reading books in schools as will present historical facts with the least possible bias and to endeavor to arouse a living interest in the modern methods of peaceably settling international difficulties."

Some of the delegates did not think this resolution needed, but doubters were silenced when Mrs. Sewall pointed out the great differences between English and American histories with regard to the revolutionary period.

The resolution was adopted as was that proposed by Dr. Skoglung, for the protection of birds.

An Amusing Inconsistency.

Some amusement was caused when Mrs. Edwin Gray, Great Britain, in whose headgear two large feathers were prominent, seconded the last named motion saying that ladies should be careful what they wore in their hats.

BREACH OF PROMISE CASE IS SETTLED

Special to The Standard.

Hopewell Cape, N. B., June 22.—The June term of the circuit court opened here this morning at 11 o'clock, His Honor Judge McKeown presiding. Court Stenographer Devine was in attendance and the following barristers were present: H. A. Powell, K. C., George W. Fowler, K. C., R. W. Hueston, W. B. Jonah, M. B. Dixon, and Hon. C. W. Robinson. The grand jurors, twenty-three in number, were all present, and Mr. John L. Peck, of Hillsboro, was elected foreman. After receiving the charge from His Honor Judge McKeown, the grand jurers retired, and brought in a written address of congratulation to His Honor. The barristers of Albert County, also presented Judge McKeown with an address of congratulation. His Honor replied to the addresses in a fitting manner.

Breach Of Promise Case Settled.

There was only one civil cause ready for trial, and there was no criminal business at all before the court. His Honor congratulated the people of Albert County on the absence of a criminal docket.

Fowler and Jonah filed the record of the only civil cause ready for trial, and the jury was impannelled. The case was Elizabeth Colpitts versus James Weldon, of Moncton, and was an action for breach of promise, and damages. The suit was brought for $5,000. Hon. C. W. Robinson and Fowler and Jonah appeared for the plaintiff, and R. W. Hueston and H. A. Powell for the defendant. It was understood before the trial that a substantial offer had been made for settlement by the defendant, and at noon recess arrangements for settlement were made between the counsel. At two o'clock when the court reassembled, Mr. Fowler informed His Honor that an amicable settlement had been made, and the record was withdrawn by him. Judge McKeown congratulated the parties on reaching an agreement, after which he dismissed the jury and adjourned the court sine die. It is generally understood that the amount of the settlement was $1,300.

Mr. Peck Takes Charge.

Mr. C. L. Peck, newly appointed registrar of probate, took charge of the registry office on Monday of last week. Mr. Rogers, the late registrar having a contract to perfect the index system will be at the office for about a week finishing his business.

His Honor Judge McKeown left for St. John this afternoon, and Judge Wedderburn will leave for Hampton tomorrow morning.

VIEWS WERE PRESENTED TO THE BOARD

Special to The Standard.

Sydney, June 22.—The International Board of the U. M. W. of A. held a meeting in Indianapolis tonight when President Lewis presented to the board his report of the existing conditions as he found them in this district and action upon his report was taken accordingly. Upon conclusion of this international meeting Messrs. Bondfield and Patterson, accompanied by other prominent international leaders, will leave for Cape Breton arriving in Sydney June 29. A request will be presented to the mine operators and mine owners of Nova Scotia to meet the U. M. W. executive of Nova Scotia on Friday, July 2, with a view to discussing the situation as it exists in this province. In the event of the mine operators and owners failing to agree to meet representatives of the U. M. W. a strike will probably be declared on Tuesday, July 5.

LIBERIA COMMISSION AT CANARIES.

Las Palmas, Canary Islands, June 16.—The American scout cruisers Chester, Birmingham and Salem, left here today with the members of the commission that investigated conditions in Liberia on board.

BIG BREAK IN WATER MAIN IN SYDNEY ST.

About six o'clock last evening a break in the main water pipe occurred on Sydney street, near Orange, and caused the water to work its way through the earth and ooze from the surface in large quantities. Soon the water was coming up in bucket fulls. A crowd of boys gathered and watched the natural fountain with great pleasure, and some were wading through the water and testing its depth.

The Water and Sewerage department was notified and at 7.30 o'clock the water was shut off on Sydney street from King street east to Mecklenburg. A gang of men were at once put to work to locate the break, and without experiencing much difficulty they found the leak. There was a split about three feet long in a six inch main, which was large enough to allow an enormous quantity of water to escape and flood the street. About midnight the earth was dug up and the pipe reached. The joint was broken out, and about 2.30 o'clock this morning they succeeded in replacing the broken pipe with a piece of new pipe nine feet long. The new pipe was inserted, and as soon as the joining was perfected, the water was restored, which was about 2.45 o'clock this morning. The men kept on at the work of replacing the earth and they expected to finish the work about five o'clock. Fortunately the street is on a decline, for if it had been exactly level it would have been flooded completely, and the water would have reached far greater depth, as it was flowing freely for nearly two hours.

GAS EXPLODES IN HOTEL; CLERK HAS LEG BROKEN

Special to The Standard.

St. Stephen, N. B., June 23.—A rather peculiar accident occurred at the Windsor hotel here about one o'clock this morning. Dell Belyea, the night clerk, smelling gas, commenced a search to ascertain where the gas was escaping. In a small sample room, while he was searching with a lighted match, the gas became ignited causing an explosion, which blew up the floor, throwing the table against Belyea and resulting in a broken leg for the clerk. The room was soon in flames, but the fire apparatus was called out, and the fire was extinguished without much difficulty.

ROBBERS HELD UP C. P. R. TRAIN BUT GET FOOLED

Special to The Standard.

Vancouver, B. C., June 22.—The regular C. P. R. express to the coast was held up this morning at Ducks, 168 miles from Vancouver by five masked bandits who mistook train No. 97 for No. 5 carrying a big load of silver bars for shipment by the Empress of China to the Far East. The bandits on discovering their mistake got away in a boat which was awaiting on the Thompson river. A large posse is now in pursuit. The place is near where Bill Miner and his companions held up a similar train three years ago. Miner is suspected by the police to have been implicated in the present robbery. No. 5 train the robbers thought they were robbing had ninety silver bars from the trail smelter, each weighing seventy pounds. The plan was to have taken the booty away in boats. The robbers went through the baggage express, mail, colonist and first class passenger cars but before reaching the sleepers evidently lost their nerve and left the train.

VERDICT FOR $200 AGAINST TELEGRAPH

The case of George R. McDonough, of St. Martins, vs. the Telegraph Publishing Co., was continued yesterday The Plaintiff is suing for damages for alleged wrongful arrest and malicious prosecution. About a year ago Mr. McDonough was arrested and held to bail for one year's subscription to the Telegraph. After giving bail, he went to his home and produced the receipt for that year's subscription. Hence this action. On Monday the plaintiff closed his case, and when the court opened yesterday morning Dr. A. W. MacRae, K. C., for the defendant, moved to enter a non-suit. At the conclusion of the argument, which followed His Honor disallowed Dr. MacRae's motion. The case went to the jury in the afternoon.

Got $200 Damages.

The jury returned their verdict last night. His Honor Judge Barry submitted twenty questions for the jury's consideration. They found that the plaintiff did not owe the amount for which he was arrested, but that there was no notice on the part of Mr. O'Brien or on the part of any one connected with the Telegraph Publishing Co. They however, found that there was false imprisonment of the plaintiff and asessed he damages at $200. They found that the plaintiff owed the defendant company $12.40 and His Honor entered judgment for the plaintiff for $187.60.

Dr. MacRae asked for a stay of proceedings which was granted. Dr. L. A. Currey, K. C., appeared for the plaintiff.

BOYS CONFESS TO THE FOUR ROBBERIES

The thieves who robbed the poor boxes in the R. C. Cathedral and St. John the Baptist Church and stole $5 from the till in John B. McCormack's restaurant on Prince William street, on Monday, were not satisfied with the nefarious work, and robbed St. Peter's Church poor boxes yesterday morning. The latter robbery put the police on their trail and they were soon rounded up.

Two boys were acting in a rather suspicious manner around the St. Peter's Church yesterday morning and the janitor watched them leaving the church. Their actions so much aroused his suspicions, that he reported what he had seen to Officer Hamm, who was not then on duty, but happened to be in the vicinity. The officer succeeded in tracing the youths and found them under James Dalton's beer shop where they were engaged in rifling a poor box. The thieves were taken to the North End Police Station and later to Central Police Station. They gave their names as Bartie Grogan and William F. Rogers, both of Boston, and each stated that his age was sixteen. On Grogan were found $7.24 in cash, a pocket knife and some letters, while Rogers was possessed of 46 cents, some foreign coins, four keys, three spikes, a collar and three neckties. In the Cathedral six poor boxes were broken open, and also the sexton's desk. The safe was opened with a key. The thieves stole a key and a sum of money amounting to about $1.03. In the St. John the Baptist Church on Broad St., the thieves broke open one poor box, and the drawers of the sexton's desk, and stole about $1.84. Fortunately the amounts were not large as the money had been taken out after Sunday.

Yesterday afternoon the robbers were taken to the McCormack restaurant and Mrs. McCormack identified the boys to be the thieves who robbed her till of $5.00, while she was preparing a lunch. The boys were brought back to the police station and later on were taken to a photograph studio and had their pictures taken.

The youthful pilferers confessed to the several charges made against them and the preliminary examination will begin in the police court this morning. They will beyond a doubt be sent up for trial, and it is altogether likely that they will elect to be tried under the Speedy Trials' Act.

DEATH IN BOSTON FROM HEAT.

Boston, Mass., June 22.—One death and sixteen prostrations, due to the heat were recorded officially up to a late hour tonight. The excessively high temperature, the mercury rising officially to 92 degrees and nearer 100 degrees on the narrow streets, following closely on yesterday's record caused a general exodus of those able to get away, toward the beaches.

The one victim of the day was an invalid, Mrs. Genevieve A. Dodge, aged 45 years, of Leominster, who died in a wheel chair at the South Station.

ALBANIANS DEFEAT TURKS.

Vienna, June 22.—It is reported from Uskup, European Turkey, that General David Pasha has suffered a serious defeat at the hands of 14,000 Albanian insurgents near Petch, in a vain attempt to dislodge them from a narrow pass. The Turkish loss is estimated at fourteen officers and 350 men killed and wounded.

JAS. B. GENTRY PARDONED.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 22.—Governor Stuart this afternoon signed the pardon for James B. Gentry, the actor, who murdered his sweetheart, Madge Yorke, in Philadelphia, in 1895.

ECHOES OF NEW BRUNSWICK AND PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND METHODIST CONFERENCE

(Notes and comments by Standard's correspondent at conference.)

Owing to the increase in the numbers in attendance the task of billetting the members of the Methodist conference is no easy one and the cost and inconvenience of caring for one hundred and forty or more persons for over a week means a good deal to the hosts and hostesses into whose homes the strangers come. To meet this difficulty the conference some time ago decided than an enrolment fee of $1.00 should be remitted to some officer of the church at the place of meeting previous to the opening of the conference, in order to provide homes for any who otherwise might not be cared for. In a number of cases this had not been done and the recording steward of the church came before the conference, stated the facts, and expressed his regret that the proposal that every one should provide for himself had not been adopted before this year. And then this energetic and practical officer at once waited upon the delinquents and collected the fee. The Standard correspondent is assured that the people of Woodstock gave the members of the conference a warm welcome, and hospitable entertainment.

The Other Side.

There is however, another side to this billetting question, and the benefits are not all on this side.

There are certain assets to be taken into account, the value of which cannot be estimated in dollars and cents. The visit to a place of a number of intelligent men is in itself a free advertisement, and especially when the place is as beautiful as Woodstock and its surroundings and offers to the tourist and traveller such attractions. Then the public services are deserving of notice. Take, for instance the ordination of Mr. Leon M. Jewett, the first Methodist minister ever ordained in the County of Carleton. About such a service there is on the one hand enough of the spectacular and on the other of the sober and suggestive to render it both interesting and attractive. The privilege of hearing such men as Messrs. Allen, Magee and Morse on the great questions of the day, men whose arguments were not threadbare, whose illustrations were not aged and whiskered, and whose appeals were to the reason and conscience, was worth much. The part taken in the proceedings by the laymen, by Dr. Allison, J. Hunter White, and notably by Mr. J. N. Harvey on the Laymen's Missionary Movement, must have been an inspiration to all who had the opportunity of hearing them. And lastly, the influence in the homes of these delegates cannot be expressed in words. When all these are considered it may be found that the burdens and the blessings are not widely apart.

Comparisons And Contracts.

As the old order changeth and its personnel also, it is natural for one who has been attending conferences for more than half a century to find himself comparing the present with the past, with regard both to methods and to men. During the third quarter of the nineteenth century the Methodist church in the Maritime Provinces had a number of ministers of commanding ability, of whom mention may be made of Matthew Richey, Ephraim Evans, Richard Knight, Thomas M. Albrighton, Frederick Smallwood, John Brewster, Charles Churchill, Henry Daniel and James R. Narraway. During the last quarter of that century, another class of men came to the front, who while standing high as preachers, gave more attention to the varieties of church work, kept a steady hand upon the conferential helm, and went to conference to work, and not for a holiday vacation. Among these were Charles Stewart, John Read, Job Shenton, John Lathern, Robert A. Temple, Hezekiah McKeown, D. D. Currie. All of these mentioned with one exception, have joined the great majority. Of the men of more recent date one need not speak. With them the people are or were well acquainted, but of these Charles Paisley and William Dobson may not be passed over in silence—men honored in life and lamented in death. Of the church legislators of today, Thomas Marshall and George Steel are among the leaders.

Men Of The Earlier Periods.

The men of the earlier periods paid much attention to the proprieties, upheld the dignity of the cloth, were gentlemanly in manner, regarded their calling as very sacred, were ministerial in demeanor and dress, and would have been looked upon as odd or queer had they been seen upon the street with a black tie, a white vest, or anything but a black suit. They attached great importance to the Sabbath and to the sanctuary, deemed them divine institutions, and with many things now done on the one and in the other they had no sympathy, and in these things the people were in full sympathy. If anything was said of special interest, their approval was indicated by "Praise the Lord," or a hearty "Amen," and appreciation to be shown by such hand clapping as was heard last Sunday evening, while Mr. Moore was preaching would have been felt sadly out of place. Jokes and puns were seldom heard in the pulpit and preacher and people felt as if face to face with their God.

A Talk With a Stranger

On the train on the homeward journey your correspondent had an interesting chat with a fellow traveler from whom he gathered the following: He was born nearly 77 years ago at Smith's Village, Kings County, bore a name known in nearly all lands, being a member of the Smith family, has relatives in and was now on his way to the home of his youth for a brief vacation. When sixteen years of age he was baptized in Hammond River by the Rev. Mr. Bancroft, and it being winter he was let down through a hole cut in the ice. He went to the United States, entered the medical profession and has been for many years in practice in Buffalo, largely in hospital work. He was personally acquainted with Bishop Fowler of the Methodist Episcopal church whose headquarters were in Buffalo, and spoke of a sermon he heard preached by Rev. Dr. Lock, of the Methodist Episcopal church on the occasion of the death of Her late Majesty, Queen Victoria, and to an immense audience as "The most eloquent address to which he ever had the privilege of listening."

A Pathetic Ending

Referring to his experiences in his own life he gave the following: A Sister of Charity was dying, "the sweetest death I ever witnessed," were his words, and she sent for me, "How long have I to live?" she asked. The time was indicated. She sent a request to all the children of the hospital to pray for her, and turning to the doctor she said: "If I have any influence where I am going, I will use it for you," and then she fell asleep to wake on the other side. He was a most agreeable companion, the run from McAdam seemed unusually short and when we parted at the depot it was with mutual good wishes.

The conference just closed was one of more than ordinary interest. There was an air of earnestness on all sides, much ability was displayed in the addresses delivered generally speaking, a close attention to business was seen and the religious element was quite pronounced. The tone and spirit of the whole was quite encouraging and gave promise of a good and prosperous year. The platform was well officered and President McCully and his associates acquitted themselves with much credit.

PROV. SEC'Y BACK FROM NORTH SHORE

Hon. J. K. Flemming, Provincial Secretary, was in the city yesterday afternoon on his way from the North Shore to Fredericton. He left for the provincial capital last night and will go on to his home in Hartland today.

The Provincial Secretary's visit to the North Shore was in connection with the claims of the province against certain municipalities for the cost of maintenance of inmates of the Provincial Hospital. The Town of Campbellton, and the counties of Restigouche and Gloucester are concerned. Mr. Flemming informed The Standard that the claims against Campbellton and Restigouche were in a fair way toward settlement while another conference with regard to the claims against Gloucester would be held about the middle of July.

When the Hazen Government came into power there were outstanding against various towns, cities and counties Provincial Hospital claims amounting to about $25,000. Last year settlements were made which reduced the outstanding amount to $10,000. Further settlements will be made this year and some claims are now under process of settlement.

The Provincial Secretary reports that he found the representatives of the North Shore municipalities disposed to adjust the matter in dispute. He conferred with the warden of Restigouche and a special committee from the county council, and with the warden and the secretary treasurer of Gloucester and a special committee.

The basis of agreement reached in connection with the claims against Restigouche will be referred to the July meeting of the Restigouche county council.

While in Campbellton Mr. Flemming held an inquiry concerning the issue of liquor licenses. He reports everything looking well on the North Shore. The damage done by forest fires in his opinion was considerably exaggerated.

SHIPPED THE HORSE AWAY; IS PURSUED

Special to The Standard.

Fredericton, June 22.—W. Lawton, a St. John livery stable man, arrived here today in search for Frank Gorman, of St. Martins, who hired a horse from him some days ago, giving in payment a couple of notes and a bill of sale. The understanding was that Gorman was not to take the horse outside of St. John county, except to certain sections of Kings county. Gorman, however, shipped the horse to Fredericton by the steamer Elaine. Here he got a carriage from J. Clarke & Son, paying a small amount down and giving a bill of sale of the horse for the balance. He later put the horse and carriage aboard the Gibson branch and sent them to Perth. Mr. Lawton and Detective James Roberts will leave for Perth at once.

Rev. John Pinkerton was in the city yesterday en route from Woodstock to his home in Moncton.

DAUGHTER IS BORN TO QUEEN OF SPAIN

La Grandja, Spain, June 22—Queen Victoria gave birth to a daughter at 6.25 a. m. today. When it was seen last night that accouchement was imminent the members of the royal family, the premier and a number of high court personages were hastily summoned to the palace. The birth of a princess is particularly pleasing to both the King and Queen, as they hoped that this child, the third, would be a girl.

The first two children are boys, Prince Alfonso, born May 10, 1907, and Prince Jaime, born June 23, 1908. The eldest, the heir to the throne, is fair like his mother, but he has the protruding lip of his father, a pronounced charasteristic of the Spanish Hapsburgs. The second son, on the other hand, is dark complexioned and looks the real Spaniard. He was named after Jaime the Conqueror, King of Aragon, as a compliment to the province of Catalonia, which formed part of the ancient kingdom of Aragon. Prince Alfonso, although only two years old, is very popular. He drives two small donkeys about the palace gardens and when out riding with his nurse never fails to salute with his little hand at the side of his head all the passers by who notice him.

La Grandja is a beautiful royal seat high in the Guadarrama mountains, its altitude giving it the picturesque name of "the palace in the clouds."

Oddfellows Back.

Many of the members of Canton La-Tour, I. O. O. F., who were on a visit to Lynn, Mass., returned home yesterday. They speak well of the many courtesies extended to them by the Lynn Chevaliers. Several of the St. John Oddfellows extended their visit to Boston and other points.
